Among the most pleasant business places in Boston are the splendid salesrooms of Hallet, Davis & Co., 272 on Washington street—and on the street they are, too, and not up half a dozen flights of stairs. And well do the superb pianos manufactured by this staunch house, and their constantly-increasing business, and the uniform courtesy and strict attention to visitors of the leading salesman, and junior of the firm, Mr. C. S. Davis, merit such attractive quarters—which are unequalled in the city for spaciousness and elegance, and worthy to be the dancing-rooms of almost any home in the city. They are always glad to receive a call from all interested in music.

In the fine chambers above are the salesrooms of Mason & Hamlin's famous Melodeons, of which all the world now knows the good qualities, and which you are now advertising for the benefit of the rest of mankind.

But of all the fun we had in Boston—the sight-seeing, theatre-going, &c., no matter for you. Nor how we accepted divers invites to ride with friends after fast horses, on the mill-dam, to Saugus, &c. Go way! gi lang! Nor the nice quiet rides we had with other friends all about, over the superb roads of Boston's suburbs. Nor still less do I care to tell you of my episode of a week's severe sickness, which has disarranged our plans somewhat; and so kept me from muster at Manchester, and to-day finds us here at Lawrence, instead of at the Lake—as we hoped. Ah, well, I don't see but what you Chroniclers get along just as well without me—so perhaps we'll make our rounds yet.

A visit to Chelsea Beach, one day, from Boston, show not much of interest, except an immense expanse of the most level and hard "sands", beautiful for driving on; and a long, slim species of clam or shell-fish, exactly resembling an old-fashioned spectacle-case. These were sticking say half of their six inches in length out of the sand, but on your approach, would, in one or two jerks, go down out of sight, and more than the length of your finger below the surface too. So Tompson said, at any rate, and we were getting too sick then to investigate, and so "took it" on his statement—as we were afterwards obliged to take any amount of Doctors' stuff, without asking any questions—thanks to which, and kind nursing, we are so much almost ourself again. We give, the health of Dr. Palmer!

We are going to "do" Lawrence for a day or two. And of that, and our ride hither and hence, perhaps, more anon.

Yours, ever, F.

☞ The propeller Douro, owned at Wilmington, was run ashore near New Inlet by our blockaders on the 11th, and was subsequently burned by them, as she could not be got off. She is another of the vessels previously captured and sold to parties in the British provinces. She had a cargo of 250 bales of cotton, 279 boxes and 20 tierces of tobacco, and a quantity of turpentine and resin, all belonging to the rebel government.

☞ Godey's Lady's book for November has been received from the Publisher. This is one of the oldest and best magazines published in the country. The fact that it has reached its 67th volume is an evidence of its popularity. Its fashion-plates cannot be excelled.

☞ The English schooner Florrie was captured on the 2d inst., six miles from Matagorda, Texas, purporting to be going from New Orleans to Rio Janeiro. She was laden with medicines, wines, saddles and an assorted cargo.

THE REBELLION.

Rebel reports show that a body of our troops made a raid from East Tennessee into Virginia, on Saturday, 10th, and attacked the rebel forces, six miles west of Greenville. The rebels withdrew to a point 10 miles east of Greenville; thence, the Federals getting in their rear, to Zollicoffer, and thence to Bristol, against which point the Union troops were advancing at last accounts. The rebel reports admit that their loss in the fight, which continued two days, was 300 killed and wounded; and that the wounded fell into our hands.

The Chattanooga Rebel announces the arrival of Jeff. Davis in Bragg's army to settle all household quarrels. Rosecrans has fortified Chattanooga to perfection. It is confidently believed that Longstreet or Johnston will be put in command.

Gen. Crook reports from Rogersville, Ala., 10th, that he had three fights with the rebels, whipping them very badly each time. In the last battle, at Farmington, Tenn., he fought Wheeler's entire command with only two brigades, cut his force in two, and scattered a large portion of it, capturing four pieces of artillery, one thousand of cavalry arms, and 240 prisoners, besides the wounded. The number of their killed and wounded was very heavy. They were scattered over a distance of 15 miles and their retreat was a perfect rout. Their men deserted and are straggling over the country. He never saw troops so demoralized as they were, and is satisfied that their loss in the raid was not less than 2000.

Four companies of Iowa cavalry on the 10th surrounded the town of Hernando, Miss., and made prisoners of all the men in the place. [A previous dispatch from Cairo reported that the four companies were surrounded and captured,—just the reverse of the fact.]

Our entire loss by the rebel attack on Charlestown, Va., is not more than 150 men. The accounts from that quarter were exaggerated.

Gen. Burnside reports that his operations in East Tennessee and Virginia have been eminently satisfactory, and that in almost every case the rebels have been whipped. He speaks highly of the loyalty of the people of East Tennessee.

Lee is said to have retreated beyond the Rapidan: Meade is pursuing.

Rumors regarding Rosecrans are rife, one being that his and Grant's departments are to be united, Grant taking command. It is said that Meade's army is to be moved to a line on the Pamunky river, preparatory to siege operations against Richmond.

Notice of Appeal.

State of New Hampshire, Rockingham, ss.

To John Rider, Executor of the will of Mary Rider, late of Portsmouth, in the County of Rockingham, deceased, testate, and to the heirs at law of the estate of the said Mary Rider and all others interested therein:

Notice is hereby given that at a Court of Probate holden at Portsmouth, in said county, on the fourteenth day of July, 1863, it was ordered and decreed that John Rider be allowed for his services as Executor of the will of said Mary Rider the sum of six hundred and fifty-eight dollars and sixty cents, and as John Rider was allowed to take, at a value less than the market value thereof, certain shares in the Bank of New Hampshire and in the Rockingham Bank belonging to said testator, and which he charged himself with at a less price than he sold said shares at and actually received, as Executor, pay therefor; and that the subscribers, being interested in said estate and aggrieved by said order and decree, on the first day of August, A. D. 1863, obtained an appeal therefrom to the Supreme Judicial Court next to be holden at Dover, within and for the First Judicial District of this State, on the third Tuesday of December next, and filed in the Probate Office for said county their bond to respond the cost that shall be awarded against them, agreeably to the statute in such case provided.

Dated the 10th day of September, 1863.

HEALTH AND COMFORT.

Patent Rubber Sole Boots and Shoes.

FOR MEN, BOYS AND YOUTH.

These Goods, having been carefully tested, prove to be more desirable than any other Boots and Shoes heretofore made. They answer the double purpose of Leather and Rubber Boots and Shoes.

They are made serviceable and easier to the feet than Leather Soles, are impervious to water, and having a leather inner sole do not draw the feet, and are far less expensive than Rubber Boots.

They are free from noise, prevent slipping on ice, and in keeping the feet dry and warm are conducive to health.

When the Soles wear out, the Boots and Shoes can be tapped with leather, or, if returned to us entire, new Rubber Soles can be put on.

The subscribers, having made arrangements as Agents for the sale of the above goods, are now prepared to make measures for the same, in different styles, and deliver them at short notice. They are made from the best stock to be had in the market, and warranted in every particular. Call and examine samples, at No. 15 Market street.

DRAFTED MEN FOR EXAMINATION.
Oct. 21, Laconia 26, New Hampton 32.

☞ Col. Wardwell, with his detachment of Invalids, returned to Camp Fry in this city on Tuesday morning, from Jackson, having suffered no loss. They arrived in Jackson much to the astonishment of the people therof; and took possession of a hotel somewhat to the disgust of the proprietor, who couldn't trust his "friends," and feared that they might burn down the house over his head. There was a fine liberty pole in the village, and at the request of Col. Wardwell, the citizens ran up a beautiful specimen of the Stars and Stripes, which waved triumphantly in the mountain breezes for three days and nights.

An unoccupied church was used for quarters for the soldiers after the first day, and many of the people were very kind in their attentions to them, sending them various articles of food, (substantials and luxuries,) and doing what they could to make their stay pleasant. They sent for a minister, and services were accordingly held in the church for the first time for eighteen months.

But there was a sudden diminution of the population of the town of Jackson soon after the Union soldiers arrived there. Several individuals disappeared,—in fact, skedaddled. Of course they were entirely innocent and all that, but they ran away.— They haven't been seen since.

On the whole, the trip had its advantages. Those of the people of Jackson who had threatened and prepared to resist, found Col. Wardwell ready to maintain law and order at all hazards. Hence their six-shooters are still unused. A certain chairman of a certain Board of Selectmen also, who made a traitorous exclamation at the time when the horses killed by the recent fire in Jackson were being buried, learned that it is much easier to make threats than to carry them into execution when a fife of disciplined soldiers, armed and equipped and willing to act, stand before him.

☞ The Supreme Judicial Court commenced a trial term at the Court House in this city, on Tuesday; Judge Nesmith presiding.

The opening prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Adams.

The Grand Jury were empaneled, and have a large number of cases for consideration.

A case was put on trial,—John Norton vs. Ira Hazelton. Webster for plf.; W. H. Y. Hackett for deft.

TROPHIES.—Fragments of a shell thrown from Fort Johnson at Fort Wagner, since the latter has been in our possession; also, an English Enfield rifle, recovered from the wreck of a blockade-runner, may be seen at H. M. Clark's provision store. The rapidity with which the worms destroy all wood-work is shown by the stock of the rifle, that portion which was not imbedded in the mud being almost entirely destroyed. The barrel is encrusted with barnacles.

THAT BIG STICK of timber, which we noticed at the Globe Works, South Boston, a short time since, has been sold to Government by the Messrs. Pierce, to be used in the construction of one of the large steam frigates, at the Portsmouth Navy Yard. It grew in Michigan, and was conveyed to New York by rail.

☞ It is rumored that the 5th Battalion, U. S. Invalid Corps, now stationed in this city, is to go to Concord in a short time, to take the place of the 5th N. H. regiment, which will return to the seat of war; and that a portion of the heavy artillery stationed at Fort Constitution, will take the place of the Invalid Corps in this city.

THE MYSTERY SOLVED.—Our citizens were much exercised during the fine weather last week, at beholding the employees of Walker's tailoring establishment at work in the open air on the Parade. Many were the surmises as to what they were employed at, but it was generally conceded that they were making a couple of sacks to put the Ohio majorities in. They were much mistaken, however, as we have been reliably informed that a certain portly individual, whose presence of late has been a terror to deserters, has been furnished with a new pair of unmentionables by the establishment above mentioned.

A correspondent is responsible for the above: we didn't see the employees aforesaid at work as aforesaid; but if any of them needed room to lay out his work, and went into the open air for the purpose, 'twas all done on the Square, and merely because one young man pants for fame. He is a good fellow, and we think has been successful already, for the "unmentionables" are a verity,—an appalling fact.

HOW ART THOU, BROADBRIM?—Those of our readers who appreciate a good thing done up in good style, will keep their eyes open for to-morrow's issue of the Chronicle, for we promise them a rich treat in the perusal of an unique epistle from the veritable W. Penn, who, they will be glad to learn, "still lives."

THE STEREOPHAN.—The Last Chance. By the advertisement it will be seen that to-night will be the last of this most beautiful exhibition; and that the choice of the statuary will be shown, the art galleries inspected, and museums of the Old World examined. Those who desire to see the works of the Old Masters can have no better opportunity than to-night, for by the Stereophan statuary has the perfectness, roundness and fullness equal to the originals. Exhibition this afternoon at 3 o'clk: evening at 7 & 4.

☞ The Union men will have one majority in the Pennsylvania State Senate, and they claim four in the House. Last year the Democrats had a majority on joint ballot.

☞ A little dog was accidentally shut up in a vacant store in Newburyport, and confined there ten days, with nothing to eat. On being let out he made for a puddle of water on the double quick.

☞ The Russian fleet is expected at Boston about Nov. 1. A banquet, ball, excursion in the harbor, and all those other little arrangements which Boston delighteth in, are talked of.

☞ The critic of the N. Y. Times styles Gail Hamilton's writings "literary ginger pop." She'll give him ginger. Let him remember the fate of the Boston Advertiser.

☞ Rev. James A. Gunn was refused admission to the Methodist Conference recently in session at Springfield, Ill., on the ground of disloyalty. So that Gunn went off.

☞ Commander Greenleaf Cilley of Maine, son of the late Hon. Jonathan Cilley, has recently been placed in command of the Iron-clad monitor Catskill, one of the squadron off Morris Island.

☞ Reynolds, who was recently hung in Nashville, Tenn, for murder, uttered the following warning, "Liquor has been the cause of all my trouble, and has brought me to this dreadful end."

☞ The second Baptist church in Holyoke, Mass, of which Rev. A. M. Averill is pastor, was entirely destroyed by fire Friday morning. The church cost $19,000 and was insured for $11,000.

☞ Of 211 appointments in the Regular Army, which have been made by the President since Nov. 1, 1862, the 145 were from the ranks. The promotions in the same service since that date amount to 226.

☞ Another of "the notorious guerrillas" has been captured, one Jim Keller, who was taken near Sharpsburg, Ky., on Sunday, and was shot and mortally wounded by a man formerly of a Kentucky cavalry regiment, while in the hands of his guards.

☞ The New York Herald, in an article upon a recent financial explosion, says that Wall Street is as thickly strown with financial torpedoes as Charleston harbor is said to be with similar engines prepared with villainous saltpetre.

☞ The N. Y. Tribune states that Andrews, the ringleader of the rioters, is at Fort Warren, and that it is supposed that, if he chooses, he can make some revelations in relation to himself and certain prominent men, whose hatred of the Government and sympathy with the rebels are notorious.

☞ Bohn, the celebrated English publisher, is a man of great energy and endurance, and so enormous is the amount of work which he undertakes, that it is said he for a long time had weekly visits from his surgeon to be examined as to how far endurance could be carried.

SYMPATHY.—Sympathy is a lovely and beautiful thing, for it exhibits the angelic part of human nature. We deeply sympathize with those who cannot obtain Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus, for they are deprived of one of the greatest luxuries the world affords. But we have no sympathy with any family who will use any other Saleratus or soda, if this article can be purchased. We see most of our Merchants have it. One trial will convince any one. Their depot is 112 Liberty Street, New York.

☞ The Domestic Dyes prepared by Geo. H. Reed & Co. offer the simplest and most perfect means of dyeing household apparel ever presented the public. They embrace 40 different shades, and include all the new and fashionable colors—and are perfectly fast. Samples can be seen and the colors procured of THACHER. ja30

$100 REWARD!

For a Medicine that will cure COUGHS, INFLUENZA, TICKLING IN THE THROAT, WHOOPING COUGH. Or relieve CONSUMPTIVE COUGH, as quick as

COE'S COUGH BALSAM.

OVER FIVE THOUSAND BOTTLES have been sold in its native town, and not a single instance of its failure is known.

We have, in our possession, any quanity of certificates, some of them from

EMINENT PHYSICIANS,

who have used it in their practise, and given it the pre-eminence over any other compound.

It does not dry up a Cough,

but loosens it, so as to enable the patient to expectorate freely.

☞ Two or three Bottles will invariably cure TICKLING IN THE THROAT. ☜

A HALF Bottle has often completely cured the most

STUBBORN COUGH.

And yet, though it is so sure and speedy in its operation, it is perfectly harmless, being purely vegetable. It is very agreeable to the taste, and may be administered to children of any age.

In cases of CROUP we will guarantee a cure, if taken in season. No Family should be without it. It is within the reach of all, the price being

ONLY 25 CENTS!

And if an investment and thorough trial does not "back up" the above statement, the money will be refunded. We say this, knowing its merits, and feel confident that one trial will secure for it a home in every household.

Do not waste away with Coughing, when so small an investment will cure you. It may be had of any respectable druggist in town, who will furnish you with a circular of genuine certificates of cures it has made.

For sale by Druggists in city, country, and everywhere. C. G. CLARK & CO.,

Morning Chronicle.

AN ANXIOUS INQUIRY.

Maiden with the raven locks
And the fringed eyes so brown,
If thy father hath "the rocks,"
Need thy heart be kindred stone?
If so, speak; or I, a frown
Let the dismal fact be known.

Maiden with the swelling bust,
Where the heart I covet lies,
If thy father hath "the dust,"
Do not, by your many wiles,
Seek to throw it in my eyes,
Blinding hopes and quenching smiles.

Thy father's fields I know are broad,
Whist my cows are "gone to grass,"
By rogues from every road out-awed,
My heart's the only acher left;
And now, I see, by you, alas!
Of even that I'll soon be reft!

If thy father hath "the scap,"
Do not wash your hands of me;
Make it mine, and then I hope
To scour the country o'er and o'er,
And keep my reputation free
From all the stains it ever wore

Secured, like thieves, in public stocks,
Maiden, what is thine to me?
With that "soap," that "dust," those "rocks!"
O, hear my prayer! as down I kneel—
Give me the hand I so much need,
And I'll be true to thee as steel!

AFTER ALL SAID,

—IS—

STEWART'S

NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT,

SUMMER AND WINTER

COOKING STOVE,

For Wood or Coal,

IMPROVED IN 1859.

The peculiarities of the

STEWART COOK STOVE,

Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will lie and smoulder and char, on the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire-chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward moveable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove from the time the article is set in until it is removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent RESERVOIR (of copper, with a tin casing) containing from 10 to 20 gallons, by which the waste heat, in passing off, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The space beneath the reservoir is occupied with a TIN CLOSET, where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c.

4. Also, by the aid of the TOP COVER, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DUCOT Oven prepared for the purpose, the heat being communicated to it from both sides of the fire-box: and the fumes, meanwhile, passing into the flash.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of meat may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; and the current instituted for this purpose made subservient to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, will no increase of combustion.

7. By means of the interposited metallic linings, or "gas burning arrangement," and application of the full summer draw, the various culinary processes may be carried forward successfully with a single stick of wood at a time.

8. In regard to DURABILITY, the Stewart Stove is made to last, and will last. The structural form is such that the frame work of it can not burn out.

All the plates constituting the original STEWART STOVE, which was brought out twenty years ago, are still made, and sent to different parts of the country, on call.

The price of QUIETNESS, COMFORT and HEALTH secured to a family by the use of a culinary apparatus perfectly adapted to their wants, cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents.

But we can not, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of the STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE

Now in use, which has been widely tested

FOR TWENTY YEARS,

and now found wanting in any particular. Yes, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and used for a score of years; but the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made improvements—so that the Stewart Stove of 1862 is as superior to that of 1841, as the Mowing Machine is to a Bush Scythe.

DENTISTRY.

No. 60 CONGRESS STREET,
PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 1st, 1863.

DR. GOODALL

Would respectfully announce to his patrons and the public that VULCANIZED RUBBER as a base for Artificial Teeth, promises all the advantages of Gold, yet costs only half as much. My experience has been very satisfactory in this case and I have no hesitation in WARRANTING PERFECT SATISFACTION in all cases.

Teeth inserted on Gold and Silver, and all other operations performed as usual.

Teeth extracted positively without pain, by inhaling Nitrous Oxyd Gas!

He is fully convinced that it is a perfectly harmless anæsthetic, the effect being that of an exhilarant, the whole operation being completed generally in three minutes, without the least pain, and the patient feeling as well, and usually better than before inhaling the Gas.

He would cordially invite all who wish teeth extracted without pain, or any person's injurious results, to call and be convinced.

I take pleasure in referring the public to Dr. TREADWELL, Dr. HOARDMAN, Dr OLIVER and Dr Jackson who have very satisfactorily tested my Teeth. Teeth extracted without pain and with perfect safety, with Ether. Teeth polished to their natural whiteness without pain or injury to the Enamel. Regulation of Adults' and Children's Teeth will receive particular attention.—All whole and partial Sets of Teeth repaired with Neatness and Dispatch. All other operations in Dentistry, I will do at the usual rates.

☞ Please call and examine specimens of Artificial Teeth upon Vulcanized Rubber, Gold and Silver.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has perfected a mode of treating the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrotula, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, pain and distress in the region of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth are: Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Dyspepsia, of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of mind, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your case. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capottes, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

Highly Important!

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 & 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. It is invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted persons soon rejoice in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 9 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

In all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. on the most difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

BOSTON, April 7, 1862. eodly.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for portion in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large oven for hot water; also a large size tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in the city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting dwellings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the dome can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 20 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world.—And would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., — Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, — Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, — John Sise, and others.

Teeth on Vulcanized Rubber,

SOME OF ITS ADVANTAGES.

1st. It is stronger and lighter than any known material.

2d. From two to six times the amount of suction or adhesion can be obtained by it.

3d. When the arch is irregular we can by building out the depressions—which can be done to any extent—give the mouth a more natural appearance.

4th. No bad taste arises in the mouth by its use, as the secretions of the stomach and mouth do not affect it in the least.

5th. Teeth mounted upon this base can be kept clean and sweet as easy as a saucer, as when finished the work presents one whole piece.

6th. While in all ways it is better, save in a few peculiar cases, it is much cheaper than Gold.

The Old Established Hospital.
No. 5 Beaver Street, Albany, N. Y.
QUICK CURES AND LOW PRICES.
Over Twenty Thousand Patients Cured Annually!

DR. J. TELLER continues to be confidentially and successfully consulted on all forms of private diseases, at his old Established Hospital, No. 5 Beaver Street, Albany, N. Y. Twenty years devoted to this one particular branch of practice, enables him to perform cures such as no other Physician can, and his facilities are such (being in correspondence with the most eminent Physicians of the Old World,) of obtaining the safest as well as the latest remedies for these diseases, offer inducements to the unfortunate of a quick and rapid cure, to be obtained at no other office in America.

In Syphilis, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Enlargement of the Testicles and Spermatic Cords Bubo, Ulcerated Throat, Sore Nose, Tender Shin Bones, Cutaneous Eruptions, Blies, Ulcers, Abscesses, and all other impurities of the system, are perfectly under the control of the Doctor's Medicines, and have been tested in more than 20,000 cases annually, with immense Success.

YOUNG MEN.

Young Men addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their healths and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasure of the Married Life, are notified that in consulting Dr. J. Teller, they will find a friend to console and a Physician who has cured thousands, in almost every part of the United States, who applied to Dr. J. broken down in health, now rejoice in all that makes life desirable and man happy. The reader is of course aware that the delicacy of this subject will prevent a more minute description of this terrible disease.

DR. TELLER'S GREAT WORK.

A book for everybody.—Startling disclosures. Dr. TELLER'S great work for the Married or those contemplating marriage—200 pages—full of plates—price 25 cts. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail, post paid. 50,000 copies sold the past year. The single Married and the Married Happy. A lecture on Love, or how to choose a Partner—a complete work on Midwifery. It contains hundreds of secrets, never before published.—Warranted to be worth three times the amount asked for it. 25 cents, in specie or postage stamps, inclosed, will secure a copy by return mail. Dr. TELLER has devoted a lifetime to the cure of those diseases upon which his books treat.

TO THE LADIES.

Dr. TELLER still remains the only Agency in America, for the sale of Dr. Vichoi's Italian Female Monthly Pills. The sale of more than 30,000 boxes establishes their reputation as a female remedy, unapproached, and far in advance of every other medicine—for stoppages, irregularities, and other obstructions in females.

CAUTION.—Married ladies in certain delicate situations should avoid their use. For reasons see directions which accompany each package, for the guidance of patients. On the receipt of $1, (the price per box,) these Pills will be sent, by mail or express, to any part of the world, secure from curiosity or damage.

Office hours from 8 A. M. to 8 P. M., and on Sundays from 9 to 5 P. M.

N. B.—Persons at a distance can be cured at home by addressing a letter to Dr. J. Teller, enclosing a remittance. Medicines securely packed from observation, sent to any part of the world. All cases warranted. No charge for advice.—N. B.—No students or boys employed. Notice this, address all letters to

CALENDAR CLOCKS.

These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, to secure all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.
Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.
Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar Attachment; and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. They will be set up in any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

The rebel army in Arkansas is scattered in every direction, and an extraordinary revival of the Union sentiment has taken place among the people.

The military operations on the Memphis & Charleston R. R. have been a series of brilliant Federal successes. During the six days' skirmishing and fighting, the rebels lost over 600 killed and a large number taken prisoners, and a considerable quantity of arms capfured.

Richmond papers say that Gen. Meade has one hundred thousand men. A distinguished Washington official stated the other day that he had ninety thousand men.

Gen. Grant is at Nashville, en route to assume the direction of affairs at Chattanooga, having been made Commander of the armies of the Ohio, the Cumberland and of Kentucky, Gen. Thomas taking command of Rosecrans' army. The latter is ordered to Cincinnati. The N. Y. Herald's dispatch states that Gen. Burnside has forced his way through the mountains of East Tennessee and Southwest Virginia, and has actually got possession of the main line of rebel communication between Richmond and Chattanooga. His advance is 175 miles southwest from Lynchburg, Va. He has utterly destroyed from forty to fifty miles of the railroad. It is said that this unexpected movement was the cause of a sudden retrograde movement by Lee, who has fallen back across the Rappahannock. Gen. Meade is reported to be following him up closely.

The latest accounts from the Army of the Potomac are to 1 o'clock Tuesday P. M.—On that day Gen. Kilpatrick's cavalry pushed back Stuart's rebel cavalry beyond Gainesville towards Warrenton, with considerable fighting but little loss. It is positively stated that Lee was at Warrenton on Monday, and had formed his line of battle and posted his artillery. Our troops were moving steadily on in two columns. A great battle is considered imminent.

☞ In Ohio, Brough, Union democrat, is elected Governor, by 62,000 majority on the home vote, as far as heard from. This majority will probably be swelled to over 100,000, by the soldier's votes against Vallandigham, whom they look upon as an enemy and a traitor.

In Iowa, Gov. Stone, Union, is elected, by 12,000 majority.

In Pennsylvania, Curtin's majority is about 18,000.

☞ Peterson's Ladies' Magazine, for November, contains a beautiful engraving entitled "Speak for it," besides fashion plates and wood cuts. It is full of matter interesting to ladies, and is published at only $2 per year.

☞ To every recruit who is a veteran volunteer, a bounty and premium, amounting to $402, will be paid by Government, and to all other recruits not veterans $300. These are for the old organizations. The object is to encourage volunteering, as those who are drafted receive only $100 bounty. Men enlisted under this order will be permitted to select their regiments in the field.

FIRE.—A barn, belonging to Rev. Dr. Withington, in Newbury, Mass., was destroyed by fire on Sunday evening. The contents were consumed, consisting of twenty tons of English hay, eight cords of wood, twenty bushels charcoal, and a hay press. Loss $1200—insured $150. The work of an incendiary.

☞ Gov. Seymour, of New York, has issued a proclamation, in relation to the new call for troops, in which he appeals to the people to give efficient and cheerful aid in filling up the thinned ranks of our armies. He asks all classes of citizens to assist in recruiting the volunteers called for from the State by their influence and by liberal contributions; and calls on all State officials to give every assistance in their power to promote enlistments into our armies.

☞ The N. Y. Herald's correspondent in the Sandwich Islands writes that the executive of that country had entered on a course of action decidedly hostile to the interests of American traders and the resident importers of goods from the Eastern States of the Union. Government had imposed a duty of ten per cent. on the nominal value of goods from the Eastern States invoiced in the paper currency of the country. A meeting of the parties interested was held in Honolulu on the 23d of Aug., for the purpose of submitting a statement to the Minister of Finance of the kingdom on this subject. Many cases of great hardship and loss were cited. The United States Minister has requested our Government to despatch a man-of-war to the islands.

A distinguished California divine was asked, after a trip to silver land, what he thought of the country! He replied, there are but three things at Washoe, Sir, big mines, little mines and whiskey shops; in other words, Ophir holes, gopher holes, and loafer holes.

☞ A Russian war steamer has arrived at San Francisco from Honolulu.

☞ The old Green Mountain Morgan stallion is dead.

☞ Rev T. H. Miller is to preach at Nottingham Square next Sunday.

☞ They have an "animated bean" in San Francisco.

☞ About 250,000 quarts of pure country milk are consumed daily in New York City, exclusive of swill milk.

☞ Rev. Dr. Clay, pastor of the Gloria Dei Church, died at Philadelphia, on Tuesday morning, aged 72 years.

☞ The good news from various quarters on Wednesday carried gold down in New York, and it closed at 144 1-8.

☞ Gov. Andy Johnson has declared himself in favor of immediate emancipation in Tennessee, it is said.

☞ John Minor Botts has been again paroled by the rebels, to appear in Richmond.

☞ A concert singer having murdered a tune, subsequently tried his voice, and acquitted himself with ease.

☞ To-morrow, Oct. 28, will be the anniversary of the birth of William Penn, in 1644.

There is a gentleman in Pittsfield, Mass., who has read every issue of the New York Daily Tribune from the first number of its publication, over twenty-three years ago.

☞ Admiral Dahlgren complains that the newspaper correspondents reveal important secrets to the enemy in their letters.

☞ Gen. Sickles has returned to Washington from the front, Gen. Meade not considering him well enough to resume command.

☞ A man in California has a pack of dogs which he sends out in the morning to forage. They visit the neighbors' premises and bring back hens, ducks and geese.

☞ A large force under Buckner is said to be marching into Kentucky, with a design to cross the Ohio River near Gallipolis.

☞ The last revolutionary pensioner in Massachusetts, John Goodnow, died at Sudbury last week, aged 102 years. He served eleven months in the war for Independence.

☞ At a recent election in San Francisco, one Union ballot was thrown on the back of which was pinned a check for $100 in favor of the Sanitary Commission.

☞ Maine, since its existence as a separate State (now forty-three years) has had twenty-one Judges of the Supreme Court. No Judge has died when in office, and fifteen of the number are still living.

☞ The English Government on the 9th formally seized one of the suspected rams built by Laird on the Mersey. The Turkish Government, it is said, offers to buy them.

☞ The Press states that Ex Gov. Israel Washburn, Jr., has been appointed Collector at Portland, at the request of some of the leading merchants, and has accepted. It was not sought for by him.

☞ The largest locomotive in the United States, if not in the world, has just been built for the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company. It has twelve driving wheels and weighs more than 100,000 pounds.

☞ The trunks of two trees have been sent from the battle-field at Gettysburg for the Massachusetts and Pennsylvania Historical Societies. One of them has 250 bullet holes in the space of 21 feet, and the other 110 in the same space.

☞ The receipts of money paid by drafted men now amount to nine millions, which it is expected will be increased by one or two millions more. The whole of this sum is to be appropriated to recruiting under the new Proclamation of the President.

☞ By the sudden movement of the Army of the Potomac most of the Ohio soldiers lost the privilege of voting for State officers. One regiment, however, took the vote while drawn up in line of battle at Catlett's Station. Vallandigham had two votes there.

☞ A liberal man in Pittsfield, Mass., offers to pay one-fifth the expense of a new library building, provided it does not cost more than $25,000, and another places $2000 at the disposal of the association, toward creating a permanent fund for the purchase of books.

☞ The cup and chest of Alexander Selkirk, the worldfamed Robinson Crusoe of Defoe, has now become the property of a gentleman in London. The cup was put upon a stalk and mounted with silver by Sir Walter Scott. It is made out of a cocoa nut, and rudely carved. The chest is very heavy, and is very curiously dovetailed.

Epistle from ye Honest Quaker.

Frank Miller:—Thee can never know, friend Miller, till thou hast learned to turn to the light within, the many advantages, both spiritual and temporal, which thee might derive from connecting thyself with the Society of Friends, better known as Quakers.

Thee does not know me personally, but thee has had my name in thy paper, and thee has been drafted thyself, and though thou art one of the world's people, thou can'st sympathize with me under the same affliction.

'Tis said that thou didst furnish a substitute, but I will show thee thy mistake; for if thou hadst done like unto my doing, thee would not only have escaped the draft, but have secured thine eternal welfare hereafter. It is true ray way was more expensive than thine, but thee must remember that it was the first time, and that hereafter I can perhaps escape their wicked snares without expending either time or money.

As it is, the whole expense, so far, of learning how not to do it, has been a little less than three hundred and fifty dollars; a large sum, it is true, and the parting with it came near rending my soul and body asunder, but I trust I shall have my reward hereafter.

The object of this letter is to relate some of my experiences under the Conscription Law; and as I am thy friend, and the friend of all mankind who will let me alone, thee will be but doing thy duty if thou printest this in thy paper free of charge. Then thou and thy worldly readers will of course justify me, and wear plainer clothing, and a covering for the head with a broader brim. I was ordered to appear at Portsmouth on the 18th day of the 8th month, or be deemed a deserter from the military service of the U. S. I assure you the threat was nothing, and at first I solemnly averred that I would never go; but by constant prayer, and pricking up and snuffing the light within, I discovered that the journey could be accomplished in one day, with no other expense (as I was furnished a free pass over the R. R.) than the loss of time and a couple of cents' worth of crackers for my dinner; while I might be exempted on account of some disability arising from my peaceful habits and peculiar views.

I need not tell thee of the events of my journey, for they were nothing extraordinary, and would take too much time and paper; and I shall be obliged to write some language which might appear well in one of Henry W. Beecher's sermons, but which only necessity compels me to make use of at all.

I reached the tent of wickedness occupied by the Provost Marshal, and various other representatives of an unjust and unnecessary government, (for I maintain that to one who entertains my peculiar views, all government is an unnecessary expense,) and after wasting the better part of the day in waiting for my turn, I was handed a card by the doorkeeper, and ordered to mount two flights of stairs, and they would show me what to do; but as I was determined to do nothing, I proceeded without comment.

Arrived at the top I was seized by one of these wicked men and placed under a sliding scale to ascertain my, length, and was asked the following questions:—"What is your name?" I found I had forgotten, but glancing at the card in my hand, I read, "William Penn." "How old are you?" "Eighteen hundred and sixty-three." Here the man gave me a rough shake by the shoulder, and said, "None of your nonsense here, my little coppethead,—how old are you?" "Friend," said I, "thee need not raise thy voice, and I beg thy pardon, but where one lives in such close communion with the other world as I do, is it a wonder if he sometimes mistakes himself for a greater than he?" So I told him my real age. "What is your occupation?" "I am a Quaker, and go about doing good," said I, proodly.

In the meanwhile this miserable timeserver had shouted to another who was writing in a book, large as a bible for two families—"Weak eyes, long hair, dirty complexion, and a simpish appearance generally." Here I was pushed into a room, with some dozen anxious-looking individuals, amid the jeers of the crowd of clerks and soldiers, which I bore, I trust, with becoming meekness, as I could not help myself.

Presently my turn came, and I was led into another room, but was so much overcome by fear and trembling that I hardly knew whether I was the lamb that was being led forth to slaughter, or the bloody butcher himself. When I recovered myself sufficiently to look around, I saw a large man seated at a table, whom I took to be the Provost, (so called) and divers others, three of whom proved to be of the fraternity of blood letters, and dispensers of rhubarb and ipecac. I was ordered to sit down and wait. Having spent a few moments in meditation, I glanced about the room, and saw that what I at first supposed was one of the four walls was a curtain, which suddenly rose sufficiently for me to see a man in the first clothing of our first parents, lying on the floor, with two of the medical men standing on his chest; a third holding his ear first to the back of one and then the other of the medicine men, and asking the subject to take a long breath. This, as I ascertained afterwards, was to discover if pulmonary consumption was hereditary in the conscript's family. The curtain now fell, and I saw no more; but in a few minutes I was asked to "step this way", and soon found myself in the embrace of one of these surgical gentlemen, and before I had time to repeat the words of the hymn:—

Conscripts, we our lot have taken,—
Everywhere we roam;
Naked, poor, despised, forsaken,
Far from the old folks at home.

I was cleaned of everything in the shape of clothing, and was being pulled this way, hauled that, and pounded every way in a moment. When the Doctors were all fairly exhausted, I sank to the floor. At length I was suffered to come to myself, and put on my rags (for they took off my clothes as though I could afford a new suit every day), and step forth the shadow of what I was, though I still felt my views big within me, and the light inside I am happy to say was unquenched, though I expected the vital spark was about to flee in disgust at one time. Now came the moment of suspense, for I did not know but I was to be killed and left for dead a few times more. "Do you find this man fit for a soldier?" said the Provost to one of the surgeons. "Physically he's all right," said one. "If he's weak anywhere it's here," said another, tapping his forehead. "Has he all the signs of the Zodiac, and in their proper places?" said the Provost. "Yes, sir ree," said all three men of physic, in a breath, "and some of them of most gigantic proportions." "Have you anything to say?" said the Provost, addressing me for the first time. "I'd like to say my prayers," said I. "How long have you been a Quaker," said he. "Ever since I was born," said I.—"How long ago was that," said he. "Thou art a man of sin," said I, meekly, "but I will answer thee, I have been born again and again." "Mr. Broadbrim," said he, "if you equivocate or lie here, you will find you have the wrong sow by the ear; we can't allow you to bore us much longer; state when you were born?" "I don't remember the first time," said I, "though I was present; but since then I have been born many times—all kinds of ists, arians, palians, borgians and doxes—and day before yesterday I became again a little child when I decided to live a Quaker." "Bully for you," said the Provost. "Invalids, put this man in uniform at once, but," continued he with a smile, "this is indeed a draft of size; so strip him tenderly, dress him with care; on his last bender he snarled his long hair. As he's a Quaker, though, give him a shake or so in his old shoes; and for his inward light, war'll take the pison right out of his views."

Of course thee will pardon me, friend Miller, if I omit many particulars of minor importance, for I find my story growing long and tiresome. I was asked if I should "offer a substitute." To this I replied that I was opposed to all wars, either personal or by proxy; that if I aided either party it would be the enemy, as this was according to the teachings of the Savior. They remarked that it would indeed be hard to find one who would fill my shoes, as a common man could perform his great feet in either of them with perfect ease. Then when they put me in uniform, they seemed to do it in as disagreeable a manner as possible. They took one of their little hats without a brim, placed it on the floor and stood me on my head in it. Then as they said the position was convenient for putting on my shoes, they let me remain standing feet uppermost until I became convinced they were a patient and persevering sect, and a good fit hard to find.

And now, friend Miller, thee has the most of my story. I don't thank anybody or anything for getting me clear. All I ask, is to be let alone by everybody. If you world's people wish to have, or think you need a government, and laws, and office holders, thee may have them; but go in peace, and let me alone. Thee may rest assured that there is no office under this wicked government that I would accept, if the salary was less than five hundred dollars. Jefferson Davis is a man of peace, and only wished to be let alone. Oh, that the blessed day might come when every man and every woman under the sun might be let alone,—but as one makes his bed so must he lie.

Thee has my prayers daily and hourly. I tell thee I am a man of peace. I would not kill a man. If my father and mother and all my friends were slain and chopped piecemeal before my eyes, I would not prevent it if perfectly convenient, so as I was let alone.

Go thou and do likewise. W. PENN.

P. S.—Thee will excuse the omission of the great amount of swear-talk I was obliged to hear, for though I have not long been a Quaker, such language is already an abomination in my sight.

I have also to add that the punctures I received in divers and sundry parts of my body, which were performed with the sharp instrument attached to the dangerous end of firearms, (called, I think, a gun with a bay on it,) are healing slowly.

Please publish the above, and be happy. W. P.

Notice of Appeal.

State of New Hampshire, Rockingham, ss.

To John Rider, Executor of the will of Mary Rider, late of Portsmouth, in the County of Rockingham, deceased, testate, and to the heirs at law of the estate of the said Mary Rider and all others interested therein:

Notice is hereby given that at a Court of Probate holden at Portsmouth, in and county, on the fourteenth day of July, 1863, it was ordered and decreed that John Rider be allowed for his services as Executor of the will of said Mary Rider the sum of six hundred and fifty-eight dollars and sixty cents, and as d John Rider was allowed to take, at a value less than the market value thereof, certain shares in the Bank of New Hampshire and in the Rockingham Bank belonging to said testator, and which he charged himself with at a less price than he sold said shares at and actually received, as Executor, pay therefor; and that the subscribers, being interested in said estate and aggrieved by said order and decree, on the first day of August, A. D. 1863, claimed an appeal therefrom to the Supreme Judicial Court next to be holden at Dover, within and for the First Judicial District of this State, on the third Tuesday of December next, and filed in the Probate Office for said county their bond to respond the cost that shall be awarded against them, agreeably to the statute in such case provided.

Dated the 10th day of September 1863.

HEALTH AND COMFORT.

Patent Rubber Sole Boots and Shoes.
FOR MEN, BOYS AND YOUTH.

These Goods, having been carefully tested, prove to be more desirable than any other Boots and Shoes heretofore made. They answer the double purpose of Leather and Rubber Boots and Shoes.

They are made serviceable and easier to the feet than Leather Soles, are impervious to water, and having a leather inner sole do not draw the feet, and are far less expensive than Rubber Boots.

They are free from noise, prevent slipping on ice, and in keeping the feet dry and warm are conducive to health.

When the Soles wear out, the Boots and Shoes can be tapped with leather, or, if returned to us entire, new Rubber Soles can be put on.

The subscribers, having made arrangements as Agents for the sale of the above goods, are now prepared to take measures for the same, in different styles, and deliver them at short notice. They are made from the best stock to be had in the market, and warranted in every particular. Call and examine samples, at No. 12 Market street.

One of Hunnewell's Preparations.

HUNNEWELL'S UNIVERSAL COUGH REMEDY.—To make a Cough Remedy thorough for all Throat and Lung Complaints, and to rid the mind of Climatic causes, when the great error has been the introducing of components which debilitate, and by such to restrain the greatest freedom of use, as the only true theory by which such complaints can be effectually cure, was the point made in this valuable preparation. To prevent asking attention to long stories of great cures, and to long descriptive technicalities, I would add confidence which will be scored, in COLDS, COUGHS, HOARSENESS, SORE THROAT BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC COMPLAINTS, to all THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS, which, when neglected, end in CONSUMPTION, and to prove the declarations by true results.

DRAFTED MEN FOR EXAMINATION.
Oct. 22, Meredith 54, Centre Harbor 12.

S. J. COURT, Wednesday.—Case No. 27, Norton vs. Hazelton, was given to the jury in the afternoon.

No. 94, William Neal vs. Samuel H. Tarleton, is now on trial. Stickney for plt.; W. H. Y. Hackett for deft. This is a suit for damages alleged to be done to a farm in Newington.

☞ The Directors of the Concord and Portsmouth Railroad sat down to their annual dinner at the Rockingham House in this city on Wednesday.

Gov. Gilmore in the morning visited the Portsmouth Navy Yard and was received with a salute of seventeen guns. He was accompanied by the Directors and other gentlemen, and the party were hospitably entertained by Com. Pearson, a bountiful collation being provided for them at his house.

☞ The Camenean, the seat of the Arts and the Muses,—where for so many years audience of the elite and fashion of our city so often assembled, has gradually fallen in ruins its high estate, until after being used as a billiard hall for some time, it is now being changed in its interior, to afford room for the stowage of carriages, &c. It was a delightful, cosy little hall, and there are those who will regret its place is not better supplied now.

☞ There are now between eighteen hundred and nineteen hundred men employed in the various departments at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, and it is not probable that this number will be diminished for some months to come.

☞ The new U. S. steamer Shawmut, from the Portsmouth Navy Yard, arrived at New York on Tuesday afternoon, in tow of the steamer Charles Pearson. She goes there to receive her machinery.

☞ The dwelling house of Dr. Delaney, on the Portsmouth Navy Yard, was entered, as supposed, by false keys, on Monday night, and $53 in money was stolen, together with a quantity of silver ware. No clue to the thief has yet been obtained.

☞ We learn that the 5th Battalion, U. S. Invalid Corps, Lieut. Colonel Wardwell, which for nearly three months past has been stationed in this city, is to leave Camp Fry to-day for Concord.

POLICE COURT. — Oct. 21 — Before Justice Odell. Richard C. Carmen, plead guilty of drunkenness, fined $3, cost $3.86. Joseph Johnson, for stealing flannel, value $3.18, from Lemuel M. Caswell, was fined $1, cost 3.85, and pay Caswell $10 54 cts. Paid.

To the Editor of the Chronicle:—A recent statement in your paper made known the fact that a course of lectures was to be delivered under the auspices of a certain "Committee." One or more of this committee are members of the Mercantile Library Association; then why not lend a helping hand to this association, and have the proposed lectures under their direction, and thereby encourage the young members? The Mercantile Association during the last six months has been somewhat embarrassed in its pecuniary affairs, but by judicious entrenchment of expenses they have braved the storm. To aid this society by public patronage would be doing justice to its members. A meeting will soon be called, when a proposition will be presented to have a course of lectures under the direction of this association.

A MEMBER OF M. L. ASSOCIATION.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— There are thirty-two students from this State in the different departments at Harvard College.

—— A fish hawk, which measured five feet eight inches from tip to tip of wings, was shot in Sanbornton on the 17th inst.

—— The Manchester Mirror says the city sexton there has had only one death to record for the week ending on the 19th instant.

—— It is expected that the fifth regiment will leave for the seat of war this week, with its ranks well filled by conscripts and substitutes.

—— A bear came up last spring in the door-yard of James M. Garland of Hooksett, and giving evidence of unusual thrift, it was protected and allowed to spread itself at will; 205 pods matured upon it, containing 1218 beans.

—— The Concord Patriot reports that Chief Justice Bell, of the Supreme Court of New Hampshire, has decided in the case of John H. George vs. the City of Concord, that United States "greenbacks" are not a legal tender. The plantiff held the city's notes for $2000, for which United States notes were tendered and refused, and a suit was brought to recover the debt, which action has been for the present decided as above. The case goes to the full bench.

—— A horse has been sold in Exeter for $600,—to be taken to St. Paul, Minn.

—— The Wolfborough News states that Peter Meserve, of Freedom, was drowned near Charlestown bridge about 9 o'clock on the evening of the 3d, the draw-tender having heard his cries, but too late to aid him. His body was recovered on the 13th, and there was evidence of a blow having been received on the head. His wallet, supposed to contain about $100, was missing. He was 52 years of age. Arrests have been made of persons who were with him a few hours before he was drowned.

☞ Gen. Webb has issued an order thanking the conscripts and substitutes attached to his division, for their good conduct during the engagement at Bristoe Station. Having shown themselves worthy comrades of well-tried troops, they will not longer be subject to special guard and vigilance.

SYMPATHY.—Sympathy is a lovely and beautiful thing, for it exhibits the angelic part of human nature. We deeply sympathize with those who cannot obtain Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus, for they are deprived of one of the greatest luxuries the world affords. But we have no sympathy with any family who will use any other Saleratus or soda, if this article can be purchased. We see most of our Merchants have it. One trial will convince any one. Their depot is 112 Liberty Street, New York.

☞ The Domestic Dyes prepared by Geo. H. Reed & Co. offer the simplest and most perfect means of dyeing household apparel ever presented the public. They embrace 40 different shades, and include all the new and fashionable colors—and are perfectly fast. Samples on silk and wool can be seen and the colors procured of THACHER. ju20

$100 REWARD!

For a Medicine that will cure COUGHS, INFLUENZA, TICKLING IN THE THROAT, WHOOPING COUGH, Or relieve CONSUMPTIVE COUGH, as quick as COE'S COUGH BALSAM.

OVER FIVE THOUSAND BOTTLES have been sold in its native town, and not a single instance of its failure is known.

We have, in our possession, any quantity of certificates, some of them from

EMINENT PHYSICIANS,

who have used it in their practice, and given it the pre-eminence over any other compound.

It does not dry up a Cough,

but loosens it, so as to enable the patient to expectorate freely.

☞ These or three Bottles will invariably cure TICKLING IN THE THROAT. ☜

A HALF Bottle has often completely cured the most

STUBBORN COUGH.

And yet, though it is so sure and speedy in its operation, it is perfectly harmless, being purely vegetable. It is very agreeable to the taste, and may be administered to children of any age.

In cases of CROUP we will guarantee a cure, if taken in season. No Family should be without it. It is within the reach of all, the price being

ONLY 25 CENTS!

And if an investment and thorough trial does not "back up" the above statement, the money will be refunded. We say this, knowing its merits, and feel confident that one trial will secure for it a home in every household.

Do not waste away with Coughing, when so small an investment will cure you. It may be had of any respectable druggist in town, who will furnish you with a circular of genuine certificates of cures it has made.

Laws' Express—Notice.

The subscriber would inform his patrons, and the general public, that in order the better to accommodate his increasing business, he has engaged MR. ALBERT CHAMBERLAIN, JR., to run as Messenger, daily, to and from Boston; and that his Express will now make two trips each way daily,—leaving Portsmouth at 7 and 11 o'clock, and returning at 6½ and 7½. Thanking all for past liberal patronage, he hopes by the new arrangement to be enabled to fill all orders still more promptly than ever.

Office at Mr. Avery's, 29 Congress street, as heretofore.

EQUINOCTIAL.

The Sun of Life has crossed the line,
The summer-slide of lengthened light
Faded and failed—till, where I stand,
Tis equal Day and equal Night.

One offer one, as dwindling hours,
Youth's glowing hopes have dropped away,
And soon may barely save the gleam
That coldly scores a winter's day.

I am not young, I am not old;
The flush of morn, the sunset calm,
Paling, and deepening, each to each,
Meet midway with a solemn charm.

One side I see the summer fields
Not yet disrobed of all their green;
While wind-stirr'd, along the shield,
Flame the first tints of frosty sheen.

Ah, middle point, where cloud and storm
Make battle ground of the 'my life!'
Where, even-matched, the Night and Day
Wage round me their September strife.

I how me to the threatening gale:
I know, when that be overpast,
Among the peaceful harvest days,
An Indian-summer comes at last!

THE BEST COOK STOVE
IN THE MARKET,
AFTER ALL SAID,
—IS—
STEWART'S
NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT,
SUMMER AND WINTER
COOKING STOVE,
For Wood or Coal,
IMPROVED IN 1859.

The peculiarities of the
STEWART COOK STOVE,
Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will lie and smoulder and char, on the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward movable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove from the time the article is set in until it is removed from the oven. 2.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent RESERVOIR (of copper, with a tin casing) containing from 10 to 20 gallons, by which the waste heat, in passing off, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The space beneath the reservoir is occupied with a TIN CLOSET, where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread set to raise, fruit dried, &c.

4. Also, by the aid of the TOP COVER, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DUTCH OVEN prepared for the purpose—the heat being concentrated to it from both sides of the fire-box: and the fumes, meanwhile, passing into the flue.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of meat may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; and the current instituted for this purpose made subservient to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no increase of combustion.

7. By the aid of the perforated metallic linings, or "spreading arrangement," and application of the full summer dress, the various culinary processes may be carried forward successfully with a single stick of wood at a time.

8. In regard to DURABILITY, the Stewart Stove is made to last, and will last. The structural form is such that the frame work of it can not burn out.

All the plates constituting the original STEWART STOVE, which was brought out twenty years ago, are still made, and sent to different parts of the country, on call.

The price of QUIETNESS, COMFORT and HEALTH secured to a family by the use of a culinary apparatus perfectly adapted to their wants, cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents.

But we can not, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of the STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE

Now in use, which has been widely tested
FOR TWENTY YEARS,
and not found wanting in any particular. Yes, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and used for twenty years, but the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made improvements—so that the Stewart Stove of 1858 is as superior to that of 1848, as the Mowing Machine is to a Bush Scythe.

IT HAS NOT BEEN EXCELLED
yet, as a Family Stove. Here follow the names of a few of the numerous purchasers of the

VOL. 23. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. FRIDAY OCT. 23, 1863. NO. 98.

The Chronicle.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined:
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though everyism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

COLONIES.—The colony of freedmen on Island No. 10, in the Mississippi, are in a prosperous condition. There are in all nine hundred persons, two hundred and twenty of whom are children at school. The colony owns a sawing machine, and there are a number of women already capable of making their own garments. At Corinth there is a similar colony, numbering 2186 men, 1092 women and 578 children. Over 500 of the men are in the employ of the Government, 848 are employed by individuals, and some 300 are workers in the camp. There are two schools with 470 pupils, 350 of whom have learned to read. Eleven hundred men have enlisted from this colony in the United States' army.

☞ Refuse coal tar, drained off from the works of the Boston Gas Light Company, has formed a deposit, one and a half feet deep, over a space 600 feet by 300 feet, in Boston Harbor just below Charles River bridge. The tar is very adhesive and unites with the gravel and mud, forming a solid substance very difficult to remove and materially lessening the depth of water.—The Company have been directed to discontinue the practice, and measures are being taken to remove the tar already in the harbor.

☞ A private letter from New Orleans, under date of the 8th, says:—

The preparations for the draft are causing no little uneasiness about town. Of course you have seen the preliminary announcements. Further 'orders' are expected to appear in a day or two. Some of the brawling patriots who appear to be such intense lovers of the Union will now have an opportunity of showing their hands in a practical way. Is it not singular they did not do it before the screws were applied to them? We are having rather cool weather of late, and winter toggery is being donned by degrees."

☞ The Salem Register quotes from a private letter from a young lady at Port Royal describing some of the negro prayer meetings. The letter says:

"Last night an old brother prayed for 'young massa,' who left her habitation up North to come down and teach we, and when her labors are ended, and she has chewed all de hard bones and swallowed de bitter pill, may she goober Jordan wid a light hold on de Lord, and not leave go till she get clar into the City ob Zion."

The mother of a little fellow who was about taking a ride in the Hartford horse cars, asked him, as he scrambled in, "Why, aren't you going to kiss your mother before you go?" The little rogue was in such a hurry that he couldn't stop, and hastily called out "Conductor, won't you kiss mother for me?"

☞ It was not for want of effort that Mr. Vallandigham did not get elected Governor of Ohio and turn that into a rebel State. It was only lack of votes. Only one or two days before the election, forty men armed with revolvers, on the way to Dayton to vote for Vallandigham, were arrested at Richmond, Ind. Nine more were arrested at Greensburg, Ind., from Illinois. The proof is most positive against them. It is said that expenses and wages were paid these colonizers in Illinois. Sixteen revolvers, of large size, and loaded, were found to be belted about them. Other rebel voters were detected at Cincinnati.—But this kind of vote did not prevail, and Charleston was not illuminated.

THE CONSCRIPTS IN BATTLE.—A correspondent of the Washington Chronicle, giving an account of the fight at Bristor's Station, says:

I am bound to say a word of truth for the conscripts. Gen. Webb, who had a large number in his division, speaks of them in terms of admiration. They stood in their places and fought. No more can be said of the bravest modern warrior.

Twenty years devoted to this one particular branch of practice, enables him to perform cures such as no other Physician can, and his facilities are such (being in correspondence with the most eminent Physicians of the Old World,) of obtaining the safest as well as the latest remedies for these diseases, offer inducements to the unfortunate of a quick and rapid cure, to be obtained at no other office in America.
In Syhilis, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Enlargement of the Testicles and Spermatic Cords Bubo, Ulcerated Throat, Sore Nose, Tender Shin Bones, Cutaneous Eruptions, Biles, Ulcers, Abscesses, and all other impurities of the system, are perfectly under the control of the Doctor's Medicines, and have been tested in more than 20,000 cases annually, with immense Success.
YOUNG MEN.
Young Men addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their healths and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasure of the Married Life, are notified that in consulting Dr. J. Teller, they will find a friend to console and a Physician who has cured thousands, in almost every part of the United States, who applied to Dr. T. broken down in health, now rejoice in all that makes life desirable and man happy. The reader is of course aware that the delicacy of this subject will prevent a more minute description of this terrible disease.
DR. TELLER'S GREAT WORK.
A book for everybody—Startling disclosures Dr. Teller's great work for the Married or those contemplating marriage—200 pages—full of plates—price 25 cts. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail, post paid. 50,000 copies sold the past year. The single Married and the Married Happy. A lecture on Love, or how to choose a Partner—a complete work on Midwifery. It contains hundreds of secrets, never before published.—Warranted to be worth three times the amount asked for it. 25 cents, in specie or postage stamps, inclosed, will secure a copy by return mail. Dr. Teller has devoted a lifetime to the cure of those diseases upon which his books treat.
TO THE LADIES.
Dr. TELLER still remains the only Agency in America, for the sale of Dr. Nichol's Italian Female Monthly Pills. The sale of more than 20,000 boxes establishes their reputation as a female remedy, unapproached, and far in advance of every other medicine—for stoppages, irregularities, and other obstructions in females.
CAUTION.—Married ladies in certain delicate situations should avoid their use. For reasons the directions which accompany each package, for the guidance of patients. On the receipt of $1, (the price per box,) these Pills will be sent, by mail or express, to any part of the world, secure from curiosity or damage.

CALENDAR CLOCKS.
These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the attention of but one movement only, to secure all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 30th day of February, for leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.
Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.
Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar Attachment; and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. They will be set up in any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

EDITORIAL JOTTINGS.

LAWRENCE, Oct. 20.

Dear Chronicle:—Our road from Boston to Lawrence ran through Charlestown, never a very interesting city to us, except in its Bunker Hill and Dr. Warren—through Malden, the Readings and Andovers. The drive, on that pleasant Saturday afternoon, about 30 miles, was one of the most picturesque we ever enjoyed; the scenery beautifully diversified with fine residences, hill and valley, lake and forest. Much more attractive than we had anticipated.

In Reading, the road passes directly at the foot of an immense perpendicular cliff of solid granite, fifty feet or more in height; and then along the borders of beautiful sheets of water for miles. We passed, in Reading, we think the most elegant residence we ever saw, in course of construction—a large modern edifice, with French roof of bright colored tiles, and elaborately carved white window frames in fine contrast.

There were also innumerable signs at the street corners, "Private way, not safe," &c., very necessary in all new or unfinished places, or perhaps we might say in any city where there is "enterprise" enough to lay out streets faster than the slow authorities will accept them—but almost unknown in the old cities. However, even in Portsmouth, within a year or two, a boy drove a hack into an unaccepted street in the vicinity of the City Farm, and overturned it in the unbroken snowdrifts, and the owner of the team had to pay $200 for injuries received by a lady passenger in a broken leg, &c. All of which might have been prevented, perhaps, by one of the signs, "Not safe"; or, at any rate, the city not been morally or legally liable. However, we believe, for a wonder, the corporation was not called upon in this case.

Lawrence is laid out for a great city, one of these days, and is no mean one now.—But, like Washington, it is yet to a considerable extent, a place of "magnificent distances." The streets are generally straight and of good width, and the architecture of the dwellings is very pleasing. The City Hall is a fine structure, and they have plenty of park or "common" room.

They have two weekly newspapers—the little Daily Journal having recently been discontinued, after three years of fitful existence. This ought not to be—a city like Lawrence should support a local Daily, and we think would do so, did not the publishers tire of the requisite incessant hard work. No small part of any city's reputation abroad depends on its newspapers; and it is for the interest of all concerned to have these of the best description, and well sustained. In this view, which is indisputably sound—a good paper is of more service and importance to any small community, than the business of publishing it can ever be to any man who is of sufficient talent to be worthy of managing it.

The great, almost the only business of Lawrence, is its mills. Among these, the "Atlantic" and the "Pemberton" are the only ones we see bearing signs of their names. They also have Pemberton street, bank, &c., here. One would think, after the horrid mill accident, that name of Pemberton would not be popular here—at least, that the new company which bought the property might have taken another. The great and glorious Bay State corporation was sunk out of sight and hearing by the infamous knaveries of men whose "respectable" connexions, and enormities of whose crimes alone saved them from deserved punishment, though not from everlasting infamy, and the curses of thousands of the defrauded poor.

We have before spoken of Lord Dexter, and his "folly" or collection of images, which cost $15,000 or more. Near Lawrence, in Andover, is a monument to a much greater fool than he ever was—and this man is yet living. On the summit of a very high hill, sits or stands "the castle," an immense private dwelling, of wood, which, we are told, cost $90,000—ninety thousand dollars! The entrance is through a cheap, common gate, and there are no ornamental grounds attached—only eight or ten acres of common farm land. And the builder had just failed before he put it up; and failed again, worse yet, just after he had erected this stupendous monument to folly and madness; and his mother had, and still has, to own it, or pretend to, while the builder himself does business, or tries to, elsewhere! Are the fools all dead yet?

A mile or two from Lawrence, also in Andover, is a huge pile of rocks, called Den Rock. It is a hilly, romantic place, resembling Dungeon Hill in Lynn, and Rattlesnake Hill in Concord. The immense boulders of granite are split and rent, and great fragments wedged into the crevices, as at the Shoals—a wildly-romantic spot for an afternoon ramble and picnic, which we improved there.

Among the mills here is a paper mill, where, we believe, the stock for the Boston Journal is made now; also a mill for the manufacture of shoddy cloths, where also "wool" is manufactured from old rags, and immense quantities sold for 50 or 60 cents per pound. Cotton batting is likewise made here, from spinners' waste.

The Boston & Maine railroad has two passenger stations here, one on each side of the river,—which double "accommodation" causes not a little trouble and confusion among strangers. We have cause to remember the vicious arrangement,—for several years ago, while hurrying home from Manchester in the last evening train—after dodging across the bridge two or three times, trying to hit the connecting train at each depot, and narrowly escaping breaking our neck in jumping from a wrong car, we found ourselves sold completely, and no better alternative left than to charter a team to Newburyport, where we spent that dismal, rainy night among friends.

But now, with our own private conveyance, and subject to nobody's else "all aboard"—farewell to the Shawsheen—we pass over Spickett River Bridge, through Hallville to Haverhill, &c. Of which, perhaps, a word more hereafter.

Ever yours, F.

AT HOME, Oct. 22.

A lovely drive through Haverhill and Newton, to East Kingston,—where we stopped with a former friend and dined; then to Exeter, and home through North Hampton—was not among the least interesting forty miles of our trip. Only the satisfaction of getting home led us to ride so far.—The scenery was in many places very beautiful, and the roads generally good. The chief object of interest was the magnificent City Hall in Haverhill—the sight of which set us to thinking that the officers who occupy such quarters must needs command more respect and obedience than if located in mean premises, and that it must be the duty of every able town or city to erect tasteful public structures, to influence the popular taste.

Among the prominent residents of East Kingston are the venerable John Sanborn and lady, the parents of our host for the day—aged respectively 86 and 84 years.—Both are hale and hearty, and although the parents of eleven sons and daughters, any of whom would be glad to relieve the old folks of all care of themselves even,—yet they prefer to keep all the farm work under their own direction at least, in-doors and out, to the extent of eight or nine cows, seventy cheeses in a season, great quantities of butter, &c.

Glad to be at home once more, after a three-weeks' respite from work—we propose to resume our routine duties. Thankful for all favors and courtesies, and especially to those ladies and children in that old rattle cart on Rye road, just as we were getting into town, for only "coming within one" foot of "running us down" over that bank, in our buggy—and thus letting us finish our trip in safety. We remain, as ever, Yours truly, F.

THE REBELLION.

The Texas expedition, under command of Gen. Banks in person, has effected a landing at Point Isabel, a small place at the mouth of the Rio Grande river. It is understood that another corps of his army is co-operating with him from the direction of Red river. [The steamer Bienville, which is said to have brought the above intelligence to Port Royal, arrived at New York on Sunday last, but made no such report there.]

Gen. Hooker is at Stevenson, Ala.

The rebel army in Virginia continues to retreat, and Meade is following them up. The N. Y. Tribune's dispatch states that the President last Saturday told Gen. Meade that he must find and fight the enemy at once; that if he won a victory he should have all the glory, but if he were defeated he himself would, as Commander-in-Chief, assume the responsibility.

The Washington Chronicle says that Gen. Meade has been imperatively ordered to pursue Lee vigorously, and to force him to give battle if possible.

It is believed that James Island is occupied by 5000 rebel troops. Sullivan's Island is supposed to be occupied by about the same number. In the immediate vicinity of Charleston are quartered 10,000 men, making an aggregate force of about 20,000. It is said that Adm. Dahlgren, a short time since, expressed his determination to an officer high in rank, to go up to Charleston on the next trial, or else assure himself that the iron-clads are unequal to the task.

Little Rock, Ark., advices state that a mutiny was produced in the rebel army by the appointment of Holmes in the place of Price. Hundreds deserted, and to prevent further desertions the rebel army was to be moved south. The forces were previously demoralized; hence the change in commanders.

"TESTIMONY OF AN EXPERT."—"If you let your adversary assume his premises at pleasure, he must be a sorry reasoner if he cannot make out any conclusion he finds convenient."—N. Y. World.

☞ The quota of New York under the new call is 35,000.

☞ The N. Y. Post's Washington correspondent says that Gen. Rosecrans was removed for physical reasons merely.

☞ The death of De Vigny, one of the more gifted of the literary men of this generation in France, is announced.

☞ Chicago is to be supplied with water from the lake by a tunnel costing $315,139.

☞ Large orders for United States Government Stocks were received by the Hibernian at Quebec.

☞ Mr. Morgan has been elected to the Federal Congress in the 1st Texas District, comprising 19 northern counties.

☞ A blockade runner has been captured on the Bahama Banks, with $80,000 in gold and 225 bales of cotton. So those banks have resumed specie payments.

☞ 421 deaths occurred in New York city last week; 205 children, under five years of age, were swept away by infantile complaints.

☞ Gen. Forey had not arrived at Havana on the 16th, although he had been expected, and it was rumored that he had died of yellow fever.

☞ The death, at Florence, of Mrs. Trollope, the novelist, is announced. Her books on America hardly tended to make her beloved in this country.

☞ A marble mantle from the old Hancock House in Boston, has been placed in the sitting room of a new house in Skowhegan, Me.

☞ Orpheus C. Kerr has gone to San Francisco, and the Sunday Mercury of that city compliments him by saying: "he is hideously ugly: he has yellow hair, green eyes, and chalky complexion."

☞ Mrs. Laura Pratt, aged 60, was burned to death in Somerville, Mass., on Monday night, having accidentally set her clothes on fire. She was the last of a family of four, all of whom came to a sad end.

☞ It would grieve the good farmers to glance over our exchange papers for a week or two, and notice how many valuable sheep are killed by worthless dogs in New England.

☞ By a collision on Lake Erie between the propeller Eclipse and schooner Hudson, on Sunday, one man was killed and two injured on the schooner, which sunk with 180,000 bushels of wheat on board.

☞ The Third Presbyterian Church at Pittsburg, Pa., Wednesday was destroyed by fire, including a valuable organ and the library of the pastor. The insurance on the building amounts to $20,000. The organ was insured for $1200.

☞ An old lady of eighty years, in Monkton, Mass., woke up the other night and found herself at the bottom of the well,—in three feet of water and twenty-four feet below the surface of the ground. She was unharmed.

☞ The famous mare Flora Temple died in Belfast, Me., Oct. 9. She had trotted at Bangor a few days previously, and took a sudden cold which brought on an attack of the distemper of which she died. Her owner valued her at $1600,—so says the Belfast Age. Is it the Flora?

☞ The Spanish Democratic Committee has issued a proclamation in which the electors are recommended to abstain from voting at the coming elections. The proclamation demands on behalf of the Democrats of Spain universal suffrage, freedom of the press, and an abandonment of the system of administrative centralization.

☞ At the "tin wedding" of a Connecticut pastor the other day, one of the parish brought a huge tin pen, eight feet long, and remarked,—"I do not give you this long pen to write any longer sermons."—"I hope," was the ready reply, "that they may be long enough to reach you, my friend."

☞ It is said that Gens. Rosecrans, and Crittenden and McCook were asleep in Chattanooga when Gen. Thomas was fighting a brave and desperate fight single handed and alone. It is also said that Rosecrans refused to assist Gen. Grant during the seige of Vicksburg, after repeated orders from Government and requests from Gen. Grant himself, to attack Bragg so as to make a diversion in Grant's favor, and prevent the reenforcement of Johnston.

There was some surprise expressed that two out of 89 Ohio soldiers who voted for Governor at headquarters in Baltimore should have cast their ballots for Vallandingham. Inquiry solved the puzzle—they were both arrested deserters.—Tribune.

Laughing Gas.

DR. GOODALL requests us to say that Dr. MUNSON, of Boston, will be at his office, No. 63 Congress street, TO-DAY (Friday), and will again assist in administering the NITROUS OXYD GAS. He has given it to several thousand people, with perfect success

This Evening, Dr. Munson will give an entertainment at the Temple, demonstrating the humorous and the anæsthetic effects resulting from inhaling the Nitrous Gas. All who desire a practical knowledge of this great discovery, and a good laugh, should attend. Cards of admission, 15 cents each, can be obtained at Dr. Goodall's office, 63 Congress street, and at W. R. Preston's, 2 Congress Block. o23

Notice of Appeal.

State of New Hampshire, Rockingham, ss.

To John Rider, Executor of the will of Mary Rider, late of Portsmouth, in the County of Rockingham, deceased, testate, and to the heirs at law of the estate of the said Mary Rider and all others interested therein:

Notice is hereby given that at a Court of Probate holden at Portsmouth, in said county, on the fourteenth day of July, 1863, it was ordered and decreed that John Rider be allowed for his services as Executor of the will of said Mary Rider the sum of six hundred and fifty-eight dollars and sixty cents, and as John Rider was allowed to take, at a value less than the market value thereof, certain shares in the Bank of New Hampshire and in the Rockingham Bank belonging to said testator, and which he charged himself with at a less price than he sold said shares at and actually received, as Executor, pay therefor; and that the subscribers, being interested in said estate and aggrieved by said order and decree, on the first day of August, A. D. 1863, claimed an appeal therefrom to the Supreme Judicial Court next to be holden at Dover, within and for the First Judicial District of this State, on the third Tuesday of December next, and filed in the Probate Office for said county their bond to respond the cost that shall be awarded against them, agreeably to the statute in such case provided.

Dated the 10th day of September, 1863.

HEALTH AND COMFORT.

Patent Rubber Sole Boots and Shoes

FOR MEN, BOYS AND YOUTH.

These Goods, having been carefully tested, prove to be more desirable than any other Boots and Shoes heretofore made. They answer the double purpose of Leather and Rubber Boots and Shoes.

They are made serviceable and easier to the feet than Leather Soles, are impervious to water, and having a leather inner sole do not draw the feet, and are far less expensive than Rubber Boots.

They are free from noise, prevent slipping on ice, and in keeping the feet dry and warm are conducive to health.

When the soles wear out, the Boots and Shoes can be tapped with leather, or, if returned to us, entire, new Rubber Soles can be put on.

The subscribers, having made arrangements with Agents for the sale of the above goods, are now prepared to take measures for the same, in different styles, and deliver them at short notice. They are made from the best stock to be had in the market, and warranted in every particular. Call and examine samples, at No. 12 Market street.

One of Hunnewell's Preparations.

HUNNEWELL'S UNIVERSAL COUGH REMEDY.—To make a Cough Remedy thorough for all Throat and Lung Complaints, and to rid the mind of Climatic causes, when the great error has been the introducing of components which debilitate, and by such so restricted the greatest freedom of use, as the only true theory by which such complaints can be effectually cure, was the point made in this valuable preparation. To prevent asking attention to long stories of great cures, and to long descriptive technicalities, I would ask a trial, which will be sacred, in COLDS, COUGHS, HOARSENESS, SORE THROAT, BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC COMPLAINTS, to all THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS, which, when neglected, end in CONSUMPTION, and to prove the declarations by true results.

☞ The Annual Occasional Sermon before the Baptist State Convention for New Hampshire, was delivered at the Middle Street Church in this city, on Tuesday evening. Rev. Mr. Peck, of Exeter, was the preacher, who drew from the words of Jesus, "the Poor have the Gospel preached to them," a most instructive and encouraging moral lesson, suited to all times, but especially adapted to this time. In a discourse of great beauty, he made the instruction, elevation, and consolation of all men, especially the poor and suffering, the distinctive feature of the Christian dispensation,—and the duty of the Christian Ministry and the Christian Church. He took also a most favorable and hopeful view of the events now passing, in which the wrath of man will be made to praise God, by the enlightenment, improvement, and godly lives of millions who will rejoice in the liberty wherewith Christ makes men free.

The sermon was received with close attention, and silent but hearty approval, by an intelligent and delighted audience.

OCEAN HOUSE.—Messrs. Job Jenness & Son are actually at work, rebuilding the Ocean House at Rye Beach, on the site of that famous old hostelrie. The timber is now being cut near by, and teamed on to the grounds, under the personal supervision of Mr. Jenness himself, who not only knows how to keep a hotel, but ought also to understand how to build one, by this time.—We believe it is designed to have the new house completed by another season. It will be a large and elegant structure, and fitted for winter as well as summer occupancy. Messrs. Jenness are to put up the house themselves, we hear—the proposed plan of a stock company having been abandoned or materially altered.

S. J. COURT, Thursday.—In the action John Norton vs. Ira Haselton, the jury returned a verdict for plff. for $1.73. The action was for labor of plff. as a joiner, done for Haselton, to the amount of $426.64.—The case was formerly tried before Wm. H. Rollins, Esq., as Auditor, where a balance of about $16 was declared due the deft. The present verdict of the jury, as above, gives a very small sum to plf., and carries with it the cost.

The case, Neal vs. Tarlton, is still on trial.

The Grand Jury will probably bring in their report on Friday.

At the last session of the Legislature several gentlemen of Portsmouth, Manchester and elsewhere were incorporated by the name of the Portsmouth and New York Steamboat Co., with a capital of $400,000, for the purpose of building, owning and running a line of steamers between the cities of Portsmouth, Boston and New York, for the transportation of freight and passengers. Notwithstanding the fact that hardly a pound of cotton or cotton goods is now being received or shipped at this port by water, yet the weekly packets from New York arrive full of freight on Portsmouth account. Freight in some instances is sent by propeller from New York to Portland, and thence shipped by rail to Portsmouth. If we ever get cotton at reasonable prices it is contemplated that large quantities will be purchased in the New York markets for Manchester, Suncook, Great Falls, Dover, Newmarket and other manufacturing places, and shipped to Portsmouth; and with a line of steamers from Portsmouth to New York, the manufactured goods from the mills located at the above points could be speedily taken to New York at far less rates than by any other route. We have no doubt that as the leading capitalists who are interested in manufactures propose to establish the line, the business that will flow in upon it will render it a profitable operation.—Cor. Ballot.

THE NEW SALOON.—It will be seen that Mr. Hoyt has become sole proprietor of the new restaurant on Congress street.—"Dave" is still there, and among other nice dishes that he gets up, are those Jersey oysters, and "steamed oysters,"—than which there is nothing better, except a veritable clam-bake.

There are over twenty-seven U. S. vessels, mostly steamers, repairing at the Brooklyn Navy Yard at this time, besides vessels that are fitting out and those that have been recently built, and none repairing at the Portsmouth Yard. Is there any good reason for this? Why don't some of our members of Congress bestir themselves and get a vessel now and then sent to this yard instead of keeping it a one-horse place? It is a shame upon those who direct these affairs that the excessive amount of work should be crowded into the New York yard and wait to be done, when it could be done here quicker.—Cor. Ballot.

POLICE COURT, Thursday.—David Lewis, for being drunk, was fined $3, costs $2.92. James Collins, same offence, fined $3, costs $2.92.

Three million pairs of metal tips are annually applied to the toes of children's shoes. It is claimed that one pair will outwear three without tips: this would make an annual saving of nearly six million dollars to those that use them, an important item at the present time. An acquaintance who has three children, informs us that since he commenced buying Metal-tipped shoes (one year ago) he has saved the price of new boots for himself.—Commercial Bulletin.

—— The quota of New Hampshire under the new call is 3768 men,—about four regiments.

—— The house of Mr. Charles Chase in Manchester, was entered on Tuesday afternoon during the temporary absence of the family, and $75 worth of silver ware and clothing stolen.

—— The draft was rather severe in New Hampton—it took the only physician in town, two of the Selectmen, the principal teacher in the literary department of the Seminary, all the theological students who graduated in July last, and six of the class in theology at the present term.

☞ See you fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

SYMPATHY.—Sympathy is a lovely and beautiful thing, for it exhibits the angelic part of human nature. We deeply sympathize with those who cannot obtain Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus, for they are deprived of one of the greatest luxuries the world affords. But we have no sympathy with any family who will use any other Saleratus or soda, if this article can be purchased. We see most of our Merchants have it. One trial will convince any one. Their depot is 112 Liberty Street, New York.

$100 REWARD!

For a Medicine that will cure COUGHS, INFLUENZA, TICKLING IN THE THROAT, WHOOPING COUGH, Or relieve CONSUMPTIVE COUGH, as quick as

COE'S COUGH BALSAM.

OVER FIVE THOUSAND BOTTLES have been sold in its native town, and not a single instance of its failure is known.

We have, in our possession, any quantity of certificates, some of them from

EMINENT PHYSICIANS,

who have used it in their practice, and given it the pre-eminence over any other compound.

It does not dry up a Cough,

but loosens it, so as to enable the patient to expectorate freely.

☞ Two or three Bottles will invariably cure TICKLING IN THE THROAT. ☜

A HALF Bottle has often completely cured the most

STUBBORN COUGH.

And yet, though it is so sure and speedy in its operation, it is perfectly harmless, being purely vegetable. It is very agreeable to the taste, and may be administered to children of any age.

In cases of CROUP we will guarantee a cure, if taken in season. No Family should be without it. It is within the reach of all, the price being

ONLY 25 CENTS!

And if an investment and thorough trial does not "back up" the above statement, the money will be refunded. We say this, knowing its merits, and feel confident that one trial will secure for it a home in every household.

Do not waste away with Coughing, when so small an investment will cure you. It may be had of any respectable druggist in town, who will furnish you with a circular of genuine certificates of cures it has made.

U. STATES FIVE TWENTIES.

Three-fifths of the "Five-Twenty Loan" have already been absorbed, and less than two hundred millions remain unsold.

The Five Twenty Bonds bear Six Per Cent. Interest payable in GOLD, thus yielding nine per cent. income to the holder at the present premium for gold: they cannot be taxed by States, Cities, Towns or Counties, and the Government tax on them is only ½ per cent. on the amount of income, which makes the income tax on all other investments is from three to five per cent.

THE ALL SUFFICIENT THREE,

The Great "American Remedies"

Known as "Helmbold's"

Genuine Preparations, Viz.:

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT "BUCHU,"

" SARSAPARILLA,

" IMPROVED ROSE WASH.

HELMBOLD'S

GENUINE PREPARATION,

"HIGHLY CONCENTRATED"

COMPOUND

FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,

A Positive and Specific Remedy

for Diseases of the

BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL, AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcerous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as pain and inflammation, and is good for Men, Women, or Children.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

FOR WEAKNESSES

Arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion, or Abuse,

ATTENDED WITH THE FOLLOWING SYMPTOMS:

Indisposition to Exertion	Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory	Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves,	Trembling,
Horror of Disease,	Wakefulness,
Dimness of Sight,	Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System,	Flushing of the Body,
Hot Hands,	Eruptions on the Face,
	Pallid Countenance,
	Dryness of the Skin

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which Immediate invariably remove, soon follow IMPOTENCY, FATUITY, EPILEPTIC FITS, in one of which the patient may expire. Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those dreadful diseases,

INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION,

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, but none will confess. The records of the Insane Asylums and the melancholy death by Consumption, bear ample with us to the truth of the assertion.

THE CONSTITUTION, ONCE AFFECTED WITH ORGANIC WEAKNESS,

Requires the aid of medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. A trial will convince the most skeptical.

Females, Females, Females,

OLD OR YOUNG, SINGLE, MARRIED, OR CONTEMPLATING MARRIAGE.

In many affections peculiar to Females the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorin or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness, or suppression of the Ordinary Evacuations, Inflammation, Ulcerous state of the Uterus, Leucorrhea, or Whites, Sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from Indiscretion, Habits of Dissipation, or in the

DECLINE OR CHANGE OF LIFE.

SEE SYMPTOMS ABOVE.

NO FAMILY SHOULD BE WITHOUT IT.

Take no Balsam, Mercury, or Unpleasant Medicine for unpleasant and dangerous diseases.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

CURES

Secret Diseases

In all their stages; at little expense; little or no change in diet; no inconvenience.

AND NO EXPOSURE.

It causes frequent desire, and gives strength to Urinate, thereby removing obstructions, preventing and curing Strictures of the Urethra, allaying pain and inflammation, so frequent in this class of disease, and expelling Poisonous, Diseased and Worn-out Matter.

Thousands upon Thousands

WHO HAVE BEEN THE VICTIMS OF

QUACKS,

and who have paid heavy Fees to be cured in a short time, have found themselves deceived, and that the "Poison" has, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in an aggravated form, and

PERHAPS AFTER MARRIAGE.

USE

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

For all Affections and Diseases of

The Urinary Organs,

Whether existing in MALE OR FEMALE, from whatever cause originating, and no matter

OF HOW LONG STANDING.

Diseases of the organs require the aid of diuretics.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

IS THE GREAT DIURETIC,

And it is certain to have the desired effect in all diseases for which it is recommended.

BLOOD! BLOOD! BLOOD!

Helmbold's Highly Concentrated Compound

Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla,

SYPHILIS.

This is an affection of the Blood, and attacks the Sexual Organs, linings of the Nose, Ears, Throat, Windpipe, and other Mucous Surfaces, making its appearance in the form of Ulcers.—Helmbold's Extract Sarsaparilla purifies the Blood, and removes all Scaly Eruptions of the Skin, giving to the Complexion a clear and healthy Color. It being prepared expressly for this class of complaints, its Blood-Purifying Properties are preserved to a greater extent than any other preparation of Sarsaparilla.

Helmbold's Rose Wash.

An excellent Lotion for Diseases of a Syphilitic Nature, and as an injection in Diseases of the Urinary Organs, arising from habits of dissipation, and is compounded with Extracts Buchu and Sarsaparilla, in such diseases as recommended.

Evidence of the most responsible and reliable character will accompany each medicine.

THE BEST COOK STOVE

IN THE MARKET,

AFTER ALL SAID,

—IS—

STEWART'S

NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT,

SUMMER AND WINTER

COOKING STOVE,

For Wood or Coal,

—IS—

IMPROVED IN 1859.

The peculiarities of the

STEWART COOK STOVE,

Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, are as follows:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will ignite and smoulder and char, with the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire is of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward moveable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove from the time the article is set in until it is removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent Reservoir (of copper, with a tin casing) containing from 10 to 20 gallons, by which the waste heat, in passing off, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The space beneath the reservoir is occupied with a TIN LOCKER where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c.

4. Also, by the aid of the TOP COVER, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DUTCH OVEN prepared for the purpose—the heat being communicated to it from both sides of the fire-box, and the flames, meanwhile, passing into the draft.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of meat can be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; and the current installed for this purpose may be subservient to support the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no increase of combustion.

7. By the aid of the perforated metallic linings, or "gas burning arrangement," and application of the fall summer dress, the various culinary processes may be carried forward successfully with a single stick of wood at a time.

8. In regard to DURABILITY, the Stewart Stove is made to last, and will last. The structural form is such that the frame work of it can not burn out.

All the plates constituting the original STEWART STOVE, which was brought out twenty years ago, are still made, and sent to different parts of the country, on call.

The price of QUICKNESS, COMFORT and HEALTH secured to a family by the use of a culinary apparatus perfectly adapted to their wants, cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents.

But we can not, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of the STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE

Now in use, which has been widely tested

FOR TWENTY YEARS,

and not found wanting in any particular. Yes, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and used for a score of years; but the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made improvements—so that the Stewart Stove of 1863 is as superior to that of 1841, as the Mowing Machine is to a Rush Scythe.

IT HAS NOT BEEN EXCELLED

yet, as a Family Stove. Here follow the names of a few of the numerous purchasers of the STEWART COOK STOVE.

DENTISTRY.

No. 60 CONGRESS STREET,
Portsmouth, Aug. 1st, 1863.

DR. GOODALL

Would respectfully announce to his patrons and the public that VULCANIZED RUBBER, as a base for Artificial Teeth, promises all the advantages of Gold, yet cost a only half as much. My experience has been highly satisfactory in its use, and I have no hesitation in WARRANTING PERFECT SATISFACTION in all cases.

Teeth inserted on Gold and Silver, and all other operations performed as usual.

Teeth extracted positively without pain, by inhaling Nitrous Oxyd Gas!

He is fully convinced that it is a perfectly harmless anæsthetic, its effect being that of an exhilarant, the whole operation being completed generally in three minutes, without the least pain, and the patient feeling as well, and usually better than before inhaling the Gas.

He would cordially invite all who wish teeth extracted without pain, or any possible injurious results, to call and be convinced.

I take pleasure in referring the public to Dr. TREADWELL, Dr. BOARDMAN, Dr OLIVER and Dr BENNETT, for particular success in extracting Teeth. Teeth extracted without pain and with perfect safety, with Ether. Teeth polished to their natural whiteness without pain or injury to the Enamel. Regulation of Adults' and Children's Teeth will receive particular attention. All whole and partial Sets of Teeth repaired with Neatness and Dispatch. All other operations in Dentistry, I will do at the usual rates.

☞ Please call and examine specimens of Artificial Teeth upon Vulcanized Rubber, Gold and Silver.

SAMBUCUS IREE, OF PORTUGAL,

The Great Remedy for Kidney Affections, Rheumatism, Chronic Complaints

Excellent Wine for Females.

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs and is beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefiting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

WE REFER TO

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and set iron heater combined, by which the odor of cooking meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large warming closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated, in the same manner as the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of rekindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and use of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of fresh air from the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, through the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 20 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world.—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

SOME OF ITS ADVANTAGES.

1st It is stronger and lighter than any known material.

2d. From two to six times the amount of suction or adhesion can be obtained by it.

3d. When the arch is irregular it can by building out the depressions—which can be done to any extent—give the mouth a more natural appearance.

4th. No bad taste arises in the mouth by its use, as the secretions of the stomach and mouth do not affect it in the least.

5th. Teeth mounted upon this base can be kept clean and sweet as easy as a saucer, as when finished the work presents one whole piece.

6th. While in all ways it is fully equal, in a few peculiar cases, it is much cheaper than Gold.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

SEVEN VICTORIES FOR THE UNION IN AS MANY DAYS.—During the last seven days we have recorded no less than seven victories for the Union, which give the excellent average of one substantial and decided triumph for our cause per day. These seven victories are not confined to any particular part of the country, nor do they add lustre to the genius of any one General; but they indicate that the United States have servants of ability everywhere, and for the safety of the country we may fearlessly rely upon the intelligence and honest judgment of the people.

First we have the victory at Collierville, on the Memphis and Charleston Railroad—a neat, decisive and important little fight.—Our readers may remember that the people of Richmond rejoiced prematurely some days ago over the reported arrival of the rebel General S. D. Lee at Murfreesboro. Lee, Ruggles, Chalmers and Wheeler had been all sent apparently to cut Rosecrans' communications. Wheeler did what he could at McMinnville and hurried away, while the other three gave their attention to the railroad. Chalmers, with a force of infantry and artillery reported at five thousand, reached the railroad at Collierville, in West Tennessee. There he found the Sixty-sixth Indiana regiment, and encountered a spirited resistance. While the fight was in progress Major General Sherman, with a portion of the Thirteenth United States infantry, came up on a train en route for Corinth. General Sherman, and the regulars debarked and took a hand in the fight, and the rebels were repulsed with heavy loss and pursued towards the Tallahatchie river.

Our next victory was in Missouri, in the great border war. For three successive days Shelby's raiders had been hard pushed by the Union men, and finally on Tuesday last they were brought to battle by General Brown, near Marshall, in Saline county, and decisively routed, with a loss of all their artillery, a part of their train and a great many small arms. Earlier in the war this fight would have received much more attention than is accorded to it now.

Another of the seven was the victory of the near guard of the Army of the Potomac, composed of the Second corps—over the rebels of Lee's army at Bristor's Station.—General Warren's force was struck in flank while on the line of march, but was put into position with singular promptitude and gained a handsome victory with four hundred and fifty-seven trophies. Four hundred and fifty of these were rebel soldiers, five were rebel field pieces, and two were the colors of rebel regiments.

Our other four victories were infinitely greater ones than these. They were won in the four States of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Iowa. They were the victories of the people over an enemy more dangerous than the Southern soldiers, and they are not surpassed in grandeur by any four victories that our armies have ever won.

Mr. M. F. Maury, in his recital in the English papers of the agencies that the Southern leaders depended upon for the success of their cause, spoke of the Southern armies as only one of those agencies.—Another was the division of the North by means of agitators in the interest of the South, and on that idea the copperhead had his existence; but now the people of four great States have "scotched the snake," and, it is to be hoped, killed it also—New York Herald.

DR. J. TELLER continues to be confidentially and successfully consulted on all forms of private diseases, at his old Established Hospital, No. 5 Beaver Street, Albany, N. Y. Twenty years devoted to this one particular branch of practice, enables him to perform cures such as no other physician, and his facilities are such (being in correspondence with the most eminent Physicians of the Old World,) of obtaining the safest as well as the most remedies for these diseases, offer inducements to the unfortunate of a quick and rapid cure, to be obtained at no other office in America.
In Syphilis, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Enlargement of the Testicles and Spermatic Cords Buboes, Ulcerated Throat, Sore Nose, Tender Shin Bones, Cutaneous Eruptions, Blotes, Ulcers, Abscesses, and all other impurities of the system, are perfectly under the control of the Doctor's Medicines, and have been tested in more than 20,000 cases annually, with immense Success.
YOUNG MEN.
Young Men addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasure of the Married Life, are notified that in consulting Dr. J. Teller, they will find a friend to console and a Physician who has cured thousands, in almost every part of the United States, who applied to Dr J. broken down in health, now rejoice in all that makes life desirable and man happy. The reader is of course aware that the delicacy of this subject will prevent a more minute description of this terrible disease.
DR. TELLER'S GREAT WORK.
A book for everybody.—Startling disclosures. Dr. J. Teller's great work for the Married or those contemplating marriage—200 pages—full of plates—pr.ce 25 cts Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail, post paid. 50,000 copies sold the past year. The single Married and the Married Happy. A lecture on Love, or how to choose a Partner—a complete work on Midwifery, it contains hundreds of secrets, never before published.—Warranted to be worth three times the amount asked for it. 25 cents, in specie or postage stamps, inclosed, will secure a copy by return mail. Dr. TELLER has devoted a lifetime to the cure of those diseases upon which his books treat.
TO THE LADIES.
Dr. TELLER still remains the only Agency in America, for the sale of Dr. Nichols's Italian Female Monthly Pills. The sale of more than 20,000 boxes establishes their reputation as a female remedy, unapproached, and far in advance of every other medicine—for stoppages, irregularities, and other obstructions in females.
CAUTION.—Married ladies in certain delicate situations should avoid their use. For reasons see directions which accompany each package, for the guidance of patients. On the receipt of $1, (the price per box,) these Pills will be sent, by mail or express, to any part of the world, secure from observation.
Office hours from 8 A.M. to 8 P.M., and on Sundays from 2 to 5 P.M.
N. B.—Persons at a distance can be cured at home by addressing a letter to Dr. J. Teller, enclosing a remittance. Medicines securely packed from observation, sent to any part of the world. All cases warranted. No charge for advice.—N. B.—No students or boys employed. Notice this, address all letters to

CALENDAR CLOCKS.
These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, to insure all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.
Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.
Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar Attachment and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. They will be set up in any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

Lee's army, has crossed the Rapidan, there rapid retreat being caused by the want of provisions. It is tought there is no considerable rebel force now North of the Rapiden, unless it be portions of Stuart's cavalry, with his artillery.

Gen. Meade was in Washington Thursday. He returned to the front in the afternoon. It is rumored that Adm. Dahlgren has been relieved by Capt. Thomas Turner, of the Ironsides.

A Charleston rebel dispatch report that the Federal forces are hard at work, constructing another battery east of Fort Gregg, facing the sea. A large number of tents have disappeared from Morris Island. The rebel batteries keep up a brisk fire upon the Federals, who appear in much larger force than usual at Gregg and Wagner.

A letter from one of Adm. Dahlgren's officers says that the grand attack on Charleston will not be made until near the close of October. Several additional ironclads will be there then.

The Chattanooga Rebel says that Bragg will be undoubtedly relieved for failure to defeat Rosecrans. It is undetermined whether Longstreet, Johnston or Lee will be his successor.

The changes in the West are as follows:

Gen. Thomas assumes command of the army of the Cumberland, in place of Gen. Rosecrans. The departments of the Ohio, Burnside; Cumberland, Thomas; Tennessee, Hurlbut; Vicksburg, McPherson, are consolidated into one grand military division of the Mississippi, under Gen. Grant. Gens. Hooker and Sherman, the latter now at Iuka, will command corps in the field.—Grant's headquarters will be in the field. He leaves for the front immediately. McPherson's department will extend from the Gulf to Napoleon.

THE REBSON PLAIN.—The operations of General Burnside, who has pressed his way from East Tennessee to Virginia, breaking up the main railroad for fifty miles, aiming at Lynchburg, which is the back door to Richmond, is very plainly the cause of Lee's sudden withdrawal from before Washington. Lee would get information of these operations before it would be had in Washington. He at once turned about, burned the bridges and railroad sleepers behind him to prevent pursuit, and put his fleetest corps on the road for an attack on Burnside, who, we presume has not more than ten thousand men for the field. If the rebels move quick, as they undoubtedly will, we may hear of a battle in Western Virginia, before we do any where else.—Newburyport Herald.

☞ Gold advanced to 147 in New York Friday.

☞ Lord Lyndhurst died on the morning of the 12th inst.

☞ It is reported that one of the Japanese Damios had severely repulsed the British fleet.

☞ The late grand trial of French cuirassed vessels seems to have proved them dangerous for sea vessels in a storm.

☞ The news is confirmed, that the British Government has seized the rebel rams in the Mersey.

☞ A woman has been found guilty of poisoning her daughter-in-law with strychnine, in Machias, Me.

☞ A Rouen paper of the 9th inst., states that the rebel privateer Florida has been sold to a French Transatlantic Company, to be employed in their line.

☞ Since the 1st of April 39 gambling-houses in the city of Naples have been surprised by the police, and several persons of a certain political reputation arrested among the frequenters of them.

☞ The Houlton Times says that the potato crop this season in Maine will prove the best gathering in that county for a term of years. The potatoes are of excellent quality, and the yield is large.

☞ Pollard, in his Southern history of "The first year of the War," says with reference to Floyd, "that when Secretary of War under Mr. Buchanan's Administration, he had, by a singular order, effected the transfer of 115,000 muskets and rifles from the Springfield armory and Watervliet arsenal to the different arsenals in the South.

☞ It is said that a recent meeting of the Boston Society of Natural History, Prof. Agassiz announced the discovery of a stage of metamorphosis in the development of fishes which is analagous to the tadpole condition of frogs. The difficulty of obtaining fishes fresh from the egg has prevented previous knowledge of this wonderful fact.

☞ In Spain a secret gambling house of a low character has just been detected.—Here, every evening, coachmen and footmen, French cooks and lacqueys, and all the genus Jeames, assembled in imitation of their masters and betters, who were playing in the gilded saloons of the privileged bank. The fast life below stairs experienced a very uncomfortable sensation as the police appeared and carried off the unfortunate gamblers to prison. Uncle Toby thinks their "betters" should be treated in the same way.

THE SHAKERS.

On a high ridge of land in the town of Canterbury, N. H., there stands a Shaker village. It may be reached by the old road from Concord, twelve miles, or from the Canterbury Station, seven miles. The country is rocky and hilly, with occasional patches of fertile land, bearing the butternut, chestnut, oak and elm, until you come within two or three miles of the settlement, when you see like a picture before you the three clusters of buildings, which with the fifteen hundred acres of upland, wood land and meadow adjoining, constitute the residence and freehold of the united society of Shakers at Canterbury.

The elevation overlooks the whole adjacent country as far as the eye can reach, and affords a lovely panorama. Nature made it beautiful, and art has made it useful, conveying the water from the springs in the hill sides, through canals, into a number of reservoirs or ponds, at convenient points, and furnishing motive power for various mills, for grinding, sawing, spinning, &c. These reservoirs are valuable for fishing, for ice, and as an element of beauty also, so essential to the sight of water to the perfection of natural scenery.

The Shakers regard the establishment of their order as the fourth and last great cycle in human history; the first being the flood of Noah, the second the Hebrew theocracy, the third the advent of the Messiah, and the fourth the revelation by Ann Lee, or Mother Ann, as they call her. And they believe that as Christ was the first example of a perfect man, so Ann Lee was the first example of a perfect woman; and that without this example revelation is not complete. Her mission they regard as the Second Advent of Christ; and they sometimes call their Society "the Church of Christ's Second Appearing." Ann Lee was a native of Manchester, England, and came to this country in 1774, to bear testimony to the revelation which her followers believed she had received, settling at Watervliet, N. Y. This was the commencement of Shakerism in America. When a convert is made to their faith it is called receiving the testimony.

A society of Quakers in England, under the ministration of Jane and James Wardly, had received the name of Shakers, and with them Ann Lee united, adopting their principles; and after a few years she claimed to have seen Christ in open vision, while she was imprisoned in Manchester for her faith and testimony, and to have received from the Lord a Divine revelation. From that time she was called Mother Ann.

There are in the United States eighteen Shaker societies, containing about four thousand members, holding property in common. In New Hampshire there are two; in Maine two; in Massachusetts two; in Connecticut one; in New York five; in Ohio four, and in Kentucky two. There are supposed to be others out of the communities who receive and practice the Shaker faith, but are not gathered in societies.—The society in New Lebanon, N. Y., is the oldest, and by far the largest, containing eight communities and six hundred members. The different families in each Society number from 30 to 150 members of both sexes, in about equal proportions. In each community are large buildings containing workshops and store rooms, one for each sex, in which are manufactured for use or sale everything necessary for the ordinary wants of a family. Horticulture and medicine and small manufactures have for a few years not gradually given place to agriculture and spinning. It is a question perhaps whether this change may not be diminishing their peculiar handicraft, and so materially affect their industrial habits and character.

The brethren and sisters occupy the opposite sides or ends of the same building, which is divided by spacious halls.—From two to six persons live in a room, and all have their meals at the same time, at different tables, in a large dining hall. Each dwelling house contains a room for religious worship, large enough to accommodate all the members of the family, in which they meet several times a week.—The brethren and sisters also meet in their private rooms for singing and conversation; but their public meetings, where strangers were formerly admitted, are no longer held. The Society at Canterbury numbers between two and three members, in three communities or families,—each under the supervision of a Trustee, and having officers and managers of both sexes; the sisterhood having a separate organization, so that "woman's rights" are fairly recognized and secured by the Shakers. The largest of these three communities is under the Trusteeship of David Parker, and I do not believe an abler man can be found in New Hampshire. The other officers with whom I conversed are affable and polite—full of genuine benevolence, and of course true gentlemen, for all else is show and pretence. They converse upon the news of the day, in which they are well informed, and also upon literary subjects, showing themselves intelligent and well educated. Of course they must be well versed (some of them at least) in science in its relation to agriculture, horticulture and the mechanic arts, or they could not have accomplished such results.

Religion, however, is their favorite theme. It enters into their business, and is in itself their business. It is one of their first principles, that religion is designed for the temporal and physical wants as well as the spiritual aspirations of man. To do everything well is a religious duty—to have the best provision for the body—the best food, the best clothing—(regarding use, convenience, comfort and fitness, and not the despotism and folly of fashion)—the most substantial and commodious edifices, the neatest and most convenient apartments and furniture. "Cleanliness," in their theory, is not, "next to," but part and parcel of "godliness," characterising the whole fraternity and all their possessions.

Their ruling principles are gentleness, benevolence, non-resistance, self-abnegation, and a life of celibacy. "They neither marry nor are given in marriage; their ideas on this essential point, and how they would perpetuate society, on this theory, I am not able accurately to state. Purity in thought and action is their ideal—to "walk in the spirit" is their highest aim and purpose.—Oral confession of sin is one of their principles. As with us, so with the Shakers, industry, honesty, frugality, temperance and chastity are cardinal virtues; the difference lies in this, that being a small community, under close supervision and with a strong religious faith, they carry their principles more thoroughly into practice. Manual labor is required of all who are able to perform it, and specific duties allotted to each, so that there is the greatest economy and availability of means.

Their immense barn interested me beyond my power to describe it. It is of the most thorough construction, and complete arrangement and model; placed on the side of a hill, to facilitate the labor, with a cellar under the whole building. The use of sawdust, instead of straw, for litter, is a great improvement, keeping the ground floor dry and clean. A hand barrow carries the fodder to the different stalls, and prevents waste. There are stalls for forty-six cows, in two rows facing each other, with a wide passage between them. Each animal, whether cow, ox or horse, has its name and place, and is trained to know and take it; and they all walk in and out with the regularity of a file of soldiers, and by one motion of a lever, the whole row is stalled or released. The process of milking by the sisters is, of course, an interesting performance, with so large a number, where everything is so clean. And a visit to the dairy makes you wish that you might have all your milk and butter and cheese from the Shakers. Plenty of room and space, in all their buildings and apartments, is a marked characteristic. The Shakers keep no swine, for they abstain from pork, as an article of food, as well as from all intoxicating drinks, including cider. They have grapes in great variety and profusion, but the fruit is all for their own table, as a dessert, and none for wine.

The law of love extends to their dumb beasts; no punishment is allowed, and all their animals are kind and gentle, even with strangers. A large, fine Devon bull seemed as gentle, and could be approached and fondled, with as much safety as the cows. There is such an atmosphere of quiet and stillness in the village, the birds feed from the hands of the sisters, and build their nests in the most frequented places. And the sisters themselves,—spiritualized, etherealized, translucent almost, as they seem—gliding noiselessly about,—why, it would hardly be a surprise, if one should see them leave the earth's surface, and disappear in the clouds. Especially on hearing from and of them the aspiration, as expressed in that sweet hymn,

"Nearer, my God, to Thee!
Nearer to Thee!"

Call their mind illusion or delusion, if you please. They have a germ of thought—a real spiritual life; let them work it out.—Cor. Newburyport Herald.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Still another woman has been injured in attempting to escape from the room in the third story of the Manchester City Hall, "where women are usually placed" when arrested. She fell a distance of 30 or 40 feet, and her injuries will probably prove fatal.

—— On Monday afternoon last, a drunken fellow by the name of Sargent, in London, in attempting to shoot a mulatto named Davis, missed his mark and lodged the charge in the abdomen and left arm of a little daughter of Ruben Haines of Chichester. She will probably die.

——A jewelry store in Concord was entered on Wednesday night, and $500 worth of plated ware and fancy articles stolen. The robbers proceeded almost exactly as they did in breaking into the store of Messrs. Hill & Carr, in this city, on Thursday night; as they entered the cellar from the rear of the building, by breaking a window and lifting a cross-bar which secured the door. Thence they passed up a stair-case under an adjoining entry, and instead of entering the store by the usual door, cut a hole through the plastering.

—— George W. Frost has obtained a verdict against the city of Concord for $2,500 damages, for injuries received by being upset in a wagon at a dangerous place on the street.

—— On Monday night last, a saloon in Milford was broken open, and goods stolen to the amount of $150. The articles taken were tobacco, cigars, knives, &c.

—— The Dover Dist. Sunday School Association of the Methodist Church will hold its annual Convention Oct. 29 and 30, with the Haverhill St. Church, Lawrence, Mass. Essays, discussions and reports will occupy the day sessions. Dr. Cobleigh, of Boston, will speak Thursday evening. Gilbert Haven, of Boston, Friday at 2 P. M. Half fare on the Boston & Maine R. R.

☞ The Atlantic Monthly for November contains a brilliant array of articles, by Longfellow, Lowell, Holmes, Sumner, Ik Marvel, Thoreau, Agassiz, and others. It is probable that no other American Magazine ever contained in one number articles from so many of the first writers in the country.

☞ About one hundred negroes are implicated in an attempt to excite insurrection in Hancock County, Ga., and eighteen ringleaders have been arrested. They have been holding secret meetings and planning matters. Their operations have been extensive. They had committed many depredations—thieving, killing, driving off cattle, &c.

POTATOES.—The Rutland (Vt) Herald says that the potato rot in Vermont is not so bad as people expected, and that farmers who can get a chance to sell their potatoes for fifty cents a bushel from the field are disposed to consider themselves well off.

"Big Thing."

In these days of progression,
When the world is the word,
And strength takes possession,
By both fire and sword;
When men all about us,
Clad in the nation's bright blue,
Are supporting our colors,
So gallant, noble and true;
Many sights that are curious
Our eyes often meet,
And phrases quaint and humorous
Our ears often greet—
Some pithy and brief and somewhat obtuse,
Some forcible and striking, are brought into use.
Many each, designed the truth to convey.
We adopt to our liking, it we think it will pay.
Without enumerating words of Yankee invention,
One phrase in particular I beg leave to mention,
It is simply "Big Thing;"
Two words which, no doubt,
Are as potent of meaning
As can will be wrought out,
To express admiration, surprise, pleasure and joy.
Upon any occasion we wish to employ.
In our places of business, hall, office or street,
"Big Thing," "Big Thing," are the words our ears greet.
"What's the news from Charleston?"
We inquire of a friend.
"Oh! big thing!" quoth our informant,
"Sumter knocked end over end,
Mouth is just blown up sky-higher,
We've a ready with Greek fire;
Big thing for 'Dahl,' big thing for 'Gil,'
When they get into Charleston, to have no one to kill."
We take up the paper containing the news,
There we each find matter to suit our views,
Items to amuse with every taste,
Whether made sugar or jam paste.
Down to the last moment the telegraph brings
The news concerning all the "big things"—
"The rebel ships in Europe are to sail very soon;"
"Some one has discovered the man in the moon;"
"England and France going to war with the Japs,
Then coming to pay us a visit—perhaps;"
"More ships captured by the pirate Semmes;"
Mason and Slidell, Confederate gems;
"The Florida making repairs at Brest;"
"Floyd, Yancey and Jackson gone to their rest;"
"Plantation Bitters, Buchu, and Ayer's Pills,"
Designed for the cure of all ourills;
A dentist advertises extracting teeth without pain,
And gaudy assures us what's our loss is his gain;
Jeff. Davis performing St. Vitus's dance;
The Chronicle at four dollars a year, in advance;
These we may mention, and might many more,
All "big things," as we remarked before.
All "big things" in their way, no doubt,
But the "biggest thing" yet has just been found out.
With all this preamble, and without more ado,
We'll attend to business, and introduce you
To the "LONGVIEW HAIR DYE"—if you've not seen
The article—to color hair black, not dirty or green.
It does the work instantly, you'll not have to wait,
For though in a hurry, you'll never be late
No scrubbing of faces, no tanning, no drying,
Which by the old method is—Oh! so trying!
A beautiful color it imparts to the hair.
"I must try this thing!" we hear you declare,
"I've bothered so much with worthless trash,
I've grown very cross, discontented and rash;
I'll be so no more, but straightway will go
To try this new thing, and then I will know:
To LEVERTON I my money and bottle will bring,
And get some of this wonderful, truly 'Big Thing.'"
With pleasure I see, my vision do greet,

HEALTH AND COMFORT.
Patent Rubber Sole Boots and Shoes.
FOR MEN, BOYS AND YOUTH.
These Goods, having been carefully tested, prove to be more desirable than any other Boots and Shoes heretofore made. They answer the double purpose of Leather and Rubber Boots and Shoes.
They are made serviceable and easier to the feet than Leather Soles, are impervious to water, and having a leather inner sole do not draw the feet, and are far less expensive than Rubber Boots.
They are free from noise, prevent slipping on ice, and in keeping the feet dry and warm are conducive to health.
When the Soles wear out, the Boots and Shoes can be tapped with leather, or, if returned to us entire, new Rubber Soles can be put on.
The subscribers, having made arrangements as Agents for the sale of the above goods, are now prepared to take measures for the same, in different styles, and deliver them at short notice. They are made from the best stock to be had in the market, and warranted in every particular. Call and examine samples, at No. 13 Market street.

CARDS AND BILL HEADINGS are indispensable to the business man, and we would remind all in want of such work, that the Chronicle Office is the place to get it done.

Probate Advertisements.

The language of the law relating to the publication of Probate Notices is:

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper therefor."

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notice may be ordered for the Chronicle or the Gazette; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

Our terms are so low as those of any other paper.

Local.

☞ We sometimes chronicle singular elopements, from neighbor cities: now our turn has come, to record the elopement of singular persons from this city. Every body here has heard of the Blind Man's Brooms, and many persons have bought them, partly to encourage the industry of the blind man, who was charitably supposed to be a worthy honest Irishman. But it turns out otherwise, as we learn from his wife, who used to be aid in making brooms, bottoming chairs, and acting as saleswoman, cashier and housekeeper. About six weeks ago he announced his intention of moving to another market for his work; gathered up and disposed of every article of household stuff, and started for Boston: telling his wife he would send for her and the broom machine in a few days. She has not heard directly from him since, but has heard of him, that he has gone to parts unknown, probably with a woman of their acquaintance, who disappeared about the same time; leaving the wife penniless and homeless, except as she may get work at bottoming chairs. We have seen pictures of Cupid blindfold; but in this case we see a broad caricature of Cupid, both the guilty parties being as blind mentally and morally, as the man is physically.

☞ No street in the city has been improved more than the middle portion of Bow street. Messrs. Fisher & Eldredge have just made the last decided improvement, in fitting up so nicely the store on the hill, next above Tompson & Co's, where they have now one of the most pleasant and convenient counting-rooms, as well as one of the best arranged and most commodious stores, to be found anywhere. Their Ales are in great demand, both at home and abroad.

PORTSMOUTH, AS SEEN BY A LADY STRANGER.—Among the visitors in Perham's recent excursion train to this city, was Mrs. J. H. Hanaford, of Beverly, the well-known authoress; and in the "Citizen" newspaper of that town, she gives a very interesting account of her day's trip, and what she saw, and didn't see, here—and in spite of the interrupting rain, her notes show that the lady must have made the best use of her time; and that she learned in one day more concerning the history of the old place, than many people ever find out in a lifelong residence. We give below a single paragraph, which we think is worthy consideration:—

We visited the Portsmouth Atheneum. A gentleman sat reading in the otherwise lonely reading room. We inquired the way to the library, and passed on. A still more lonely room awaited us. The silent book shelves alone greeted us with their voiceless eloquence. In the "Annals of Portsmouth" we are told that two thousand volumes are in this library. Two stories are filled with book shelves, a staircase and gallery giving access to the upper story volumes. Learning from the "Annals" that in the upper story was a large collection of natural and artificial curiosities, minerals, coins, &c., we continued our journey upward, since nothing withstood our advance, and the only human occupant of the premises we had seen, had not forbidden progress. Up we went. A museum truly! But the objects we beheld were mainly "LITTER"-ary. Old newspapers and pamphlets, specimens of mineralogy, stuffed birds, &c., in the direst confusion, all covered with dust. We had evidently stumbled upon the garret of a Museum in which nogenius of order presided. Yet a single glance could assure the naturalist and the bibliopolist that the dust-covered treasures were valuable, and we could not but wish that those bid-away curiosities might adorn the cases of a room accessible to public view, and the literary treasures, in appropriate binding, be added to the pleasant Library below.

Light came from above to us, in a literal sense, and up we continued to go, finding ourselves at last on the outside of the building, on a platform with railing and seats. The view, although Portsmouth was, alas! under a cloud, was extensive and beautiful. * * * Descending to the library we paused long enough to notice that Stone's "History of Beverly" is there, and then sought the open air.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, on Thursday evening, a petition from S. F. Cobb and others, for a gas light on the corner of Ladd and High streets, was referred to the Committee on Gas Lights, with power to act.

Ald. Rider, Wiggin and Moulton were appointed a committee to examine and revise the City Ordinances.

The committee to whom was referred the claims for board of the men in the 9 months' regiments, made report as follows:—

Paid Capt. Thacher's Company	$475.51.
" " Jenness's "	435.81.
	$911.32.

The report was accepted.

A complaint by Ald. Rider relative to misconduct of a watchman, was laid on the table for one week.

S. J. COURT, Friday.—Case No. 94, Wm. Neal, vs. Samuel H. Tarlton, was argued on Friday afternoon by W. H. Y. Hackett for deft., and Judge Stickney for the plf. In the afternoon the Grand Jury came in and were discharged, after presenting eighteen indictments to the Court. The Court has, therefore, considerable criminal business to come before it.

☞ A meeting of the M. L. Association was held on Friday evening, for the purpose of considering the expediency of giving a course of Lyceum lectures the coming winter. All of the members present were in favor of the course, deeming that under the auspicies of the Association a larger number of tickets would be sold, and greater interest taken, than under any other management. It is understood that if the Association decide upon giving the course, the other Lyceum committee will withdraw from the field in its favor. The Directors of the Association are already in correspondence with some of the best speakers in the country, and the prospect for a fine course of winter lectures is flattering. An adjourned meeting of the Society will be held this, Saturday, evening at Mercantile Hall. H.

Tobey & Littlefield have, it issaid, disposed of the ship launched at their yard a few months since, to a Boston concern, and she is now being rigged.—The new ship at Marcy's yard is nearly ready for launching.—Messrs. John Neal & Co. have postponed the building of a ship projected by them some time since, and will, it is said, build a schooner this fall at their yard in Kittery. Messrs. Tredick's new ship is nearly ready to be launched, at Nobles Island.—Cor Ballot.

We are authorized and requested to state that Messrs. Tobey & Littlefield have not yet sold their fine ship; and we regret to learn that the above premature announcement caused an unknown would-be purchaser from Boston, to return to the city without calling on the above birds, whose A1 ship is yet in the market.

☞ The following gentlemen were drawn as Jurors from Ward 2, for the third week of the term of the S. J. Court, now being held in this city, Viz; Moses Yeaten, Jona. M. Tredick, and Samuel Rowell.

☞ The U. S. steamer Sassacus will sail from Charlestown Navy Yard next week. The Sacramento is being repaired at the same Yard.

A BIG THING.—Mr. Leverton's new "pome" on the Lightening Hair Dye.—Read it.

☞ John Williams, a seaman on board the Portsmouth ship Frank Pierce, was sentenced in the Liverpool, Eng., Police Court on the 7th, to two months' imprisonment, for having stabbed Alfred Frost, a shipmate, inflicting a severe wound in his thigh.

STORE BREAKING.

An extensive plan of store robbery was undertaken in this city on Thursday night, which, however, resulted in comparatively slight benefit to the parties who undertook it. It was sufficient, however, to arouse the vigilance of our night police, and to put our citizens on the qui vive.

The store of Mr. E. Green on the corner of Market and Hanover streets, was entered through the corner window on Hanover st. by breaking a large pane of glass, with a heavy stone, which was found in the store, the thieves climbing into the apperture, over the closed shutters. About twenty-five dollars worth of silk pocket and neck handkerchiefs were the only articles taken. The light of a sperm candle was used. The visitors left by opening the shutters of another window on Hanover street.

Messrs. Hill & Carr's store was entered through the cellar case in the rear of the store. It appears that a crowbar and heavy mallet had been taken from the stone cutting establishment of Mr. Philbrick for the purpose. After prying open the case, the cellar door was unbolted after breaking a pane from the window in the door. A hole large enough for a small man to crawl through was then cut in the ceiling between the cellar stairs and the store. The only loss was about $7 in cents and from three to five dollars in other currency.

The store of Messrs. C. H. Mendum & Co. was the last one entered. They first tried the cellar window in the rear of the store, the bars of which were too strong for them. They then tried the cellar case with better success, prying it open sufficiently far to turn the bolt, and entering the cellar door in the same way as at Hill & Carr's. Here they left the crowbar and mallet. They obtained from the money drawer about fifty dollars. The The key of the safe had been but a week or fortnight ago removed from the place which was opened by the robbers, and was consequently not found.

The object of the rascals was to obtain money. There appears to be no disturbance of goods in either of the last two mentioned stores. It is said that two men have been noticed within a day or two prowling about the vicinity. A sperm candle was used at each of the above places, and the shutters at each place covered but half the windows.

About a fortnight ago Mr. Wells' store was entered by the cellar window in a similar manner to the above, and about twenty dollars taken from the drawer.

FRENCH'S STATUARY.—An elegant photograph may be found and purchased at Mr. Shores' bookstore, representing a statuette groupe just finished in plaster by our native artist, Mr. D. M. French, who has his studio at Newmarket at present.—The groupe presents the "Triumph of Liberty."—Liberty erect stands by the couchant figure of the freed slave, having the broken shackles in her hands, regarding with a most benign expression the grateful return which is very happily pictured on the countenance and bearing of the slave. It is a beautiful design, and well worth being transferred to marble.

The great meeting of the American Board of Foreign Missions, lately convened at Rochester, N. Y. passed unanimous resolutions in favor of the destruction of the institution of slavery!—They also voted to increase the Mission fund this year to $500,000—i. e. to use their best endeavors to swell the contributions and donations to this amount.

The Autumnal Unitarian Convention, this year held at Springfield, for the first time unanimously committed themselves on the slave question.—The convention goes against slavery and in support of the government. The Synod of the Lutheran Church in Pennsylvania have also unanimously passed the strongest resolutions in support of the government, "against the insolent slave power."

LAUNCH.—Next Wednesday, at 1 P. M. will be launched from the yard of Capt. Daniel Marcy a beautiful ship. She is 170 feet keel, 185 feet over all, and 36 feet beam, and built chiefly of New Hampshire White Oak and copper fastened. She is 1,100 tons register.

The Grand Jury came into Court on Friday afternoon, reported 18 bills of indictment, and were discharged. No arraignments have yet been made.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the ABSORBENTS into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcerous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as pain and inflammation, and is good for Men, Women, or Children.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU
FOR WEAKNESSES
Arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion, or Abuse,
ATTENDED WITH THE FOLLOWING SYMPTOMS:

Indisposition to Exertion,	Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory	Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves,	Trembling,
Horror of Disease,	Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision,	Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System,	Flushing of the Body,
Hot Hands,	Eruptions on the Face,
	Pallid Countenance,
	Dryness of the Skin

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which Immediate invariably removes, soon follow IMPOTENCY, FATALITY, EPILEPTIC FITS, in one of which the patient may expire. Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "AWFUL DISEASES"

INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION.

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, but none will confess. The records of the Insane Asylums and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of the assertion.

THE CONSTITUTION, ONCE AFFECTED WITH ORGANIC WEAKNESS,

Requires the aid of medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. A trial will convince the most skeptical.

Females, Females, Females,

THE BEST COOK STOVE
IN THE MARKET,
AFTER ALL SAID,
—IS—
STEWART'S
NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT,
SUMMER AND WINTER
COOKING STOVE,
For Wood or Coal,
IMPROVED IN 1859.

The peculiarities of the
STEWART COOK STOVE,
Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will lie and smoulder and char, upon the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire-chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward moveable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove from the time the article is set in until it is removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent RESERVOIR (of copper, with a tin coating) containing from 20 to 30 gallons, by which the waste heat, in passing off, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The space beneath the reservoir is occupied with a TIN CLOSET, where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c.

4. Also, by the aid of the TOP COVER, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DUTCH OVEN prepared for the purpose—the heat being communicated to it from the sides of the fire-box; and the fumes, meanwhile, passing into the draft.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of meat may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; and the current instituted for this purpose made subservient to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no increase of combustion.

7. By the aid of the perforated metallic linings, or "gas burning arrangement," and application of the full summer draft, the various culinary processes may be carried forward successfully with a single stick of wood at a time.

8. In regard to DURABILITY, the Stewart Stove is made to last, and will last. The structural form is such that the frame work of it can not burn out.

All the plates constituting the original STEWART STOVE, which was brought out twenty years ago, are still made, and sent to different parts of the country, on call.

The price of QUIETNESS, COMFORT and HEALTH secured to a family by the use of a culinary apparatus perfectly adapted to their wants, cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents.

But we can not, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of the STEWART STOVE. It is not experiment, or new fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE
Now in use, which has been widely tested
FOR TWENTY YEARS,

and your found wanting in any particular. Yes, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and used for a score of years; but the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made improvements—so that the Stewart Stove of 1863 is as superior to that of 1841, as the Mowing Machine is to a Hush Scythe.

IT HAS NOT BEEN EXCELLED
yet, as a Family Stove. Here follow the names of a few of the numerous purchasers of the

No. 80 CONGRESS STREET,
Portsmouth, Aug. 1st, 1863.

DR. GOODALL

Would respectfully announce to his patrons and the public that VULCANIZED RUBBER as a base for Artificial Teeth, promises all the advantages of Gold, at Silver's only half as much. My experience has been highly satisfactory in its use, and I have no hesitation in WARRANTING PERFECT SATISFACTION in all cases.

Teeth inserted on Gold and Silver, and all other operations performed as usual.

Teeth extracted positively without pain, by inhaling Nitrous Oxyd Gas!

He is fully convinced that it is a perfectly harmless anæsthetic, its effect being entirely at a command, the whole operation being completed generally in three minutes, without the least pain, and the patient feeling as well, and usually better than before inhaling the Gas.

He would cordially invite all who wish teeth extracted without pain, or any painful injurious results, to call and be convinced.

I take pleasure in referring the public to Dr. TRASKWELL, Dr. BOARDMAN, Dr OLIVER and Dr. BRACKETT, for specimens of Artificial Gold Teeth. Teeth extracted without pain and with perfect safety, with Ether. Teeth polished to their natural whiteness without pain or injury to the Enamel. Regulation of Adults' and Children's Teeth will receive particular attention—All whole and partial Sets of Teeth repaired with Neatness and Dispatch. All other operations in Dentistry, I will do at the usual rates.

☞ Please call and examine specimens of Artificial Teeth upon Vulcanized Rubber, Gold and Silver.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE.
PURE AND FOUR YEARS OLD,
OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,
For Physicians' Use.
FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS
SAMBUCUS TREE, OF PORTUGAL,

The Great Remedy for Kidney Affections, Rheumatism, Chronic Complaints

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

WE REFER TO

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, which is most agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the Brepot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The fire in the Furnace, the combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the stimulation of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the best generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world.—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

Daily Morning Chronicle

VOL. 23. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. MONDAY OCT. 26, 1863 No. 100

The Chronicle.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

☞ A gentleman of Williamsburg, N. Y., formerly a celebrated ship builder, has invented a new submarine "devil" for removing torpedoes, obstructions, etc. His plan consists in having for his advance vessel an old steamer—a propeller preferred. Beneath this old vessel are placed two projecting prongs, fitted with a series of heavy iron hooks for grappling ropes or nets, which may be submerged for the purpose of fouling the screw of a vessel. In addition to these hooks there are sharp knives placed at intervals to aid in clearing the prongs of the ropes, etc. There may be also added to the vessel a prong, which is lifted up from the deck by a heavy frame work, and then projecting several feet in advance of the bow of the vessel. This may be used for lifting and breaking chain cables stretched across a river or entrance to a channel.

Now we have an old steamboat; if she is blown up but little money is lost and nobody is hurt; for there will be nobody on board when she goes on her mission of submarine research. This is explained thus: The steam in the boilers has been raised to a proper standard, the fires in the furnaces have been freshly attended to, and, as far as the engine department is concerned, all is right. Now, then, how are you to steer the boat with no one on board? It is thus arranged: At, say 400 yards astern of the steamboat, is a Monitor battery; a tow-line secures them; chain tiller-ropes lead to the iron clad, and by these the vessel can be steered with ease and certainty.

All is ready, the engineer gives her the steam, the pilot puts her helm amidships, and then they quit the vessel. Guided from the Monitor, she goes ahead and clears the way. Should she be blown up that completes her career. A torpedo has been exploded, and the Monitor returns unharmed, and her officers then know how far they can go with safety.

Should it be desirable to endeavor to preserve the steamboat, the prong can be attached to her so as to explode the torpedo between her and the Monitor. The machine will be put to a practical test in a short time, and perhaps in Charleston harbor.

BIGOTRY.—Would not the following definition of a bigot, by the celebrated John Foster, suit as well, mutatis mutandis, for politics as religion?

"He seeks religion, not as a sphere, but a line, and it is a line in which he is moving. He is like an American buffalo—sees right forward, but nothing to the right or left. He would not perceive a legion of angels or devils at a distance of ten yards on the one side or the other."

KILLING WEEDS BY LAW.—Alexander II, of Scotland, denounced that man to be a traitor "who poisons the king's land with weeds, and introduces thereby a host of enemies." And it was said that whoever was found to have three heads of the common star wort among his corn, was fined a sheep for each stalk. In Denmark, the farmers are bound by law to destroy the corn marigold; in France a farmer may sue his neighbor who neglects to eradicate the thistles upon his land at the proper season. In Australia, a similar regulation has been imposed by legislative authority, with, it is said, the most beneficial results. In Canada, we believe, enactments have been issued against allowing thistles to ripen on the roadsides and exposed public situations, both from the legislature and township corporations. In Wisconsin a law of the State requires overseers of highways to destroy horse sorrel, burdock and Canada thistles, in the highway.

☞ A charge of assault against a "fortune teller" was heard at Lambeth Police Court. Several persons who were called as witnesses, refused to give evidence lest they should be "spell-bound" by the prisoner, and the magistrate had some difficulty in persuading them that their fears were groundless.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that never fail, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath which, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrotula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Limbs and Back, Dimness of the head, Dizziness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, Nervous Prostration, fear of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Female Pills, warranted to regulate. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

Highly Important!

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 & 9 Endicott Street, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the care of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, ask no wiseder nor superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

QUICK CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Over Twenty Thousand Patients Cured Annually!

DR. J. TELLER continues to be confidentially and successfully consulted on all forms of private diseases, at his old Established Hospital, No. 5 Beaver Street, Albany, N. Y. Twenty years devoted to this one particular branch of practice, enables him to perform cures such as no other Physician can; and his facilities are unsurpassed in correspondence with the most eminent Physicians of the Old World, of obtaining the latest as well as the latest remedies for these diseases. Of the unfortunate of a quick and rapid cure, to be obtained at no other office in America.

In Syphilis, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Enlargement of the Testicles and Spermatic Cords, Bubo, Ulcerated Throat, Sore Nose, Tender Shin Bones, Cutaneous Eruptions, Pains, Aches, Abscesses, and all other impurities of the system, are perfectly under the control of the Doctor's Medicines, and have been cured in more than 20,000 cases annually, with immense Success.

YOUNG MEN.

Young Men addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the peace of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasure of the Married Life, are notified that in consulting Dr. J. Teller, they will find a friend to counsel and a Physician who has cured thousands, in almost every part of the United States, who applied to Dr. J. broken down in health, now rejoice in all that makes life desirable and man happy. The reader is of course aware that the delicacy of this subject will prevent a more minute description of this terrible disease.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

It is estimated that 1500 men will cover our loss in the late campaign in Virginia, including killed, wounded, stragglers and missing.

A rebel dispatch reports that 8000 Federal cavalry and infantry crossed the Big Black at Bridgeport, moving towards Canton, and were met by the rebels near Brownsville on the 16th, where a light artillery fight occurred, and the rebel forces "fell back a few miles."

A recent expedition through the northeast part of North Carolina frustrated the attempt to enforce the rebel conscription in the counties east of the Chowan river and south of the Albermarle Sound.

Loyal Tennesseans from the upper part of West Tennessee are going to Memphis in large numbers to avoid the rebel conscription bands and guerrillas. The people of Abon and Dover counties, Tenn., armed themselves against guerrillas and whipped them in two or three engagements. Gen. Sherman's advance was attacked by Forrest's cavalry at Barton's Station, and the rebels were handsomely whipped. Wheeler's cavalry are reported near Decatur, Tenn., 10,000 strong. Bragg is reported to have crossed the Alabama and Tennessee railroad, and transported his supplies to Rome and Selma, Ga. His depots are at Rome.

The N. Y. Times' Army of the Potomac dispatch, dated Warrenton, 23d, says the army has settled down again. It is said that Lee is sending to Bragg two more divisions of his army, and that it is his intention to return with the remainder of his army to the heights of Fredericksburg. It is also stated that it is now ascertained that a portion of Ewell's corps has been dispatched from Gordonsville by rail to resist the advance of Gen. Burnside towards Lynchburg. Gen. Burnside is actively engaged with a large force of mounted infantry, destroying the rebel communication.

Joe Johnston is marching on Shelbyville, Tenn., with all the force he can gather, to prevent Gen. Sherman joining our forces at Chattanooga.

There is a report that Gen. Burnside's cavalry have made a raid into Virginia, via Lynchburg, and captured over 1000 prisoners, and inflicted serious damage to the line of rebel communications.

Shelby, who invaded Missouri with 1200 men, has lost all his artillery and nearly all his ammunition, and 500 men, as the net result of his expedition.

By Telegraph, Sunday, to Messrs Hutchings, Haley, and others.

There are no rebels in the northern part of the Shenandoah Valley, and the Potomac is clear of them from Harper's Ferry to Williamsport. The rebel advance forces have fallen back as far as Front Royal, which necessarily changes their base of operations south of Winchester. Lee is supposed to be at Culpepper. Gen. Meade returned to his command on Friday. The Washington Chronicle of Saturday reiterates the statement that his army will do nothing for several weeks.

Two schooners, heavily loaded with ammunition for the rebels, have been captured off the coast of Texas. Advices from Texas state that the people and the rebel authorities in that State are in open opposition to each other.

The following dispatch, dated New York, 4 P. M., was received on Saturday evening:

Gen. Burnside has captured 8000 prisoners, and destroyed a foundry and a large number of railroad cars, near Lynchburg, Va.

Gen. Warren's corps is said to have taken 2000 prisoners in an engagement near Madison Court House.

☞ Gov. Curtin's majority in Pennsylvania, as shown by official returns from all the counties, is 15,236.

☞ Reports from the Army of the Potomac say that the discipline and morale of the army were never better than at present, and officers and men have the greatest confidence in Gen. Meade.

☞ A report comes from Newbern that Geo. Vance, of North Carolina, has been bribed to work in that State for the rebels, by a promise of the next Presidency of the Southern Confederacy.

☞ Jeff. Davis, while in the Southwest, complimented Bragg on his generalship, and in a speech, said: "We should not look to Europe, for aid, for such is not to be expected now."

☞ A dispatch states that one of the severest storms ever known in St. Louis prevailed on Thursday, ending in a clear, freezing night. The mercury stood at 24° at nine o'clock the next morning, and was below freezing point all day. The storm extended over a large portion of Missouri and Illinois. Over six inches of snow fell.

All the girls with pretty feet and ankles are in favor of the new fashion of short dresses. All those neat enough to like clean stockings are in favor of the same fashion.

MISSOURI.

President Lincoln's reply to the Missouri delegation, his letter of instructions to Gen. Schofield, together with an address by Mr. Drake in answer to the President's reply, appear in the St. Louis Democrat. The main points of the President's reply are as follows:

He fails to see that the condition of Missouri and the wrongs and sufferings of the Union men are attributable to weakness and imbecility, but rather to the civil war, of which he gives a vivid picture—referring to the condition of the State under Gens. Fremont, Hunter, Halleck and Curtis, to sustain his position.

He does not believe the massacre at Lawrence proves imbecility on the part of Gen. Schofield, as similar acts could have been committed by Col. Grierson or John Morgan had they chosen to commit them. He approves of Gen. Schofield's action to prevent a counter raid into Missouri by citizens of Kansas as the only safe way to avoid an indiscriminate massacre.

He says that the charge that Gen. Schofield has purposely withheld protection from loyal people and facilitated the objects of the disloyal, are altogether beyond the power of his belief. With his present views he declines to remove Gen. Schofield.

Regarding the enrollment of the militia he says he shall ascertain better than he now knows what is its exact value. In the meantime he declines to abandon it, and expresses gratitude to Gen. Schofield for ordering it in June last, thereby enabling him to strengthen Gen. Grant at the time reinforcements were imperatively needed.

☞ The enlistment of colored troops in Maryland causes a great amount of discontent among the slaveholders in that State, so much, indeed, that a deputation was sent to the President to request a withdrawal of the recruiting officers. The President replied that the country needed soldiers, and if the recruiting officers did anything contrary to law they would be superceded—but the recruiting must go on. As an indication of the state of feeling existing, a dispatch from Baltimore announces the murder of Lieut. Eben White of the 7th U.S. (colored) Regment by Col. John H. Sotheron, a prominent slaveowner of St. Mary's County.

Richard Wheatly, D. D., Archbishop of Dublin, died lately at the age of 76.—He stood at the head of the English Church in Ireland, was a wise and liberal man, and by his moderation, fairness and candor, had won the good opinion of men of the widest diversity in speculative faith. He was assiduous in his efforts to promote the cause of education, sound thinking and social progress in Ireland; and earned the rare distinction of making a selection of scripture reading for schools, which was acceptable alike to the English and Roman Catholic churches in Ireland. He was a fast friend of the United States, of free freedom, and improvement everywhere.

☞ A Chippewa squaw, who was the belle of her people a hundred years ago, still lives on the shores of Red Lake. She is 120 years old. She and her husband were the first settlers in that region, and she and a French dealer in furs were the progenitors of the half breeds there so numerous.

☞ The election throughout California for five Judges of the Supreme, and fourteen Judges of the District Court, as well as for County, Municipal, and local magistrates of every degree, took place on Thursday. The returns indicate a slight vote and Union majorities.

☞ A Paris letter relates that a poor little milliner found an English "nobleman's" pocket-book with 50,000 francs in it. She restored it intact, and he rewarded her by "promising to speak well of her shop."

☞ We have received the November number of Harper's Magazine, from A. Williams & Co., Boston. Surely it is enough to say that "Harper" is published, to secure a ready sale for this deservedly ever popular magazine. For sale by J. H. Foster.

The day-laborer, who earns with hard hand and the sweat of his brow, coarse food for a wife and children whom he loves, is raised by this generous motive, to true dignity; and, though wanting the refinements of life, is a nobler being than those who think themselves absolved by wealth from serving others.

☞ The torpedo boat Devil, which made the attack on the Ironsides, with the engineer Toombs, and Cannon the pilot, arrived back safely at Charleston at midnight on the evening of the attack.

☞ The citizens of Bangor are about to erect a monument 27 feet high, of Concord granite, in memory of the soldiers of Bangor who have fallen in defense of their country.

☞ Chief-Engineer A. C. Stimers has been notified by the Secretary of the Navy that the Court of Inquiry in his case have reported "that in their opinion there is no necessity nor propriety of further proceedings."

☞ Hon. Edward S. Rand, a prominent citizen of Newburyport, died Thursday, upward of 80 years of age.

☞ Brough, the name of the new Governor of Ohio, is pronounced Bruff.

☞ A grateful Englishman has bequeathed $40,000 to his landlady in Rock and, Me.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The hospital wagon of the 5th regiment, which was built in Concord two years ago, has followed the fortunes of the regiment from the beginning, and has cost but three dollars for repairs.

—— At a "tin wedding" in New London on the evening of Oct. 9, it was suggested that it would be pleasing to have another just ten years from that night, and that in order to secure one, some affianced couple should step forward and be married. To the surprise of the social party a lady and gentleman quietly and gracefully emerged from the crowd, assumed a conspicuous position, and were lawfully united as husband and wife. The lady was a widow.

—— A Scotchman who served in the 5th regiment, and got a bullet through his jaw, says: "Col. Cross is the man for me. While I was with him, we were sure of a fight if it was possible to have one. He gave us all a chance at the enemy, and we had grand times. Col. Cross was the man for me."

—— The dogs of two men, who were upon a gunning excursion in Conway, on Wednesday of last week, commenced a fight, when one of the men—Leander Allard—attempted to part them by applying the breach of his gun. The charge in the gun exploded, and was lodged in the abdomen of Allard—causing his death. He leaves a wife and several children.

—— Arthur A. Gage of Stratham, has raised from one native grape vine, this season, 394 pounds of marketable grapes, which were sold for eight cents per pound—amounting to $31 52.

—— The Concord Statesman says:—"The statement of the Patriot that Chief Justice Bell has decided that 'Greenbacks' are not legal tender, is without foundation. We learn that he has simply prepared the case for presentation to the full bench for decision."

—— Rev. John N. Putnam, Professor of Greek in Dartmouth College, died on board the "Alpha," between Halifax and Boston. He was 40 years of age. He had been in failing health, but his death was hastened by the exposure and discomforts occasioned by the accident to the steamship Africa, in which he was a passenger.

—— The second battalion of the 5th N. H. Vols., late Col. Cross, departed for the seat of war, on Saturday morning.

☞ Thomas Woodlock of Syracuse was injured in a horible manner last week. He had gone to sleep near one of the kettles in a salt works, and being suddenly awakened, rolled into it; then leaping out in agony he landed in the next one, and again into the canal, whence he scrambled out and walked home. He is not expected to survive. Woodlock is a discharged soldier, having served five years in the Regular Army.

☞ Public attention in Spain is much occupied with the insurrection in Santo Domingo. The Puebla, a democratic paper of Madrid, advocates the abolition of slavery in the Spanish colonies. Thus it appears that in Spain, the term democratic does not mean pro-slavery, but anti-slavery, emancipation and abolition.

☞ A man who is fond of writing just what he pleases, says: "The Unitarians and Universalists cultivate the customary Sabbatical solks, or try to look as decently morose on their way to church as the more hardened sects, but in vain. You always detect a deprecating wink underneath, that restores them to human sympathy, and turns the whole performance into mere unconscious mimicry, into pure devout comedy."

☞ A mean man lives in Amesbury, Mass. He lost a pocket book containing $1080, in Newburyport, on Friday. A young man, a soldier, found it, and returned it. The mean man offered him a $2 bill, saying that he had not a $1 bill!

☞ A little boy, 7 years of age, fell overboard into 10 feet of water, in Newburyport, Mass, on Tuesday, and was rescued by Mr. James H. Thurlow, who plunged in without removing his blothes or boots.

☞ The Herald states that the Directors of the Boston & Maine railroad have voted to petition the Legislature for liberty to lay a track from their depot to the Merrimac river, through Newburyport.

☞ The London Times denounces the speeches made at the banquet given in New York to the Russians, and in particular the speech of Gen. Wallbridge. The wintering of the Russian fleet in New York, it regards as nothing more than a nautical circumstance.

☞ Queen Victoria and two of the Princesses were thrown out of their carriage near Balmoral, but sustained only slight bruises.

☞ In that Christian country, England, it has just been discovered that poor people not unfrequently throw their dead children into fields or by-ways, to save the expense of a funeral.

There is no pleasure which gold cannot purchase; happiness only is beyond its market.

"Big Thing."

In these days of progression,
When "Go ahead" is the word,
And strength takes possession,
By both fire and sword;
When men all about us,
Clad in the nation's bright blue,
Are supporting our colors,
So gallant, noble and true;
Many sights that are curious
Our eyes often meet,
And phrases quaint and humorous
Our ears often greet—
Some pithy and brief and somewhat obtuse,
Some needle and striking, are brought into use.
Many such, designed the truth to convey,
We adapt to our liking, if we think it will pay.
Without enumerating words of Yankee invention,
One phrase in particular I beg leave to mention,
It is simply "Big Thing;"
Two words which, no doubt,
Are a potent of meaning
As can well be wrought out,
To express admiration, surprise, pleasure and joy,
Upon any occasion we wish to employ.
In our places of business, hall, office or street,
"Big Thing," "Big Thing," are the words our ears greet.
"What's the news from Charleston?"
We inquire of a friend.
"Oh! big thing!" quoth our informant,
"Sumter knocked end over end,
Moult. is's just blown up sky-higher,
Gilmore's ready with Greek fire;
Big thing for 'Dahl,' big thing for 'Gil,'
When they get into Charleston, to have no one to kill."
We take up the paper containing the news,
There we each find matter to suit our views,
Items to agree with every taste,
Whether maple sugar or pepper paste.
Down to the last moment the telegraph brings
The news concerning all the "big things"—
"The rebel ships in Europe are to sail very soon;"
"Some one has discovered the man in the moon;"
"England and France going to war with the Japs,
Then coming to pay us a visit—perhaps;"
"More ships captured by the pirate Semmes;"
Mason and Slidell, Confederate gems;"
"The Florida making repairs at Brest;"
"Floyd, Yancey and Jackson gone to their rest;"
"Plantation bitters, Buchu, and Ayer's Pills,"
Designed for the cure of all our ills;
A dentist advertises extracting teeth without pain,
And gently assures us what's our loss is his gain;
Jeff. Davis performing St. Vitus's dance;
The Chronicle at four dollars a year, in advance;
These we may mention, and might many more,
All "big things," as we remarked before.
All "big things" in their way, no doubt,
But the "biggest thing" yet has just been found out.
With all this preamble, and without more add,
We'll attend to business, and introduce you
To the "Lightning Hair Dye"—if you're not seen
The article—to color hair black, not dirty or green.
It does the work instantly, you'll not have to wait,
For though in a hurry, you'll never be late.
No scorching of faces, no ianning, no drying,
Which by the old method is—Oh! so trying!
A beautiful color it imparts to the hair.
"I want very this thing," I hear you declare,
"I've bothered so much with worthless trash,
I've grown very cross, discontented and rash;
I'll be no more, but straightway will go
To try this new thing, and then I will know;
To Lewerton I my money and bottle will bring,
And get some of this wonderful, truly "Big Thing."
With pleasure I see, my vision do greet,
Nos. 20 and 21 on Daniel Street. o24

on the premises, in Newington.

The valuable and beautiful FARM, formerly owned by the Hon. James Pickering. This desirable estate, comprising about seventy acres, is situated in Newington, about four miles from Portsmouth and one mile from depot of Concord Railroad at Greenland. The buildings consist of a good 1½ story House, containing ten rooms, excellent cellar, washroom, &c., together with Barn, suitable Outbuildings, &c. The land is suitably divided into tillage, pasturage and mowing fields. Upon it are some of the very best varieties of Apple and Pear trees, many of which are in good bearing condition, together with the smaller fruits, such as Currants, Raspberries, &c. The beautiful shade trees scattered over the land, its eligibility to a good market, excellent pasturage and general beauty of its location, make this one of the most desirable estates ever offered for sale in this section of the State, either for a gentleman's country residence or for a practical farmer.

There are two Wells on the Farm, and the two Pastures, which are both excellent, are abundantly supplied with never-failing springs of the purest water.

Also will be sold, immediately after the Farm, the Live Stock on the place, consisting of 1 Yoke OXEN, five good COWS, two young HEIFERS, eight SHEEP, a black MARE, one young HORSE, three HOGS.

Also the CROPS, consisting of a large quantity of HAY, CORN, BARLEY, POTATOES, &c.

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS—The true Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pains so erroneously judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 4 to 6 pills, to get a decent cathartic, was the study in this development. The dose seldom exceeding One, and never more than Two Pills, settles the question of economy, and character can be best known by confidence to test them in DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, BILIOUSNESS, LIVER COMPLAINT, all derangements of the stomach and bowels, and as a Family Pill. spn10

S. J. COURT, Saturday.—In the case Neal vs. Tarlton, the Jury returned a verdice for plf. for $183.83.

Several arraignments were made, as follows:—

Charles Wentworth, breaking and entering, and larceny. Plea—not guilty.

Luther J. Austin and Ira A. Moody, breaking and entering, and larceny. Austin pleaded nol. con.; Moody—not guilty.

Sampson L. Russell, Richard Walden, Augustus A. Walden and Richard Smart, riot at Portsmouth and assault upon Frank B. Johnson, severally pleaded not guilty.

Joseph Locke, disorderly house. Plea—not guilty.

John Varrell, for keeping a house of ill-fame. Plea—not guilty.

The Court adjourned early in the forenoon, till half-past ten o'clock, Monday morning.

The new Docket will be called on the coming in of the Court on Wednesday afternoon next.

☞ Mention was made, a few days ago, of the refuse coal tar, drained from the gas works into Boston harbor, and forming, with the mud and gravel, a solid body, so large and thick as to be an obstruction of navigation. This fact suggests the idea of turning the waste tar to good account in making roads or streets. A number of years ago, perhaps thirty, the surveyors of streets in Portsmouth, repaired a bad place in Congress street, with tar and gravel, and it did good service. It was a ledgy spot, near where Congress Block now stands; the surface was very irregular; and though it had often been nicely covered with gravel in previous years, it would not stay covered, for the first smart shower would wash it bare, leaving it as rough as ever. The tar and gravel held on well for years; and for aught we know may be there yet, well worn. Something of the same sort may be seen now in Bow street, where the Portsmouth Gas Company have a sidewalk in front of their works, which they made years ago, of tar and gravel, and which is stronger to-day than a new brick walk, though perhaps not quite so handsome. It is certainly firm and durable. From these two specimens in our own streets, and from the Boston nuisance, we believe that waste tar could be used to advantage in gravelling hilly ledges, and in making cheap walks.

☞ The recent store-breaking in this city and Concord, by cutting through lath and plaster walls, puts us in mind of old storebreaking in Portsmouth, done in the last century, and told of by the elders. The stores of that day were mostly of wood—timbered heavy enough for a ship, with doors and shutters strong enough for a jail. Nevertheless the burglars would get them open sometimes; but the operation had its difficulties, especially in front, on a street. The burglars therefore went to the side or rear, and with gimlet and small saw cut a rat hole through the boarding, and went in somewhat as thieves go now. Those of to-day only follow in their footsteps.

☞ We understand that an attempt was made to effect another robbery at the house of Surgeon Delaney on the Portsmouth Navy Yard, on Friday night. A window was broken, but beyond this no damage was done. Measures will be taken to give the bold intruders a "reception," if another attempt at house-breaking is undertaken.

☞ Mr. Davis' Evening Singing School have unanimously voted to procure the new and popular book, "The Harp of Judah." See the advertisement of the Managing Committee. We are informed that a few more scholars will be admitted, both to the Evening and Juvenile Classes—and the opportunity is too good to be lost, especially for the children—who will blame their parents by and by, for not giving them a chance to learn to sing. Mercantile Hall ought to be filled for these schools.

☞ Among the desirables advertised at Auction is a very valuable Farm, with all the fixtures necessary for carrying it on,—a rare chance, indeed, to procure a fine estate, which is well known as one of the most eligible in this whole region of nice farms.

☞ It will be seen that Hall's famous Boston Band announce one of their splendid Concerts at the Temple for Wednesday evening next.

☞ An Irishman in Bath, Me. on Wednesday, found out the disadvantages of fighting with a woman, for he was hit over the head with a teapot full of hot tea. He did'nt fancy being "taysed" in that way.

☞ Rev. Charles Beecher on Sunday, October 18th, resigned the pastoral charge of the church in Georgetown, and a meeting of the church is called to make arrangements for convening a council.

☞ The publication of the Raleigh, N. C., Standard was resumed on the 2d inst. The editor (Hon. W. W. Holden) has not been assassinated, and still maintains his opposition to the Confederate Administration.

Love is a species of madness which is deaf to reason.

☞ Gen. Meade is not to be superseded.

☞ The "rot" has greatly injured the grape vines in Ohio this year.

☞ A French physician cures burns by electricity.

☞ A guard of marines has been placed on the rams seized in the Mersey.

☞ A French physician, a free thinker, has cured the Pope of a diseased leg.

☞ Gen. Grant's new department is to be called the Western Military division, with headquarters at Nashville, Tenn.

☞ A most magnificent Chinese tiger, the first ever seen in London, has been secured for the Zoological Gardens.

☞ The report that Capt. Turner has relieved Adm. Dahlgren is pronounced untrue.

☞ Queen Victoria made her re-entree into public life at the recent inauguration of Prince Albert's statue at Aberdeen.

☞ Great Britain has imported nearly six million gallons of petroleum from America this year.

☞ At Berrien, Michigan, a barrel of sorghum syrup was stored away some five years ago; it was recently opened, when the contents were found to be dry sugar.

☞ The British have laid nearly three thousand miles of railroad in the last ten years in India. Better than blowing Sepoys from the mouths of cannon.

☞ The New England market for boots and shoes is active. Western buyers are coming back for their second supply this fall.

☞ A bill has been introduced into the British parliament, forbidding the use of any instrument but the birch in "personal applications" to small schoolboys.

☞ The Manchester and Lawrence Railroad has declared a dividend of $4 per share, payable November 2, to holders of Oct. 22.

☞ The Copiapo gold mines must be unsatisfactory, for although it has been ascertained that the principal vein of one mine is about two inches wide, nobody has yet been able to find out how deep it is.

CARPETS.—A great trade is carried on through these times of high prices, by the New England Carpet Company, of Boston. See their advertisement in to-day's paper.

HEALTH AND COMFORT.
Patent Rubber Sole Boots and Shoes,
FOR MEN, BOYS AND YOUTH.

These Goods, having been carefully tested, prove to be more desirable than any other Boots and Shoes heretofore made. They answer the double purpose of Leather and Rubber Boots and Shoes.

They are made serviceable and easier to the feet than Leather Soles, are impervious to water, and having a leather inner sole do not draw the feet, and are far less expensive than Rubber Boots.

They are free from noise, prevent slipping on ice, and in keeping the feet dry and warm are conducive to health.

When the Soles wear out, the Boots and Shoes can be tapped with leather, or, if returned to us entire, new Rubber Soles can be put on.

The subscribers, having made arrangements as Agents for the sale of the above goods, are now prepared to take measures for the same, in different styles, and deliver them at short notice. They are made from the best stock to be had in the market, and warranted in every particular. Call and examine samples, at No. 13 Market street.

THE BEST COOK STOVE IN THE MARKET,

AFTER ALL SAID,

—IS—

STEWART'S COOKING STOVE,

NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT, SUMMER AND WINTER

For Wood or Coal,

IMPROVED IN 1859.

The peculiarities of the

STEWART COOK STOVE,

Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will lie and smoulder and char, as on the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward moveable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven, so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove from the time the article is set in until it is removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent RESERVOIR (of copper, with a tin casing) containing from 10 to 20 gallons, by which the waste heat, in passing off, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The space beneath the reservoir is occupied with a TIN OVEN, where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c.

4. Also, by the aid of the TOP COVER, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the fire, upon a DOUBLE OVEN prepared for the purpose—the heat being communicated to it from both sides of the fire-box; and the fumes, meanwhile, passing into the draft.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of meat may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; and the current instituted for this purpose made subservient to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no increase of combustible fuel.

7. By the aid of the perforated metallic linings, or "gas burning arrangement," and application of the tall summer dress, the various culinary processes may be carried forward successfully with a single stick of wood at a time.

8. In regard to DURABILITY, the Stewart Stove is made to last, and will last. The structural forms in each that the frame work of it can not burn out.

All the plates constituting the original STEWART STOVE, which was brought out twenty years ago, are still made, and sent to different parts of the country, on call.

The price of QUIETNESS, COMFORT and HEALTH secured to a family by the use of a culinary apparatus perfectly adapted to their wants, cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents.

But we can not, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of the STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE

Now in use, which has been widely tested FOR TWENTY YEARS, and NOT found wanting in any particular. Yet, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and used for a score of years; but the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made improvements so that the Stewart Stove of 1863 is as superior to that of 1844, as the Mowing Machine is to a Bush Scythe.

IT HAS NOT BEEN EXCELLED

yet, as a Family Stove. Here follow the names of a few of the numerous purchasers of the STEWART COOK STOVE.

CALENDAR CLOCKS.

These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, to secure all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.

Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Any persons desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar Attachment; and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. They will be set up in any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE.

PURE AND FOUR YEARS OLD,

OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,

For Physicians' Use.

FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS.

SAMBUCUS TREE, OF PORTUGAL.

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

As a DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wine in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

CAUTION.—BEWARE TO

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, so mild and agreeable,—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce lassitude so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they will carry a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

Those Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Meadum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

1st. It is stronger and lighter than any known material.

2d. From two to six times the amount of suction or adhesion can be obtained by it.

3d. We can do more for the mouth we can by building out the depressions—which can be done to any extent—give the mouth a more natural appearance.

4th. No bad taste arises in the mouth by its use, as the secretions of the stomach and mouth do not affect it in the least.

5th. Teeth mounted upon this base can be kept clean and sweet as easy as a saucer, as when finished. We would present one whole piece.

6th. While in all ways it is better, save in a few peculiar cases, it is much cheaper than Gold.

DR. A. P. STEVENS, Surgeon Dentist,

No. 5 Daniel St., Portsmouth.

Has had four years of practical experience in working this material, and will guarantee satisfaction in all cases entrusted to his care.

No. 60 CONGRESS STREET,
Portsmouth, Aug. 1st, 1863.

DR. GOODALL

Would respectfully announce to his patrons and the public that VULCANIZED RUBBER, as a base for Artificial Teeth, promises all the advantages of Gold, yet cost only half as much. My experience has been highly satisfactory in its use, and I have no hesitation in WARRANTING PERFECT SATISFACTION in all cases.

Teeth inserted on Gold and Silver, and all other operations performed as usual.

Teeth extracted positively without pain, by inhaling Nitrous Oxyd Gas!

He is fully convinced that it is a perfectly harmless anæsthetic. Its effect being that of an exhilerant, the whole operation being completed generally in three minutes, without the least pain, and the patient feeling as well, and usually better than before inhaling the Gas.

He would cordially invite all who wish teeth extracted without pain, or any possible injurious result, to call and be convinced.

I take pleasure in referring the public to Dr. TREADWELL, Dr. BOARDMAN, Dr OLIVER and Dr. BENNETT, for particular success in extracting Teeth, Teeth extracted, without pain and with perfect safety, with Ether. Teeth polished to their natural whiteness without pain or injury to the Enamel. Regulation of Adults' and Children's Teeth will receive particular attention.—All whole and partial Sets of Teeth repaired with Neatness and Dispatch. All other operations in Dentistry, I will do at the usual rates.

☞ Please call and examine specimens of Artificial Teeth upon Vulcanized Rubber, Gold and Silver.

The Chronicle.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every law fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

WHAT DRINK DID FOR A FINE SCHOLAR.—A late letter from Chattanooga tells the following story:—

While pacing to and fro I heard a soldier talking French to a citizen. Mistaking the learned son of Mars for a Frenchman, I asked him how long he had been in this country. He answered, and inquired if I were from France. When I told him from Scotland he threw himself into the attitude of one entranced with a vision, and, dropping his French, he cried, while his eye was flashing with true Highland fire:

"Lochiel! Lochiel! beware of the day
When the Lowlands shall meet thee in battle array.
For a field of the dead rushes red in my sight,
And the clans of Colloden are scattered in flight."

I had met a soldier versed in six languages, a descendant of one of the noblest Scottish families, and a cousin of a living Lord. Banished to Van Diemen's land for complicity in the Irish Rebellion, a soldier in Mexico with Scott, in Utah with Johnston, and in the armies of the Union since its life was assailed, he has seen much of the world and of men. Of a noble mien, a fine address, and a wealth of enthusiasm, he might have been an orator or an actor. Thoroughly drilled in the British service, an adept in long, short and broadsword exercise, and a gentleman by nature and education, he might have been an officer high in command. But what makes him what he is—the half-drunk, poorly-clad, but entertaining genius that I found him? The "wee drappie." He begs for a dime to get a drink, when he might have commanded a brigade. He is a drunkard, when he might have been a man. As I looked upon his splendid head, I thought of a half-clad wife, with a broken heart, and a family of children precocious in vice and growing up into accomplished scoundrels. Ah, curse of Scotland and the world! Consumer of Genius and love! Fountain of error and shame, of death and of hell!

☞ Mr. Gottschalk, the pianist, will visit Boston for concert purposes, the first week in November. He will be assisted while there by Mlle. Angioline Cordier, of the "Shadow Song" (Dinorah) notoriety, and a new violinist, Carlo Patti, brother of Adelina.

☞ A Cincinnati paper complains of the number of young ladies who, excited by the numerous stories of women-soldiers in the army, will persist in appearing in public in that city in male attire.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, pains and distress in the regions of procreation, inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth are: Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Emaciation, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your case, by letter or express. Address the French Capottes, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

Highly Important!

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DEWDY, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 & 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangement, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four cent stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A.M. to 9 P.M.

CERTAIN CURE.

In all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A.M. to 9 P.M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

Southern papers of the 16th state that Bragg's army draws over 80,000 rations.—The balance of Longstreet's corps had arrived from Virginia.

Guerrillas destroyed the government stores at Danville, Ky., and stole all the horses they could find in Harrodsburg, Ky., on Saturday.

The old flag again floats over the Bayou Teche, all obstructions in the Bayou having been removed by our naval forces.

Advices from the Texas expedition, which was still at Vermillion on the evening of the 15th, state that there had been skirmishing nearly every day for a week, with slight loss to our troops. The rebel force in the vicinity was estimated at 2000 men.

A rebel dispatch from Charleston, 23d, reports that the Federals were riveting, smoothing and putting the finishing strokes on Gregg and Wagner, and other batteries at Cummings' Point. The fleet remained quiet.

The rebel infantry recrossed the Rappahannock on Saturday morning, and drove back Gen. Gregg's cavalry, which lost heavily. One of the killed was Maj. Taggart, of the 2d Penn. Cavalry, who was considered the best swordman in the army.

The N. Y. Tribune's Washington dispatch says:

Gen. Grant has assumed personal command of the veteran army at Chattanooga. Gen. Meade has been assured in unmistakable tones that the army of the Potomac must find a fight, if not under his command under that of some other General. Gen. Burnside is in a position in which he can assist either of these two great armies, and he has recently shown how effectively he can co-operate. Gen. Foster is the man to make Richmond tremble before a rapid movement up the Peninsula. Activity prevails at all points where our forces are stationed.

Gen. Hooker has crossed the Tennessee river.

The Venus, one of the largest and swiftest of the blockade runners, has been driven ashore off Wilmington and totally destroyed. She had a valuable cargo.

Gen. McPherson on the 15th fought the rebels at Canton, Miss., and after a short fight they retreated, leaving 200 prisoners in our hands.

An attack on Port Hudson by the rebels is expected.

☞ A correspondent of the Phrenological Journal says, three generations spent for the most part in the open air, battling with the piney monarchs that girt the Umbagog, the Moosehead and other lakes and streams of that wild, bracing northern climate, have given the backwoodsman of Maine the most gigantic development of physical power which I ever saw or had any authentic account of.

☞ Carlyle is writing a life of Frederick the Great, and he has in his study nineteen different portraits of him, and more than two thousand books, in many languages, which bear upon the subject. Every other picture, every other book he has banished.

☞ Twelve of the fourteen Ohio districts which elected democrats to Congress last fall, in the recent election gave majorities against the Democratic party,—most of them heavy majorities.

☞ Thomas J. Clay, the youngest son of Col. Henry Clay, of Buena Vista fame, died on the 12th inst., at Atlanta, Ga., of congestive fever. He was Inspector on the rebel Gen. Buckner's staff.

☞ Letters from army and navy officers to their particular bureaus must be endorsed on the envelope, "Official business," or they will probably rest quietly in the dead letter office, the fate of thousands of such.

☞ Under the auspices and patronage of the Japanese Tycoon, a voluminous history of the present rebellion, strange to say, has been compiled and published in the Japanese language.

☞ The Bangorians are as crazy over the recent balloon ascension in that city, as are the Portlanders over their new horse railroad.

☞ The rebel salt works at Point Clear, Miss., and vicinity, have been destroyed by the steamer Commodore and yacht Corypheus.

☞ A deserter from Richmond repeats the statements of destitution in that city, and says there are fears of another bread riot.

☞ A fine iron sea going steamer is this winter to be placed on the route between Portland and St. John, N. B.

☞ There was a fire in San Francisco on Friday, destroying a quarter of a million of property.

☞ Hon. Gideon Tucker, Maine State Senator, died in Saco on Saturday, Oct. 17.

☞ They are to have a course of house lectures in Kennebunk, Me., this winter.

☞ The decision of the court martial in the case of Gen. Buell has been in his favor.

TERMS OF PEACE.

We have heard and read some assertions that we might have peace at once if we would. Per contra,—the Richmond Enquirer, which has been from the first the more especial organ of Jeff. Davis and his Cabinet—on the 16th inst. favored its readers with the following frank statement of the terms on which the head traitors will not make Peace. It says:—

"Save on our terms, we can accept no peace whatever, and must fight till doomsday rather than yield an iota of them; and our terms are:

"Recognition by the enemy of the independence of the Confederate States.

"Withdrawal of Yankee forces from every foot of Confederate ground, including Kentucky and Missouri.

"Withdrawal of Yankee soldiers from Maryland, until that State shall decide, by a free vote, whether she shall remain in the old Union, or ask admission into the Confederacy.

"Consent on the part of the Federal Government to give up to the Confederacy its proportion of the Navy, as it stood at the time of Secession, or to pay for the same.

"Yielding up all pretensions on the part of the Federal Government to that portion of the old Territories which lies west of the Confederate States.

"An equitable settlement, on the basis of our absolute independence and equal rights, of all accounts of the Public Debt and Public Lands and the advantages accruing from foreign treaties.

"These provisions, we apprehend, comprise the minimum of what we must require before we lay down our arms. That is to say, the north must yield all; we nothing. The whole pretension of that country to prevent by force the separation of the States must be abandoned, which will be equivalent to an avowal that our enemies were wrong from the first; and, of course, as they waged a causeless and wicked war upon us, they ought, in strict justice, to be required, according to usage in such cases, to reimburse to us the whole of our expenses and losses in the course of the war.

"Whether this last proviso is to be insisted upon or not, certain we are that we cannot have any peace at all until we shall be in a position, not only to demand and exact, but to enforce and collect, the treasure for our own reimbursement, out of the wealthy cities of the enemy's country. In other words, unless we can destroy or scatter their armies, and break up their Government, we can have no peace, and if we can do that, then we can, and ought, not only to extort from them our own full terms, and ample acknowledgment of their wrong, but also a handsome indemnity for the trouble and expense caused to us by their crime."

SUPPOSED REBEL PIRATE.—The Portland Press states that the fishing schooner Mary Lizzie, Capt. Woodbury, of Cape Elizabeth, arrived at that port at twelve o'clock Saturday night. Capt. Woodbury reports that Saturday morning, at sunrise, about 100 miles east of Portland, saw a large bark-rigged vessel of about 600 tons, five or six miles astern, apparently light, with painted ports. Capt. W. at soon discovered that the rig of the vessel had been altered to that of a ship, and that she was pursuing him. She had no colors flying.—The wind being moderate, the vessel could not gain upon the schooner, and about 3 o'clock P. M. she put out a boat manned with about twenty men, which chased the schooner one hour, when the wind breezed up and the schooner sailed away from them. At sunset the ship was right over the schooner's stern, steering N. N. W. At this time the schooner was off Mt. Desert.

FIGURATIVE EXPRESSION.—How many common figurative expressions in our language are borrowed from the art of carpentry, may be seen in the following sentence:

"The lawyer who filed a bill, shaved a note, cut an acquaintance, split a hair, made an entry, got up a case, framed an indictment, empaneled a jury put them in a box, nailed a witness, hammered a judge, and bored a whole Court, all in one day, has since laid down law and turned carpenter."

ATTEMPTED MURDER.—The Machias Republican says that on Wednesday evening of last week, as Mr. A. H. Sawyer was leaving his house in Calais, Me., a man informed him that he had a letter for him, and as if to present it he drew a pistol and fired it. The ball passed through his vest, and lodged in the inner lining, where it was found. The villian made his escape.

☞ The balloonists that recently "went up" from Bangor, traveled in an air line about 240 miles in less than six hours, landing in Sudbury county, New Brunswick.—The excursionists with some forty or fifty invited guests, took dinner at the Dwinel House, Bangor, on Tuesday, to celebrate their great excursion and safe return.—Besides doing ample justice to the dinner, speeches, sentiments and a poem by Dr Jordan descriptive of the voyage, were had.

☞ A recent squirrel hunt in Jefferson, Ashtabula county, Ohio, in which there were eighteen men on each side, resulted in the slaying of fifteen hundred of the frisky little fellows on one side, and fifteen hundred and one on the other. That was a pretty close match.

☞ The War Department has decided that Shakers and other sects professing conscientious scruples against performing military duty, are liable to the draft, and as they won't fight they must pay.

☞ Ohio has filled its quota by volunteers; hence the draft, ordered for Wednesday, is indefinitely postponed.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Samuel Harrison, while at work a few days since on the picker in the Ashuelot woollen mill, in Winchester, had his hand caught in the machinery, and was drawn into the picketed cylinder, terribly lacerating his arm and one side of his body, so that he survived but a short time. He was twelve years of age.

—— The annual catalogue of Dartmouth College reports 261 students, 60 of whom are medical students, 48 seniors, 42 juniors, 40 sophomores, 31 freshmen and 40 scientific students.

HYDROPHOBIA.—A lady in Concord N. H., writes to us that tea made from, skull-cap is a preventive against hydrophobia. It is said to be one of the best nervines extant, and it is the nerves that require the remedy in the case of a bite from a mad dog. The tea should be drank in liberal quantities daily for a month or six weeks after receiving the bite.

There is one precaution which should be taken when bitten by a dog, whether the animal is mad or not, or when a wound is inflicted by a nail or any blunt instrument. The wound should be healed gradually under a poultice. If the outside is healed before there is a healthy granulation inside, lockjaw may supervene, with many of the symptoms of hydrophobia.—Boston Journal.

☞ A down east paper has stated that "Flora Temple" is dead—worth $1600, &c. It must of course be a bogus, counterfeit Flora, for the little Queen of the turf herself is not in training this season, and is in Baltimore, where she is now owned, and has not been in Maine at all; and, besides, is worth twice sixteen thousand dollars, instead of a paltry sixteen hundred! It is poor business, stealing or duplicating the names of great men or horses.

TIT FOR TAT.—In a competitive examination held for the purpose of appointing fit persons for some of the Government offices, one of the candidates inadvertently spelt the word Venice with two n's—thus Vennice. The examiner, a clever man, but not always a correct speaker, sternly inquired, "Do you not know, sir, that there is but one hen in Venice?" "Then eggs must be very scarce there," was the reply. The candidate passed.

☞ Moses Cherry of Auxville, Kendall County, Ill., last Spring gave two Virginia slaves eight acres of land and furnished them with a horse, wagon, tools, &c., for tobacco raising, he to receive half the profits. The crop is now being cut and will realize in the neighborhood of $3,000.

MESSRS. LIVERMORE, CLEWS & CO., of New York City, Government Agents for the sale of the U. S. 5-20 Loan, took subscriptions yesterday for one-million of dollars of the Bonds.—New York Times, Oct. 23rd.

☞ Since the last annual return no fewer than 238,462 ships cleared inwards or outwards from British ports. Of this number, 1827 were w recked, and the sea swallowed up 690; more than half the number of losses consisted of vessels under 300 tons. The lifeboats of the National Society saved 458 lives.

☞ Commander C. R. P. Rogers has been ordered to the command of the Iroquois; Commander A. C. Rhind has been ordered to the command of the Agawam Lieut. Commander A. F. Crossman has been ordered to special duty in New York.

☞ Two letters from Bannock City Gold Mines, bearing dates of Sept. 23 and 27, state that Capt. Fisk's expedition was then within a few days' travel of Bannock City, so that the report of their massacre was a mistake, probably arising out of the massacre of the miners in Missouri.

☞ A firm in Biddeford, Me., sometimes receives letters, which in addition to the address on the envelope, have—"26TWF&Seowistf,"—their correspondents thinking they must superscribe the marks of the advertisement. We don't want to be held responsible for this; so we will state that the Biddeford Journal is our authority.

VERY KNOWING.—An elegantly-dressed young lady recently entered a railway carriage, where there were three or four gents, one of whom was lighting a segar. One of the gents asked if smoking would incommode her. She replied: "I don't know, sir; no gentleman has ever smoked in my presence."

☞ Gen. Lew Wallace, who took an active part in the fights at Island No. 10, Pittsburg Landing, Shiloh and Corinth, but who from some cause silently passed from observation, it is now stated has become a partner in a pork and beef packing house in the west.

SELF-IMPOSED MARTYRDOM.—The martyrs to vice far exceed the martyrs to virtue, both in endurance and in number. So blinded are we by passions that we suffer more to be damned than to be saved.

☞ Admiral Dahlgren, in an official report to the Navy Department, alludes to the rumored disagreement between Gen. Gilmore and himself, and pronounces the story utterly unfounded. He states that their concurrence on public matters and their personal relations render such rumors absurd.

☞ The Richmond Dispatch admits that "the real news from the army of General Lee does not confirm the almost innumerable reports which were in circulation on Saturday."

☞ Regiments now in service which reenlist as Veteran Volunteers will be credited to the States, and as far as practicable to the Congressional districts and sub-districts to which they belong.

☞ The ladies of East Tennessee are represented as unquestionably loyal. They improve every opportunity to "kiss the dear old flag," and now and then kiss its good-looking defenders.

☞ The draft in New Jersey is postponed to January next.

"Big Thing."

In these days of progression,
When "Go ahead" is the word,
All strength takes possession,
By both fire and sword;
When man all about us,
Clad in the nation's bright blue,
Are supporting our colors,
So gallant, noble and true;
Many sights that are curious
Our eyes often meet,
And phrases quaint and humorous
Our ears often greet—
Some pithy and brief and somewhat obtuse,
Some forcible and striking, are brought into use.
Many such, designed the truth to convey,
We adapt to our liking, if we think it will pay.
Without enumerating words of Yankee invention,
One phrase in particular I beg leave to mention,
It is simply "Big Thing:"
Two words which, no doubt,
Are as potent of meaning
As can well be wrought out,
To express admiration, surprise, pleasure and joy,
Upon any occasion we wish to employ.
In our places of business, hall, office or street,
"Big Thing," "Big Thing," are the words our ears greet.
"What's the news from Charleston?"
We inquire of a friend.
"Oh! big thing!" quoth our informant,
"Sumter knocked and over end,
Moult Pelot blown up sky-higher,
Gilmore's ready with Greek fire;
Big thing for Dahl; big thing for Gill;
When they get into Charleston, to have no one to kill."
We take up the paper containing the news,
There we find matter to suit our views,
Items to agree with every taste,
Whether maple sugar or ju-ju paste.
Down to the last moment the telegraph brings
The news concerning all the "big things"—
"The rebel ships in Europe are to sail very soon;"
"Some one has discovered the man in the moon;"
"England and France going to war with the Jags,
Then coming to pay us a visit—perhaps;"
"More ships captured by the pirate Semmes;"
Mason and Slidell, Confederate gems;"
"The Florida making repairs at Brest;"
"Floyd, Yancey and Jackson gone to their rest;"
"Plantation Bitters, Buchu, and Ayer's Pills,"
Designed for the cure of all our ills;
A dentist advertises extracting teeth without pain,
And gently assures us what's our loss is his gain;
Jeff. Davis performing St. Vitus's dance;
The Chronicle at four dollars a year, in advance;
These we may mention, and might many more,
All "big things," as we remarked before.
All "big things" in their way, no doubt,
But the "biggest thing" yet has just been found out.
With all this preamble, and without more ado,
We'll attend to business, and introduce you
To the "LIGHTNING HAIR DYE"—if you've not seen
The article—to color hair black, not dirty or green
It does the work instantly, you'll not have to wait,
For though in a hurry, you'll never be late.
No scrubbing of faces, no tanning, no drying,
With by the old method is—Oh! so trying!
A beautiful color it imparts to the hair,
"I must try this thing," we hear you declare,
"I've bothered so much with worthless trash,
I've grown very cross, discontented and rash;
I'll be so no more, but straightway will go
To try this new thing, and then I will know;
To LEVERTON I my money and bottle will bring,
And get some of this wonderful, truly "Big Thing."
With pleasure I see, my vision do greet,

Valuable Farm, Live Stock, Crops, &c

AT AUCTION,

On THURSDAY, Nov. 12th, at 11 o'clock,

on the premises, in Newington.

The valuable and beautiful FARM, formerly owned by the Hon. James Pickering. This desirable estate, comprising about seventy acres, is situated in Newington, about four miles from Portsmouth and one mile from depot of Concord Railroad at Greenland. The buildings consist of a convenient House, containing ten rooms, excellent cellar, &c., together with Barn and other suitable Outbuildings, &c. The land is suitably divided into tillage, pasturage and mowing fields. Upon it are some of the very best varieties of Apple and Pear trees, many of which are in good bearing condition, together with the smaller fruits, such as Currants, Gooseberries, &c. The beautiful shade trees scattered over the land, its eligibility to a good market, excellent pasturage and general beauty of the premises, make this one of the most desirable estates ever offered for sale in this section of the State, either for a gentleman's country residence or for a practical farmer.

There are two Wells on the Farm, and the two Pastures, which are both excellent, are abundantly supplied with never-failing streams of the purest water.

Also will be sold, immediately after the Farm, the Live Stock on the place, consisting of 1 Yoke OXEN, five good COWS, two young HEIFERS, eight SHEEP, a black MARE, one young HORSE, three HOGS.

Also the CROPS, consisting of a large quantity of HAY, CORN, BARLEY, POTATOES, &c.

A good WAGON, One Cart, Ox Sled, Roller, and a variety of Farming Implements.

Also a good PIANO, and other articles of Household Furniture.

One of Hunnewell's Preparations.

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS—The true Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pains so erroneously judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 4 to 6 Pills, to get a decent cathartic, was the study in this development. The dose seldom exceeding One, and never more than Two Pills, satisfies the requirements of economy, and character can be best known by confidence to test them in DYSPEPSIA, CONSTIPATION, INDIGESTION, LIVER COMPLAINT, all derangements of the stomach and Bowels, and as a Family Pill. spno

Probate Advertisements.

The language of the law relating to the publication of Probate Notices is:

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper therefor."

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notice may be ordered for the Chronicle or the Gazette; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

Our terms are as low as those of any other paper.

☞ Some of the Mercantile Association boys are desirous of that Society's having a Lyceum to make money, &c. We wish the Mercantile all success; but there is no money to be made out of a Lyceum in Portsmouth, for them or anybody else.—That's so, sure. The Society never had but one Course which did "pay"; and that moderately—and then only through more hard work and shrewd management than can be relied on again. We advise the Mercantile to let Lyceums alone—and we also hope that the enterprising gentlemen who propose to give an independent course will do so—but not with the hope of realizing a cent for their labor and risk; which, in fact, we happen to know they do not entertain.

☞ Judge Doe, of this city, is presiding over a term of the S. J. Court which commenced in Keene on Tuesday, Oct. 20.

MUSIC FOR THE LYCEUM.—We learn that an orchestra of fine musicians will be in attendance at each eve of the Lyceum that is being projected by the committee of citizens in this city. Good music is always acceptable, and in this case will help while away the half hour intervening between the opening of the doors and the commencement of the lecture. The first lecture of this course will be given at an early day.

$100 REWARD!

For a Medicine that will cure COUGHS, INFLUENZA, TICKLING IN THE THROAT, WHOOPING COUGH, Or relieve CONSUMPTIVE COUGH, as quick as COE'S COUGH BALSAM.

OVER FIVE THOUSAND BOTTLES have been sold in Portsmouth and Town, and not a single instance of its failure is known.

We have, in our possession, any quantity of certificates, some of them from

EMINENT PHYSICIANS,

who have used it in their practice, and given it the pre-eminence over any other compound.

It does not dry up a Cough, but loosens it, so as to enable the patient to expectorate freely.

☞ Two or three Bottles will invariably cure TICKLING IN THE THROAT. ☜

A HALF Bottle has often completely cured the most

STUBBORN COUGH.

And yet, though it is so sure and speedy in its operation, it is perfectly harmless, being purely vegetable. It is very agreeable to the taste, and may be administered to children of any age.

In cases of CROUP we will guarantee a cure, if taken in season. No Family should be without it. It is within the reach of all, the price being

ONLY 25 CENTS!

And if an investment and thorough trial does not "back up" the above statement, the money will be refunded. We say this, knowing its merits, and feel confident that one trial will secure for it a home in every household.

Do not waste away with Coughing, when so small an investment will cure you. It may be find of any respectable druggist in town, who will furnish you with a circular of genuine certificates of cures it has made.

HEALTH AND COMFORT.

Patent Rubber Sole Boots and Shoes.

FOR MEN, BOYS AND YOUTH.

These Goods, having been carefully tested, prove to be more desirable than any other Boots and Shoes heretofore made. They answer the double purpose of Leather and Rubber Boots and Shoes.

They are made serviceable and easier to the feet than Leather Soles, are impervious to water, and have the leather tops do not draw the feet, and are far less expensive than Rubber Boots.

They are free from noise, prevent slipping on ice, and in keeping the feet dry and warm are conducive to health.

When the Soles wear out, the Boots and Shoes can be tapped with leather, or, if returned to us entire, new Rubber Soles can be put on.

The subscribers, having made arrangements as Agents for the sale of the above goods, are now prepared to take measures for the same, in different styles, and deliver them at short notice. They are made from the best stock to be had in the market, and warranted in every particular. Call and examine samples, at No. 12 Market street.

Notice of Appeal.

State of New Hampshire, Rockingham, ss. To John Elder, Executor of the will of Mary Elder, late of Portsmouth, in the County of Rockingham, deceased, testate, and to the heirs at law of the estate of the said Mary Elder and all others interested therein:

Notice is hereby given that a Court of Probate holden at Portsmouth, in said county, on the fourteenth day of July, 1863, it was ordered and decreed that John Elder be allowed for his services as Executor of the will of said Mary Elder the sum of six hundred and fifty-eight dollars and sixty cents, and said John Elder was allowed to take, at a value less than the market value thereof, certain shares in the Bank of New Hampshire and in the Rockingham Bank belonging to said testator, and which he charged himself with at a less price than he sold said shares at and actually received, as Executor, pay therefor; and that the subscribers, being interested in said estate and aggrieved by said order and decree, on the first day of August, A. D. 1863, claimed an appeal therefrom to the Supreme Judicial Court to be held on the first Tuesday of October, within and for the First Judicial District of this State, on the third Tuesday of December next, and filed in the Probate Office for said county their bonds to respond the cost that shall be awarded against them, agreeably to the statute in such case provided.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (see the Act of 1857.)
5 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of inventions or inventions—also, to advise and give opinions in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages in securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not unequalled by any other agency, by which can be obtained elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during the last twenty years, and the fact that he has now the vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents, in addition to his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render it probable, beyond question, his offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to secure a patent, and the usual great delay there, he have saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability in his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents; for they may be sured of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.—JOHN TANGARD.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.
DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his Office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a
PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.
By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of
GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.
Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending these dreadful diseases, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.
SEXUAL WEAKNESS.
Dr D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting them for the enjoyment of business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, imparitive nervous debility, sleeplessness, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.
Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days can board in his family with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.
Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Chloride, the most powerful preventive. Order by mail. These for $1 and a red stamp.
Highly Important!
To Females in Delicate Health.
DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No. 7 & 9 Endicott Street, Boston, can be consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and all menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.
Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of Cases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.
Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.
Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.
N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.
Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 8 P. M.
CERTAIN CURE
in all cases, or No Charges Made.
Dr. Dow can be consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 8 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.
Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.
U. S.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Price for 81 and a red stamp.

QUICK CURES AND LOW PRICES.
Over Twenty Thousand Patients Cured Annually!
DR. J. TELLER continues to be confidentially and successfully consulted on all forms of private diseases, at his old Established Hospital, No. 5 Beaver Street, Albany, N. Y. Twenty years devoted to this one particular branch of practice, enables him to perform cures such as no other Physician can, and his facilities are such being in correspondence with the most eminent Physicians of the old World, of obtaining the same, as well as the latest remedies for these diseases, offer inducements to the unfortunate of a quick and radical cure, to be obtained at no other office in America.
In Syphilis, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Enlargement of the Testicles and Spermatic Cords, Bubo, Ulcerated Throat, Sore Nose, Tender Shin Bones, Cutaneous Eruptions, Biles, Ulcers, Abscesses, and all other impurities of the blood, cures are perfectly under the control of the Doctor's Medicines, and have been tested in more than 20,000 cases annually, with immense Success.
YOUNG MEN.
Young Men addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their healths and destroyed the vigor of their manhood, will be surprised at the pleasure of the Married Life, are notified that by consulting Dr. J. Teller, they will find a friend to counsel and a Physician who has cured thousands, in almost every part of the United States, and applied to Dr. T. broken down in health, now rejoice in all that makes life desirable and man happy. The results of a course of Dr. T's treatment of delicacy of this subject will prevent a more minute description of this terrible disease.
DR. TELLER'S GREAT WORK.
A book for everybody.—Startling disclosures. Dr. TELLER's great work for the Married or those contemplating marriage—200 pages—full of plates—price 25 cts. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail, post paid. 50,000 copies sold the past year. The single Married and the Married Happy. A lecture on Love, or how to choose a Partner—a complete work on Midwifery, it contains hundreds of secrets, never before published.—Warranted to be worth three times the amount asked for it. 25 cents, in specie or postage stamps, inclosed, will secure a copy by return mail. Dr. TELLER has devoted a lifetime to the cure of those diseases upon which his books treat.
TO THE LADIES.
Dr. TELLER still remains the only Agency in America, for the sale of Dr. Vichon's Italian Female Monthly Pills. The sale of more than 20,000 boxes establishes their reputation as a female remedy, unapproached, and far in advance of every other medicine—for stoppages, irregularities, and other obstructions in females.
CAUTION.—Married ladies in certain delicate situations should avoid their use. For reasons see directions which accompany each package, for the guidance of patients. On the receipt of $1, (the price per box), these Pills will be sent, by mail or express, to any part of the world, secure from curiosity or damage.
Office hours from 8 A. M. to 8 P. M., and on Sundays from 9 to 5 P. M.
N. B.—Persons at a distance can be cured at home by addressing a letter to Dr. J. Teller, enclosing a remittance. Medicines securely packed from observation, sent to any part of the world. All cases warranted. No charge for advice.—N. B.—No students or boys employed. Notice this, address all letters to

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

The rebels are preparing for a campaign against the Union forces in North Carolina.

A Charleston (rebel) dispatch states that a Federal reconnoitering party, in barges, was discovered near Fort Sumter, on the night of the 20th, between 12 and 1 o'clock, and driven off by grape shot.

The rebels say that rafts have been placed around the Ironsides as a protection against torpedoes.

A rebel dispatch, 20th, reports that our troops were retreating rapidly from Clinton, Miss., to the highlands, pursued by the rebel cavalry. They burned some houses at Clinton.

A Washington dispatch says that it is not known in military circles that Bragg has been recently reinforced from Lee's army, nor is it believed.

Reports from Gen. Burnside, received on Sunday, show that he is rendering good service in East Tennessee, and has repeatedly driven back the reconnoitering parties of the rebels.

Gen. Burnside repulsed the rebels in two engagements near Midway, East Tennessee, on the 10th. Our troops encamped on the field: the rebels were felling trees all night to obstruct our progress.

Col. Hatch, with 2500 and 8 pieces of artillery, defeated 3000 rebel cavalry having 9 pieces of artillery, at Collierville, Miss., on the 11th; again at Ingham's mills on the 12th; and a third time at Wyatt's, on the Tallahatchie, on the 13th. With 75 other other prisoners he captured the rebel chief of artillery.

Bragg reports a defeat of the Union cavalry at Loudome, Tenn., on the 20th, with a loss of 700 prisoners, 50 wagons loaded with stores, 10 ambulances, a lot of horses and mules, and other property.

Active operations by the army of the Cumberland have been retarded in consequence of complete and safe communication of supplies not having yet been established, but they soon will be perfect.

A supposed rebel commissioner, who has arrived at Newbern, suggests a grand national peace convention, the results of its deliberations to be submitted to a vote of the people, North and South.

Union troops under Gen. Osterhaus, from Corinth, Miss., defeated from 4000 to 5000 rebels, 89 miles from Tuscumbia, on the 21st. The rebels lost heavily. Our loss was 7 killed and 37 wounded.

There was a fight at Philadelphia, East Tennessee, on the 20th, in which our forces appear to have been repulsed at first with loss, but afterwards turned the tide of battle. It was a hand-to-hand affair, lasting over five hours, the rebel force being 5000. They lost in killed, wounded and prisoners over 800. Gen. Walford recaptured his wagon train, but lost his battery and nearly 300 men. The next day the rebels were driven below Philadelphia, and a running fight was kept up till dark.

All of Shelby's force have been driven out of Missouri, and Gen. McNeil has crossed the Boston mountains in pursuit of them.

The rumor that Gen. Burnside had captured Lynchburg, Va., is not confirmed.

ROBBERY.—Thursday night the horse of Abner Haley, and the wagon and harness of Mr. Flagg, both of Topsham, Me., and also a mill bar from Perkins' mill, were stolen. The horse and wagon were found Friday morning in front of Mr. Haley's house. On the same night the store of Thomas Alexander, of Harpswell, was broken into and robbed of a few goods.—Friday afternoon Sheriff Pennell arrested two young men of Topsham—Henry Haskell and Samuel Lawry—and a part of the goods and the mill bar were found in their possession. They were both bound over in the sum of $200 for their appearance at Court. Failing to obtain bonds they were committed to jail. Haskell is said to belong to a respectable and worthy family, but his gross intemperance made him the companion and ally of a noted villain.

ANDREW JOHNSON'S VIEWS.—The N.Y. World's Nashville correspondent says:—

At a meeting held at the Capitol on Saturday evening last, to congratulate on the Republican elections in the North, Gov. Johnson spoke of the freedom of Tennessee in the future. He adduced many facts to disprove that slavery was at all necessary to the culture of cotton and sugar, and advocated the policy of leasing or letting out in small leaseholds the extensive plantations on the lower Mississippi. He dilated upon the fine natural advantages of Tennessee, and remarked that "the war would contribute to purge the State of the great curse of slavery, and throw its borders open to the immigration which free labor invites." He regarded the defeat of Vallandigham as a "national blessing," and concluded with advocating a more vigorous prosecution of the war, so that a permanent peace might be entered upon within the coming year."

☞ The N. Y. Tribune's Washington dispatch says a mutual exchange of records of deceased prisoners has been agreed upon.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Manchester American states that St. Mark's Church at Holderness Village was consecrated on Friday, the 23d inst. There were present of the clergy, the Rev. Drs. Eames and Hubbard, the Rev. Messrs. Herrick, Pierce and Hazzard. The sermon was by Rev. Dr. Hubbard.—The chanting which was antiphonal, was admirably conducted by the Rev. Joshua R. Peirce, formerly of Greenland, by whose labors the congregation had been gathered, and the church erected. The edifice is a beautiful example of a rural church in the Gothic style, consisting of a nave with an open roof, a recessed chancel, a south porch, a vestry on one side of the chancel, and a tower containing the organ room on the other. The building is 70 feet long and 25 feet wide. It is handsomely furnished with stained glass, and well designed pews and furniture of chestnut. The walls of the interior are colored a neutral tint, and the ceiling blue. The timbers being exposed, are painted a light straw-color. The structure is very substantially built of brick and timber, the frame work being exposed, and the whole resting on a solid stone foundation. The whole is now finished without incumbrance, by the aid of liberal friends of the Episcopal Church.

—— Four of Manchester's physicians have gone to the war.

—— Sharon must be an unhealthy place. All its drafted men are exempt.

—— The old school books are being collected in Manchester, to be sent to Portsmouth, Va., for the use of a regiment of contrabands.

—— Miss Fanny Riddle of Manchester, as we learn from the Union, who has for some years past devoted herself to the cultivation of extraordinary vocal powers, will make her debut as a public singer, at Irving Hall, New York, on Thursday evening, at one of Gottschalk's concerts.

—— Col. Walter Harriman has resigned his commission as commander of the 11th Regiment of New Hampshire Volunteers, now on service at Loudon, in Laurel county, Ky.

—— A man who gives his name as Geo. Stevens, and says he belongs in Dover, has been arrested on suspicion of being connected with the robbery of the Freeman's Bank, at Bristol, R. I.

—— Alphonso Taylor, who was stabbed by James Philgate, at Lake Village, last week, has died.

GEN. ROSECRANS was enthusiastically received at Cincinnati by an immense crowd of citizens on Monday forenoon. In an address to the people he stated that since the battle of Chickamauga he had received a letter of approval from the President for his action in that affair. The question as to how he had been used, he desired to leave for future time to answer. He denied the many current rumors concerning him,—that he was sick; that he was in the habit of taking opium, &c. Also that Gens. Crittenden and McCook had assured him that they exceedingly regretted that a false report had been made that they intended to make charges against him.

☞ A Fortress Monroe letter states that Dr. Wright, lately executed at Norfolk for the murder of Lieut. Sanborn, attempted to escape the night before his execution, by assuming his daughter's clothes, but was discovered by the sentinel after he had actually passed the guard. His daughter was at his express desire, married in his cell, to a young man to whom she had long been engaged. The doctor had his coffin made after a peculiar pattern designed by himself—the top end raised so as to form a chamber over the face 10 inches high, and on the inner sides he fastened the photographs of all his family.

☞ The recently reported mutiny among the Tennessee troops in front of Chattanooga proves to have been a very serious affair. It appears that a whole brigade attempted to desert to the Union lines, and in resisting their attempt over eight hundred men on both sides were killed.

IOWA ELECTION.—In three-fourths of the larger counties of Iowa, the majority of Col. Stone (Union) over Gen. Tuttle (Dem.) for Governor is 13,600, which the counties to come in will increase to fifteen thousand. This is independent of the soldiers' vote, which it is believed will carry Col. Stone's majority up to 25,000.

☞ A correspondent of the Richmond Enquirer gives great credit to Gen. Meade for managing his retreat scientifically, saving his stores and losing few men. He says the rebel soldiers were sadly disappointed at their failure to capture supplies, but had made the most of the small chance they had to do so, as they made their prisoners pull off their shoes, which the rebels applied to their own uses.

☞ A company has been started in Salem for the manufacture of iron horse cars.

☞ A correspondent of the New Orleans Picayune says that the attempt to steal the steam-tug Leviathan from the South West Pass, some weeks since, was not made for her supposed value to the rebels, but merely to solve the question so plaintively put by Job, "Canst thou hook the Leviathan?"

This quotation reminds Uncle Toby of the fact that newspaper writers, undertaking to quote Scripture, often make a botch of their job. The Bible does not represent Job as saying this, or anything like it: but it does represent the Lord as answering Job out of the whirlwind, and in the midst of a sublime passage are these words: "Canst thou draw out Leviathan with a hook? or his tongue with a cord thou lettest down?"

THE REBEL RAMS.—A Halifax correspondent of the New York Post writes:

The friends of secesh and rebeldom in Bluenosedom are sadly down in the mouth because of Earl Russell's stopping of the "pet rams" at Liverpool. Arrangements on a large scale were going on here at the Confederate wharf for supplies of coal and other materials for the rams, preparatory to their attacking Portland, Boston and New York, and then breaking up the blockade of Southern ports. The matter was talked over here as sure to occur within a few weeks, and thousands gloated over an anticipatory burning of your seaport towns and destruction of your fleets. All these prospects are blighted.

OUR EXPORTS AND IMPORTS.—The Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune says:

An erroneous impression prevails with regard to the relative value of imports and exports during the fiscal years of 1862 and 1863. The statement is published that a balance of seventy or eighty millions remains against us, and that this difference will be increased during the coming year.

We are enabled to show by the following facts, derived from authority that cannot be questioned, the utter incorrectness of this statement: In 1860 the balance of trade was against us some $30,000,000; in 1861 an equilibrium was attained; in 1862 our exports exceeded our imports $20,000,000, and during the last trade year the balance in our favor has been swelled to near $80,000,000, one half of the credit being in specie. This is, of course, based on the already reported exports. Whereas the actual exports are believed to be one-fifth larger, the returns of customs being deficient. The reported value of our exports is not based on an 'inflated currency,' as unfriendly journals will have it, much of our foreign trade being for the purpose of creating exchange, and, therefore, stated in the terms of the foreign account. This credit of $80,000,000 is fully maintained up to the latest advices from the Custom Houses.

☞ The sales of Government bonds on Saturday amounted to $2,122,600. Total sales of the week, $12,000,000. The sales on Monday were $1,432,000. Large amounts of these bonds are going to Europe by every steamer, and it is by no means certain that the privilege of taking this loan will remain fifteen days longer.—Numerous inquiries from Europe lead to the belief that large subscriptions are contemplated.

☞ Geo. Stevens, the man who was arrested in Pawtucket for offering a stolen bill on the Freeman's Bank, Bristol, has been taken to Bristol and arraigned before Justice Munro on a charge of complicity with the robbery of that Bank in November last. Waiving an examination, he was held for trial.

☞ The New York train on the Old Colony and Newport railway run over and killed a man on Saturday evening at a point near the Atlantic Station in the town of Braintree. Deceased was a United States sailor, and fell from the train while it was in rapid motion, he probably being in the act of passing from one car to another.

☞ In obedience to warrants from the U. S. District Court, the U. S. Marshal has seized for condemnation and forfeiture to the Federal Government, the contents of the jewelry store of Thomas Griswold & Co., New Orleans,—the largest establishment of the kind in the South. Application has been made by the counsel for defence to bond the property, on the ground that it is not subject to confiscation, and the motion granted, after a full hearing.

☞ The man Jeffries, who recently failed in Boston for $300,000, having assets amounting to a watch, seal-ring, and horse and carriage, has been committed to jail on a charge of swindling.

☞ As Hon. Andrew J. Rogers, one of the Congressmen elect, was addressing a Democratic meeting at Deckerstown, N. J., last Thursday evening, he was interrupted by missiles thrown into the building. He retorted sharply. Soon after the building was set on fire and consumed, together with an adjoining stable and seventeen horses.

☞ The New Orleans Picayune, noticing the inquests on three contrabands in that city of a single morning, says: "These sudden deaths among negroes have become very numerous of late, and the fact cannot be very easily accounted for. In some cases it may arise from change of habits."

☞ The negro sergeant, Pete Johnson, charged with the murder of a slave boy, named Bill Jenkins, while fleeing a press-gang commanded by Johnson, has been found guilty of a crime less than murder, by the Provost Court of New Orleans, and sentenced to two years' hard labor at Ship Island.

☞ A young man, dressed in ladies' apparel, was arrested for shop-lifting in a dry-goods store in New York on Monday last.—He had a very elegant "make up," and was laced and corsetted to an exceedingly fine point.

"Big Thing."

In these days of progression,
When "Go ahead" is the word,
And strength takes possession,
By both pen and sword;
When men all about us,
Clad in the nation's bright blue,
Are supporting our country,
So gallant, noble and true;
Many sights that are curious
Our eyes often meet,
And phrases quaint and humorous
Our ears often greet—
Some pithy and brief and somewhat obtuse,
Some forcible and striking, are brought into use.
Many such, designed the truth to convey,
We adapt to our liking, if we think it will pay.
Without enumerating words of Yankee invention,
One phrase in particular I beg leave to mention,
It is simply "Big Thing;"
Two words which, no doubt,
Are as potent of meaning
As can well be wrought out,
To express admiration, surprise, pleasure and joy.
Upon any occasion we wish to employ.
In our places of business, hall, office or street,
"Big Thing," "Big Thing," are the words our ears greet.
"What's the news from Charleston?"
We inquire of a friend.
"Oh! big thing!" quoth our informant,
"Sumter knocked end over end,
Moult-ie's just blown up sky-higher,
Gilmore's ready with Greek fire;
Big thing for 'Dahl,' big thing for 'Gil,'
When they get into Charleston, to have no one to kill."
We take up the paper containing the news,
There we each find matter to suit our views;
Items to agree with every taste,
Whether maple sugar or juju paste.
Down to the last moment the telegraph brings
The news concerning all the "big things"—
"The rebel ships in Europe are to sail very soon;"
"Some one has discovered the man in the moon;"
"England and France going to war with the Japs,
Then coming to pay us a visit—perhaps;"
"More ships captured by the pirate Semmes;"
Mason and Slidell, Confederate gems;
"The Florida making repairs at Brest;"
"Floyd, Yancey and Jackson gone to their rest;"
"Plantation Bitters, Buchu, and Ayer's Pills,"
Designed for the cure of all our ills.
A dentist advertises extracting teeth without pain,
And gently assures us what's our loss is his gain;
Jeff. Davis performing St. Vitus's dance;
The Chronicle at four dollars a year, in advance;
These we may mention, and might many more,
All "big things," as we remarked before.
All "big things" in their way, no doubt,
But the "biggest thing" yet has just been found out.
With all this preamble, and without more ado,
We'll attend to business, and introduce you
To the "LIGHTENING HAIR DYE"—if you've not seen
The article—to color hair black, not dirty or green
It does the work instantly, you'll not have to wait,
For though in a hurry, you'll never be late.
No scrubbing of faces, no fanning, no drying,
Which by the old method is—Oh! so trying!
A beautiful color it imparts to the hair.
"I must try this thing," we hear you declare,
"I've bothered so much with worthless trash,
I've grown very cross, discouraged and rash;
I'll be so no more, but straightway will go
To try this new thing, and then I will know;
To LEVANTON I my money and bottle will bring,
And get some of this 'wonderful, truly 'Big Thing.'"
With pleasure I see, my vision do greet,

Valuable Farm, Live Stock, Crops, &c.
AT AUCTION,
On THURSDAY, Nov. 12th, at 11 o'clock,
on the premises, in Newington.
The valuable and beautiful FARM, formerly owned by the Hon. James Pickering. This desirable estate, comprising about seventy acres, is situated in Newington, about four miles from Portsmouth and one mile from depot of Concord Railroad at Greenland. The buildings consist of a convenient House, containing ten rooms, excellent cellar, &c., together with Barn and other suitable Outbuildings, &c. The land is suitably divided into tillage, pasturage and mowing fields. Upon it are some of the very best varieties of Apple and Pear trees, many of which are in good bearing condition, together with the smaller fruits, such as Currants, Raspberries, &c. The beautiful shade trees scattered over the land, its eligibility to a good market, excellent pasturage and general beauty of its location, make this one of the most desirable estates ever offered for sale in this section of the State, either for a gentleman's country residence or for a practical farmer.
There are two Wells on the Farm, and the two Pastures, which are both excellent, are abundantly supplied with never-failing streams of the purest water.
Also will be sold, immediately after the Farm, the Live Stock on the place, consisting of 1 Yoke OXEN, five good COWS, two young HEIFERS, eight SHEEP, a black MARE, one young HORSE, three HOGS.

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS—The true Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pains so erroneously ascribed to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 4 to 6 Pills, to get a decent cathartic, was the study in this development. The dose seldom exceeding One, and never more than Two Pills, settles the question of economy, and character can be best known by confidence to test them in DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, BILIOUSNESS, LIVER COMPLAINT, all derangements of the stomach and Bowels, and as a Family Pill. spno

S. J. COURT, Tuesday.—Joseph Locke was tried in the morning on a charge of keeping a disorderly house, and was found guilty. Bell for State; Hatch for deft.

The trial of Job Woodsum, for passing counterfeit money on Messrs. Tucker & Downs, and Mr. George Henderson, in this city,—was commenced at the conclusion of the above trial. Bell for State; Hatch for deft.

The following sentences were pronounced:

Charles Wentworth larceny, 2 years hard labor in State Prison, and to pay costs of prosecution.

Luther J. Austin, breaking and entering, and stealing from a dwelling house in Sandown, 5 days solitary confinement and 5 years hard labor in State Prison, and pay costs of prosecution.

Ira A Moody, for like offence, 2 days solitary confinement and 2 years hard labor in State Prison, and pay costs of prosecution.

Christopher J. Marshall, arraigned on an indictment for illegally voting in Ward 3, in Portsmouth, pleaded not guilty.

POLICE COURT, Tuesday.—Julia Ann Chapman, for keeping a disorderly house at No. 8 Dennett street, was ordered to find bonds in the sum of $200 for her appearance at the April Term of the S. J. Court, and in default, was committed to jail.

☞ The U. S. Guard and Receiving ship "Vandalia" went into commission at this station, last week, with the following officers:—

Commander—E. C. Bowers.
Acting Master—Ed. D. March, Executive officer.
Act. Asst. Paymaster—Chas H. West.
Act. Ensigns—Wm. B. Cobb, Sydney Hall.
Captain's Clerk—Frederick Bowers.
Paymaster's Clerk—J. W. Hill.

HALL'S BAND, of Boston, perform at the Temple to-night; and will not fail to offer an attractive programme, nor to present the pieces in their best light. That famous golden bugle will send forth golden notes; and the hardly less-noted echo bugle, will wake musical echoes in the old hall, and find response in every ear attuned to sweet sounds. The house ought to be full, for such an entertainment; and so it will be well to secure tickets in season.

☞ Mr. Davis' Evening Singing School have unanimously voted to procure the new and popular book, "The Harp of Judah." See the advertisement of the Managing Committee. We are informed that a few more scholars will be admitted, both to the Evening and Juvenile Classes—and the opportunity is too good to be lost, especially for the children—who will blame their parents by and by, for not giving them a chance to learn to sing. Mercantile Hall ought to be filled for these schools.

The Classes meet this (Wednesday) afternoon and evening.

WHOLESALE PRICES.—First pickings Apples, best quality, are now selling in our market at $2.50 a $2.75 per barrel. Second pickings, at $1.50 per bbl. Potatoes are sold at 65 a 75 cents; Onions, $1.50; Turnips .25 a .33 per bushel; Beets $1. per bushel; Sweet Potatoes $4.75 per bbl.; Cabbages .75 a $1. per dozen. Poultry is worth from a shilling to twenty cents per pound.

☞ William Pierce, a machinist of this city, employed at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, jammed his fingers severely on Tuesday, in handling some iron plating, in the temporary machine shop.

☞ John A. Dix has been unanimously nominated as a candidate for Mayor of New York city, by the "general committee of the regular representative democracy."—This committee is said to represent a powerful section of the democratic party in New York.

☞ The quota of New York State under the last call is 60,378 The State was also deficient, at the time of the last call, Oct. 17, 47,657 men, so that the whole number of volunteers to be raised before January next to avoid a new draft is 108,035.

☞ The U. S. Treasurer has received another package of notes from the wreck of the steamer Ruth. This furnishes additional proof that all the money (three millions) was on board at the time of the fire.

☞ A British vessel that was delivering arms to the rebels at the mouth of the Rio Grande, kept in Mexican waters for fear of Yankee cruisers, when his vessel was seized by a French man-of-war as having on board arms bound for Mexico.

☞ Rev. Henry Ward Beecher has made a forcible speech in Liverpool. A row was anticipated, but the meeting passed off with occasional disgraceful interruptions.

☞ John Hull, of Detroit, kept his word and drowned himself because Vallandigham was not elected.

☞ Four of the late crew of the pirate Florida have been arrested in New York, where they arrived in a British vessel.

BABY SLEEPS.

The baby wept;
The mother took it from the nurse's arms,
And hushed its fears and soothed its vain alarms,
And baby slept.

Again it weeps;
And God doth take it from the mother's arms—
From present griefs and future unknown harms,
And baby sleeps.

TRAJAN AND JOSHUA.—'You teach,' said the Emperor Trajan to Joshua, 'that your God is everywhere, and boasts he resides among your nation. I should like to see Him.'

'God's presence is indeed everywhere,' replied Joshua, 'but he cannot be seen; no mortal eye can behold his glory.'

The Emperor insisted.

'Well,' said Joshua, 'suppose we try to look at one of his ambassadors,' and bade him look at the sun.

'I cannot,' said Trajan, 'the light dazzles me.'

'Thou art unable,' said Joshua, 'to endure the light of one of his creatures; and canst thou expect to behold the resplendent glory of the Creator? would not such a sight annihilate thee?'

☞ A shooting match came off at Kennebunk last week. There were engaged fifteen on a side. They had two days to shoot game in, Tuesday and Wednesday, and the weather excellent on both days.—A large amount of game was secured, as will be seen from the following list:—

1 mink, three muskrats, 1 rabbit, 516 red and striped squirrels, 6 gray squirrels, 13 partridges, 47 blue jays, 7 crows, 3 hawks, 2 owls, 7 ducks, 49 grey backs, 2 sand birds, 10 yellow legs, 1 kingfisher, 2 possums, 2 blackbirds, 1 gull, 1 woodchuck, and 9 woodpeckers.

Would you save yourself from suffering after eating, or from acidity of the stomach, or burning sensation, or indigestion? Use Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus. Never use soda if you can procure this article. It will strengthen weak stomachs and relieve dyspepsia; is a saving in the quantity of flour, &c., &c. Try it. Grocers and Druggists most all sell it. The Wholesale Agents are Wholesale Grocers.

$100 REWARD!

For a Medicine that will cure COUGHS, INFLUENZA, TICKLING IN THE THROAT, WHOOPING COUGH, Or relieve CONSUMPTIVE COUGH, as quick as

COE'S COUGH BALSAM.

OVER FIVE THOUSAND BOTTLES have been sold in its native town, and not a single instance of its failure is known.

We have, in our possession, any quantity of certificates, some from the most EMINENT PHYSICIANS, who have used it in their practice, and given it the pre-eminence over any other compound.

It does not dry up a Cough, but loosens it, so as to enable the patient to expectorate freely.

☞ Two or three Bottles will invariably cure TICKLING IN THE THROAT. ☜

A HALF Bottle has often completely cured the most

STUBBORN COUGH.

And yet, though it is so sure and speedy in its operation, it is perfectly harmless, being purely vegetable. It is very agreeable to the taste, and may be administered to children of any age.

In cases of CROUP we will guarantee a cure, if taken in season. No Family should be without it. It is within the reach of all, the price being

ONLY 25 CENTS!

And if an investment and thorough trial does not "back up" the above statement, the money will be refunded. We say this, knowing its merits, and feel confident that one trial will secure for it a home in every household.

Do not waste away with Coughing, when so small an investment will cure you. It may be had of any respectable druggist in town, who will furnish you with a circular of genuine certificates of cures it has made.

HEALTH AND COMFORT.

Patent Rubber Sole Boots and Shoes.

FOR MEN, BOYS AND YOUTH.

These Goods, having been carefully tested, prove to be more desirable than any other Boots and Shoes heretofore made. They answer the double purpose of Leather and Rubber Boots and Shoes.

They are made serviceable and easier to the feet than Leather Soles, are impervious to water, and having a leather inner sole do not draw the feet, and are far less expensive than Rubber Boots.

They are free from noise, prevent slipping on ice, and in keeping the feet dry and warm are conducive to health.

When the Soles wear out, the Boots and Shoes can be tapped with leather, or, if returned to us entire, new Rubber Soles can be put on.

The subscribers, having made arrangements as Agents for the sale of the above goods, are now prepared to take measures for the same, in different styles, and deliver them at short notice. They are made from the best stock to be had in the market, and warranted in every particular. Call and examine samples, at No. 13 Market street.

Ayer's SARSAPARILLA,

THE WORLD'S GREAT REMEDY FOR

Scrofula and Scrofulous Diseases.

From Emery Bishop, a leading business merchant of Oxford, Maine.

"I have sold large quantities of your SARSAPARILLA, but never offer one bottle of it without the desired effect and full satisfaction to those who took it. As fast as our people try it, they agree there has been no medicine like it before in our community."

Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Pustules, Ulcers, Sores, and all Diseases of the Skin.

From Rev. Robt. Stratton, Bristol, England.

"I only do my duty to you and the public, when I add my testimony to that you publish of the medicinal virtues of your SARSAPARILLA. My son, a lad 12 years of age, had an afflicting humor in his ears, eyes, and hair for years, which we were unable to cure until we gave him AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. She has been well for some months."

From Mrs. Jane E. Ross, a well known and much esteemed lady of Smithville, Cape May Co., N. J.

"My daughter has suffered for years from a scrofulous eruption, which was very troublesome. Nothing afforded any relief until we tried your SARSAPARILLA, which has completely cured her."

From Charles P. Greel, Esq., of the widely known firm of Greel & Co., manufacturers of enamelled papers in Malden, N. Y.

"For several years a very troublesome humor in my face, which grew constantly worse until it disfigured my features and became an intolerable affliction, I tried everything I could hear of, and of both advertised medicine, but without any relief whatever, until I took your SARSAPARILLA. It immediately began to improve my humor, as you told me it might for a time; but in a few months the skin began to form under the blotches, and continued until my face is as smooth as any body's, and I am free from the humor. I cannot but think that I know of, I enjoy perfect health, and without a doubt owe it to your SARSAPARILLA."

Erysipelas—General Debility—Purify the Blood.

From Dr. Bibb, 293 Houston St., New York.

"DR. AYER. I seldom fail to remove Eruptions and Scrofulous Sores by the persevering use of your SARSAPARILLA, and I have seldom never cured in stock of Mallgnant Erysipelas with it. No alterative we possess equals the SARSAPARILLA you have supplied to the profession as well as to the people."

From Dr. S. S. Schenck, Esq., Hamilton, Ohio.

"For twelve years I had the yellow Erysipelas on my right arm, during which time I tried all the celebrated physicians of the day, and spent hundreds of dollars worth of medicines. The sleeve were so bad that the cords became visible, and the doctors decided that my arm must be amputated. I began taking your SARSAPARILLA. Took two bottles, and some of your PILLS. Together they have cured me. I am now sound and comfortable, may body, being in a healthy state, my case is known to every body in this community, and excites the wonder of all."

From Hon. Henry Monro, M. P. P., of Newcastle, C. W., a leading member of the Canadian Parliament.

"I have used your SARSAPARILLA in my family, for general debility, and for purifying the blood, with very beneficial results, and feel confidence in commending it to the afflicted."

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Sore Eyes.

From Harvey Scribner, Esq., the editor of the Tuskaloosa Democrat, Pennsylvania.

"Our only child, about three years of age, was attacked by pimples on his forehead, which rapidly spread until they formed a loathsome and virulent sore, which covered his face, and actually blinded his eyes for some days. A skillful physician applied blistering, and other remedies, without any apparent effect. For fifteen days we guarded his hands, lest with them he should tear open the festering and corrupted wounds, and spread his whole face. Having tried every thing else we had any hope from, we began giving your SARSAPARILLA, and applying the PILLS and POTASH lotion as you direct. The sore began to heal when we had given the first bottle, and was well when we had finished the second. The child's constitution, which had come out, grew again, and he is now as healthy and fair as any other child. The whole neighborhood predicted that the child must die."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease

From Dr. Ellis, Medical Chemist, Louisville, Kentucky.

"I find your SARSAPARILLA a more effectual remedy for the secondary symptoms of Syphilis and for erysipelas than any other I have to possess. The profession are indebted to you for some of the best medicines we have."

From A. J. French, M. D., an eminent physician of Lowell, Mass., and a professional member of the Legislature of Massachusetts.

"DR. AYER. My dear Sir: I have found your SARSAPARILLA invaluable in my practice, in both of the primary and secondary type, and effectual in some cases that seem too obstinate to yield to other remedies. I find it a valuable adjunct to Mercury, in the secondary stage of syphilis, where a powerful alterative is required."

Mr. Chas. R. Van Liew, of New Brunswick, N. J., had disfigured his face with a scrofulous humor, which defied the skill of surgery, or medical science, which grew more and more aggravated for years, in spite of every remedy or treatment, and he would be disfigured for life, but for the use of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, which cured him. Few cases can be found more inveterate and discouraging than this, and it took several dozen bottles to cure him.

Leucorrhœa, Whites, Female Weakness, are generally produced by internal Scrofulous ulceration, and are speedily cured by the alterative effect of this SARSAPARILLA. Some cases require a dozen bottles, but no other SARSAPARILLA, the skillful application of local remedies.

From the well known and widely-celebrated Dr. Ackley, of Zanesville, Ohio, of Cincinnati.

"I have found your SARSAPARILLA an excellent alterative in diseases of females. Many cases of irregularity, Leucorrhœa, Internal Ulceration, and local debility, arising from the weakness thereby induced, have yielded to it, and there are few that do not, when accompanied by local treatment."

A long, excelling and well merited publication of her name, by the proprietor.

"My daughter and myself have been cured of a very obstinate leucorrhœa of long standing, by the use of your SARSAPARILLA."

Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Neuralgia, often caused by Scrofula in the system, are rapidly cured by this FAMOUS SARSAPARILLA.

THE BEST COOK STOVE

IN THE MARKET,

AFTER ALL SAID,

STEWART'S

NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT,

SUMMER AND WINTER

COOKING STOVE,

For Wood or Coal,

IMPROVED IN 1859.

The peculiarities of the

STEWART COOK STOVE,

Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will lie and smoulder and char, upon the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire-chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward movable coverings, which means the heat of the stove may be confined within or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove from the time the article is set in until it is removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent Reservoir (of copper, with a tin casing) containing from 10 to 20 gallons, by which the waste heat, in passing off, is made available to keep hand a constant supply of hot water. The space beneath the reservoir is occupied with a TIN CLOSET where articles ready for the table may be placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c.

4. Also, by the aid of the TOP COVER, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DUTCH OVEN prepared for baking—the heat being communicated to it from both sides of the fire-box; and the fumes, meanwhile, passing into the draft.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of meat may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one into the other; and the current instituted for this purpose made subservient to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no increase of combustion.

7. By the aid of the improved metallic linings, or "oven arrangement," and application of the tall summer dress, the various culinary processes may be carried forward successfully with a single stick of wood at a time.

8. In regard to DURABILITY, the Stewart Stove is made to last, and will last. The structural form is such that the frame work of it can not burn out.

All the plates constituting the original STEWART STOVE, which was brought out twenty years ago, are still made, and sent to different parts of the country, on call.

The price of QUITEFREE, COMFORT and HEALTH secured to a family by the use of a culinary apparatus perfectly adapted to their wants, cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents.

But we can not, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of the STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE

Now in use, which has been widely tested

FOR TWENTY YEARS,

and not found wanting in any particular. Yes, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and used for a period of years; but the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made improvements—so that the Stewart Stove of 1863 is as superior to that of 1843, as the Mowing Machine is to a Bush Scythe.

IT HAS NOT BEEN EXCELLED

CALENDAR CLOCKS.

These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, to secure all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.

Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar Attachment; and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. They will be set up in any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE.

PURE AND FOUR YEARS OLD,

OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,

For Physicians' Use,

FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS

SAMBUCUS TREE, OF PORTUGAL,

The Great Remedy for Kidney Affections, Rheumatism, Chronic Complaints

Excellent Wine for Females.

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its decided and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, and in extensive use in Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and as an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

WE REFER TO

a few well known gentlemen and physicians, who have tried the Wine:

Gen. W. Scott, U. S. A. — Dr. Ward, Newark.
Gov. Morgan, N. Y. State Dr. N. Wilson, 18th St. N. Y

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of the valuable Furnace, would ask those in need of remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for warming, it will not be found to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The difficulty met with by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustibles being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are forced up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat, and, smoking the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq. — Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, — Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, — John Sise, and others.

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

MR. MASON.—The Opinion Nationale welcomes Mr. Mason to Paris, by thus referring to his antecedents:

Mr. Mason is one of the adepts of that Southern political school which considers slavery not only a necessity but a divine institution. He it was accordingly who with these principles proposed the celebrated law upon fugitives slaves adopted in 1850, and he has always been in favor of the re-establishment of the slave trade. In 1859, after John Brown's attempt, he proceeded to Harper's Ferry, accompanied by Gov. Wise and Mr. Val andigham, in the hope of extorting from the unhappy martyr, who was wounded and almost dying, some confessions which might compromise the leaders of the Republican and Abolition parties. "I will willingly and in all freedom reply to the questions concerning myself," said John Brown to his judge-accusers. "I will say everything that honor permits me to say, but you will not get from me a single word concerning other persons." It is only fair to recognize, however, that Mr. Mason did not care to insist upon this point, but left to Mr. Vallandigham the shameful task of provoking compromising answers by every means. The name of Mr. Mason will not the less remain associated in a by no means enviable manner with this deplorable trial. More recently, on the 14th April, 1860, Mr. Clark, one of the Senators for New Hampshire, proposed in Congress to vote a certain sum for the education of the free people of color in the District of Columbia. Mr. Mason immediately rose with indignation, and violently protested against "this attempt to raise the blacks, whether free or not, from a state of ignorance, in which it was necessary that they should be always kept."

FREDDY'S PRAYER.—A bright-eyed boy of four years was saying his prayers the other night, to his mother, and with hands folded and eyes closed, he sweetly said:—

"Now I lay me down to sleep,
I pray the Lord my soul to keep;
If I should die before wake,
I pray the Lord my soul to take."
"God bless my papa, mamma, and—"

He stopped all at once, opened his eyes, and exclaimed—

"Mother, mother, what shall I say if I've been a bad boy?"

"You should not stop to ask questions, my son, while saying your pra ers," replied his mother.

"But, mother, if I've been bad, what shall I say?"

"Ask God to forgive you; but you should say your prayers all through when you begin, without stopping."

His question answ red, he reverently folded his hands, and closing his eyes again, continued,—

"And will God forgive me for killing a hoptoad with a big stick, and throwing him down a deep hole? Amen."

Children of larger growth will please copy.

☞ A person called at the house of Thomas Sawyer, in Calais, Me., a few evenings since, and inquired for Albert Sawyer, who went to the door. The stranger told him he had a letter for him, and putting his hand in his breast pocket, as if for it, pulled out a pistol and fired. The ball glanced, however, and Mr. Sawyer narrowly escaped.

☞ The Government at the present time has on hand in the different arsenals throughout the country seven hundred thousand stands of arms, five hundred thousand of which are effective. The number is rapidly increasing.

American Agriculturist,
FOR 1863.
A thorough-going, reliable and practical Journal, devoted to the different departments of soil-culture, such as growing field crops, orchard and garden fruits, garden vegetables and flowers; trees, plants and flowers for the lawn or yard; care of domestic animals, &c., and to household labors, with an instructive department for children and young.
It is published monthly.
Subscription—ONE DOLLAR PER ANNUM.
The club price is only Eighty Cents per annum.
Persons who wish to join the club for 1863, both old and new subscribers, will hand in their names as soon as possible.
New subscribers will receive the numbers for November and December, in addition to those for 1863.
N. B.—The proprietors have purchased a new Strawberry, which they call the "Agriculturist Strawberry," and it appears to far excel, both in size and intrinsic value, anything ever before produced. It is their intention to present One Plant to each subscriber, if they can produce enough, and if there are not enough, then as far as they go, beginning in the order of those who pay first for 1864.
The cost of packing and postage will be 5 cts.—so that the club price, including the Strawberry, will be 85 cts., and if you want the Strawberry, the money must be sent in soon.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.
DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a
PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.
By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of
GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS,
Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Gleetings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.
SEMINAL WEAKNESS.
Dr D., devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those weaknesses by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and vigor.
Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.
Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving descriptions of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capotes, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.
Highly Important!
To Females in Delicate Health.
DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 & 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.
Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.
Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.
Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.
N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.
Office Hours—From 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.
CERTAIN CURE
In all cases, or No Charges Made.
Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M., on cases, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.
Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.
P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

QUICK CURES AND LOW PRICES.
Over Twenty Thousand Patients Cured Annually!
DR. J. TELLER continues to be confidentially and successfully consulted on all forms of private diseases, at his old Established Hospital, No. 5 Beaver Street, Albany, N. Y. Twenty years devoted to the one particular branch of practice, enables him to perform cures such as no other Physician can, and his facilities are such being in correspondence with the most eminent Physicians of the Old World, of obtaining the safest as well as the latest remedies for these diseases, offer unusual advantages to the unfortunate for quick and rapid cure, to be obtained at no other office in America.
In 5 days, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Enlargement of the Testicles and Spermatic Cords Bubo, Ulcerated Throat, Sore Nose, Tender Shin Bones, Cutaneous Eruptions, Blisters, Ulcers, Abscesses, and all other impurities of the system, are perfectly under the control of the Doctor's Medicines, and have been cured in more than 20,000 cases annually, with immense Success.
YOUNG MEN.
Young Men addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their healths and destroyed their prospects, thus depriving themselves of the pleasure of the Married Life, are notified that in consulting Dr. J. Teller, they will find a friend to counsel and a Physician who has cured thousands in almost every part of the United States, who applied to Dr. T. broken down in health, now rejoice in all that makes life desirable and manhappy. The reader is of course aware that the delicacy of this subject will prevent a more minute description of this terrible disease.
DR. TELLER'S GREAT WORK.
A book for everybody.—Startling disclosures. Dr. TELLER's great work for the Married or those contemplating marriage.—200 pages—full of plates—price 25 cts. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail, post paid. 50,000 copies sold the past year. The single Married and the Married Happy. A lecture on Love, or how to choose a Partner—a complete work on Midwifery, it contains hundreds of secrets, never before published—Warranted to be worth three times the amount asked for it. 25 cents, in specie or postage stamps, inclosed, will secure a copy by return mail. Dr. TELLER has devoted a lifetime to the cure of those diseases upon which his books treat.
TO THE LADIES.
DR. TELLER still remains the only Agency in America, for the sale of Dr. Vichote's Italian Female Monthly Pills. The sale of more than 20,000 boxes establishes their reputation as a female remedy, unapproached, and far in advance of every other medicine—for stoppages, irregularities, and other obstructions in females.
CAUTION.—Married ladies in certain delicate situations should avoid their use. For reasons see directions which accompany each package, for the guidance of patients. On the receipt of $1, (the price per box,) these Pills will be sent, by mail or express, to any part of the world, secure from curiosity or damage.
Office hours from 8 A. M. to 8 P. M., and on Sundays from 9 to 5 P. M.
N. B.—Persons at a distance can be cured at home by addressing a letter to Dr. J. Teller, enclosing a remittance. Medicines securely packed from observation, sent to any part of the world. All cases warranted. No charge for advice.—

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

A report comes via Fortress Monroe of a Federal advance on Mobile, and that the city is garrisoned by few troops.

The rebel cavalry, supported by one division of infantry, are this side of the Rappahannock. They hold a position between Rappahannock Station and Beverly ford to prevent our forces from building the railroad bridge, though a forward movement of our forces would cause their sudden retreat. Our army is changing its position somewhat for strategic purposes.

Gen. Meade's army has been advancing slowly and in compactness for a week, with a view to bring on a general engagement if possible.

Federal troops have occupied Bateville, Ark., a place of some importance.

The official report states the rebel loss in killed, wounded and missing at Chickamauga as 17,999 men.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

In accordance with a custom, praiseworthy in its origin, but which has too frequently degenerated into a mere form, I, with the advice of the Executive Council, hereby designate THURSDAY, the Twenty-Sixth day of November next, as a day of Public Thanksgiving to Almighty God for the great and signal blessings which we have received at his hands.

Our Heavenly Father has given to this Nation during the past year such prosperity as no other people have ever known during the vigorous prosecution of an internal war. We have been called upon to endure hardships and make sacrifices, but our sacrifices have not been in vain. Glorious victories have crowned our arms on many a well fought field; foreign nations have been compelled to respect the courage of our noble soldiers and the unwearied devotion of our citizens, and as a foretaste of the result of our bloody struggle we can rejoice today that the Sun shines on a million of Freedmen, who, within the past year, have shown that they were fitted to exercise those rights, which God, in His own time, and in His own way, has given them.

I would remind the people of New Hampshire that it is their duty as loyal citizens, to observe this day not only by family gatherings and social festivities, but by devoutly assembling in their usual places of worship for prayer and praise.

Around many a fireside there will be a vacant seat, but before the throne of God the whole family may be united; and while we sit down to tables loaded with the fruits of a bountiful harvest, let us not fail to remember the words of our blessed Savior, "The poor ye have always with you," "It is more blessed to give than to receive;" and above all let it be our boast that no family whose natural protectors are enlisted in the service of our country or sleep on the field of battle, lack those comforts, without which, a New England Thanksgiving is incomplete.

JOSEPH A. GILMORE, Governor.

☞ A large and enthusiastic meeting was held at Gloucester, on Saturday evening last, to take measures to enlist seamen for the frigate Niagara, now lying in that harbor. The following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That it is expedient that the sum of $30,000 be raised, the same to be appropriated as bounties to such seamen as shall enlist on board the frigate Niagara, now lying in this port; and that a bounty of not less than $150 be paid to each man who enlists.

☞ The N. Y. Tribune's Washington dispatch says, that no sooner had news been received of the supposed presence of a suspicious craft on the coast of Maine, than the proper instructions were issued to have a national vessel cruise in that latitude.

Some months since the Department, with wise discretion, sent some of our vessels of war to the Chinese Seas, long before any news of piratical depredations had come to hand.

☞ The Russians are constructing twelve gunboats in the Black Sea.

It is reported that the Poles have offered an offensive and defensive alliance to Turkey to reconquer all that had been lost of the Ottoman Empire. It is also said that Russia has notified the Porte that any recognition of the Poles as belligerents would be considered a declaration of war.

It is rumored that the English Cabinet has postponed its decision relative to the demand of the Poles to be considered belligerents.

AN IMPORTANT OFFICIAL DECISION.—Col. W. Hoffman, Commissary-General of Prisoners, U. S. A., has decided, in a case recently submitted, that the allowance for the commutation of rations, while a prisoner, is entirely a personal one, and cannot be claimed by heirs or relatives. This decision is one that affects the interests of many families of prisoners who may have died in Libby or the other prisons of rebeldom.

☞ Texas papers have a report that a very valuable conducta of treasure which was being sent from the interior of Mexico to the port of Mazatlan, on the Pacific, was lately robbed by the guard, who killed the teamsters and appropriated the money, some $300,000.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— A letter from Concord states that much sympathy is entertained there for the venerable ex-Gov. Harvey and his esteemed lady, who on Monday received intelligence of the death of their only son, Dr. Frederick Harvey, and of his wife and two children in Louisiana, where Dr. H. has resided for 25 years past. This is the first news Judge Harvey has had from them for more than a year. Dr. H. died twelve and his wife eighteen months since. One son is supposed to have been killed in battle.

—— The depot at Candia on the Concord and Portsmouth railroad, was entered on Monday night by breaking the glass in a window. The burglars broke open the safe by laying it down upon the floor, and filling the keyhole with powder, and then setting a slow match; first covering it with a feather bed they found in the freight room. The safe was badly shattered, the legs, lock and hinges being blown entirely off. The robbers obtained about $10 in money and some express matter which cannot at present be estimated. One package containing $76,75 was overlooked in their haste. The burglars left their tools upon the premises, probably being frightened by some noise.

—— The people of Wirdham have recently lost one of their best citizens—Dr. Ira Weston, who died the 12th inst. at the advanced age of seventy-five. Dr. Weston continued the practice of his profession up to the day preceding his death. Having returned from a visit to one of his patients, he complained of feeling unwell, and the next day breathed his last.

TEMPERANCE EFFORTS.

This winter, as usual, several courses of lectures are to be given in Salem, one by the Temperance League, from which we hope other Temperance Societies will take a hint. It is time that active exertions should be made to stay the tide of intemperance that is rolling over the land.—Newburyport Herald.

Do the public remember how the temperance societies of thirty or forty years ago were ridiculed in one class of papers, and denounced in another class as foes of liberty; dangerous political engines, which would upset the only national party—the only party that favored the poor man?

Do they remember how narrowly the Washingtonian enterprise was watched lest it would have a political bearing?

And have they so soon forgotten how the prohibitory laws were met?—by open violence, crafty pleas and political overtures, in cities and States?

These laws are but the product of moral means,—and they were opposed mainly by the same men who had opposed or ridiculed the early efforts, tho' many others joined with them.

When the community, or a strong majority, come to be total abstinents and sustainers of the law, they can drive drunkenness into dark corners: but till then it will be bold and open, having its emblems in the most public streets, inviting every passer by.

Whose business is it to move in the matter? The Sons and Daughters of Temperance are doing something; other societies a very little. But it is as really the business of every christian, every good citizen, to promote temperance as to promote honesty. And if it is right to restrain or punish the receiver of stolen goods, is it not right to restrain or punish those who tempt men to drunkenness?

These are mere suggestions: we do not here and now propose a crusade against what every sober man sees to be a great evil: but we bring these things before the whole public, that they may think of them, and act accordingly.

It has been said, we think truly, that he who fastens one end of a chain round another man, is likely to have the other end of the chain about his own neck.

So he who encourages any vice, or discourages effort to suppress it, may always be said to do it in his own wrong—his wickedness or folly will react upon his own head.

This is true of communities as well as of individuals. Our country to-day is reaping what she has been sowing these fifty years, and our cities likewise. The physical and moral effects of strong drinks remain exactly as they were when Solomon said—Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging; whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise. U. T.

THE EXECUTION OF WRIGHT.—The Fortress Monroe correspondent of the N. Y. Commercial says that had the President permitted Dr. Wright to escape the death penalty, no officers, whether in command of white of black troops, would have been safe from the assassin's lead or steal in the streets of Norfolk. It will be remembered that Dr. Wright shot an officer belonging to a colored regiment. Great efforts were made by the secessionists and professed Union men of Norfolk to save his life, but the President firmly refused to commute his punishment.

☞ Of all our Generals who were present at the first battle of Bull Run, Gen. Heintzleman is the only one who is now connected with the Army of the Potomac.

MARYLAND.—The Leonardtown (Md.) Gazette, of the 22d inst., says: On Sunday night last, about fifty negro men left their homes in this vicinity, and have not since been heard from. Since then we daily hear of others that are missing from various sections of the county, and the tenure to this species of property has become so insecure as to render it entirely valueless. The same paper, in a postscript, states that from fifty to one hundred slaves, belonging to citizens on the Patuxent side of the factory district, left their masters during two days last week.

☞ Lady Glamis being called on to bear testimony in a case of debt, in one of the courts of England, obstinately declined to be sworn. She said her word was as good as her bond, and she would not take God's name in vain in a case involving only fifteen pounds. The counsel insisted and the court rebuked, but it was of no use. The lady would not swear, but said that the averment of the plaintiff in the case was perfectly correct. The result was that the Judge sternly ordered the noble and recusant witness to leave the court, which she did, immediately.

WORTHY OF IMITATION.—On the first Saturday of November, at 10 o'clock A.M., the farmers in the neighborhood of Dayton, Ohio, are to form in one of the streets of that city with their wagons laden with wood, potatoes, apples, flour, pork, beef, &c., for the families of volunteers in the field. We would rather see that procession, says the Albany Journal, than witness the coronation of a hundred kings.

☞ The coal mine at Monkwearmouth, England, is said to be the deepest in the world. The depth of this mine from the surface is 1900 feet, and the workings of coal underneath extend to a distance of two miles from the shaft. About 300 persons are employed in it, and 600 tons are mined daily.

ELECTIONS TO COME.—The elections yet to be held this year, occur as follows: Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, Illinois, all on Tuesday, November 3; Missouri, Thursday, November 5; Delaware and Minnesota, Tuesday, November 10.

☞ The war in New Zealand is termed a war of races. Energetic measures were being taken by the troops and colonists for a decisive victory. All the troops in Australia had gone over to New Zealand, and volunteers would follow if required.

☞ At a coin sale in New York last week, a silver dollar of 1794 was sold for $285. This absurd price indicates the condition of the collecting mania.

☞ Five dollar bills on Waterville Bank, Maine, made by pasting on the figures from other bills, are in circulation. They are rather clumsily done and can easily be detected.

☞ Gov. Curtin, of Pennsylvania, has recovered from his recent illness, which was not serious, and is engaged in the performance of his executive duties.

☞ There is a project on foot for erecting a monument to Robert Fulton, in Trinity church-yard, New York.

☞ The New York Board of Supervisors on Monday voted $2,000,000 in aid of volunteering.

☞ The Hartford Courant says that Hon. Bion Bradbury, who was the Democratic candidate for Governor at the recent election in Maine, made a speech in Hartford on Monday at a flag presentation, during which he pronounced himself "a war man, and justly called men in arms against the government, traitors."

☞ The people of Richmond have decided by a vote of 867 to 296, that they deem it inadvisable to place any restrictions on prices, and the Virginia Senate decided that there could be none. The Richmond Sentinel says: "We submit to this decision with cheerfulness, though we believe it to be a great mistake."

☞ The great geological imposter, James Dale Owen, has managed to escape jail at Coloma, Ill., through the help of a pretended lawyer, who imposed upon the jailer and made him believe that the warrant on which Owen was held was defective, and that he was liable to prosecution for detaining Owen. The frightened officer let the rogue go.

"Big Thing."

In these days of progression,
When "Go ahead" is the word,
And strength takes possession,
By both fire and sword;
When none will shout as,
Clad in the nation's bright blue,
Are supporting our colors,
Go gallant, noble and true;
Many sights that are curious
Our eyes often meet,
And phrases quaint and humorous
Our ears often greet—
Some pithy and brief and somewhat obtuse,
Some lovable and striking, are brought into use.
Many such, designed the truth to convey,
We adapt to our liking, if we think it will pay.
Without enumerating words of Yankee invention,
One phrase in particular I beg leave to mention,
It is simply "Big Thing;"
Two words which, no doubt,
Are as potent of meaning
As can well be wrought out,
To express admiration, surprise, pleasure and joy,
Upon any occasion we wish to employ.
In our places of business, hall, office or street,
"Big Thing," "Big Thing," are the words our ears greet.
"What's the news from Charleston?"
We inquire of a friend.
"Oh! big thing!" quoth our informant,
"Sumter knocked end over end,
Moult le's just blown up sky-higher,
Gillmore's ready with Greek fire;
Big thing for 'Dahl,' big thing for 'Gil,'
When they get into Charleston, to have no one to kill."
We take up the paper containing the news,
There we each find matter to suit our views,
Items to agree with every taste,
Whether maple sugar or pickle paste.
Down to the last moment the telegraph brings
The news concerning all the "big things"—
"The rebel ships in Europe are to sail very soon;"
"Some one has discovered the man in the moon;"
"England and France going to war with the Japs,
Then coming to pay us a visit——perhaps;"
"More ships captured by the pirate Semmes;"
Mason and Slidell, Confederate gems;
"The Florida making repairs at Brest;"
"Floyd, Yancey and Jackson gone to their rest;"
"Plantation Bitters, Buchu, and Ayer's Pills,"
Designed for the cure of all our ills;
A dentist advertises extracting teeth without pain,
And gently assures us what's our loss is his gain;
Jeff. Davis performing St. Vitus's dance;
The Chronicle at four dollars a year, in advance;
These we may mention, and might many more,
All "big things," as we remarked before.
All "big things" in their way, no doubt,
But the "biggest thing" yet has just been found out.
With all this preamble, and without more ado,
We will attend to business, and introduce you
To the "REMOVING HAIR DYE"—if you've not
The article—to color hair black, not dirty or green.
It does the work instantly, you'll not have to wait,
For though in a hurry, you'll never be late.
No scrubbing of faces, no fanning, no drying,
Which by the old method is—Oh! so trying!
Nor will color it imparts to the hair.
"I must try this thing," we hear you declare,
"I've bothered so much with worthless trash,
I've grown very cross, disappointed and rash;
I'll be so no more, but straightway will go
To try this new thing, and then I will know;
To Lyverton I my money and bottle will bring,
And get some of this 'wonderful, truly 'Big Thing.'"
With pleasure I see, my vision do greet,

Valuable Farm, Live Stock, Crops, &c.
AT AUCTION,
On THURSDAY, Nov. 12th, at 11 o'clock,
on the premises, in Newington.
The valuable and beautiful FARM, formerly owned by the Hon. James Pickering. This desirable estate, comprising about seventy acres, is situated in Newington, about four miles from Portsmouth and one mile from depot of Concord Railroad at Greenland. The buildings consist of a convenient House, containing ten rooms, excellent cellar, &c., together with Barn and other suitable Outbuildings, &c. The land is suitably divided into tillage, pasturage and mowing fields. Upon it are some of the very best varieties of Apple and Pear trees, many of which are in good bearing condition, together with the smaller fruits, such as Currants, Raspberries, &c. The beautiful shade trees scattered over the land, its slightly undulating surface, excellent pasturage and general beauty of its location, make this one of the most desirable estates ever offered for sale in this section of the State, either for a gentleman's country residence or for a practical farmer.
There are two Wells on the Farm, and the two Pastures, which are both excellent, are abundantly supplied with never-failing streams of the purest water.
Also will be sold, immediately after the Farm, the Live Stock on the place, consisting of 1 Yoke OXEN, five good COWS, two young HEIFERS, eight SHEEP, a black MARE, one young HORSE, three HOGS.
Also the CROPS, consisting of a large quantity of HAY, CORN, BARLEY, POTATOES, &c.
A good WAGON, Ox Cart, Ox Sled, Roller, and a variety of Farming Implements.

One of Hunnewell's Preparations.

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS—The true Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pains so erroneously judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 4 to 6 Pills, to get a decent cathartic, was the study in this development. The dose seldom exceeding One, and never more than Two Pills, settles the question of economy, and character can be best known by contributing to such results as DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, BILIOUSNESS, LIVER COMPLAINT, all derangements of the stomach and bowels, and as a Family Pill.

Probate Advertisements.

The language of the law relating to the publication of Probate Notices is:

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper therefor."

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notice may be ordered for the Chronicle or the Gazette; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

Our terms are as low as those of any other paper.

Local.

☞ The two splendid Ships launched this week, in this city, one each from the yards of Tobey & Littlefield and Daniel Marcy, leave the stocks in all our private yards, clear of ships—though a couple of smaller craft are in course of construction, as we have before mentioned. Uncle Sam is building quite a little fleet of war vessels, at the Navy Yard. Mr. Marcy's ship was commenced two or three years ago, and work was for a long time suspended on her. There are now three new ships lying at our wharves—one belonging to the builders, Tobey & Littlefield; which is for sale; one to J. M. Tredick & Son, and one to Daniel Marcy. May the d——l fly away with the rebel pirates, ere they catch one of these fine craft; and may these excellent specimens of Piscataqua marine architecture often return to their birthplace, to confer still further benefits on our people.

NAVY YARD ITEMS.—Business is still brisk at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, altho' if orders are not soon received to build the two steamers, the keels of which are already laid, a large force of men will be suspended. About eighteen hundred men are now employed on the Yard. Work on the Alabama is progressing rapidly, and she will probably be launched about the middle of December.

The Agamenticus is slowly approaching completion, the work of iron-plating the vessel being necessarily slow, on account of the non arrival of the plating.

The frames of the two tugboats—Portfire and Bluelight—are up, and planking will soon be commenced. These boats are intended for ordnance purposes.

In Mr. Chandler's department a large amount of work is being done. The new extension to the Naval Store, for storage purposes, and offices, is being rapidly finished. The front of this building is quite handsome, and will help beautify the general appearance of the Yard.

The long and spacious Machine Shop and Foundry is completed, affording excellent accommodations for a large number of workmen. We shall notice this more in detail at an early day.

A large and extensive Smithery is in process of erection. A temporary shed for storing iron, a large building for housing gun-carriages and gun-carriage lumber, and a building for shoeing horses, have recently been erected.

S. J. COURT, Wednesday.—State vs. Abram T. Locke, for breaking and entering store of Richard Walden. Verdict of acquittal. Bell for State: Hatch for deft.

State vs. Simeon E. Dow of Seabrook for selling one pint of liquor to R. Fowler, Jr., on the 6th of August last. Bell for State: W. H. Y. Hackett for deft. The only witness for the government was the man who bought the liquor. The deft. brought no witnesses, and the case was submitted without argument. The jury had not agreed upon a verdict at the time of adjournment.

Simeon E. Dow was tried on a second indictment for selling two glasses of intoxicating liquor to William E. Eaton. Verdict of guilty.

☞ One of the most remarkable works of art in Wood Carving, which we have ever seen, is now on exhibition at Mr. Dockum's furniture room in Daniel street. It is the work of a young carver in this city, and represents a deer's head and antlers, from which depend a variety of game as a sportsman's trophies; the whole fastened to a shield, and most elaborately wrought and beautifully finished from solid wood. Lovers of art will not fail to see and admire it.

SMALL CHANGE.—Messrs Editors:—We hear many complaints of the Post Office officials refusing to "change" the postal currency for customers who wish to purchase stamps, on the plea that they are out of small change and coppers; and yet they will not be troubled with the small shinplasters, as all the rest of us have to be.—This evil should be remedied, as it is a source of great annoyance to many people.

A TRADER.

☞ See Auction column for various sales to-day. Furniture, horses, carriage, &c.

☞ The rebellion in San Domingo continues to grow more powerful and covers a greater extent of territory. The story that Puerta Plata has been destroyed by bombardment, is untrue.

☞ The Russian Admiral, in response to invitations to visit Portland and Philadelphia, answered that his first duty was to visit the President of the United States and pay his respects to him. Then he should visit every place that his time would allow. He was desirous to see the country, and the desire of the emperor—whose regard for this country he knew was very warm—was that he should reciprocate all these civilities.

☞ Bangor is the great potato market. The average receipts there are 11,000 bushels a day, and the price 55 cents.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS TO COME.

Who'll press for gold this crowded street,
A hundred years to come?
Who'll tread you church with willing feet,
A hundred years to come?
Pale, trembling age, and fiery youth,
And childhood, with his brow of truth;
The rich and poor, on land and sea,
Where will the mighty millions be
A hundred years to come?

We all within our graves shall sleep,
A hundred years to come;
No living soul for us will weep,
A hundred years to come;
But other men our land will fill,
And others then our streets will fill,
And other words will sing in gay,
And bright the sun shine as to-day,
A hundred years to come.

THE CONTINENTAL MONTHLY, for November, has an attractive table of contents, including an article on the defence and evacuation of Winchester, by Hon. F. P. Stanton, one on extraterritoriality in China, by Dr. MacGowan, and one on Buckle, Draper, and the law of human development.

☞ About $75,000 worth of fish oil has been shipped from Eastport and vicinity since the 1st of July. It has risen in price from $6 to $18 a barrel.

Would you save yourself from suffering after eating, or from acidity of the stomach, or burning sensation, or indigestion? Use Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus. Never use soda if you can procure this article. It will strengthen weak stomachs and relieve dyspepsia; is a saving in the quantity of flour, &c., &c. Try it. Grocers and Druggists most all sell it. The Wholesale Agents are Wholesale Grocers.

COE'S COUGH BALSAM.

OVER FIVE THOUSAND BOTTLES have been sold in its native town, and not a single instance of its failure is known.

We have, in our possession, any quantity of certificates, some of them from

EMINENT PHYSICIANS,

who have used it in their practice, and given it the preference over any other compound.

It does not dry up a Cough,

but loosens it, so as to enable the patient to expectorate freely.

☞ Two or three Bottles will invariably cure TICKLING IN THE THROAT. ☜

A HALF Bottle has often completely cured the worst

STUBBORN COUGH.

And yet, though it is so sure and speedy in its operation, it is perfectly harmless, being purely vegetable. It is very agreeable to the taste, and may be administered to children of any age.

In cases of CROUP we will guarantee a cure, if taken in season. No Family should be without it. It is within the reach of all, the price being

ONLY 25 CENTS!

And if an investment and thorough trial does not "back up" the above statement, the money will be refunded. We say this, knowing its merits, and feel confident that one trial will secure for it a home in every household.

Do not waste away with Coughing, when so small an investment will cure you. It may be had of any respectable druggist in town, who will furnish you with a circular of genuine certificates of cures it has made.

HEALTH AND COMFORT.

Patent Rubber Sole Boots and Shoes.

FOR MEN, BOYS AND YOUTH.

These Goods, having been carefully tested, prove to be more desirable than any other Boots and Shoes heretofore made. They answer the double purpose of Leather and Rubber Boots and Shoes.

They are made serviceable and easier to the feet than Leather Soles, are impervious to water, and having a leather inner sole do not draw the feet, and are far less expensive than Rubber Boots.

They are free from noise, prevent slipping on ice, and in keeping the feet dry and warm are conducive to health.

When the Soles wear out, the Boots and Shoes can be tapped with leather, or, if returned to us entire, new Rubber Soles can be put on.

The subscribers, having made arrangements as Agents for the sale of the above goods, are now prepared to take measures for the same, in different styles, and deliver them at short notice. They are made from the best stock to be had in the market, and warranted in every particular. Call and examine samples, at No. 12 Market street.

Ayer's SARSAPARILLA,

THE WORLD'S GREAT REMEDY FOR
Scrofula and Scrofulous Diseases.

From Emery Eden, a well-known merchant of Oxford, Maine.

"I have sold large quantities of your SARSAPARILLA, but never yet one bottle which failed of the desired effect and full satisfaction to those who took it. As a family or a public medicine, they prove there has been no medicine like it before in our community."

Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Pustules, Ulcers, Sores, and all Diseases of the Skin.

From Rev. Robt. Stratton, Bristol, England.

"I only do my duty to you and the public, when I add my testimony to the great value of the medicinal virtues of your SARSAPARILLA. My daughter, aged ten, had an affecting humor in her ears, eyes, and face, which your SARSAPARILLA alone cure until we tried your SARSAPARILLA. She has been well for some months."

From Mrs. Jane F. Rice, a well-known and much esteemed lady of Dennisville, Cape May Co., N. J.

"My daughter has suffered for a year past with a scrofulous eruption, which was very troublesome. Nothing seemed to do her any good until we tried SARSAPARILLA, which soon completely cured her."

From Charles P. Gage, Esq., of the widely known firm of Gage, Morrill & Co., manufacturers of enamelled papers in Nashua, N. H.

"I had for several years a very troublesome humor in my face, which grew constantly worse until it disfigured my features, and was a considerable affliction. I tried almost every thing a man could of both advice and medicine, but without any relief worth the name, until I took AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. It immediately made my face smart, as you told me it might for a time; but in a few weeks the new skin began to form under the old, and, in fine, cleansed until my face is as smooth as my body's, and I am without any symptoms of the disease that I know of. I enjoy perfect health, and without a doubt owe it to your SARSAPARILLA."

Erysipelas—General Debility—Purify the Blood.

From Dr. Robt. Swain, Houston St., New York.

"Dr. AYER, I seldom fail to remove Erysipelas and Scrofulous Sores by the powerfully-alterative SARSAPARILLA, and I have just now cured an attack of Malignant Erysipelas with it. No alterative we possess equals the SARSAPARILLA you have supplied to be profession as well as to the people."

From J. E. Johnston, Esq., of Sidney, Ohio.

"For twelve years, I had a very troublesome pain on my right arm, during which time I tried all the celebrated physicians I could reach, and took hundreds of dollars worth of their medicines. The pains were so bad that the cords would visible, and the doctors decided that my arm must be amputated. I began taking your SARSAPARILLA. Took two bottles, and none of your PILLS. Together they have cured me. I am now as well and sound as any body. Being in a public place, my case is known to every body in this community, and excites the wonder of all."

From Hon. Henry Moore, M. P. P., of Newcastle, C. W., a leading member of the Canadian Parliament.

"I have used your SARSAPARILLA in my family, for general debility, and for a cough and cold, with very beneficial results, and feel confidence in commending it to the afflicted."

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Sore Eyes.

From Harvey Stebbins, Esq., the able editor of the Hancock Democrat, Bucksport, Maine.

"Our only child, about three years of age, was attacked by pimples on his forehead. They rapidly spread over his face and neighborhood of his eyes, were, which covered his face, and actually blinded his eyes for some days. A skillful physician applied nitrate of silver and other remedies, without any apparent effect. For fifteen days we guarded his hands, lest with them he should tear open the festering sores and spread more widely his whole face. Having tried every thing else we had any hope from, we began giving your SARSAPARILLA, and applying the bottle to the afflicted nation, as you direct. We never began to heal when we had given the first bottle, and was well when we had finished the second. The child's eyelashes, which had come out, grew again, and he has been healthy and fair as any other. The whole neighborhood predicted that the child must die."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease

From Dr. Brown Sisson, of Richmond, Louisa co., Virginia.

"I find your SARSAPARILLA a more effectual remedy for the secondary symptoms of Syphilis and for syphilitic diseases than any other we possess. The persistent treatment recommended to you for some of the best medicines we have."

From A. J. French, M. D., a learned physician of Lawrence, Mass., who is a member elect of the Legislature of Massachusetts.

"Dr. AYER. My dear Sir: I have found your SARSAPARILLA an excellent alterative, adapted both of the primary and secondary type, and effectual in many cases that were too obstinate to yield to other remedies. I do not know what we can employ with more certainty of success, where a powerful alterative is required."

Mr. Chas. S. Van Liew, of New Brunswick, N. J., had chronic ulcers on his legs, caused by the poison of mercury, or mercurial disease, which grew more and more aggravated for years, in spite of every remedy or treatment that could be applied, until the persevering use of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA relieved him. Five cases can be found more inveterate and distressing than this, and it took several dozen bottles to cure him.

Leucorrhœa, Whites, Female Weakness, arising mainly produced by internal Scrofulous Ulceration, and scarcely often cured by the alterative effect of this SARSAPARILLA. Some cases require, however, as much of the SARSAPARILLA, the radical application of local remedies.

From the well-known and widely-celebrated Dr. Jacob Mendenhall, of Cincinnati.

"I have found your SARSAPARILLA an excellent alterative in diseases of females. Many cases of Irregularity, Leucorrhœa, Uterine Obstruction, and bad debility, arising from the scrofulous diathesis, have yielded to it, and there are few that do not when its effects properly aided by local treatment."

A lady, unwilling to allow the publication of her name, writes:

"My daughter and myself have been cured of a very debilitating Leucorrhœa of long standing, by two bottles of your SARSAPARILLA."

Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Neuralgia,

when caused by Scrofula in the system, are rapidly cured by this EXT. SARSAPARILLA.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS

possess so many advantages over the other purgatives in the market, and their superior virtues are so universally known, that we need not do more than to assure the public their quality is maintained equal to the best it ever has been, and that they may be depended on to do all that they have ever done.

THE BEST COOK STOVE
IN THE MARKET,
AFTER ALL SAID,
—IS—
STEWART'S
NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT,
SUMMER AND WINTER
COOKING STOVE,
For Wood or Coal,
—IMPROVED IN 1859.—

The peculiarities of the
STEWART COOK STOVE,
Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the DRAFT is properly adjusted, wood will lie and smoulder and char, upon the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the oven chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward moveable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and possessing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove from the time the article is set in until it is removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent REFRIGERATOR (of copper, with a capacity containing from 10 to 20 gallons, by which the water, best, in passing off, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The space beneath the reservoir is occupied with a WARMING CLOSET, where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c.

4. Also, by the aid of the TOP COVER, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DUTCH OVEN prepared for the purpose—the heat being concentrated to it from both sides of the fire-box; and the fumes, meanwhile, passing into the draft.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two blocks of meat may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; and the current instituted for this purpose made subservient to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no increase of combustion.

7. By the aid of the perforated metallic linings, of "gas burning arrangement," and application of cold water, many of the various culinary processes may be carried forward successfully with a single stick of wood at a time.

8. In regard to DURABILITY, the Stewart Stove is made to last, and will last. The structural frame is such that the frame work of it can not burn out.

All the plates constituting the original STEWART STOVE, which was brought out twenty years ago, are still made, and sent to different parts of the country, on call.

The price of QUIETNESS, COMFORT and HEALTH secured to a family by the use of a culinary apparatus perfectly adapted to their wants, cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents.

But we can not, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of the STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE

Now in use, which has been widely tested
FOR TWENTY YEARS,

and nor found wanting in any particular. Yes, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and used for a period of twenty years, but the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made improvements—so that the Stewart Stove of 1863 is as superior to that of 1843, as the 'Mowing Machine is to a Bush Scythe.

CALENDAR CLOCKS.

These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, to secure all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, which the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.

Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price with the Calendar attachment, and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. They will be set up in any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE.
PURE AND FOUR YEARS OLD,
OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,
For Physicians' Use,
FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS
SAMBUCUS TREE, OF PORTUGAL.

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

WE REFER TO

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for particular kinds of baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and cad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water, also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove. Hundreds in families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for purposes of ventilation, to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The advantages claimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating apparatus have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason of this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The fire or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, which are specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert E. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron M. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Shea, and others.

Teeth on Vulcanized Rubber,

SOME OF ITS ADVANTAGES.
1st It is stronger and lighter than any known material.
2d. From two to six times the amount of suction or adhesion can be obtained by it.
3d. When the arch is irregular we can by building on to the plate, make it fit as close to any extent—give the mouth a more natural appearance.
4th. No bad taste arises in the mouth by its use, as the secretions of the stomach and mouth do not affect it in the least.
5th. Teeth mounted upon this base can be kept clean and sweet as easy as a saucer, as when finished the work presents one whole piece.
6th. While in all ways it is better, save in a few peculiar cases, it is much cheaper than Gold.
DR. A. P. STEVENS, Surgeon Dentist,
No. 5 Daniel St., Portsmouth,
Has had four years of practical experience in working this material, and will guarantee satisfaction in all cases entrusted to his care.

DENTISTRY.
No. 60 CONGRESS STREET,
Portsmouth, Aug. 1st, 1863.
DR. GOODALL:
Would respectfully announce to his patrons and the public that VULCANIZED RUBBER as a base for Artificial Teeth, promises all the advantages of Gold, at a price vastly lower than Gold. My experience has been highly satisfactory in its use, and I have no hesitation in WARRANTING PERFECT SATISFACTION in all cases.
Teeth inserted on Gold and Silver, and all other operations performed as usual.
Teeth extracted positively without pain, by inhaling Nitrous Oxyd Gas!
He is fully convinced that it is a perfectly harmless anæsthetic, its effect being that of an exhilarant, the whole operation being completed generally in three minutes, without the least pain, and the patient feeling as well, and usually better than before inhaling the Gas.
He would cordially invite all who wish teeth extracted without pain, or any possible injurious results to call, and be convinced.
I take pleasure in referring the public to Dr. TREADWELL, Dr. BOARDMAN, Dr OLIVER and Dr BENNETT, for particular success in extracting teeth. Teeth extracted without pain, and with perfect safety, with Ether. Teeth polished to their natural whiteness without pain or injury to the Enamel. Regulation of Adults and Children's Teeth will receive particular attention.—All whole and partial sets of Teeth repaired with Neatness and Dispatch. All other operations in Dentistry, I will do at the usual rates.
☞ Please call and examine specimens of Artificial Teeth upon Vulcanized Rubber, Gold and Silver.

Daily Morning Chronicle

VOL. 23. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. FRIDAY OCT. 30, 1863. NO. 104.

The Chronicle.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every law fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

HOW WE GOT HERE!—After making herself agreeable, Lady Constance took up a book which was at hand and said, "Do you know this?" And Tancred opened a volume which he had never seen, and then turning to its title-page, found it was The Revelations of Chaos—a startling work just published, and of which a rumor had reached him.

"No," he replied: "I have not seen it."

"I will lend it to you if you like: it is one of those books one must read. It explains everything, and is written in a very agreeable style."

"To judge from the title, the subject is rather obscure," said Tancred.

"No longer so," said Lady Constance.—"It is treated scientifically; everything is explained by geology and astronomy, and in that way. It shows you exactly how a star is formed; nothing can be so pretty!—A cluster of vapor—the cream of the milky way—a sort of celestial cheese—churned into light—you must read it, 'tis charming."

"Nobody ever saw a star formed," said Tancred.

"Perhaps not. You must read the Revelations; it is all explained. But what is most interesting is the way in which man has been 'developed.' The principle is perpetually going on. First there was nothing, then there was something; then—I forget the next—I think there were shells, then fishes; then we came—let me see—did we come next? Never mind that; we came at last. And the next change there will be something very superior to us, something with wings. Ah! that's it; we were fishes, and I believe we shall be crows. But you must read it."

"I don't believe I ever was a fish," said Tancred.

"Oh, but it is all proved; you must not argue on my rapid sketch; read the book. It is impossible to contradict anything in it You understand it is all science; it is not like those books in which one says one thing and another the contrary, and both may be wrong. Everything is proved—by geology, you know. You see exactly how everything is made; how many worlds there have been; how long they have lasted; what went before, and what comes next. We are a link in the chain, as inferior animals were that preceded us; we in turn shall be inferior; all that will remain of us will be some relics in new red sandstone. This is development.—Disraeli's "Tancred."

☞ Webster defines the copperhead as "a poisonous American serpent, the Trigonocephalus Contortrix," from which we infer that the viper has a triangular head, probably for the purpose of enabling him to look three ways at once, while the "contortrix" would seem to indicate a constant effort to go in every direction at the same time.

During the flight of Prof. King's balloon on the 14th, from Bangor, it passed over the clearing of a settler who does not take the newspapers. A flock of children round the door spied the monster booming on, and alarmed the mother, who, rushing to the door, screamed out—"Come in, children, it's one of Jeff. Davis's bomb shells." This is a fact.—Calais Herald.

☞ An English paper announces the conversion to Christianity of Joseph Barker, long known on both sides of the Atlantic as at once one of the ablest and most malignant defamers of the Bible and those who believed in it as a divine revelation.

A NARROW ESCAPE.—On Monday afternoon a pair of horses attached to a coach in which were several ladies, became frightened on High street and ran down a half mile or more, when they were turned into Fruit street, and continued to run down Fair street and on to Cushing's wharf, nor was the driver able to check them till they brought up against a ship at the head of the wharf. If she had not been there, they would have gone straight into the channel of the Merrimac.—Newburyport Herald.

☞ The house of Dr. J. S. M. Ramsey, at Mecklenburg, near Knoxville, Tenn., was destroyed by fire recently, and with it the only collection of materials from which a complete history of Tennessee, from its earliest settlement, could be written. Dr. Ramsey made the collection with great care and pains.

The glorious news of the election in Ohio was the occasion of general rejoicing in the army. No one thing, not even a victory in the field, could have cheered and encouraged our soldiers as much as did the result of this most important election.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrotula, Gonorrhœa, Gleets, pained and distressed in the regions of procreation, inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attendant on this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D., devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Persons who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your case. Dr Dow has also for sale the French Capottes, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

Highly Important!

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 & 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

In all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. on those upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

P S.—Dr. Dow invents and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

QUICK CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Over Twenty Thousand Patients Cured Annually!

DR. J. TELLER continues to be consulted daily and successfully consulted on all forms of private diseases, at his old Established Hospital, No. 5 Beaver Street, Albany, N. Y. Twenty years devoted to this one particular branch of practice, enables him to perform cures such as no other Physician can, and his facilities are such (being in correspondence with the most eminent Physicians of the Old World,) of obtaining the safest as well as the latest remedies for these diseases, offer inducements to the fortunate of a quick and rapid cure, to be obtained at no other office in America.

In Syphilis, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Enlargement of the Testicles and Spermatic Cords, Bubo, Ulcerated Throat, Sore Nose, Tender Shin Bones, Cancerous Eruptions, Blotches, Ulcers, Abscesses, and all other impurities of the system, are perfectly under the control of the Doctor's Medicines, and have been cured in more than 20,000 cases annually, with immense success.

YOUNG MEN.

Young Men addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasure of the Married Life, are notified that in consulting Dr. J. Teller, they will find a friend to console and a Physician who has cured thousands in almost every part of the United States, who applied to Dr. T. broken down in health, now rejoicing in all that makes life desirable and man happy. The reader is of course aware that the delicacy of this subject will prevent a more minute description of the terrible diseases.

DR. TELLER'S GREAT WORK.

A book for everybody.—Startling disclosures. Dr. TELLER's great work for the Married or those contemplating marriage—200 pages—full of plates—price 25 cts Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail, post paid. 50,000 copies sold the past year. The single Married and the Married Happy. Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

Advices from Fort Scott say the rebels, under Cooper, have been reinforced from Gen. Price's forces, and threaten Forts Blunt and Smith. Price's force is reported to be 9000 strong, with 18 pieces of artillery. Quantrell is with him. Gen. Blunt goes to Fort Smith with a guarded train, where he will turn the command of the army of the Frontier over to Gen. McNeil, and proceed to Leavenworth.

Gen. McPherson's expedition has returned to Vicksburg, having accomplished its object, which was to scatter the rebel force on the Big Black. They met a large force of the rebels, but the latter retreated.

Gen. McPherson's expedition to Canton, Miss., resulted in destroying a large number of rebel mills, the defeat and dispersion of the rebel cavalry, and the general discomfiture of the guerrillas in that section.

Two of the monitors and batteries Gregg and Wagner opened on the rebel batteries at Charleston at 11 o'clock, A. M. on the 26th. The rebels replied. The firing ceased at dark. 100 shots were fired from Morris Island and 160 from the monitors.

A Chattanooga dispatch gives a report that Bragg is attempting to flank Gen. Grant, by marching on Cleveland, Tenn., a portion of Lee's forces co-operating. The enemy has been attacked on Lookout Mountain and driven from his position. We lost but 5 killed and 15 wounded. The rebels regarded this as an important position, as it commands the railroad, contains several important passes, and is a standing threat over Chattanooga. Once possessed by the Federal troops, they said, it relieves their wagons, enables them to provision their army, and gives them the most important position in this whole region for offence or defence.

Deserters represent that Lee's army was never before so pinched for supplies. They also report that A. P. Hill is in Richmond in disgrace, if not in actual confinement, for failing to capture Gen. Meade's supply trains during Lee's late raid.

CAVALRY REGIMENTS TO BE RECRUITED.—The First Maine, First Michigan, First Vermont, First Virginia and Fifth New York cavalry regiments have received permission to return to their several States, upon condition that they re-enlist for three years and recruit the regiments to their full strength. For this purpose thirty days' leave are granted. These commands were organized in 1861, and will go out of service during the coming year; but upon reenlisting will receive the veteran bounty of four hundred dollars, and be able to muster a brigade equal in numbers to many of our divisions.

☞ While Southern papers are doing all they can to prove late events in Virginia, in the aggregate, a great victory for Lee, a writer in the Richmond Enquirer curiously asked whether it is not "a little singular, and a fact calling for explanation, that a pursuing army should have its artillery captured by its retreating adversary." Hill's rebel corps, it will be recollected, lost a battery at Bristoe's Station.

☞ Our Union Republic is henceforth to possess not merely a declaration on parchment, of its theoretical unity, and a nominal delegation of supervisory powers over confederated State sovereignties, but upon the overthrow of the Rebellion it takes rank as a Nation, whereof the Government shall be endowed with such powers as are essential to self-preservation, and shall wield such instruments of supreme authority as may be competent to regulate internal affairs, to direct great measures of national policy, and to enforce the execution of the laws.

GOV. GAMBLE'S MILITIA.—Since the President's letter to the Missouri delegation was signed, he has received additional evidence from highly respectable and trustworthy witnesses with reference to the character of Gov. Gamble's militia. They are represented to embrace many men who fought against the Government at Lexington, Springfield, and on other battlefields.

☞ On Saturday there were sixty-two American vessels of war in New York harbor, carrying 444 guns, surpassing in number and effective force the entire navy of the country before the outbreak of the rebellion.

☞ England is again threatened with war in India. The Punjaub, or north-western portion of British India has been invaded by 7,000 men, headed by the sons of Dost Mohammed, one of the most renowned chieftains of Central Asia, who died at the beginning of the present year.

☞ Rev. Dr. Wm. Horton, rector of St. Paul's Church, Newburyport, died on Thursday morning at the age of 56.

☞ The official home vote of Ohio gives Brough 61,572 majority. The total vote of the State is 435,427.

☞ It costs Uncle Sam over $50,000 per month to feed his starving enemies in Mississippi.

COAL.—The Philadelphia Ledger says the Anthracite coal trade is still active from all sources of production. The demands for domestic purposes are especially brisk. Prices are steadfast for cargoes, as well as for coal from the yard. The tonnage for the week, it will be seen, is about the same as that by the last report, and the aggregate tonnage is increased to 7,742,963 tons, being an increase over the tonnage to corresponding time last year of 1,378,193 tons.—Coal this year at the mines is worth at least two dollars per ton more than it was last year. This increase on the production of 7,742,954 tons, is equal to nearly fifteen and a half millions dollars. If to this is added the last year's cost of coal, transportation, etc., we shall find the net proceeds of our mines settling at some point between forty millions and fifty millions of dollars.

☞ They have a famous team in Sacramento, and the horses are known by the names of Jeff. Davis and Beauregard. As the owner was driving out the other day, he approached a camp at the time the Union soldiers were drilling, and the horses becoming frightened at the firing of the muskets, ran away, upset the buggy, and threw the driver out at the risk of his life.

☞ The will of the late Wm. Sturgis, of Boston, made last June, has just been proved. His property, about $2,000,000, is well distributed among relatives, domestics and friends. He gives Rev. Dr. Gannett $500; and to Rev. John H. Morrison, of Milton, $500, "as a mark of esteem and respect, and an approval of the manner in which he led the services at the funeral of his late friend, W. W. Swain, of New Bedford; the cheerful and bright views of the change which we call death, on that occasion, being in accordance with his own long cherished sentiments."

☞ The San Francisco papers complain of sailor kidnappers, termed "crimps," who go down the harbor in boats, board vessels, pick out their men, persuade them to desert, then drug them, and "shanghai" them off to some other vessel. They are usually armed with revolvers, and the captain of the ship Dashing Wave having ordered one of them away from his vessel, he fired at him and very narrowly missed him.

☞ They occasionally have "scenes" in court in San Francisco. A case in point: at a late trial an interested party in the suit called a man on the stand a paid witness; witness declared that no man should say that of him; assailant retorted by declaring witness a jackass; witness rushed at him with a bowie knife, and he caught up a chair to defend himself. Parties interfered, and the Court was adjourned.

☞ A Philadelphia paper states that when Gov. Seymour, who was at Long Branch, received dispatches informing him of the riot in New York city, he happened to be without his spectacles. Instead of going to his room for them or borrowing a pair of some one, he snatched a pair from the nose of a Philadelphian, read his dispatches, and then dashed down the spectacles on the paper of the astonished Philadelphian, and strode off without saying a word.

☞ A woman, the wife of an officer in the rebel army, recently arrived at Norfolk, from Mobile, says there is great anxiety in the latter city concerning the expected attack by the Union forces. She says there are few available troops there, and that the women have been dressed in men's clothes and paraded in sight of our forces now near the city, with a view to delaying the attack as long as possible.

☞ A fellow in San Francisco, detected in stealing watermelons from a pile on the wharf, had his head encased in a decayed one by the indignant owner, and was pelted vigorously with other—a melancholy fate.

☞ A fisherman met a pretty girl on the street in Gloucester, Mass., and attempted to kiss her; but the maid was unwilling and, with a blow of her hand on his cheek, made a report much louder than would have proceeded from his smack. He didn't stop to apologize.

PUDDING.—A young lady, when invited to partake of the pudding, replied, "No; many thanks, my dear madam. By no manner of means. I have already indulged in the clamorous calls of a craving appetite, until a manifest sense of internal fullness admonishes my stay; my deficiency is entirely and satisfactorily supplied."

☞ Happy Governor Sprague has bought the trotting mare "California Damsel" for eleven thousand dollars, as a present it is said, for his betrothed, Miss Kate Chase.

☞ A verdict of $4332 has been rendered in the N. Y. Supreme Court against the executors of the Burton estate for a breach of contract on the part of the deceased manager with the Escott opera troupe.

☞ Stonewall Jackson must have been a marvellously-constructed man, for the Knoxville Register gravely asserts that after his death an artist "took a faithful bust of his face."

☞ San Francisco paid $30,695 to lawyers last year.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

☞ A correspondent who is posted in such things, informs us that an Iron Steamboat is to be built this Winter, on the shore of Lake Winnipiseogee, to ply on the Lake next Summer. The engine and machinery of the Steamer Dover will be transferred to the new boat, which will be much larger than the Dover, as the latter was found too small for the travel last Summer.

The Dover and Lady of the Lake are running now, chiefly carrying goods for the country stores.

The same correspondent states that the net profits of the Pavilion Hotel last Summer were $9000, and of the Crawford House at the Mountains $30,000.

The game season, for shooting bear, deer and wolves is about commencing for the winter, is the wooded mountains and lake regions.

—— A little girl in Manchester, 4 years old, who overturned a kettle of hot water upon herself, was so severely scalded that she died two days after.

—— Burglars operated in Dover on Wednesday night, breaking into two stores. They obtained little plunder.

—— Mr. Thomas F. Breed, of Weare, had a pair of oxen stolen Saturday night, from a pasture near his house.

—— At a late term of the Supreme Judicial Court in Grafton County, John R. Varney, Esq., formerly of Dover, was admitted to practice as an attorney.

—— Two women in Antrim, whose only sons are in the 2d regiment, dug six bushels of potatoes in one half day, working together, last week.

RADICAL GERMAN CONVENTION AT CLEVELAND.—The first convention of radical Germans closed its session at Cleveland on Thursday last. The following platform organization was adopted, the chief object of which is to work conjointly with their fellow citizens of African descent, of the same political creed, for the realization of the principles and measures annexed:

1. Integrity of the Union, and subordination of the several States under the sovereignty of the people of the United States.
2. Unconditional suppression of the rebellion.
3. Abolition of slavery in the territory of the United States in the shortest way.
4. Revision of the Constitution in the spirit of the Declaration of Independence.
5. Treatment of the re conquered rebel States as Territories for the purpose of Independence.
6. Cession of the confiscated lands in the spirit of the Homestead Bill, as well as donation of portions of land to the defenders of the country, of whatever color, and to the liberated slave.
7. Realization of the Monroe doctrine.
8. Alliance with European revolution against foreign intervention.
9. Protection of the freedom of the press and speech against military usurpation.
10. Establishment of a national military system similar to the Swiss system. Universal obligation for military service.
11. Support of such candidates for public offices as stand nearest to the principles laid down in this platform.

The convention represented a fair amount of the best talent among the loyal Germans of the Union.

☞ A sensitive Louisville distiller was found by one of Gen. Banks' scouting parties entirely overcome by his own liquors, mumbling that he had been drunk for four months and intended to keep so until the cruel war is over. The boys burnt his rum-mill to save him from a drunkard's fate.

☞ Frank Bragg, only 15 years of age, was a sharpshooter, and fatally wounded at Fort Donelson. As he lay dying in the hospital, he said, in reply to a questioner: "I joined the army because I was so young and strong, and because life would be worth nothing to me unless I offered it to my country." A patriot died to earth as the pure spirit of that noble boy winged its flight above.

☞ We have before us the 15th Annual Catalogue and Report of the New England Female Medical College, containing a large amount of interesting and encouraging information on the medical education of women, as nurses, and as practitioners of medicine among women and children.

☞ During the year ending April 30, 1863, the whole cost to the city of Boston for lighting the streets, was $159,716, against $141,774 during the previous year. The total number of gas lamps the past year was 3362; of fluid do., 1803.

☞ A Hartford publishing house is to pay Horace Greeley $10,000 for a History of the War, which he is now preparing.

☞ An extra session of the Connecticut Legislature has been called to devise means to raise soldiers under the new call.

☞ One of the Portland hotels sets a free lunch daily from 10 to 12 o'clock, for its patrons.

☞ Cupid must be persevering in San Francisco, for he has just secured the marriage of a man named Arkelmontelforf.

☞ The sales of goverment cotton in St Louis and Cincinnati since last spring amount to about $1,500,000.

An exchange calls young men who stand round church doors to watch young ladies, as the congregation is going out, the "Devil's Pickets."

☞ The number of General officers of the Union armies who have been killed in battle, have died from wounds or disease, resigned or been cashiered, is 60. The number of such in the rebel army is 64.

☞ A clergyman stated at the Anniversaries recently held in Lowell, that he knew of one instance where a man received $1,000,000 in answer to prayer.

"Big Thing."

In these days of progression,
When "Go ahead" is the word,
And strength takes possession,
By both fire and sword;
When men all about us,
Clad in the nation's bright blue,
Are supporting our colors,
So gallant, noble and true;
Many sights that are curious
Our eyes often meet,
And phrases quaint and humorous
Our ears often greet—
Some pithy and brief and somewhat obtuse,
Some forcible and striking, are brought into use.
Many such, designed the truth to convey,
We adapt to our liking, if we think it will pay.
Without enumerating words of Yankee invention,
One phrase in particular I beg leave to mention,
It is simply "Big Thing!"
Two words which, no doubt,
Are as potent of meaning
As can well be wrung out,
To express admiration, surprise, pleasure and joy,
Upon any occasion we wish to employ.
In our fields of business, hall, office or street,
"Big Thing," "Big Thing," are the words our ears greet.
"What's the news from Charleston?"
We inquire of a friend.
"Oh! big thing!" quoth our informant,
"Sumter knocked end over end,
Moultrie's just blown up sky-higher,
Gilmore's ready with Greek fire;
Big thing for 'Dahl,' big thing for 'Gil,'
When they get into Charleston, to have no one to kill."
We take up the paper containing the news,
There we find matter to suit our views,
Items to agree with every taste,
Whether maple sugar or ju-ju paste.
Down to the last moment the telegraph brings
The news concerning all the "big things"—
"The rebel ships in Europe are to sail very soon;"
"Some one has discovered the man in the moon;"
"England and France going to war with the Japs,
Then coming to pay us a visit—perhaps;"
"More ships captured by the pirate Semmes;"
Mason and Slidell, Confederate gems;
"The Florida making repairs at Brest;"
"Floyd, Yancey and Jeff Davis gone to their rest;"
"Plantation Bitters, Buchu, and Ayer's Pills,"
Designed for the cure of all our ills;
A dentist advertises extracting teeth without pain,
And gently assures us what's our loss is his gain;
Jeff. Davis performing at Vitus's dance;
The Chronicle at four dollars a year, in advance;
These we may mention, and might many more,
All "big things," as we remarked before.
All "big things" in their way, no doubt,
But the "biggest thing" yet has just been found out.
With all this preamble, and without more ado,
We'll attend to business, and introduce you
To the "LIGHTNING HAIR DYE"—if you've not seen
The article—to color hair black, not dirty or green.
It does the work instantly, you'll not have to wait,
For though in a hurry, you'll never be late.
No scrubbing of faces, no tanning, no drying,
Which by the old method is—Oh! so trying!
A beautiful color it imparts to the hair.
"I must try this thing," we hear you declare,
"I've bothered so much with worthless trash,
I've grown very cross, discontented and rash;
I'll be so no more, but straightway will go
To try this new thing, and then I will know;
To LEVERTON I my money and bottle will bring,
And get some of this wonderful, truly "Big Thing.""
With pleasure I see, my vision do greet,

Valuable Farm, Live Stock, Crops, &c.
AT AUCTION,
On THURSDAY, Nov. 12th, at 11 o'clock,
on the premises, in Newington.

The valuable and beautiful FARM, formerly owned by the Hon. James Pickering. This desirable estate, comprising about seventy acres, is situated in Newington, about four miles from Portsmouth and one mile from depot of Concord Railroad at Greenland. The buildings consist of a convenient House, containing ten rooms, excellent cellar, &c., together with Barn and other suitable Outbuildings, &c. The land is suitably divided into tillage, pasturage and mowing fields. Upon it are some of the very best varieties of Apple and Pear trees, many of which are in good bearing condition, together with the smaller fruits, such as Currants, Raspberries, &c. The beautiful shade trees scattered over the land, its eligibility to a good market, excellent pasturage and general beauty of its location, make this one of the most desirable estates ever offered for sale in this section of the State, either for a gentleman's country residence or for a practical farmer.

There are two Wells on the Farm, and the two Pastures, which are both excellent, are abundantly supplied with never-failing streams of the purest water.

Also will be sold, immediately after the Farm, the Live Stock on the place, consisting of 1 Yoke OXEN, five good COWS, two young HEIFERS, eight SHEEP, a black MARE, one young HORSE, three HOGS.

Also the CROPS, consisting of a large quantity of HAY, CORN, BARLEY, POTATOES, &c. A good WAGON, Ox Cart, Ox Sled, Roller, and a variety of Farming Implements.

Also a good PIANO, and other articles of Household Furniture.

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS.—The true Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pains so erroneously judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 4 to 6 Pills to get a decent cathartic, was the study in the development. He does seldom exceeding One, and never more than Two Pills, settles the question of economy, and character can be best known by confidence to test them in DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, BILIOUSNESS, or SICK COMPLAINTS, all derangements of the stomach and bowels, and as a Family Pill. 1pmo

Probate Advertisements.

The language of the law relating to the publication of Probate Notices is:

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper thereto."

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notice may be ordered for the Chronicle or the Gazette; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

Our terms are as low as those of any other paper.

Local.

S. J. COURT, Thursday.—State vs. John Woodsum,—for passing counterfeit money in this city. Verdict—guilty. Mr. Hatch, for prisoner, moved to set aside the verdict, and the case will be transferred. [In our Court report, a day or two since, the name of the accused in this case was erroneously given as Job Woodsom; and although all who are personally acquainted with the gentleman of that name who resides in this city, would readily infer that he was not the one referred to, we would state that the real name of the criminal is as given above—John Woodsum.]

The Jury on the first indictment against Simeon E. Dow, of Seabrook, for selling liquor, failed to agree and were discharged.

The indictment against Sampson L. Russell and als. was taken up, and upon a motion to quash the indictment, the questions raised will be transferred to the full bench.

The trial of Christopher J. Marshall, for illegally voting for member of Congress in Ward Three in this city, was commenced.

☞ Hall's Concert Band and Orchestra, of Boston, gave a truly excellent Concert at the Temple, on Thursday evening, as of course they would—one of the best entertainments of the sort ever given here or anywhere else. Where all was good as could be, it is hard to particularize. The bugle performances of the Messrs. Hall were exquisite; and the chorus of seven wind instruments, smooth and mellow as possible; while the orchestra of strings and wind was as good as the best.

But good as the Concert was, the audience was but small—owing in great part, beyond question, to a limited "sounding of their own trumpet" in advance, by the Band, in the shape of seasonable advertising, billing, &c. Portsmouth is a place which needs a good deal of waking up, in order to get out a full attendance for any sort of a show.—It is not exactly true, that "nothing but a nigger concert can draw a house here;" but is beyond doubt, that if other entertainments were as extensively and attractively advertised, as the "Minstrels" always are, the darkies wouldn't so far overtop all else on receipts. For instance, had this very Band played about town for an hour or two during the day, as the burnt-cork fellows do,—but these Halls' probably wouldn't do—they would have drawn a houseful, instead of barely meeting expenses.

We make these remarks, because we regret, in common with all who heard the concert, or who appreciate good music and esteem true musicians,—that performers of the standing and merit of these, should fail of better success here. It is unaccountable to us, too, how people who regard themselves as lovers of the artistic, should so neglect and lose such a superb concert.—Well, the loss is most their own—for the performances were worth five times the price of tickets.

We really hope Hall's Band will yet receive the greeting they merit, in this our good city. Their first appearance here was as a mounted street band, with the Horse Guards, (whose music they always furnish,) at that memorable rainy County "Fair"; and now they have got another "wet blanket," in the shape of a comparatively thin house.

☞ We learn that Hon. T. B. Laighton, so long host at the Appledore House, Isles of Shoals, is building a private dwelling-house for his own occupancy, on Appledore Isle, at some distance from the hotel; and that he will retire from the conduct of that noted and unique hostelry, the next season,—abdicating in favor of his two sons, Oscar and Cedric. The multitudes of pilgrims to that shrine, will be glad to learn that Appledore is thus not to entirely lose one of its prominent characteristics.

☞ A case is to come before the U. S. District Court, to be held in this city on the 8th of May next, which may alarm some substitute brokers. It seems that three men from New York offered as substitutes in Concord last week two men whom they had brought from the city of New York. One of them however, on being taken behind the curtain for examination, informed the surgeon that he was improperly there, he being then a private in the 164th N. Y. regiment, stationed on Long Island. He states that on Tuesday of last week he had twenty-four hours' furlough to go to the city, and while on his way to the boat in the evening to return to duty, one of these substitute brokers enticed him into a house which he called his home, gave him some drugged liquor, and kept him under its influence until the next afternoon, when, having changed his clothing and shaved off his moustache, he started with him for Concord. An affidavit was at once drawn up by one of the clerks, and the soldier swore to its truth; and all three of the brokers were arrested. They were brought before Judge Fowler on Saturday, and after a full hearing of witnesses and counsel on both sides, they were committed to the county jail, not obtaining bail in the amount of $400 each.

☞ The quota of Indiana, under the last call for troops, is just nineteen men.

☞ Hon. Thomas L. Tullock, Navy Agent, has so far recovered his health as to be able to attend to the duties of his office during a portion of the day.

THE HUTCHINSON FAMILY.—We understand this popular troupe (both families now combined) are to visit Portsmouth next week and give some of their interesting concerts at the Temple.

It is reported that a bargain has been concluded between the Boston & Maine railroad and the Cocheco railroad, by which the former has leased the latter for a term of years. This arrangement, we suppose, puts an end to the projected road between Dover and Portsmouth, for which a charter was obtained at the last session of the Legislature.—Dover Enquirer.

The Kittery station house on the Portland, Saco and Portsmouth Railroad is being repaired, and a new ladies' room and ticket office added, to accommodate the increased business at that station. A large quantity of stone used at the Navy Yard is arriving at this station, and is unloaded from the cars by derricks and placed on board lighters and sent to the yard by water. The contractor has erected a derrick and wharf for this purpose.—Cor. Ballot.

BRIGHTON CATTLE MARKET.

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 21.

At market 2598 beef cattle,—— Stores, 6500 Sheep and lambs, and 3900 swine.

SHEEP AND LAMBS—$3 50 a 4 25; Old Sheep—5½c

SWINE—4½ a 5c.

Market Beef—Extra are the largest fat Oxen, highly fed. First quality are large Oxen, stall-fed at least three months. Second quality are grass and hay fed Oxen, well fatted Cows, and the best three-year old Steers. Third quality are odds and ends of droves.

Sheep and Lambs — Extra consists of prime Bucks and fancy Ewes for stock.

Beeves are sold by the head, at prices equal to the value per pound of the estimated weight of beef in the quarter with the fifth quarter, or the hide and tallow, at the same price as a shrinkage from live weight agreed on by the parties—varying from 38 to 34 per cent.

The receipts of cattle are not so large as at last market, and the quality of Beeves is not so good upon an average, there being but few extra cattle in. The market is active and last week's prices are fully sustained.

$100 REWARD!

For a Medicine that will cure COUGHS, INFLUENZA, TICKLING IN THE THROAT, WHOOPING COUGH, Or relieve CONSUMPTIVE COUGH, as quick as COE'S COUGH BALSAM.

OVER FIVE THOUSAND BOTTLES have been sold in this town, and not a single instance of its failure is known.

We have, in our possession, any quantity of certificates, some of them from

EMINENT PHYSICIANS,

who have used it in their practice, and given it the pre-eminence over any other compound.

It does not dry up a Cough, but loosens it, so as to enable the patient to expectorate freely.

☞ Two or three Bottles will invariably cure TICKLING IN THE THROAT. ☜

A HALF Bottle has often completely cured the most severe

STUBBORN COUGH.

And yet, though it is so sure and speedy in its operation, it is perfectly harmless, being purely vegetable. It is very agreeable to the taste, and may be administered to children of any age.

In cases of CROUP we will guarantee a cure, if taken in season. No Family should be without it. It is within the reach of all, the price being

ONLY 25 CENTS!

And if an investment and thorough trial does not "back up" the above statement, the money will be refunded. We say this, knowing its merits, and feel confident that one trial will secure for it a home in every household.

Do not waste away with Coughing, when so small an investment will cure you. It may be had of any respectable druggist in town, who will furnish you with a circular or genuine certificates of curse it has made.

HEALTH AND COMFORT.

Patent Rubber Sole Boots and Shoes.

FOR MEN, BOYS AND YOUTH.

These Goods, having been carefully tested, prove to be more desirable than any other Boots and Shoes heretofore made. They answer the double purpose of Leather and Rubber Boots and Shoes.

They are made serviceable and easier to the feet than Leather Soles, are impervious to water, and having a leather inner sole do not draw the feet, and are far more durable than Rubber Boots.

They are free from noise, prevent slipping on ice, and in keeping the feet dry and warm are conducive to health.

When the Soles wear out, the Boots and Shoes can be tapped with leather, or, if returned to us entire, new Rubber Soles can be put on.

The subscribers, having made arrangements as Agents for the sale of the above goods, are now prepared to take measures for the same, in different styles, and deliver them at short notice. They are made from the best stock to be had in the market, and warranted in every particular. Call and examine samples, at No. 12 Market street.

THE ALL SUFFICIENT THREE,
The Great "American Remedies"
Known as "Helmbold's"
Genuine Preparations, Viz;
HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT "BUCHU,"
" " SARSAPARILLA,
" " IMPROVED ROSE WASH.

HELMBOLD'S
GENUINE PREPARATION,
"HIGHLY CONCENTRATED"
COMPOUND
FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,
A Positive and Specific Remedy
For Diseases of the
BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL, AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the ABSORBENTS into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcerous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as pain and inflammation, and is good for Man, Woman, Child.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU
FOR WEAKNESSES
Arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion, or Abuse,
ATTENDED WITH THE FOLLOWING SYMPTOMS:
Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Nervous Irritability, Difficulty of Breathing, Loss of Memory, Trembling, Weak Nerves, Wakefulness, Horror of Disease, Pain in the Back, Dimness of Vision, Flushing of the Body, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Pallid Countenance, Hot Hands, Eruptions on the Face, Nervous Debility, Dyspepsia, Sleeplessness, &c.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which it is medicine invariably removes, soon follow IMPOTENCY, FATUITY, EPILEPTIC FITS, in one of which the patient may expire. Insanity can say that they are not frequently followed by those dreadful diseases.

INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION.

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, but none will confess. The records of the Insane Asylums and the melancholy obituaries of Consumption, bear ample testimony to the truth of the assertion.

THE CONSTITUTION, ONCE AFFECTED WITH ORGANIC WEAKNESS,

Requires the aid of medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which, HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has unlocked does. A trial will convince the most skeptical.

Females, Females, Females,
OLD OR YOUNG, SINGLE, MARRIED, OR CONTEMPLATING MARRIAGE.

In none is affection more speedy or permanent than Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorin or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness, or suppression of the Menses, Whites, Ulcerated or Schirrous state of the Uterus, Leucorrhea, or Whites, Sterility, and for all complaints incident to the female, whether arising from Indiscretion, Habits of Dissipation, or Abuse.

DECLINE OR CHANGE OF LIFE.
SEE SYMPTOMS ABOVE.

NO FAMILY SHOULD BE WITHOUT IT.

Take no Balsam, Mercury, or Unpleasant Medicine for unpleasant and dangerous diseases

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU
CURES
Secret Diseases
In all their stages; at little expense; little or no change in diet; no inconvenience
AND NO EXPOSURE.

It causes frequent desire, and gives strength to Urinate, thereby removing the obstructions, preventing and curing strictures of the Urethra, relieving pain and inflammation, so frequent in this class of disease, and expelling Poisonous, Diseased and Worn-out Matter.

Thousands upon Thousands
WHO HAVE BEEN THE VICTIMS OF QUACKS,

and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "Poison" has, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in an aggravated form, and
PERHAPS AFTER MARRIAGE.

USE
HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU
For all Affections and Diseases of
The Urinary Organs,
Whether existing in MALE OR FEMALE, from whatever cause originating, and no matter
OF HOW LONG STANDING.

Diseases of the organs require the aid of diuretics.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU
IS THE GREAT DIURETIC,

And it is certain to have the desired effect in all diseases for which it is recommended.

BLOOD! BLOOD! BLOOD!
Helmbold's Highly Concentrated Compounds
Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla,
SYPHILIS.

This is an affection of the Blood, and attacks the Sexual Organs, Limbs of the Nose, Ears, Throat, Windpipe, and the Mucous Surfaces, making its appearance in the form of Ulcers.—Helmbold's Extract Sarsaparilla purifies the Blood, and removes it from the Eruptions of the Skin, giving to the complexion a clear and healthy Color. It being prepared expressly for this class of complaints, its Blood-Purifying Properties are presumed to a greater extent than any other preparation of Sarsaparilla.

Helmbold's Rose Wash.

An excellent Lotion for Diseases of a Syphilitic Nature, and in addition to Diseases of the Urinary Organs, arising from habits of dissipation, used in connection with Extracts Buchu and Sarsaparilla, in such cases is recommended.

Evidence of the most responsible and reliable character will accompany the medicines.

THE BEST COOK STOVE
IN THE MARKET,
AFTER ALL SAID,
—IS—
STEWART'S
NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT,
SUMMER AND WINTER
COOKING STOVE,
For Wood or Coal,
IMPROVED, IN 1859.

The peculiarities of the
STEWART COOK STOVE,
Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will lie and smoulder and char, as on the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire-chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward moveable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and ensuring the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove from the time the article is set in until it is removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent RESERVOIR (of copper, with a tin casing), containing from 10 to 20 gallons, by which the waste heat, in passing off, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The place from which the reservoir is occupied with a TIN CLOSET, where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c.

4. By the hold of the TOP COVER, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DUTCH OVEN prepared for the purpose—the heat being communicated to it from both sides of the fire-box; and the fumes, meanwhile, passing into the draft.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which no smoke and smell may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; and the current instituted for this purpose produces a universal to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no increase of combustion.

7. By the aid of the perforated metallic linings, or grates hung on the inside of the oven doors, and of the full number dress, the various culinary processes may be carried forward successfully with a single stick of wood at a time.

8. In regard to DURABILITY, the Stewart Stove is made to last, and will last. The structural form is such that the frame work of it can not burn out.

All the pieces constituting the original STEWART STOVE, which was brought out twenty years ago, are still made, and sent to different parts of the country, on call.

The price of QUIETNESS, COMFORT and HEALTH secured to a family by the use of a culinary apparatus perfectly adapted to their wants, cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents.

But we can not, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of the STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE

Now in use, which has been widely tested
FOR TWENTY YEARS,

and FOR found wanting in any particular. Yes, the Stewart stove has been manufactured and used for a score of years! But the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made improvements—so that the Stewart Stove of 1858 is as much better than that of 1848, as the Mowing Machine is to a Bush Scythe.

IT HAS NOT BEEN EXCELLED

yet, as a Family Stove. Here follow the names of a few of the numerous purchasers of the STEWART COOK STOVE.

CALENDAR CLOCKS.

These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, to secure all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with untiring certainty.

Having taken the agency, for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar Attachment; and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. They will be set up in any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

SAMBUCUS TREE OF PORTUGAL,

The Great Remedy for Nervous Affections, Rheumatism, Chronic Complaints

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich aromatic flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

WE REFER TO

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the
MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room; and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as numerous families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objection aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive works have been contrived, and now constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The object of this invention is, the combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used.

We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Gill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Shea, and others.

Teeth on Vulcanized Rubber.

SOME OF ITS ADVANTAGES.
1st. It is stronger and lighter than any known material.
2d. From two to six times the amount of suction or adhesion can be obtained by it.
3d. When the arch is properly made it can by building out the depressions which can be done to any extent—give the mouth a more natural appearance.
4th. No bad taste arises in the mouth by its use, as the secretions of the stomach and mouth do not affect it in the least.
5th. The material upon this base can be kept clean and sweet as easy as a saucer, as when finished the work presents one whole piece.
6th. When in all ways it is better, save in a few peculiar cases, it is much cheaper than Gold.

Teeth inserted on Gold and Silver, and all other operations performed as usual.

Teeth extracted positively without pain, by inhaling Nitrous Oxyd Gas!

He is fully convinced that it is a perfectly harmless anæsthetic, its effect being that of an exhilarant, the whole operation being completed generally in three minutes, without the least pain, and the patient feeling as well, and usually better than before inhaling the Gas.

He would cordially invite all who wish teeth extracted without pain, or any possible injurious results, to call and be convinced.

It is a pleasure in referring the public to Dr TREADWELL, Dr BOARDMAN, Dr OLIVER and Dr BENNETT, for particular success in extracting teeth. "Teeth extracted without pain and with perfect safety, with Ether. Teeth polished to their natural whiteness without pain or injury to the Enamel. "Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every item fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. It serves to kindle the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

EDWIN FORREST AND THE "SUPE."

When Forrest was doing the leading business at the old Pearl street Theatre, in Albany, a few years since, there was attached to the Theatre a tall fellow by the name of Diggory Center. Diggory did the leading business in his department—was captain of the supes—a position that he, no doubt, took as much pains and pride in sustaining as did the American tragedian any of his castes.

Diggory was an old attache of the Theatre; he had been there for years—and tho' his position was an humble one, he was exceedingly popular with the frequenters of the house.

Of course Diggory's position never gave him an opportunity to "spread himself," although occasionally he managed to make considerable of a show. He had participated in numerous bloody hand to-hand encounters with the enemy, and thereby had become an adept in the use of the sword; in short, he couldn't be "taken down" in the small or broadsword exercise, and on occasions when he had to contend with an enemy—whom he invariably vanquished—he never failed to "bring down the house," the pit portion certain. Diggory had "never had a turn with Forrest," to use his own words. He was very anxious to "put him through" and had repeatedly endeavored to get an opportunity. At last, however, he succeeded, and, as we said before, he came out one ahead—took the great tragedian square down.

They were one night performing a piece full of fight, blood and carnage in every scene. Forrest, of course, took the leading character, did an immense amount of fighting and an equal quantity of killing. The scene was the last, and the agony was piled on—the fighting was desperate. Forrest was up to his middle in blood,—the dead and dying lying thick around him. Diggory belonged to the opposing army, and, of course, had a show to distinguish himself. The fight was promiscuous, and into Ned Forrest he pitched—one up and one down, cut, thrust, &c. The two were equally matched. Diggory was a muscular, broad-shouldered, bullet headed and double-fisted fellow—and Forrest the same, "only more so." Well, the fight "grew fast and furious." Ned was getting quite tired, and was, also getting angry.

"Down! down! fall!" said he to Diggory, sotto voce. But Diggory was deaf—he whaled away with apparently renewed vigor. The audience became interested—excited. Cheers. The "pittsys" were in ecstacies. Shouts for Diggory and Forrest resounded through the building.

It was now evident to the spectators that something was going on, not down in the bills. Forrest's ire was evidently increasing—his eyes flashed fire—his big full neck expanded like a balloon in course of inflation—his strokes were savage and heavy, and mostly aimed at Diggory's head. But Dig avoided them all with a dexterity that would have done credit to a fencing-master.

"Down! you scoundrel! Down, down, I say,' almost yelled Forrest; loud enough, at any rate, for those in the pit to hear him. And then arose such a yell in the pit, as is seldom heard in the walls of a theatre at the present day.

'Go it, Diggory!' sings out one.

'Rake him down!' yells another.

'Don't give it up, old fellow!' hollored a third, while a fourth proposed, 'Three cheers for Diggory Center!' And they were given. And such yells! A crowd of stentors couldn't have beat it. Forrest couldn't stand it any longer, and with a curse, loud and deep, he backed off the stage, followed by Dig, who was putting in the blows rapidly, and not very lightly; and some seconds after the curtain had fallen the clash of swords could be distinctly heard.

Three more cheers were now proposed, and generally responded to; and a more apparently delighted audience never left the Theatre.

We believe this was the last appearance of Diggory Center on any stage.

RYE, N.H., Feb. 23, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended by the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my neighbors, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1863.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

Priest ELDUM I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may 26 6

The Old Established Hospital.
No. 5 Beaver Street, Albany, N. Y.

QUICK CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Over Twenty Thousand Patients Cured Annually!

DR. J. TELLER continues to be confidentially and successfully consulted on all forms of private diseases, at his old Established Hospital, No. 5 Beaver Street, Albany, N. Y. Twenty years devoted to this one particular branch of practice, enables him to perform cures such as no other physician can, and his facilities for such (being in correspondence with the most eminent Physicians of the Old World,) of obtaining the safest as well as the latest remedies for these diseases, offer inducements to the unfortunate more than rapid cures, to be obtained at no other office in America.

In syphilis, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Enlargement of the Testicles and Spermatic Cords, Bubo, Ulcerated Throat, Sore Nose, Tender Shin Bones, Cutaneous Eruptions, Blles, Tumors, &c., &c., and all other impurities of the system, are perfectly under the control of the Doctor's Medicines, and have been tested in more than 20,000 cases annually, with immense Success.

YOUNG MEN.

Young Men addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed many years of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasure of the Married Life, are notified that in consulting Dr. J. Teller, they will find a friend in counsel and a Physician who has cured thousands, in almost every part of the United States, who applied to Dr. Teller when down in health, now rejoice in all that makes life desirable and man happy. The reader is of course aware that the delicacy of this subject will prevent a more minute description of this terrible disease.

DR. TELLER'S GREAT WORK.

A book for everybody.—Startling disclosures. Dr. TELLER'S great work for the Married or those contemplating marriage—200 pages—full of plates—price 25 cts. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail, post paid. 50,000 copies sold the past year. The single Married and the Married Happy. A lecture on Love, or how to choose a Partner—a complete work on Midwifery, It contains hundreds of secrets, never before published.—Warranted to be worth three times the amount asked for it. 25 cents, in specie or postage stamps, inclosed, will secure a copy by return mail. Dr. TELLER has devoted a lifetime to the cure of those diseases upon which his books treat.

TO THE LADIES.

Dr. TELLER'S Anti Female Pill remains the only Agency in America, for the sale of Dr. Vichot's Italian Female Monthly Pills. The sale of more than 20,000 boxes establishes their reputation as a female remedy, unapproached, and far in advance of every other medicine—for stoppages, irregularities, and other obstructions in females.

CAUTION.—Married ladies in certain delicate situations should avoid their use. For reasons and directions which accompany each package, for the guidance of such ladies. On the receipt of $1, (the price per box,) these Pills will be sent, by mail or express, to any part of the world, secure from curiosity or damage.

Office hours from 8 A. M. to 8 P. M., and on Sundays from 2 to 5 P. M.

N. B.—Persons at a distance can be cured at home by addressing a letter to Dr. J. Teller, enclosing a remittance. Medicines securely packed from observation, sent to any part of the world. All cases warranted. No charge for advice.—N. B.—No students or boys employed. Notice this, address all letters to

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. Hooker was attacked near Bridgeport, Tenn., at midnight on Wednesday, and a severe fight ensued, lasting two hours, with lighter work until 4 A. M. He reports that our troops conducted themselves splendidly, repulsed the rebels, and drove them from every position they assailed.—He now occupies Bridgeport.

Federal prisoners in Richmond have been kept without food, and exposed a large portion of the time without shelter of any kind. Of 181 men paroled on the 29th, 8 died on the way, and all the rest had to be sent to the hospital.

No attempt is making by Longstreet's division to cut off Gen. Burnside, as has been asserted.

☞ At the latest foreign dates, the rebel pirates Alabama, Georgia and Tuscarora continued cruising on the coast of Cape of Good Hope. The U. S. steamer Vanderbilt had arrived at the Cape in pursuit of them. Semmes has sold the bark Sea Bride. No further captures had been made. Semmes will not, from motives of policy, seek an engagement with the Vanderbilt, but, if blockaded in Simon's Bay, try to elude her as he did the San Jacinto at Martinique. His opinion is said to be that the Vanderbilt is very much faster than the Alabama, and that the latter could not get away from her.

☞ The U. S. armed vessels George Manghan and Ethan Allen, engaged in cruising among the British Islands, have been summarily ordered from some of the ports of Prince Edward Island. The demand was promptly complied with. U. S. Treasury notes are at a heavy discount at the various ports of these Islands, and ships' supplies and stores can be obtained only by the payment of coin.

☞ Rev. Henry Ward Beecher addressed an immense audience in Exeter Hall, London, on the 20th, on the interests of the North. The few expressions of dissent were drowned in the general plaudits. The Daily News says it was one of the most enthusiastic meetings ever held in London, and must have convinced Mr. Beecher of the truth of Earl Russell's assertion that the great body of the English people are with the North, and cause him to return home as the messenger of peace and good will between the two countries. The Times combats Mr. Beecher's arguments, and declares that he is not a man to convert the British public to the Federal cause.

☞ A Boston gentleman, agent for certain woolen manufactories, left a carpet bag containing $40,000 on a settee in the refreshment room at West Brookfield for a moment, on Wednesday, and when the bell rang the call "all aboard," the bag was missing. It had been taken by mistake by a gentleman whose wife arrived in the train and sent him to the depot for her own carpet bag.

☞ Five cars on the Kentucky Central Railroad containing a portion of the 24 Ohio Heavy Artillery, were thrown from the track twenty-seven miles from Cincinnati, on Thursday morning. One man was killed, eighteen severely wounded and twelve slightly injured. The accident was caused by a broken rail.

☞ Foreign advices state that Admiral Kupers, with his fleet, arrived at Kagosima, Japan, and negotiations failing, he besieged and levelled the whole city, fired Prince Satsuma's three steamers, and then returned to Zobobama. Kagosima is a mass of ruins. The palace, factories and arsenal have been destroyed.

☞ It is asserted that one of the conductors on the Eastern railroad says that the loss to travelers from the operations of the pickpocket fraternity averages about $1000 per week, and that most of the "picking" is done between Beverly and Boston.

— A soldier, who has lost both arms in the service, has been arrested in Portland for being drunk. The man who held the glass for him to drink was the one to nab.

— A new squadron of iron gunboats, armor-plated, double-screw propellers, with two heavy Armstrong guns, are to be constructed in England.

— The Adjutant General of Maine calls for volunteers under the last call: he says, don't wait to learn the town quotas, but go ahead.

—West Virginia follows Pennsylvania and Ohio, and elects by large majorities Blair, Brown, and Whaley, Unconditional Union men, to the next Congress.

— It is stated that the Banner of Light, the spiritualist Journal, has a larger circulation in New England than any other weekly newspaper.

— It is rumored that by a recent death, Newburyport will receive a legacy of $25,000 or more to build a new Alms House.

— Dry hard wood sells in Augusta, Me., at $6 per cord; potatoes 45 cents per bushel; chickens 14 cents per pound.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— One of a party of substitutes from Concord attempted to escape in Boston on Thursday afternoon and was shot by the guard. His name was James Burns. It is thought he cannot survive.

—— The Governor and Council will meet at Concord Monday afternoon and be in the session during the week.

—— Rev. Mr. Thomas of Laconia has been appointed Chaplain of the 4th N. H. Vols.

—— The barn of Mr. John T. Emerson, in Durham, was burnt on Sunday, the 18th inst., with all its contents. Loss about $2000, partially insured. The origin of the fire is unknown.

—— On Tuesday night, while some students at East Canaan Academy were playing with a pistol, one of them carelessly pointed it at Warren Shackford, of Orange, not supposing it to be loaded, when it went off directly into his face. His face was badly burned, and it is feared the sight of one eye is destroyed. The pistol contained only powder.

—— The number of men that will be secured to the army from New Hampshire, under the draft, will not be far from 2500.

—— Rev. E. H. Richardson, of Dover, has received a unanimous call to become Pastor of a Congregational Church and Society in Providence, R. I.

—— The only question publicly proposed for the Annual Meeting of one of our County Agricultural societies is, whether to enlarge and improve the race course.

—— Mr. Ebenezer Pettee and wife celebrated their golden wedding at Brookline on the 19th of October.

—— The Army and Navy Journal gives a tabular statement, from official reports, of the number of troops voluntarily raised by the loyal States, up to Jan. 1, 1863, by which it appears that New Hampshire had then furnished 800 three months' men, 2,023 nine months' men, and 14,915 three years' men; total, 17,738 men.

—— A letter in the Dover Enquirer, written from Jackson, says that the fire which burnt the Forest Vale House, was set in two places more than forty feet apart,—so that no person there can doubt that it was set on purpose,—though some papers attribute it to accident, in hopes that some dupes may believe them. But it is uphill work; for the people generally understand distinctly that the brave threats and cowardly fire in Jackson, were a dwindled copy of the New York outrages.

—— Mr. Joseph T. Merrill of South-Hampton, picked four quarts of wild raspberries on his farm last week. The remainder of the berries "left out in the cold," have probably been nipped by Jack Frost ere this.

—— The following promotions have been made in the 5th regiment:—Colonel, Charles F. Hapgood of Amherst; Lieutenant Colonel, Richard E. Cross of Lancaster; Major, James E. Larkin of Concord; Adjutant, Elias H Marston of North Hampton; Quartermaster, Edmund M. Webber of Somersworth; Surgeon, John W. Bucknam of Lancaster.

☞ RICH FUR GOODS.—All kinds—sold by Shute & Son, Boston. See advertisement in another column.

— 2 Major Generals and 11 Brigadier: hail from Maine.

— The sales of Five-twenties on Thursday amounted to $4,712,000, the largest sale yet made in any one day.

— A London professor makes excellent "coffee" of bullock's blood, chickory, sheep's liver dried, and old coffee grounds.

— 225,000 passengers in one week passed over the London Underground Railway, —which is really a railway under ground.

— The Ionian Islands Parliament has resolved by a vote 35 to 5, that England's Protectorate shall cease and the Ionian Islands be annexed immediately to Greece.

— Col. Crawford, who was sent out to distribute arms in Virginia and North Carolina, adjacent to East Tennessee, has returned to Knoxville. He was perfectly successful in both States. The people are rising everywhere against the Rebels.

— Gen. Rosecrans, in his Cincinnati speech, said it was his firm belief that if the forces recently sent to Chattanooga had been ordered there before, the backbone of the Rebellion ere this would have been broken.

— The loyal states had furnished, up to Jan. 1, 1863, 91,561 men for three months 67,335 for nine months, 2,587 for one year; 30,131 for two years; 15,863, for local defences and 1,068,769 for three years;—total 1, 276,246.

— The Canadian legislators are considering plans for an improved navigable communication between Lakes Huron and Michigan and the ocean, with the St Lawrence river as an outlet.

NOTES OF FORMER DAYS.

Collected and Collated — By UNCLE TOBY.

Lovewell's Fight and Death, 1725—Indians subdued and Peace restored.—Samuel Penhallow.—In 1725, Lovewell marched again towards Winnipisiogee lake in search of the enemy. He came to the place where he had killed the Indian in his first expedition, and his provisions falling short, he dismissed thirty of his men by lot; forty remained with him. As they were ranging the woods they came to a track which led them to a party of Indians who had encamped for the night, near a pond in Wakefield. They kept at a distance till midnight, when they cautiously advanced and found ten Indians asleep around a fire, killed them all, and returned in triumph with their scalps for each of which, they received the promised bounty. Lovewell soon afterwards set out on his third expedition, accompanied by forty-six men, with an intention of destroying the villages at Pigwacket. Before he reached the place of destination, he fell into an ambush, in which he and most of his comrades were cut off. Those who escaped this severe destiny, returned home, having encountered the most incredible hardships on the way. The Indians suffered extremely in this engagement, which was supposed to be one of the most bloody they had ever experienced. Their leaders, and many of their best warriors, were killed, and the survivors chose to quit the field of battle, nor did they return to reside at Pigwacket as long as the war continued.

Belknap says, in regard to Lovewell's Fight, "It was remarked that a week before this engagement happened, it had been reported in Portsmouth, at the distance of eighty miles, with but little variation from the truth."

The governments of Massachusetts and New-Hampshire united in sending commissioners to remonstrate with the Governor of Canada for his conduct in urging the Indians to war. The French and English were then at peace, and his conduct was a direct breach of the treaty. Theodore Atkinson was sent on the part of New-Hampshire, and when the Governor denied his having encouraged the Indians to commit acts of hostility, or having offered them assistance, Atkinson produced his original letters to Rale, which put him to a nonplus. He promised to use his influence with the Indians to restore peace, and assisted in procuring the redemption of the captives, who were detained prisoners in Canada.—The good effects of this embassy were soon visible. The Indians made overtures of peace, and a treaty for that purpose was concluded at Boston the last of December, in the usual form; at the making of which, Lieutenant Governor Wentworth was present.

In 1726, the inhabitants of that part of the town commonly called Sandy Beach, having petitioned the General Court to be made a separate-town, at the annual meeting, the town of Portsmouth voted, That the selectmen appear on the second day of the next sitting of the General Assembly, to answer to said petition.

December 2d, 1726, Samuel Penhallow departed this life in the 62d year of his age. He was born at St. Maborn, in the county of Cornwall, in England, the 2d July, 1665. Being bred a puritan, he came to this country with Rev. Charles Morton, who was silenced for nonconformity, in the year 1686. Mr. Penhallow's intention was to devote himself to the ministry; but finding affairs in this country in a more unsettled state than he expected, he removed to this town and engaged in trade. He married a daughter of the late President John Cutt, and in her right inherited a large estate, to which, by his industry and success in business, he made great additions.—He held many important offices in the government. He was distinguished as a magistrate, but executed the office with a great degree of severity. He received a mandamus as one of his Majesty's Council, and took his seat accordingly. He was successively appointed Recorder of Deeds, a Judge of the Superior Court of Judicature, and afterwards Chief Justice of the same Court, and Treasurer of the province. Possessed of a strong mind, cultivated by education, and influenced by principles of religion, he discharged the duties of these several offices with integrity. He wrote a narrative of the Indian wars, in which the sufferings of the inhabitants of early times are related with accuracy. Mr. Adams says, As a professor of religion he was examplary; charitable to the poor, and hospitable to strangers. He was naturally of a warm and sanguine disposition; his firmness had the appearance of obstinacy; rigid in his principles, he was unwilling to make suitable allowances for those who differed from him in sentiment.

☞ The Laconia Democrat says, "the rise and spread of abolitionism is among the wonders of the age: it commenced many years back, and mainly in the church, and has since grown with its growth and strengthened with its strength."

— Gen. Scott is at Delmonico's, New York, where he will spend the winter. He is reticent as to the conduct of the war.

"Big Thing."

In these days of progression.
When "Go ahead" is the word,
And strength takes precession,
By both fire and sword;
When men all about us,
Clad in the nation's bright blue,
Are supporting our colors,
So gallant, noble and true;
Many sights that are curious
Our eyes often meet,
And phrases quaint and humorous
Our ears often greet—
Some pithy and brief and somewhat obtuse,
Some forcible and striking, are brought into use.
Many such, designed the truth to convey,
We adapt to our liking, if we think it will pay.
Without enumerating words of invention,
One phrase in particular I beg leave to mention,
It is simply "Big Thing;"
Two words which, no doubt,
Are as potent of meaning
As can well be wrought out,
To express admiration, surprise, pleasure and joy,
Upon any occasion we wish to employ.
In our places of business, hall, office or street,
"Big Thing," "Big Thing," are the words our ears greet;
"What's the news from Charleston?"
We inquire of a friend.
"Oh! big thing!" quoth our informant,
"Sumter knocked end over end,
Moult-ie's just blown up sky-higher,
Gillmore's rearing with Greek fire;
Big thing for 'Dahl,' big thing for 'Gil,'
When they get into Charleston, to have no one to kill."
We take up the paper containing the news,
There we each find matter to suit our views,
Items to agree with every taste,
Whether simple sugar or ju-ju paste.
Down to the last moment the telegraph brings
The news concerning all the "big things"—
"The armies in Europe are to meet, we hear, soon;"
"Some one has discovered the man in the moon;"
"England and France going to war with the Japs,
Then coming to pay us a visit—perhaps;"
"More ships captured by the pirate Semmes;"
Maso and Slidell, Confederate gems;
"The Florida making repairs at Brest;"
"Floyd, Yancey and Jackson gone to their rest;"
"Plantation Bitters, Brandreth and Ayer's Pills,"
Designed for the cure of all our ills;
A dentist advertises extracting teeth without pain,
And gently assures us what's our loss is his gain;
Jeff. Davis performing St. Vitus's dance;
The Chronicle at four dollars a year, in advance;
These we may mention, and might many more,
All "big things," as we remarked before.
All "big things" in their way, no doubt,
But the "biggest thing" yet has just been found out.
With all this preamble, and without more ado,
We'll attend to business, and introduce you
To the "LIGHTNING HAIR DYE"—if you've not seen
The article—to color hair black, not dirty or green.
It does the work instantly, you'll not have to wait,
For though in a hurry, you'll never be late.
No scrubbing of faces, no fanning, no drying,
Which by the old method is—Oh! so trying!
A beautiful color it imparts to the hair.
"I must try this thing," we hear you declare,
"I'm bothered so much with worthless trash,
I've grown very cross, discontented and rash;
I'll be so no more, but straightway will go
To try this new thing, and then I will know;
To Lawrence I my money and bottle will bring,
And get some of this wonderful, truly 'Big Thing.'"
With pleasure I see, my vision do greet,

AT AUCTION,

On THURSDAY, Nov. 12th, at 11 o'clock,

on the premises, in Newington.

The valuable and beautiful FARM, formerly owned by the Hon. James Pickering. This desirable estate, comprising about seventy acres, is situated in Newington, about four miles from Portsmouth and one mile from depot of Concord Railroad at Greenland. The buildings consist of a convenient House, containing ten rooms, excellent cellar, &c., together with Barn and other suitable Outbuildings, &c. The land is suitably divided into tillage, pasturage and mowing fields. Upon it are some of the very best varieties of Apple and Pear trees, many of which are in good bearing condition, together with the smaller fruits, such as Currants, Raspberries, &c. The beautiful shade trees scattered over the land, its eligibility to a good market, excellent pasturage and general beauty of its location, make this one of the most desirable estates ever offered for sale in this section of the State, either for a gentleman's country residence or for a practical farmer.

There are two Wells on the Farm, and the two Pastures, which are both excellent, are abundantly supplied with never-failing streams of the purest water.

Also will be sold, immediately after the sale of the Farm, the Live Stock on the place, consisting of 1 Yoke OXEN, five good COWS, two young HEIFERS, eight SHEEP, a black MARE, one young HORSE, three HOGS.

S. J. COURT, Friday.—The Jury in the case of Christopher J. Marshall, indicted for illegally voting in Ward Three in this city, returned a verdict of guilty. Bell for State. Hatch for Respondent.

F. O. J. Smith v. Samuel A. Bean,—an action under the landlord and tenant act, to eject defendant from the Frink farm in Newington, was commenced and occupied the day. Hackett for plf. Frink for Deft.

John Varrell of Rye, indicted for keeping a house of ill-fame, retracted his plea of not guilty, and pleaded nol. con., and was fined $40, and costs of prosecution.

☞ In a recent item in regard to the progress of work at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, we inadvertently omitted several important improvements, under the superintendence of Constructing Engineer B. F. Chandler. Prominent among these is the new Boat House and Carpenters' Shop in process of construction by Clement & Cressy, contractors, of Lawrence, Mass., builders of the Eastern railroad depot, in this city. The Boat House and Carpenters' Shop is 150 feet in length, 55 feet in width, and two stories high, built of stone and brick, at an expense of $24,404. It is located on the northerly side of the Navy Yard, on the site formerly occupied by the Porter's house.

The new Paint Shop in process of erection, near the bridge leading to Seavey's Island, is 60 feet in length, about 30 feet in width, and is to cost $6,500. James Moses and Isaiah Wilson, of this city, are the fortunate contractors.

The Porter's Lodge, a dwelling house erected for the Porter of the Yard, is 44 feet long, 24 feet wide, and two stories high, built by Clement & Cressy, the Lawrence builders, at a cost of $3469.

The Futtock Saw Mill, for sawing crooked and bevelled timber, is about being erected by A. J. Hamilton, of New York, at a cost of about $9000. This arrangement will save a great deal of labor, in rapidly turning out futtocks, heretofore worked out with the axe. A similar building has just been built at the Charlestown Navy Yard.

The construction of the above buildings have been contracted for in conformity with a late law of Congress, but the designs and inspection are by Engineer Chandler. The improvements now in progress, with those completed this season, go far towards making this, what it ought to be, a first-class Yard.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, on Thursday evening, the subject of fitting desks, &c., at Haven School House, for election of City officers, was referred to Ald. Marcy, with power to act.

A resolution was passed requesting the Board of Engineers to consider the expediency of having a master of the Fire Department.

A vote was passed that the cross-walks on Pleasant street be paved on each side with pebbles.

☞ Frank Moses, about 16 years of age, son of the late J. Wesley Moses of this city, was severely injured near the C. & P. depot on Friday afternoon about 5 o'clock. Employees of the road were moving some platform cars, and young Moses, who in the meanwhile had been standing upon one car, attempted to pass to another just at the moment the two, which were not shackled, came together. The force with which the cars struck, caused them to separate again, and he consequently fell between them and received three deep gashes on the right leg, one above and one below the knee, in front, and one in the calf of the leg. What occasioned the cute it is difficult to say; possibly he struck against the car while falling. Fortunately no bones were broken. He was conveyed to his home, where his wounds were dressed.

☞ On Friday, by authority of the Navy Department, the name of the old ship Alabama, at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, was changed to "New Hampshire."

☞ We understand that Messrs. Tobey & Littlefield have contracted to build a large steamer for private parties, at their ship yard on Noble's Island. They will commence upon it at once.

☞ The winter arrangement of the Eastern railroad will go into effect on Monday next. The trains which now leave this city at 5:30 P. M., will on and after that day leave at 5 o'clock.

A SIGHT SELDOM SEEN HERE:—Three noble ships just from the ways lying side by side at Portsmouth Pier, and near by a handsome schooner just from the workmen's hands.

☞ Rev. Dr. Cushman, of Boston, is to preach at the Middle street Church tomorrow.

☞ We understand that one of that enterprising firm of Bachman & Co is again in New York, select Clockings, cloth for Clockings, Dress goods, &c., for ladies' and Misses' wear,—and we advise our lady friends to wait for a few days until their new stock comes, as they will get the latest and best style that will be out this season.

☞ At one of the Portland hotels a contraband had been promoted from kindling the fires to blacking boots, and a few mornings since officiated in the latter capacity. Gathering all the boots together he polished them and then left one boot at the door of each chamber! until the supply gave out. There was an alarming ringing of bells about breakfast time, and "boots" was found complaining that there were not enough to go through the whole house.

Would you save yourself from suffering after eating, or from acidity of the stomach, or burning sensation, or indigestion? Use Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus. Never use soda if you can procure this article. It will strengthen weak stomachs and relieve dyspepsia; is saving in the quantity of flour, &c., &c. Try it. Grocers and Druggists most all sell it. The Wholesale Agents are Wholesale Grocers.

At this season of the year Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, and other affections of the Throat and Lungs prevail. MADAME ZAC. PORTER'S CURATIVE BALSAM is a certain and immediate cure. No Family should be without a bottle in the house. It is only 13 cents, and will be found worth as many dollars for the cure of the above complaints. It is for sale by N. P. Thacher, Druggist, of this place.

COE'S COUGH BALSAM.

OVER FIVE THOUSAND BOTTLES have been sold in its native town, and not a single instance has come to the Proprietors knowledge.

We have, in our possession, any quantity of certificates, some of them from

EMINENT PHYSICIANS, who have used it in their practice, and given it the pre-eminence over any other compound.

It does not dry up a Cough, but loosens it, so as to enable the patient to expectorate freely.

☞ Two or three Bottles will invariably cure TICKLING IN THE THROAT. ☜

A HALF Bottle has often completely cured the most

STUBBORN COUGH,

And yet, though it is so sure and speedy in its operation, it is perfectly harmless, being purely vegetable. It is very agreeable to the taste, and may be administered to children of any age.

In cases of CROUP we will guarantee a cure, if taken in season. No Family should be without it. It is within the reach of all, the price being

ONLY 25 CENTS!

And if an investment and thorough trial does not "back up" the above statement, the money will be refunded. We say this, knowing its merits, and feel confident that one trial will secure for it a home in every household.

Do not waste away with Coughing, when so small an investment will cure you. It may be had of any respectable druggist in town, who will furnish you with a circular of genuine certificates of cures it has made.

Morning Chronicle.

A WOMAN KILLED AND ANOTHER INJURED BY A RAM.—A shocking affair occurred one day last week upon the farm occupied by Mr. Edmund Johnson, Charlestown, R. I. It seems that a family named Hall procured water from a spring on Johnson's land, where sheep were kept. Miss Sally Hall went as usual for a pail of water, was attacked by a large ram, her skull was fractured, and she was otherwise injured and bruised. Miss Hall's mother, an old lady aged about eighty, alarmed at the long absence of her daughter, went to look for her, and found her lying near the spring, the pail in the spring, and the sheep grazing near by. She in turn was attacked by the ram; but either not being injured so much by the first blow, or having more presence of mind, caught him by his horns and screamed loudly for help. Mr. Johnson chanced to hear her, and hastened to her relief. He had both persons taken to his house and cared for. Miss Hall lived but a few hours. The old lady is yet alive, but her recovery is hardly possible.—Providence Journal.

A PATRIOTIC FATHER.—An officer from Louisville led one of Rosecrans' regiments into battle, his superior having been called to other duty. In the advance this man's son fell by a rebel bullet. The father saw him fall, but could not stop to care for him. Narrating the circumstances, the bereaved father said, with tears in his eyes "My boy you know, is gone. I was in temporary command of the regiment, and as we were pressing on I saw my boy fall. I could not turn back to help him, so I said to a soldier, 'Look to Johnnie,' and went on, and we did the work we went to do."

"Do you still hold to the idea you expressed when you and I talked over the question of this war before? Do you feel now as you did then?"

"Certainly; I feel we are doing this work for ourselves and children, and for those who are to come after us. Of course I am very sad, but the cause is just the same as before—only more sacred than ever."

☞ A Vermonter has invented an improved eyelet hook by which the soldier's India rubber blanket is adapted to all purposes of which it is susceptible, from a blanket to a coat or tent. The State of Connecticut has ordered 40,000 of these hooks.

☞ Mr. Moses C. Jewett was killed in Portland on Monday, by swallowing a quantity of corrosive sublimate, by mistake.

☞ The number of sick and wounded soldiers in hospital throughout the country was, on the 20th of September, 57,713.

"CHEAP UNDERTAKERS" in London agree to bury children for three shillings, price of coffin included.

THE BEST COOK STOVE
IN THE MARKET,
AFTER ALL SAID,
—IS—
STEWART'S
NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT,
SUMMER AND WINTER
COOKING STOVE,
For Wood or Coal,

IMPROVED IN 1859.

The peculiarities of the
STEWART COOK STOVE,
Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will lie and smoulder and char, up on the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire-chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward moveable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove from the time the article is set in until it is removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accompanied to the reception of a permanent RESERVOIR (of copper, with a tin casing) containing from 10 to 20 gallons, by which the waste heat, in passing off, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The space beneath the reservoir is occupied with a TIN CLOSET, where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c.

4. Also, by the aid of the TOP COVER, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DUTCH OVEN provided for the purpose, the heat being communicated to it from both sides of the firebox; and the fumes, meanwhile, passing into the flue.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of meat may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; and the current instituted for this purpose made subservient to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no increase of combustion.

7. By the aid of the perforated metallic linings, or "gas burning arrangement," and application of the full summer dress, the various culinary processes may be carried forward successfully with a single stick of wood at a time.

8. In regard to DURABILITY, the Stewart Stove is made to last, and will last. The structural form is such that the frame work of it can not burn out.

All the plates constituting the original STEWART STOVE, which was brought out twenty years ago, are still made, and sent to different parts of the country, on call.

The price of QUIETNESS, COMFORT and HEALTH secured to a family by the use of a culinary apparatus perfectly adapted to their wants, cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents.

But we can not, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of the STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new-fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE
Now in use, which has been widely tested
FOR TWENTY YEARS,
and yet found wanting in any particular. Yes, the STEWART STOVE has been manufactured and used for a score of years; but the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made improvements—so that the Stewart Stove of 1863 is as superior to that of 1841, as the Mowing Machine is to a Bush scythe.

IT HAS NOT BEEN EXCELLED
yet, as a Family Stove. Here follow the names of a few of the numerous purchasers of the STEWART COOK STOVE.

CALENDAR CLOCKS.
These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calenders combined, and require the winding of the movement only once in 8 days, to secure all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.
Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.
Any persons desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar attachment; and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. They will be sold to any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

GOLDEN SHEAF WHISKEY.
The subscriber, having been engaged for the last twenty years in the importation and sale of Wines and Spirits, now finds from this experience that real

Pure Bourbon Whiskey,
when made as it ought to be, from WHEAT, RYE AND CORN, is, without doubt, the most healthful and medical spirit that can be used. Having determined to make the sale of this article a speciality in his business, he has accepted the

General Selling Agency for a large Distillery in Bourbon County, Kentucky,
and is future will sell, under the brand of
"Golden Sheaf,"
PURE BOURBON WHISKEY, manufactured from the BEST SELECTED GRAINS, and made in the most careful manner.
This celebrated Whiskey will be put up in cases containing one dozen bottles each, and offered to the Trade by his Travelling agents throughout the country, and also kept on hand in his warehouse in Boston, in barrels, half barrels and kegs.
Individuals desirous of procuring a pure, reliable article of BOURBON WHISKEY, at a reasonable price, have only to inquire of any respectable Grocer or Druggist for "GOLDEN SHEAF WHISKEY," or to send their orders for any quantity required to the General Depot for its sale, 91 Washington St. Boston.
Each bottle is enclosed in a neat pasteboard box, to ensure its safe transportation.

HEALTH AND COMFORT.
Patent Rubber Sole Boots and Shoes.
FOR MEN, BOYS AND YOUTH.
These Goods, having been carefully tested, prove to be more desirable than any other Boots and Shoes heretofore made. They answer the double purpose of Leather and Rubber Boots and Shoes.
They are made serviceable and easier to the feet than Leather Soles, are impervious to water, and having a leather inner sole do not draw the foot, and are far less expensive than Rubber Boots.
They are free from holes, prevent slipping on ice, and in keeping the feet dry and warm are conducive to health.
When the Soles wear out, the Boots and Shoes can be tapped with leather, or, if returned to us entire, new Rubber Soles can be put on.
The subscribers, having made arrangements as Agents for the sale of the above goods, are now prepared to take measures for the same, in different styles, and deliver them at short notice. They are made from the best stock to be had in the market, and warranted in every particular. Call and examine samples, at No. 13 Market street.

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.
There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the common tops there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.
The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling out of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and will be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.
For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.
We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.
The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.
For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.
The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.
To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over Stove pipe drums, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the
MAGEE FURNACE.
The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass out from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.
No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the best generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.
This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.
These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.
For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.
They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:
Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Teeth on Vulcanized Rubber,

SOME OF ITS ADVANTAGES.
1st. It is stronger and lighter than any known material.
2d. From two to six times the amount of suction or adhesion can be obtained by it.
3d. When the arch is properly made can by building out the depressions—which can be done to any extent—give the mouth a more natural appearance.
4th. No bad taste arises in the mouth by its use, as the secretions of the stomach and mouth do not affect it in the least.
5th. Teeth mounted upon this base can be kept clean and sweet as easy as a saucer, as when finished the work presents one whole piece.
6th. While in all cases it is better, save in a few peculiar cases, it is much cheaper than Gold.
DR. A. P. STEVENS, Surgeon Dentist,
No. 5 Daniel St., Portsmouth,
Has had four years of practical experience in working this material, and will guarantee satisfaction in all cases entrusted to his care.

DR. GOODALL
Would respectfully announce to his patrons and the public that VULCANIZED RUBBER, as a base for Artificial Teeth, promises all the advantages of Gold, yet cost only half as much. My experience has been highly satisfactory in its use, and I have no hesitation in WARRANTING PERFECT SATISFACTION in all cases.
Teeth inserted on Gold and Silver, and all other operations performed as usual.
Teeth extracted positively without pain, by inhaling Nitrous Oxyd Gas!
He is fully convinced that it is a perfectly harmless anæsthetic, its effect being that of an exhilarating gas, the whole operation being completed generally in three minutes, without the least pain, and the patient feeling as well, and usually better than before inhaling the Gas.
He would cordially invite all who wish teeth extracted without pain, or any possible injurious results, to call and be convinced.
I take pleasure in referring the public to Dr. TEWADWELL, Dr. BOARDMAN, Dr OLIVER and Dr. HENERRY, for particular success in extracting teeth, with extraction without pain and with perfect safety, with Ether. Teeth polished to their natural whiteness without pain or injury to the enamel. Regulation of Adults' and Children's Teeth will receive particular attention.—All whole and partial Sets of Teeth repaired with Neatness and Dispatch. All other operations in Dentistry, I will do at the usual rates.

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

☞ It is a Polish superstition that each of the twelve apostles typify a particular gem, thus: St. Peter, jasper; St. Andrew, sapphire; St. James, chalcedony; St. John, emerald; St. Philip, sardonyx; St. Bartholomew, cornelian; St. Matthew, chrysoprase; St. James the Less, topaz; St. Simeon, hyacinth; St. Matthias, amethyst.

☞ An Ohio paper proposes as an inscription on the tomb of the Vallandighamites, of whom it is a great admirer, the same as was put on that raised to the heroes who fell at Thermopylæ, viz:—"We lie here in obedience to our country." An exchange moves to amend by adding the words—"and we lied before on our own book."

RYE, N.H., Feb. 28, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—most of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of DR. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with dyspepsia at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that, previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. mavSo

American Agriculturist,
FOR 1864.

A thorough-going reliable and practical Journal, devoted to the different departments of soil-culture, such as growing field crops, orchard and garden fruits, garden vegetables and flowers, trees, plants and flowers, for the lawn or yard; care of domestic animals, &c., and to household labors, with an instructive department for children and youth.

It is published monthly.

Subscription—$1.50 DOLLARS PER ANNUM.

The club price is only Eighty Cents per annum.

Persons who wish to join the club for 1864, both old and new subscribers, will hand in their names as soon as possible.

New subscribers will receive the numbers for November and December, in addition to those for 1864.

N. B.—The proprietors have purchased a new Strawberry, which they call the "Agriculturist Strawberry," and it appears to far excel, both in size and intrinsic value, anything ever before produced. It is their intention to present One Plant to each subscriber, if they can produce enough, and if there be not enough, then as far as they go, beginning in the order of those who pay first for 1864.

The cost of packing and postage will be 5 cts.—so that the club price, including the Strawberry, will be 55 cts., and if you want the Strawberry, the money must be sent as soon.

The Old Established Hospital.
No. 5 Beaver Street, Albany, N. Y.
QUICK CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Over Twenty Thousand Patients Cured Annually!

DR. J. TELLER continues to be confidentially and successfully consulted on all forms of private diseases, at his old Established Hospital, No. 5 Beaver Street, Albany, N. Y. Twenty years devoted to this one particular branch of practice, enables him to perform cures such as no other Physician can, and his facilities are such (being in correspondence with the most eminent Physicians of the Old World,) of obtaining the safest as well as the latest remedies for these diseases, offer low accounts to the unfortunate of a quick and rapid cure, to be obtained at no other office in America.

In Syphilis, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Enlargement of the Testicles and Spermatic Cords, Bubo, Ulcerated Throat, Sore Nose, Tender Shin Bones, Cutaneous Eruptions, Blles, Ulcers, Abscesses, and all other impurities of the system, are perfectly under the control of the Doctor's Medicines, and have been tested in more than 20,000 cases annually, with immense Success.

YOUNG MEN.

Young Men addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their healths and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of pleasure of the Married Life, are notified that in consulting Dr. J. Teller, they will find a friend to counsel and a physician who has cured thousands, in almost every part of the United States, who applied to Dr. T. broken down in health, now rejoice in all that makes life interesting and man happy. The reader is of course aware that the delicacy of this subject will prevent a more minute description of this terrible disease.

DR. TELLER'S GREAT WORK.

A book for everybody.—Startling disclosures Dr TELLER's great work for the Married or those contemplating marriage—200 pages—full of plates—price 25 cts. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail, post paid. 50,000 copies sold the past year. The single Married and the Married Happy. A lecture on Love, or how to choose a Partner—a complete work on Midwifery, it contains hundreds of secrets, never before published.—Warranted to be worth three times the amount asked for it. 25 cents, in specie or postage stamps, inclosed, will secure a copy by return mail. Dr. TELLER has devoted a lifetime to the cure of those diseases upon which his books treat.

TO THE LADIES.

DR. TELLER still remains the only Agency in America, for the sale of Dr. Lola Montez's Italian Female Monthly Pills. The sale of more than 30,000 boxes establishes their reputation as a female remedy, unapproached, and far in advance of every other medicine—for stoppages, irregularities, and other obstructions in females.

Caution.—Married ladies in certain delicate situations should avoid their use. For reasons see directions which accompany each package, for the guidance of patients. On the receipt of $1, (the price per box,) these Pills will be sent by mail or express, to any part of the world, secure from curiosity or damage.

Office hours from 8 A. M. to 8 P. M., and on Sundays from 9 to 5 P. M.

N. B.—Persons at a distance can be cured at home by addressing a letter to Dr. J. Teller, enclosing a remittance. Medicines securely packed from observation, sent to any part of the world. All cases warranted. No charge for advice.—N. B.—No students or boy employed. Notice this, address all letters to

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

A rebel dispatch reports a considerable increase in the Union squadron off Charleston and off Hilton Head.

Some heavy guns opened on Charleston, on the 27th, and threw shells containing Greek fire into the very heart of the city. Our batteries were also at work on Johnston, Sumter and Moultrie. The range of the guns on Sumter and Johnston is one-third less than heretofore. The land batteries alone were engaged. The object of the fire was to get perfect range and prevent the construction of any interior works in Sumter. It cannot be put down as the commencement of any vigorous assault.

Union volunteers in Arkansas are counted by the thousand. More than half of Price's rebel army is said to have deserted.

Gen. Banks is advancing in Texas and has had some skirmishes with the enemy.—The rebels are massing at Houston, and at a point 50 miles west of Houston.

It is intimated that Gen. Butler will soon have an active command.

Private advices from Chattanooga state that there seems to be no prospect of an immediate grand movement. Gen. Sherman cannot reach Chattanooga for a month. The rebels are in so condition to make any serious attempt to improve their position.

The Richmond Whig claims that an expedition sent out by Longstreet, at Chattanooga, destroyed a large train of Federal wagons, and compelled our troops to cut a new and longer road over the face of the mountain. This, however, was before the rebels were driven from Lookout Mountain. The Whig gives unwilling credit to Gen. Grant for his success in the war, and in fact bewails his appointment to the command of our army.

By the recent successful movements, the army of the Cumberland is relieved from any danger threatened by interrupted communication.

Sunday's dispatch stated that official intelligence had been received of the capture of Tuscumbia, Ala., 60 miles east of Corinth, by Gen. Blair; also, that a formidable expedition, to be under the immediate command of Gen. Banks, is nearly ready to leave New Orleans,—destination unknown. [Doubtful,—unless Gens. Banks can be in two places at once.]

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Mr. Joseph B. Brown, of Canterbury, has several quarts of syrup made from what he calls the Enfield cane, grown by him this season from seed procured in Iowa. This cane is earlier than the Sorghum, a portion of it being ripe about the first of October. The syrup is clear, like the sugar house syrup, and has a fine flavor and appearance.

—— Wm. H. Grant, Esq., formerly of Lyndeborough, is the Democratic candidate for Attorney General in Minnesota.

—— A firm extensively engaged in shoe manufacturing in Danvers, Mass., are about to remove to Derry, the citizens of that place having offered, among other inducements, the rent for six months of a large factory there, 80 by 45 feet, together with the rent of four large boarding houses in the immediate neighborhood. The establishment employs 150 hands.

—— The Nashua Telegraph has been enlarged.

—— The annual review and other exercises of the Keene Fire Department came off Oct. 23d.

—— The shares of the Cheshire Railroad are now quoted at $50. A few months ago they sold at $17.

—— The thermometer struggled down to 20 degrees above zero, in Peterborough on Thursday morning last.

HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF: so that new events may often be profitably compared to old ones.—It is well known that South Carolina was the most Tory of all the colonies in 1775; but she contained some patriots, and came into the revolution. Then South Carolina, as well as some other States, after joining with the Northern States in throwing off the British rule, were reconquered by her armies and submitted to that government, their people, generally, taking the oath of allegiance and acknowledging themselves the subjects of the British crown. When the British forces were finally driven off, principally by Northern arms, and the Southern States were again in possession of the patriots, a free pardon was offered to those who had sworved from their fidelity to the American cause, on the condition of their serving six months in the militia, excepting those who had taken commissions in the British service, or been otherwise active in supporting the British government. These were banished from the country and their property confiscated.—Here is a precedent for us whenever the time shall come again for the reconstruction of regular and legitimate governments in the states which have been occupied and held by a hostile power.

— Vermont boasts of having one hundred and twelve poets.

— The French had not taken possession of Matamoras up to Sept. 16.

— The word quarantine originally signified only a period of forty days.

— John Brough, Governor elect of Ohio, was formerly a newspaper publisher.

— The principal New York hotels now charge $3.50 per day,—or $2.50 in gold.

— The U. S. steamer Sassacus left Charlestown Navy Yard on Friday evening.

— How many persons pronounce vagary as it is given in the dictionaries?

— The recent vote in Pennsylvania was 572,893; the largest ever cast in that State.

— Silver now sells at about 40 per cent. premium.

— A large portion of the business part of Anson, Me., was burnt on Thursday night.

— A vicar in Germany, who received $24 a year, hoped in time to have $40, for then he would be married.

— Gen. Butler's new command, it is said, is to be in the West. The correspondents have sent him in that direction before.

— Of twenty-four novels recently reviewed by the London Quarterly, no less than eight were bigamy stories.

— A servant girl in Germany gets from $16 to $30 a year; a man for threshing has from 8 to 12 cents a day and his board.

— An apple weighing 30 1-2 ounces, and measuring 16 5-8 inches in diameter, is among the season's products in California.

— A farmer 70 years of age has been convicted at Farmington, Me., of murdering his neighbor in a quarrel about some sheep.

— "Mr. Thingembobski," said a Yankee to a Russian neighbor at table, endeavoring to be intelligible, "thank you for the pepperdorf."

— The London Examiner speaks of the attempt to impose a monarchical government upon the Mexican people as "garroting" a nation.

— Betting on the Drew horse drew the money out of the Portlanders, for the Knox horse knocked the spots out of him and them on the race course.

— Alexander Pope, in one of his letters, said: "I should hardly care to have an old post pulled up that I had remembered ever since I was a child."

— The work of turning the Galena into an open gunboat at Philadelphia Yard, progresses rapidly. The railroad iron plating has been stripped off.

— The ringing of the door bell, like an unopened letter, has a mystery about it, and one waits with a pleasurable emotion to see who or what is coming.

— A Vermont minister, who was accused of whipping his wife eighteen times within a year, asserts that he has whipped her but fifteen times in three years.

— A Philadelphia man placed on the tomb of his wife—"To my dear wife. Every day brings me nearer to thee." Since she died, he has been twice married.

— The inhabitants of the Andaman Islands clothe themselves each evening in a thick covering of soft mud, to protect themselves against mosquitoes and other tormentors.

— Cyrus W. King, an ingenious artist residing in Brunswick, Me., has made what he calls a vegetable picture,—a landscape arranged in color and perspective from variously-hued autumn leaves.

— The Lewiston Journal says there was a foot race between a man and a woman in Auburn Wednesday morning. The man beat. A race of tongues ensued. The woman beat, of course.

— For 40 years a club of Boston gentlemen met regularly twice a month, and none of them had died. But death then entered the circle, and within a few months has taken eight of the twelve.

— The rebel steamers Phantom, Elizabeth and Mail are reported to have been burnt to escape capture by our blockaders. The steamer Arabian is also reported to have been run ashore and totally wrecked near Wilmington.

— The orthodox Church in Georgetown, Mass., by a vote of 25 to 24, accepted the resignation of their pastor, Mr. Chas. Beecher; but the Society vote to refuse, and protest against the outside pressure. Mr. B. is in nomination for representative from G.

— A soldier wooed a maid in Rochester, N. Y., but the mother said No. As the two ladies were walking in the street, a few days since, the young soldier marched up, threw the daughter over his shoulder, put her into a carriage, drove to a minister's, and they were properly married.

— The N. Y. Herald's Washington dispatch says it has been determined by the President not to take any official notice of the French invasion of Mexico until our own domestic difficulties shall have been adjusted. This may be true, but we do not believe the correspondent knows anything about it.

LETTER FROM NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.

From our Regular Correspondent.

Dear Chronicle:—The beautiful days of the week just past, which seem to have been dropped into this part of the year's calendar by mistake, have prompted a slight relaxation from business, and two excursions to the suburbs. One, a drive to and through our magnificent Central Park, which has developed many new beauties during the year. It was crowded, as is usual on Saturdays, the returns at the gates showing the entrances up to 4 P. M. of 45,000 pedestrians—over two-thirds of them ladies—and 13,000 carriages. These figures may seem prodigious, but I can assure you they are far from representing the largest attendance. I found, on examining the record, that on one of the skating days winter before last, over 71,000 persons passed into the park between the hours of 8 A. M. and 10 P. M.

New walks and drives have been laid out, rustic summer houses erected,—a new bridge at the 7th Avenue entrance, of alternate layers of yellow Milwaukee and red Eastern brick, giving a very pretty effect, in contrast with the others of stone and marble,—a highly colored and fantastically wrought pagoda for the musicians, an extensive ladies' Refectory, an immense and elegant fountain at the base of the stone terrace at the head of the mall, which is to throw a stream of water 150 feet high, with numerous side jets; many new specimens of trees from tropical climes, and a clump of stately Eastern pines, which are not indigenous to our Manhattan soil, and some ivy growing from slips cut at the tomb of Shakespeare, are among the recently added attractions, together with an interesting increase of the Zoological department, by the addition of pelicans, bears, eagles and deer.

Another excursion was up the Hudson River, the duplicate of one which two of us made past two years since. One of that two, so highly esteemed, being now many hundred miles nearer the setting sun, which increased proximity, will, I trust, make the sunshine of life all the more constant.

The day was a magnificent one,—warm, sunshiny and beautiful;—the scenery gorgeous, and a bridal pair being of the party, it would have been a difficult task to make it aught else but pleasant and agreeable.

In the trip up the river the scenery unfolds one view after another, the beauty of each heightened by the gorgeous autumn shadings on the foliage—emeralds and rubies in a richly enamelled setting,—that mingling with tint, and all flashing resplendently in the bright sunlight.

The return voyage is not attended with the same surprising splendor, but there is more opportunity for an examination and admiration of the details; as in the second reading of an attractive volume, we discern many fine points and ideas, overlooked when our attention was wholly engrossed by the delineation of the plot, and the rendering of the different characters. One can scarcely find language sufficiently glowing to portray the beautiful features of the trip or the pleasurable sensations it excited.

Tracks are being laid across Broadway at several points, connecting the horse railroads on each side of the city. On these, cars will soon be running, and unless you hasten that promised visit, they will be so numerous that you will hardly recognize "ye great Metropolis."

Our State Election for Judiciary and Assembly takes place next Tuesday, and for the city in December. The indications are that the State will go against the democrats by a small majority.

Fernando Wood has returned to the city.

NEWINGTON.

BRAMHALL FAIR.—The private fair for the benefit of the Sanitary Commission, at the residence of Hon. J. B. Brown, Portland, closed on Thursday evening. The gross receipts are about $2,200, and the net amount realized for the Commission will be $2000. An original letter from President Lincoln sold for $2; a brief note from Gen. Meade brought $1; Hon. Edward Everett contributed the manuscript of a short speech made by him at the dinner of the Alumni of Harvard at their late triennial celebration, which brought $10. This contribution was superbly bound in half morocco, and lettered, with the printed text annexed, and accompanied by an original letter.—Among other original manuscripts, two extracts from Longfellow's charming Portland poem, "My Lost Youth," brought $2; T. B. Aldrich's delicate poem, "The King's Wine," in the November number of the Atlantic, in the author's dainty handwriting, brought $1; the printer's copy of "Blondell," by James Russell Lowell, in the same number, brought $1.50; the clear and legible manuscript of Gail Hamilton's "My Birds" brought $3; Dr. Holmes contributed his "Song to Canaan," and his magazine article "Asylum for Decayed Punsters," which brought $1.50. A large number of autographs were sold. Among the number Agassiz's brought $3; R. W. Emerson's $1; Charles Sumner's 50 cents; and Gen. B. F. Butler's 25 cents.—Portland Courier.

The arrangements for the above Fair were all on the most liberal scale, and it was given at the residence of one of the most wealthy and public-spirited of Portland's citizens. The idea was happily conceived and nobly carried out, and the letters from the President and Gen. Meade were written in special commendation of the object proposed.

TREASONABLE ORGANIZATIONS IN INDIANA.—A Dying Confession.—A man named Reuben Stout, belonging to the 60th Indiana Infantry, was shot on Johnston's Island last Friday for desertion. He was allowed to go home on furlough, and when there was met by several Copperheads, who persuaded him not to return, and promised him protection. In a confession made just before his death, he says:

"After I had been there about two weeks I was advised by several persons not to go back to the army—they said this was only an 'Abolition war,' and advised me to stay at home and they would protect me. I was induced to go to a meeting of the so-called Knights of the Golden Circle, and was made a member of that organization.—The obligations of the order bound us to do all we could against the war—to resist the draft, if one should be made, and likewise to resist and oppose all confiscation or emancipation measures, in every possible way. We were sworn to stand by each other in all measures of resistance. We were pledged to do all we could to prevent another man or dollar going from the State for the further prosecution of the war. I met with this secret meeting several times, and entered into their views and plans."

When a squad attempted to arrest him he killed one of the party. Had he not done this he would hardly have been executed. The confession is important, as evincing the animus and the treasonable designs of the Butternut party.

Valuable Farm, Live Stock, Crops, &c.
AT AUCTION,
On THURSDAY, Nov. 12th, at 11 o'clock,
on the premises, in Newington.
The valuable and beautiful FARM formerly owned by the Hon. James Pickering. This desirable estate, comprising about seventy acres, is situated in Newington, about four miles from Portsmouth and one mile from depot of Concord Railroad at Greenland. The buildings consist of a convenient House, containing ten rooms, excellent cellar, &c., together with Barn and other suitable Outbuildings, &c. The land is suitably divided into tillage, pasturage and mowing fields. Upon it are some of the very best varieties of Apple and Pear trees, many of which are in good bearing condition, together with the smaller fruits, such as Currants, Raspberries, &c. The beautiful shade trees scattered over the land, its eligibility to a good market, excellent pasturage and general beauty of its situation, make this one of the most desirable estates ever offered for sale in this section of the State, either for a gentleman's country residence or for a practical farmer.
There are two Wells on the Farm, and the two Pastures, which are both excellent, are abundantly supplied with never-failing streams of the purest water.
Also will be sold, immediately after the Farm, the Live Stock on the place, consisting of 1 YOKE OXEN, five good COWS, two yearling HEIFERS, eight SHEEP, a black MARE, one young HORSE, three HOGS.

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS.—The true Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pains so erroneously judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 4 to 6 Pills, to get a decent cathartic, was the first stage in their development. The dose seldom exceeding One, and never more than Two Pills, settles the question of economy, and character can be best known by confidence to test them in DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, BILIOUSNESS, LIVER COMPLAINT, all derangements of the stomach and bowels, and as a Family Pill. spno

Probate Advertisements.

The language of the law relating to the publication of Probate Notices is:

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper therefor."

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notice may be ordered for the Chronicle or the Gazette; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

Our terms are as low as those of any other paper.

☞ Never before was there such a good chance to make public improvements in Portsmouth as now. We will suggest a few; putting bridges across the North and South Mill-ponds, laying out a Common or Mall near each; and continuing Park street from Wibird's Hill to South Road, and Austin street across lots to Cass street.—Now is the time to extend the city proper, and by bringing more and larger lots into the market, to prevent any more such unnecessary huddling of houses, as the town is now full of. When these are carried out, we will suggest others—a new City Hall, &c., for instance.

☞ We understand that the proprietors and landlords of the Rockingham House, in this city, Messrs. W. E. Hadley & Co., contemplate materially enlarging that favorite hotel, by putting up a large wing, running easterly from the end of the main building. We hope they will do so—the accommodation is greatly needed by the public.

☞ Speculation is rife, even in quiet old Portsmouth—and real estate changes hands like any fancy stocks. And scarcely a buyer gets his deed in his hands, before somebody else wants to go quite a bonus better, or else wants to hear himself talk about it. But keep cool, boys; and don't all expect to get rich at once.

☞ A great improvement is the widening of Woodbury street, from Creek street, and the nice new granite wall on the City Farm there. Superintendent Norton understands how to do things up in good shape. And Mr. Bilbrook, on the square on the opposite corner, is also fitting up one of the finest estates in the city, — everything substantial and in good taste. If that width of Woodbury street is continued throughout, as it should be, it will be the finest avenue in town, by and bye—an honor to the name, as the name is to it.

☞ An immense Fisher apple,—we believe the largest we ever saw, is on our desk, from the garden of Mr. R. K. Oxford, Middle street. It weighs 14 ounces, and girts 13 inches almost—and it "looks good enough to eat," only we are waiting to see if it won't duplicate itself. We hope we shan't get duped ourselves, and lose the beauty.

S. J. COURT, Saturday.—In the case F. O. J. Smith vs. Samuel A. Bean,—a verdict was rendered for pltf., for $312.

The jurors were discharged and court adjourned to Monday

A GOOD APPOINTMENT.—Mr. Wm. S. Baker, for five years the urbane and attentive clerk at the United States Hotel in Portland, has been appointed conductor on the Horse Railroad, and his smiling countenance can now be seen on the new car which has been added to the line. Mr. Baker will win a golden name in his new position.—Portland Courier.

Mr. Baker was for some time clerk at the Franklin House in this city, and his many friends here will be pleased to hear of his promotion.

CATSHEADS AND COPPERHEADS.—The new ship of Tobey & Littlefield, at the Pier, has recently donned a new symbol, that might, but we presume does not, indicate that the owners were of the party designated Copperheads. "The projecting timber from which a ship's anchor is weighed," is usually ornamented with a piece of carved work, sometimes the head of an animal, a star, or shield: in this case the decoration is a large, copper-colored human face. A mere freak of the fancy, we suppose, as the ship is not yet sold; but the splendid craft is worthy of a gold figure-head or cat-head. H.

☞ Ephraim Jackson, of this city, 15th N. H. regiment, is at the Ocean House Hospital, Portsmouth, Va., sick with the asthma; Nathaniel Gunnison is also there, but is convalescent. Harlan P. Hodgdon, of the 10th regiment, is at the Macon House Hospital, Portsmouth, Va., convalescent.—Owen H. Roche is at Hampton Hospital, Va.

☞ Carpenter Andrew J. Hough, U. S. N., of this city, has been detached from the U. S. screw-sloop Lancaster, and ordered home.

☞ The Richmond Enquirer of the 27th says:—

The condition of the currency has become so alarming that its importance has risen even above the excitement of military movements. From every quarter of the confederacy, essays, schemes, expedients and remedies are daily scattered broadcast over the country, and suggestions of every character and description are urged. One thing is certain and indisputable, the present financial management is an utter and absolute failure, rendered so, not by Mr. Memminger, but by the people themselves. The funding system of Mr. Memminger could succeed only by the prompt and persisting co-operation of the people by coming forward and continuing to convert the currency into bonds. It is not necessary to inquire into the reason why the people have failed. The fact that they have not and will not voluntarily fund the currency is an important matter for legislative consideration."

COURTSHIP IN THE 19TH CENTURY.—On Saturday last the inhabitants of Eastbourne were amused by singular intelligence, proclaimed by the "town crier," who, having given the usual summons with the bell, and his clear and stentorian "Oh, yes," announced the fact—not that a lady had lost her lover—but that she wished to obtain one. It appears that the lady in question met a gentleman in the bazaar held for the benefit of the Wesleyan Chapel Fund. The agreeable manners and personal appearance of the gentleman so pleased the lady that she desired a more private and prolonged interview, and being ignorant of the name and address of the gentleman, she called to her aid the town crier to announce to the loved one that his presence was requested on the Parade between the hours of eight and nine P. M.—Surrey (Eng.) Standard.

☞ We understand that one of that enterprising firm of Bachman & Co. is again in New York, to select Cloakings, cloth for Cloakings, Dress-goods, &c., for ladies' and Misses' wear,—and we advise our lady friends to wait for a few days until their new stock comes, as they will get the latest and best style that will be out this season.

Would you save yourself from suffering after eating, or from acidity of the stomach, or burning sensation, or indigestion? Use Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus. Never use soda if you can procure this article. It will strengthen weak stomachs and relieve dyspepsia; is a saving in the quantity of flour, &c., &c. Try it. Grocers and Druggists input all sell it. The Wholesale Agents are Wholesale Grocers.

Capt. and Provost Marshal, 1st Cong. Dist., N. H.
Portsmouth, Oct. 31, 1863.

Notice of Appeal.

State of New Hampshire, Rockingham, ss.

To John Rider, Executor of the will of Mary Rider, late of Portsmouth, in the County of Rockingham, deceased, testate, and to the heirs at law of the estate of the said Mary Rider and all others interested therein:

Notice is hereby given that at a Court of Probate holden at Portsmouth, in said county, on the fourteenth day of July, 1863, it was ordered and decreed that John Rider be allowed for his services as Executor of the will of said Mary Rider the sum of six hundred and fifty-eight dollars and sixty cents, and as J. John Rider was allowed to take at a value less than the market value thereof, certain shares in the bank of New Hampshire and in the Rockingham bank belonging to said testator, and which he charged himself with at a price than he sold and claimed to have and actually received, as Executor, pay therefor; and that the subscribers, being interested in said decree, appealed from said order and decree, on the first day of August, A. D. 1863, claimed an appeal therefrom to the Supreme Judicial Court to be held at Dover, within and for the First Judicial District of this State, on the third Tuesday of December next, and filed in the Probate Office for said county their bond to respond the cost that shall be awarded against them, agreeably to the statute in such cases provided.

Dated the 10th day of September, 1863.

	Pallid Countenance.
	Dryness of the Skin.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which Remedicine invariably removes, soon follow IMPOTENCY, FATUITY, EPILEPTIC FITS, In one of which the patient may expire. Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "direful diseases."

INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION.

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, but none will confess. The records of the Insane Asylums and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample with one to the truth of the assertion.

THE CONSTITUTION, ONCE AFFECTED WITH ORGANIC WEAKNESS,

Requires the aid of medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. A trial will convince the most skeptical.

Females, Females, Females,

OLD OR YOUNG, SINGLE, MARRIED, OR CONTEMPLATING MARRIAGE.

In many affections peculiar to females the Extract Buchu is unquestionably the best medicine, as in Chlorie or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness, or Suppression of the Customary Evacuations, Leucorrhea, or Whites, Sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from Indiscretion, Habits of Intemperance, or in the

THE BEST COOK STOVE

IN THE MARKET,

AFTER ALL SAID,

—IS—

STEWART'S

NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT,

SUMMER AND WINTER

COOKING STOVE,

For Wood or Coal,

IMPROVED IN 1859.

The peculiarities of the

STEWART COOK STOVE,

Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will lie and smoulder and char, upon the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be frequently followed by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward moveable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove, may be confined within or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove from the time the article is set in until it is removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent RESERVOIR (of copper, with a tin coating) containing from 10 to 30 gallons, in which the water heat, in passing off, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The water from this reservoir is occupied with a TIN CLOSET, where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c.

4. Also, by the aid of the TOP COVER, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DOUBLE OVEN prepared for the purpose—the heat (being communicated to it from the side of the fire box; and the fumes, meanwhile, passing into the draft.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of meat may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; and the current instituted for this purpose is observient to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no increase of combustion.

7. By the aid of the perforated metallic listings, or "gas burning arrangement" and application of the full summer dress, the various culinary processes may be carried forward successfully with a single stick of wood at a time.

8. In regard to DURABILITY, the Stewart Stove is made to last, and will last. The structural form is such that the frame work of it can not burn out.

All the plates constituting the original STEWART STOVE, which was brought out twenty years ago, are still made, and sent to different parts of the country, on call.

The price of QUIETNESS, COMFORT and HEALTH secured to a family by the use of a culinary apparatus perfectly adapted to their wants, cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents.

But we can not, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of the STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE

Now in use, which has been widely tested

FOR TWENTY YEARS,

and now found wanting in any particular. Yes, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and used for a score of years, but the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made improvements—so that the Stewart Stove of 1863 is as superior to that of 1844, as the Mowing Machine is to a Bush Scythe.

IT HAS NOT BEEN EXCELLED

CALENDAR CLOCKS.

These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, to secure all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 30th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.

Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar attachment; and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. They will be set up in any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

GOLDEN SHEAF WHISKEY.

The subscriber, having been engaged for the last twenty years in the importation and sale of Wines and Spirits, now finds from this experience that real

Pure Bourbon Whiskey,

when made as it ought to be, from WHEAT, RYE AND CORN, is, without doubt, the most healthful and medical spirit that can be used. Having determined to make the sale of this article a speciality in his business, he has accepted the

General Agency for a large Distillery in Bourbon County, Kentucky, and in future will sell, under the brand of

"Golden Sheaf,"

PURE BOURBON WHISKEY, manufactured from the BEST SELECTED GRAINS, and made in the most careful manner.

This celebrated Whiskey will be put up in cases containing one dozen bottles each, and offered to the Trade by his Travelling agents throughout the country, and will be kept on hand in his warehouse in Boston, in barrels, half barrels and kegs.

Individuals desirous of procuring a pure, reliable article of BOURBON WHISKEY, at a reasonable price, have only to inquire of any respectable Grocer or Druggist for "GOLDEN SHEAF WHISKEY," or to send their orders for any quantity required to the General Depot for its sale, 91 Washington St. Boston.

Each bottle is enclosed in a neat pasteboard box, to ensure its safe transportation.

HEALTH AND COMFORT.

Patent Rubber Sole Boots and Shoes.

FOR MEN, BOYS AND YOUTH.

These Goods, having been carefully tested, prove to be more desirable than any other Boots and Shoes heretofore made. They answer the double purpose of Leather and Rubber Boots and Shoes.

They are made serviceable and easier to the feet than Leather Soles, are impervious to water, and have a leather inner sole do not draw the feet, and are far less expensive than Rubber Boots.

They are free from noise, prevent slipping on ice, and in keeping the feet dry and warm are conducive to health.

When the Soles wear out, the Boots and Shoes can be tapped with leather, or, if returned to us entire, new Rubber Soles can be put on.

The subscribers, having made arrangements as Agents for the sale of the above goods, are now prepared to take measures for the same, in different styles, and deliver them at short notice. They are made from the best stock to be found in the market, and warranted in every particular. Call and examine samples, at No. 12 Market street.

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the exception of a top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling out of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and use of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which is conveyed through the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their special gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 50 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the dome can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off in a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used.

We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

Teeth on Vulcanized Rubber.

SOME OF ITS ADVANTAGES.

1st. It is stronger and lighter than any known material.

2d. From two to six times the amount of suction or adhesion can be obtained by it.

3d. When the arch is irregular we can by building out the depressions—which can be done to any extent—give the mouth a more natural appearance.

4th. No bad taste arises in the mouth by its use, as the secretions of the stomach and mouth do not affect it in the least.

5th. Articles made upon this base can be kept clean and sweet as easy as a saucer, as when finished the work presents one whole piece.

6th. While in all ways it is better, save in a few peculiar cases, it is much cheaper than Gold.

DR. A. P. STEVENS, Surgeon Dentist,

No. 5 Daniel St., Portsmouth, has had four years of practical experience in vulcanizing the material, and will guarantee satisfaction in all cases entrusted to his care.

The Chronicle.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

GEN. MEAGHER'S RECOLLECTIONS.—The gallant and eloquent Gen. Thomas F. Meagher, of the Irish Brigade, appeared last week at the Mechanic Hall in Salem, Mass., before the Young Men's Catholic Temperance Society. The subject of his address was, "Recollections of the army of the Potomac," an exceedingly well written and forcible production, calculated to enforce upon his hearers the duty of heartily supporting the government, and to oppose those who would paralyse its ability to strike at the rebellion. His denunciations of the 'peace democracy,' and the aristocracy of the South, which seeks to build a government on slavery, were wholesome comments for his countrymen to hear and 'inwardly digest.'

The following passage from his description of the seven days' fighting on the Peninsula, shows what an opportunity was lost at that time:—

Richmond was within four miles of them. One of the pioneers of the 69th New York—formerly a sailor—an immense, shaggy, iron-built fellow, with a tanned skin and a tempestuous eye, agile and daring as a tiger—darting up a towering pine—saw the dome of the Capitol flashing through the smoke of the city, the church spires and shining fragments of the bridges over the James river. The object of the enemy was to drive them from the railroad, back to the Chickahominy, and into it if possible.—Met by Sedgwick on the right—by French and Howard on the centre—the Irish brigade supporting those gallant and accomplished officers—met by Kearney on the left—baffled, broken, routed at all three points at the one and the same time—at noon that day the rebel forces were pursued by Hooker, Sickles's brigade being foremost. Had he been permitted, Hooker would have followed them into Richmond. Kearney was mad for the pursuit. So was Sumner. So was French. Never could he forget the fierceness with which General Kearney used to speak of that day—never forget how his quick, stormy, imperious eye used to flash its lightnings—never forget how that proud frame of his used to swell with vehement vexation, with furious impatience, with savage resentment almost—as he spoke of the opportunity which had been cast to the idle winds that day. A splendid soldier, full of animation, full of electricity, full of daring, he could not brook the caution which satisfied itself with half a victory; and inflamed with faith in enthusiasm and rapid action, chafed and beat the air with anger when a tamer policy prevailed."

This tame policy was condemned in our hearing, shortly after the battle, by an officer, who said one of the generals cried for vexation, when his superior officer, Gen. McClellan, refused to let them pursue the routed foe. This tame policy cost thousands of lives in our army, and millions of money: but no doubt it has been overruled for good, in the unmasking of traitors, worse foes than rebels themselves. V. T.

JUST AS WELL TO DO IT IN A HURRY. Why, you see, when my man came a courtin' me, I hadn't the least thought of what he was after—not I. Jobbie came to our house one night, after dark, and rapped at the door. I opened it, and sure enough, there stood Jobbie right before my face and eyes. "Come in," sez I, "and take a cheer." "No, Lizzie," sez he, "I've come on an arrant, and I always do my arrants fus."—"But you had better come in and take a cheer, Mr. W——." "No, I can't. The fact is, Lizzie, I've come on this courtin' business. My wife's been dead these three weeks, and everything is going to rack and ruin right straight along. Now, Lizzie, if you've a mind to have me, an take care of my home, an' my children an' things, tell me, an' I'll come in an' take a cheer; if' not, I'll get some one else tu." Why, I was skeered, and sed—"If you come on this courtin' business, come in; I must think on it a little." "No, I can't till I know. That's my arrant—and I can't sit down till my arrant's done." "I should like to think on't a day or two." "No, you needn't, Lizzie." "Well, John, if I must, I must—so here's to you then." So Mr. W—— came in. Then he went arter the Square, an' he married us right off, an' I went home with Jobbie that very night. I tell you what it is, these long courtin's don't amount to nothin' at all. Just as well to do it in a hurry.

EYE, N. H., Feb. 20, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some six or twelve bottles of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as the cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it; since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with dizziness at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From ELOKA I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1861.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1860, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. mar26y

The Old Established Hospital.
No. 5 Beaver Street, Albany, N. Y.
QUICK CURES AND LOW PRICES.
Over Twenty Thousand Patients Cured Annually!

DR. J. TELLER continues to be confidentially and successfully consulted on all forms of private diseases, at his old Established Hospital, No. 5 Beaver Street, Albany, N. Y. Twenty years devoted to this one particular branch of practice, enables him to perform cures such as no other Physician can, and his facilities are such (being in correspondence with the most eminent Physicians of the Old World) obtained during the war, as well as the latest remedies for these diseases, offer inducements to the unfortunate of a quick and rapid cure, to be obtained at no other office in America.

In Syphilis, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Enlargement of the Testicles and Spermatic Cords Buboes, Ulcerated Throat, Sore Nose, Tender Shin Bones, Cutaneous Eruptions, Blies, Ulcers, Abscesses, and all other impurities of the system, are particularly under the control of Dr. Teller's Medicines, and have been tested in more than 20,000 cases annually, with immense Success.

YOUNG MEN.

Young Men addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their healths and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of the Married Life, are warned to shun consulting Dr. J. Teller, they will find a friend to counsel and a Physician who has cured thousands, in almost every part of the United States, who applied to Dr. T. broken down in health, now rejoice in all that makes life desirable and man happy. The reader is of course aware that the delicacy of the subject will prevent a more minute description of this terrible disease.

DR. TELLER'S GREAT WORK.

A book for everybody—married and single, of courses. Dr. TELLER's great work for the Married or those contemplating marriage—200 pages—full of plates—price 25 cts. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail, post paid. 50,000 copies sold the past year. The single Married and the Married Happy. A lecture on Love, or how to choose a Partner—a complete work on Midwifery. It contains hundreds of secrets, never before published.—Warranted to be worth three times the amount asked for it. 25 cents, in specie or postage stamps, inclosed, will secure a copy by return mail. Dr. TELLER has devoted a lifetime to the cure of those diseases upon which his books treat.

TO THE LADIES.

DR. TELLER still remains the only Agency in America, for the sale of Dr. Nichol's Italian Female Monthly Pills. The sale of more than 300,000 boxes establishes their reputation as a female remedy, unapproached, and far in advance of every other medicine—for stoppages, irregularities, and other obstructions in females.

CAUTION.—Married ladies in certain delicate situations should avoid their use. For reasons see directions which accompany each Package, for the guidance of patients. On the receipt of $1, (the price per box,) these Pills will be sent, by mail or express, to any part of the world, secure from curiosity or damage.

Office hours from 8 A. M. to 8 P. M.; and on Sundays from 9 to 2 P. M.

N. B.—Persons at a distance can be cured at home by addressing a letter to Dr. J. Teller, enclosing a remittance. Medicines securely packed from observation, sent to any part of the world. All cases warranted. No charge for advice.—N. B.—No students or boys employed. Notice this, and address all letters to

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. Thomas has made a brief official report of the capture of Lookout Mountain, on the night of October 28th, in which he says:—

The enemy attacked Gen. Geary's division, posted at Wauhatchee, on three sides, and broke his camp at one point, but was driven back in most gallant style by part of his force, the remainder being held in reserve. Howard, whilst marching to Geary's relief, was attacked on the flank, the enemy occupying in force two commanding hills on the left side of the road. He immediately threw forward two of his regiments and took both at the point of the point of the bayonet, driving the enemy from his breastworks and across Lookout Creek. In this brilliant success over their old adversary, the conduct of the officers and men of the 11th and 12th corps is entitled to the highest praise.

The troops of the Texas expedition occupied Opelousas Oct. 23. The rebels made a stand five miles from the town but were quickly driven from the field. The new expedition fitting out at New Orleans is probably going to Texas, and hence may be "under the immediate command of Gen. Banks." Brownville is supposed to be the point aimed at.

Hawkins' guerrillas have been routed and dispersed with a loss of 66 prisoners, near Centreville, Tenn.

The portion of Gen. Burnside's forces occupying Loudon, Tenn., have retired to the heights on the north side of the river, commanding Loudon.

The N. Y. Times' dispatch says that Gen. Butler is to succeed Gen. Foster, and that the latter will have command of the defences of Washington.

Lee and Gen. Meade are both manœuvering for favorable positions, but the impression prevails that Lee will not risk a battle outside of his intrenchments on the south side of the Rapida. The guerrillas are still bold and active in the rear of our army.

☞ A stranger gentleman recently stopped at a hotel in Newburyport till his board amounted to eight dollars, and then insulted the landlord by offering him a ten dollar gold piece in payment, declining all paper money by way of change; and when informed by Boniface that the city did not probably afford cash enough to change the tempting "mint drop," he had the audacity to draw from his pocket sundry clean Spanish dollars, pistareens and old-fashioned quarters, and paid his board with such trash, not asking premium therefor. The facts were given to the Herald of that city, which says this single payment probably added four hundred per cent. to the circulating medium of the place, though this was allowed to circulate only into the landlord's drawer.

COMMUTATIONS.—Provost Marshal General James B. Fry officially states that "a State receives the same credit for a man who was paid commutation as if the drafted citizen had gone in person or furnished a substitute; and in like manner towns which have raised the money to pay their quotas receive the same credit as if actual substitutes had been furnished, and the President has ordered that every citizen who has paid the $300 commutation shall receive the same credit therefor as if he had furnished a substitute, and is exonerated from military service for the time for which he was drafted, to wit, for 3 years."

☞ A plot implicating a large number of persons in Ohio, has been discovered, to release the 3500 rebel prisoners confined at Camp Chase, seize the arsenal at Columbus, release John Morgan and other rebel prisoners, and then to commence a rebel campaign in Ohio. Several arrests have been made. The conspiracy was brought to light by United States detectives, who were supposed by the parties implicated to be spies from the rebel army, and were treated with full confidence. Information has been obtained that the organization exists in Illinois, waiting for the outbreak in Ohio.

☞ The insurrection in San Domingo is very extensive. The Spaniards have burned Santiago and Porto Plato, destroying five millions' worth of property, including the valuable stores of the foreign merchants. The insurgents defeated the Spaniards in the fight previous to the destruction of the latter place, and drove them back to the fort with heavy loss; but the Spaniards sallied forth again and with the aid of the guns of the fort drove the insurgents from the town, and destroyed it.

☞ The steamer Empress, from Natchez, arrived in New Orleans Oct. 21st., with 4901 bales of cotton, worth in the neighborhood of two millions of dollars; the most valuable cargo ever brought to that port.

☞ Anna A. Dower, who has been tried three times for the murder of Mrs. Harrison Wilkins, at Lowell, by poison, has been discharged on her own personal recognizance.

BOYS ON LIBERTY.

On Friday last, two little brothers of seven and ten years old obtained the consent of their parents to take a row in a small boat. The consent was given with some reluctance, but after hearing the arguments of the wo boys in favor of liberty, that "other boys had more liberty than they had, and could go where they pleased to enjoy themselves," they concluded to let them have their own way, and take their liberty after the afternoon school hours.

Tea time came, and the supper bell was rung as usual outside the door for the boys, but they did not come. Supper was finished, and it was now nearly seven o'clock, and had been quite dark for over an hour, and yet the boys came not. Their father, with anxious fears for their safety, put on his overcoat, for it was a chilly fall evening, and he went forth into the darkness to look for his lovers of liberty.

Leaving him to search for them, let us follow the boys. From school, with a companion of their own age, they repaired to the boat, took in the oars, cast off, and pulled about in a listless manner for some time, until suddenly the thought struck them that it would be an excellent plan to visit a small island which lay a short distance from them across the stream, called Oyster Island, and forthwith they rowed to its shore. Having landed, they made fast the painter to a rock, and then, full of Robinson Crusoe enthusiasm, strolled about exploring the little islet, until the sun had set, and, as the night began to creep up from the east, they returned to the boat. Alas! their boasted liberty had changed to bondage; the boat was aground; the tide had receded and left her high and dry upon the shore. What was to be done? It was in vain to think of trying to push her off. She was much too heavy: their combined weakness would not move her an inch. The youngest threw himself upon the ground in despair, but the two elder boys had not lost heart; so, full of the Robinson Crusoe romance, they took the oars up to the dry portion of the isle, and commenced building a snug retreat for their night's rest among the short scrub bushes that grow in the centre of the island. Whilst they were engaged in this work a boat passed near with one man in it. They called to him in their distress, but he said that he was himself late with his tide, and could not stop for their relief. They watched him as he pulled away and disappeared in the dim twilight, and then committing themselves to the care of Him who loves little children, they lay down together beneath the boughs and upon the bed of leaves which they had collected, and, shutting their eyes, tried to sleep for the first time with the silent stars shining upon them. But the thoughts of home, of a comfortable supper room, and the sweet smiles and kind words of a mother, and the anxiety she must feel on their account, put sleep out of the question. "Oh!" cried one of them, "if I were on Liberty bridge, how quick I'd be at home." But liberty had made no bridge for them from the isle.—Suddenly the youngest boy jumped up and exclaimed, "I will not stay here all night; I cannot," and just then he heard the sound of oars again, and peering through the darkness, he perceived a boat with two men in it just passing down by the island. He shouted, and his companions arose from their leafy bed and shouted too. The men rested on their oars and hailed them with "What do you want?" "Our boat is aground, and we want to go home to Portsmouth," said one of the small voices. The words must have reached a father's ear, for they touched the kindly hearts of the boatmen; they turned their prow towards the wanderers, whose hearts were filled with joy and thankfulness for their merciful deliverance. The boatmen kindly took them in, and soon set their feet upon their home shore. Thanks, kind men, whoever you are,—I know not, but you shall not lose your reward for this "cup of cold water" to these thirsty little ones, who might have perished in the damp, cold night upon the island.

The boys met their father looking in vain for the boat or any traces of their whereabouts, and it lightened his heart to clasp their little cold hands in his, and take them to the embraces of their anxious mother, and the comforts of a good supper and a warm bed. But the boys are convinced from this adventure that too much liberty leads to the worst type of bondage.

☞ Ship Star of the West, at New York from Liverpool, reports: Oct. 17, lat. 47° 30m., lon. 27°, saw a vessel about 12 miles distant on fire, but it being calm could not get near her. Same evening saw a large screw steamer steering eastward.

Ship C. Grinnell, from London, reports: Oct. 18, lat. 46° 14m., lon. 27°, passed hull of a large ship on fire, with her spars lying alongside. The ship was painted black and had the appearance of an American ship.

☞ The Gulf blockading squadron has made several captures recently. Blockade running on that part of the coast is ruining all who engage in it.

LAST AND BEST.

THE MODEL COOK,

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,

WITH TWO OVENS,

And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted. A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either side, when needed.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and dispatch are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

VICTOR COAL STOVE.

We offer this beautiful coal burner to the public with full confidence in its merits.

It was brought into market three years since, and has come rapidly into use.

The Victor is one of the handsomest parlor stoves in the market, and is perfect in its operation.

The arrangement for dumping the ashes is very fine—no dust need escape into the room—a continuous fire may be kept throughout the winter—the coal all burned and no clinkers made.

The quantity of fuel used is very small indeed.

We have sold a large number of Victor Stoves in this city, and they receive the highest commendation from those who are using them.

Portsmouth, N. H., Oct. 24, 1863.

Valuable Farm, Live Stock, Crops, &c.

AT AUCTION,

On THURSDAY, Nov. 12th, at 11 o'clock,

on the premises, in Newington.

The valuable and beautiful FARM, formerly owned by the Hon. James Pickering. This desirable estate, comprising about seventy acres, is situated in Newington, about four miles from Portsmouth and one mile from depot of Concord Railroad at Greenland. The buildings consist of a convenient House, containing ten rooms, excellent cellar, &c., together with Barn and other suitable Outbuildings, &c. The land is suitably divided into tillage, pasturage and mowing fields. Upon it are some of the very best varieties of Apple and Pear trees, many of which are in good bearing condition, together with the smaller fruits, such as Currants, Raspberries, &c. The beautiful shade trees scattered over the land, its eligibility to a good market, excellent pasturage and general beauty of its location, make this one of the most desirable estates ever offered for sale in this section of the State, either for a gentleman's country residence or for a practical farmer.

There are two Wells on the Farm, and the two Pastures, which are both excellent, are abundantly supplied with never-failing streams of the purest water.

Also will be sold, immediately after the farm, the Live Stock on the place, consisting of 1 Yoke OXEN, five good COWS, two young HEIFERS, eight SHEEP, a black MARE, one young HORSE, three HOGS.

Also the CROPS, consisting of a large quantity of HAY, CORN, BARLEY, POTATOES, &c.

A good WAGON, Ox Cart, Ox Sled, Roller, and a variety of Farming Implements.

Also a good PIANO, and other articles of Household Furniture.

For particulars apply to S. C. PERKINS, 108 Tremont street, Boston, CHAS. T. EMERY, Jeweller, Portsmouth, N. H. or on the premises. c28—3taw&Wt

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS.—The true Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pains so erroneously judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 4 to 8 Pills to get a decent cathartic, was the study in this development. The dose seldom exceeding One, and never more than Two Pills, settles the question of economy, and character can be best known by confidence to test them in DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, BILIOUSNESS, LIVER COMPLAINT, all derangements of the stomach and Bowels, and as a Family Pill.

Probate Advertisements.

The language of the law relating to the publication of Probate Notices is:

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper therefor."

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notice may be ordered for the Chronicle or the Gazette; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

Our terms are as low as those of any other paper.

Local.

S. J. COURT, Monday.—Joseph Locke, found guilty of keeping a disorderly house, was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and costs.

State vs. Joseph Emerson, indicted for burning a house in Northwood, was put on trial. Bell for State. Goodall and Hackett for deft.

☞ Mr. Wendell announces an Auction sale of Furniture and rarities, at his store in State street, this morning—we presume, only if fair weather, to secure which, he postponed his sale from Saturday. He thinks Saturday is more rainy than almost any other day in the week, of late years; and really it seems so to us also, judging from the number of auctions we have to chronicle, "postponed on account of the weather."

☞ "The Hutchinson Family," par excellence, announce a concert for Wednesday (to-morrow) evening, in this city.—One of their unique entertainments is necessary, once a year, to keep us all in tune; and this must needs be the best they have given for a long time, since John and Asa have combined their forces—and to hear them since together themselves, is a rare old treat, as it always was.

LOOK OUT FOR BODGE,—he of the Jewelry Store, we mean, corner of High Street—and the new and fresh stock of watches, jewelry and fancy goods he is now selecting in New York, for his fall trade and the holiday presents. He buys for cash, and so buys low; and will offer his customers great bargains. Look out for 'em!

☞ A new "Oysterman," or rather a new vessel for the fleet employed in carrying or bringing the bivalves, is the fine schooner launched a few days since, from the Raynes Yard, by Mr. Wm. F. Fernald; and now lying among the new ships, at the foot of State street. She is about 150 tons, owned by parties in this city and Provincetown, we believe; and we hear her name is to be the "Albert Clarence."

☞ Schooner Mary Hall, 65 tons, built at Cohasset, Mass., in 1852, has been sold by her owners in this city for $1500, to go to Rockland, Me.

The schooner Emeline has also been sold for $1100, to go to Tremont, Me. She is 61 tons burthen, and was built at Essex, Mass., in 1845.

A LIVE FIRM.—Messrs. Deering & Yeaton, the riggers, of Pier Wharf loft, are rigging four vessels at the present time—the three new ships, and the schooner, all recently launched, and lying at the wharves foot of State street.

POPE NIGHT is coming. Don't you hear the boys blowing their horns? We wonder if anybody else blows horns now-a-days. Where's Whittem?

☞ That big Apple has been "duplicated," only the mate to it is a Pear, that's all—but as that makes a pair of 'em, why its fair to call them both apples, isn't it?—Our old friend J. F. Shores, esq., who after all is one of that sort of men who never do grow "old," count they never so many years—and who is withal a good judge of fruits and flowers—says it is not the largest he raised, but he sees none bigger among what he has now. It is a beauty, of the excellent Duchess d'Angouleme variety, and weighs the biggest part of a pound—just 12 ounces. It anybody can beat it, we should like to see them do it!

☞ The frequent strikes at the different yards, and the no less frequent applications of workmen for increase of pay, having embarrassed the government very much of late, the Secretary of the Navy has issued an important order which promises to settle the matter. Instructions were on Friday forwarded from the Department, to the commanding officers of the Charlestown, Portsmouth, Philadelphia and Brooklyn yards, requesting them to appoint each a board of officers for the purpose of investigating the rates of pay at the different shipyards and workshops in the cities named, with the view to equalize the wages paid by the government and by private parties.

SWORD AND BELT PRESENTED.—The drafted men and substitutes at Long Island recently presented Col. John H. Jackson, of the 3d N. H. Regiment, with a magnificent sword and belt, as a token of their regard for him.

☞ That Concentrated Potash sold by Moulton & Blaisdell, and a sample of which we have tried, is a capital article—strong and clean, and about the best thing of the kind we ever used. See advertisement.

— A leading Boston broker induced certain parties to take an interest in a mining operation; finding it a bad affair, he took the stock off their hands, shouldering the loss himself. His name, gentlemen of the press?

— An Irishman recently said: "Ireland gave me a birth-place, which was all she could give; England gave my father a dungeon; but America gave me a good home, and, be jabers, I'm a Union man from the ground up—all the time."

— An Irishman in Lynn, Mass., who had been imprisoned four months for beating his wife, undertook to poison her and his two children, by placing Spanish flies in the teapot. He has been committed to jail.

— A Maine editor in speaking of the departure of a minister to Canada, says: "We don't think his loss will be seriously felt if he remains in Canada for the balance of his life." He should have more respect for the cloth.

— Five boys, belonging in Cambridge, Mass., undertook to steal a ride in a freight car on the Fitchburg road. The doors were closed and fastened as usual by the employees; the car went north, and three days afterwards the boys were discovered closely shut up, and nearly starved, at Rouse's Point.

— Among the articles offered for a premium at a late fair in Topsham, Me., was a tin can of blueberries, tightly sealed, and not to be opened. The examining committee testified that while they could express no opinion of their excellence, the completeness of their concealment was admirable.

CARPETS.—Those wanting to furnish or redecorate their dwellings with Carpets, should read the advertisement in our paper of the New England Carpet Company.

☞ We understand that one of that enterprising firm of Bachman & Co. is again in New York, to select Cloakings, cloth for Cloakings, Dress goods, &c., for ladies' and Misses' wear,—and we advise our lady friends to wait for a few days until their new stock comes, as they will get the latest and best style that will be out this season.

☞ The Domestic Dyes prepared by Geo. H. Reed & Co. offer the simplest and most perfect means of dyeing household apparel ever presented the public. They embrace 40 different shades, and include all the new and fashionable colors—and are perfectly fast. Samples on silk and wool can be seen and the colors procured of THACHER. ja20

☞ See yon fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. ly.

JAPANESE FURNITURE.—If European joints could only be made supple enough to enable their owners to dispense with sofas and chairs, and, par consequence, with tables, and we were hardly enough to lie on clean mats, six feet by three, stuffed with fine straw, and beautifully made with a silk border, so as to form a sort of reticulated carpet for rooms of any size, the solution of that much-debated question, the possibility of marrying on four hundred pounds a year, might certainly be predicted with something like unanimity in favor of matrimony. The upholsterer's bill never can offer any impediment to a young couple in Japan. Their future house is taken, containing generally three or four little rooms, in which clean mats are put. Each then brings to the housekeeping a cotton stuffed quilt and a box of wearing apparel for their own personal use; a pan to cook the rice, half a dozen lacker cups and trays to eat off; a large tub to bathe and wash in are added on the general account, and these complete the establishment.—*Sir R. For Physicians' Use,
FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS
SAMBUCUS IKEE, OF PORTUGAL,

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or unauthorized article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

THE BEST COOK STOVE
IN THE MARKET,
AFTER ALL SAID,
—IS—
STEWART'S
NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT,
SUMMER AND WINTER
COOKING STOVE,
For Wood or Coal,
IMPROVED IN 1859.

The peculiarities of the
STEWART COOK STOVE,
Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will lie and smoulder and char, upon the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire-chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward movable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove from the time the article is set in until it is removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent RESERVOIR (of copper, with a tin casing) containing from 10 to 20 gallons, by which the water, in passing off, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The space beneath the reservoir is occupied with a TIN CLOSET, where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c.

4. Also, by the aid of the TOP COVER, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DUTCH OVEN prepared for the purpose—the heat being communicated to it from both sides of the fire-box; and the fumes, meanwhile, passing into the draft.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of meat may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other, and the current instituted for this purpose made subservient to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no increase of consumption.

7. By the aid of the perforated metallic linings, or "gas burning arrangement," and application of the full summer dress, the various culinary processes may be carried forward successfully with a single stick of wood at a time.

8. In regard to DURABILITY, the Stewart Stove is made to last, and will last. The structural form is such that the frame work of it can not burn out.

All the plates constituting the original STEWART STOVE, which was brought out twenty years ago, are still made, and sent to different parts of the country, on call.

The price of COMFORT, CONVENIENCE and HEALTH secured to a family by the use of a culinary apparatus perfectly adapted to their wants, cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents.

But we can not, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of the STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE
Now in use, which has been widely tested
FOR TWENTY YEARS,
and not found wanting in any particular. Yes, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and used for a score of years; but the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made improvements—so that the Stewart Stove of 1862 is as superior to that of 1841, as the Mowing Machine is to a Bush Scythe.

IT HAS NOT BEEN EXCELLED
yet, as a Family Stove. Here follow the names of a few of the numerous purchasers of the STEWART COOK STOVE.

CALENDAR CLOCKS.
These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, to secure all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, of the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually, and with unfailing certainty.

Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Any persons desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar Attachment; and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. Those who have to attend to any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

GOLDEN SHEAF WHISKEY.
The subscriber, having been engaged for the last twenty years in the manufacture and sale of Wines and Spirits, now finds from this experience that real

Pure Bourbon Whiskey,
when made as it ought to be from
WHEAT, RYE AND CORN,
is, without doubt, the most healthful and medical spirit that can be used. Having determined to make the sale of this article a specialty in his business, he has accordingly

General Selling Agency for a large Distillery in Bourbon County, Kentucky, and in future will sell, under the brand of
"Golden Sheaf,"
PURE BOURBON WHISKEY, manufactured from the BEST SELECTED GRAINS, and made in the most careful manner.

This celebrated Whiskey will be put up in cases containing one dozen bottles each, and offered to the Trade by his Travelling agents throughout the country, and also kept on hand in his warehouse in Boston, in barrels, half barrels and kegs.

Individuals desirous of procuring a pure, reliable article of BOURBON WHISKEY, at a reasonable price, have only to inquire of any respectable Grocer or Druggist for "GOLDEN SHEAF WHISKEY," or to send their orders for any quantity required to the General Depot for its sale, 91 Washington St. Boston.

Each bottle is enclosed in a neat pasteboard box, to ensure its safe transportation.

HEALTH AND COMFORT.
Patent Rubber Sole Boots and Shoes.
FOR MEN, BOYS AND YOUTH.
These Goods, having been carefully tested, prove to be more desirable than any other Boots and Shoes heretofore made. They answer the double purpose of Leather and Rubber Boots and Shoes.

They are made serviceable and easier to the feet than Leather Shoes are improved by water, and having a leather inner sole do not draw the feet, and are far less expensive than Rubber Boots.

They are free from noise, prevent slipping on ice, and, in keeping the feet dry and warm are conducive to health.

When the Soles wear out, the Boots and Shoes can be tapped with leather, or, if returned to us entire, new Rubber soles can be put on.

The subscribers, having made arrangements as Agents for the sale of the above goods, are now prepared to take measures for the same, in different styles, and deliver them at short notice. They are made from the best stock to be had in the market, and warranted in every particular. Call and examine samples, at No. 12 Market street.

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room, and the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING
FURNACES.
The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason must be obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the combustion of coal air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the dome can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of repair, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Teeth on Vulcanized Rubber,

SOME OF ITS ADVANTAGES.
1st. It is stronger and lighter than any known material.
2d. From two to six times the amount of suction or adhesion can be obtained by it.
3d. When the arch is irregular we can by building on the deficiencies—which can be done to any extent—give the mouth a more natural appearance.
4th. No bad taste arises in the mouth by its use, as the secretions of the stomach and mouth do not affect it in the least.
5th. Teeth mounted upon this base can be kept clean and sweet as easy as a saucer, or when finished the work presents one whole piece.
6th. While in all ways it is better, save in a few peculiar cases, it is more cheaper than Gold.

DR. A. P. STEVENS, Surgeon Dentist,
No. 5 Daniel St., Portsmouth.
Has had four years of practical experience in working this material, and will guarantee satisfaction in all cases entrusted to his care.

Portsmouth, Aug. 1st, 1863.
DR. GOODALL
Would respectfully announce to his patrons and the public that VULCANIZED RUBBER, as a base for Artificial Teeth, promises all the advantages of Gold, yet costs only half as much. My experience has been highly satisfactory in its use, and I have no hesitation in WARRANTING PERFECT SATISFACTION in all cases.

Teeth inserted on Gold and Silver, and all other operations performed as usual.

Teeth extracted positively without pain, by inhaling Nitrous Oxyd Gas!

He is fully convinced that it is a perfectly harmless anæsthetic, its effect being that of an exhilarant, the whole operation being completed generally in three minutes, without the least pain, and the patient feeling as well, and usually better than before inhaling the Gas.

It would cordially invite all who wish teeth extracted without pain, or any possible injurious results, to call and be convinced.

I take pleasure in referring the public to Dr. TREADWELL, Dr. BOARDMAN, Dr. TOWNSEND, Dr. BENNETT, for particular success in extracting teeth. Teeth extracted without pain and with perfect safety, with Ether. Teeth polished to their natural whiteness without pain or injury to the Enamel. Regulation of Adults' and Children's Teeth will receive particular attention.—All whole and partial Sets of Teeth repaired with Neatness and Dispatch. All other operations in Dentistry, I will do at the usual rates.

☞ Please call and examine specimens of Artificial Teeth upon Vulcanized Rubber, Gold and Silver.

OLD PORTSMOUTH THEATRE.

LACONIA, Oct. 22, 1863.

Ed. Manchester Mirror:—An old relic, old chapter of remains, old recollections, old times, the dawn of boyhood—shall I go on? Proceed! Well, Mr. Editor, I had a very happy boyhood, nothing to do but to go to school summer and winter, and sport all the remainder of the months. I sauntered over the mountains, picked whortleberries, climbed trees like squirrels, gazed at pine trees and birches, marked birds waving on the loftiest branches, and gave language to the melody. One bird said

"All day long, long,
Peddling, peddling, peddling."

How leisurely he perched on lofty pine-tree, how beautifully he sang. That Sparrow in Spring was a happy imitator of Nature, was a most gentle expressor of it.

There were few luxuries I relished better than a full supply of maple sugar. It was a Godsend; saccharine to the taste, nutritious, expectorant, good for cough and hoarseness. Give me a pocket full of sugar and I was all right while it lasted, and one good old grandma'am was so fond of me she would provide the lumps, as long as sugar maples and fine days would inspissate the juice of its fibres. A busybody down behind the Gunstock mountain had a good time sugar-making. I bought five or six pounds and wrapped it up in a brown paper parcel. I was going to have a great sit down, a celebration all alone. A pleasant Spring initiated a happy season. The folk were getting ready for the year. Being brought up in a West India Goods retailing store, kept by my good guardian, a very intelligent, honest man, he was about setting off to Portsmouth, N. H., for a new stock of tea, coffee, best loaf and brown sugar, spices, nutmegs, cinnamon, raisins, etc., etc. He said to me, kind soul, "Francis, don't you want to go down below? I won't ask you anything for passage, but you must pay for board and expenses." I had the sugar and little Pargent, said yes, and I tumbled into the cart, rode all the way to Seaport town and back, boarded myself on saccharine in hand, and had a tall time as you shall hear—certain!

I noticed on my tour Hoyt's Hill, and old Sim. Hoyt sitting in a chair in the orchard, his belly so fat that it overlapped the chair bottom and hung on the grass while he sat in the chair. I never see such a sight. On Parson's Hill, pound, wind-mills, weathercocks, ducks, loons, ponds, Esq. Emerson's, dwelling houses, Esq. Ham's grainfields, apple trees in blossom, and merry, singing, handsome-plumaged emberiza orizzivora, called in New England bob-lincln. I had obtained words to his melody. I remember how elegantly, gracefully, inexpressibly beautiful his parti-colored plumes become him, as he took a careless flight around the blossomed appletrees, in midst of verdant grass, and enthusiastically chanted this song (enunciated rapidly):—

"Stephen Mead, striped coat.
Aunty Kelly, put your breeches on.
Isaac, Israel, Jacob and John,
Joseph, Joe and Johannah!
Hit her a kick, and kick over Susannah!"

At length we were travelling in lower towns of the State in our progress to Portsmouth. All novel to me, all a great treat. We arrived in town. Stones in the street for pavements, plenty of palace looking brick dwellings. I strayed round town, making bold to enter Jeweler shops, saying "I don't want to buy anything. I want to look." The keeper kept his eye on me as if I was a thief, when I was fair and honest as Solomon.

I walked over the bridge to enjoy a visit to Uncle Sam's Navy Yard. Ships big as meeting houses in a large barn, and no masts in them, bungling boats. Was all agog to see, tired as a ploughman, hard work. In the ensuing evening, Benj. Jewett, 3rd, my guardian, said "Francis, don't you want to go to the Theatre, tickets quarter a dollar?" He was honest as old Father Shirack; seemed to be desirous to go and offered to accompany me. Fortune could not have contrived a richer amusement. You shall hear.

Having read a few extracts of the great Dramatist, Shakespeare, in Murray's Reader, it was mysterious how I knew enough to enjoy the play. Being in my teens, very sensitive, easily impressed, I entered the theatre. An itinerant theatrical company from Boston were enjoying the season in Portsmouth. The actors and actresses were adepts in their calling. I remember the lights, seats, audience, and large green curtain. The musicians entered, and the fiddle and wind instruments brought forth some elegant, melodious music, more choice than my ear had ever heard. I was new to such intellectual enjoyments, never was a listener in a theatre before.

The play happened to be the rare tragedy of "King Lear." Now, believe, my readers, while I listened to words from the characters dressed as actors, standing amid shrubbery of laurel and pine, poor old King Lear, with his grey locks, how I sympathised with him and pitied him on the heath. The great Shakespeare delighted me—it all seemed completely real in every scene and act. At interlals I sooth myself, hung down my head, and make this soliloquy, "This is not Lear, but an Actor. Those are not Goneril, Regan and Cordelia, but actresses." Try it again—just so. It done no good, it would be real. Oh! great were David Garrick, John Hominge, Henrie Condett and these Portsmouth Players. All honor to them and to William Shakespeare, of Stratford-upon-Avon. ✎ ORPHEUS.

RYE, N. H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1863.

I have for several years been afflicted with distrees at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it; and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I am in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26

The Old Established Hospital.
No. 5 Beaver Street, Albany, N. Y.
QUICK CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Over Twenty Thousand Patients Cured Annually!

DR. J. TELLER continues to be confidentially and successfully consulted on all forms of private diseases, at his old Established Hospital, No. 5 Beaver Street, Albany, N. Y. Twenty years devoted to this one particular branch of practice, enables him to perform cures such as no other Physician can, and his facilities are such (being in correspondence with the most eminent Physicians of the Old World,) of obtaining the latest as well as the latest remedies for those diseases, offer fashionable to the unfortunate of a quick and rapid cure, to be obtained at no other office in America.

In syphilis, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Enlargement of the Testicle and Spermatic Cords, Bubo, Ulcerated Throat, Sore Nose, Tender Shin Bones, Cutaneous Eruptions, Blisc, Ulcers, Abscesses, and all other impurities of the system, are perfectly under the control of the Doctor's Medicines, and have been tested in more than 20,000 cases annually, with immense Success.

YOUNG MEN.

Young Men addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their healths and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasure of the Married Life, are notified that in consulting Dr. J. Teller, they will find a friend to counsel, a Physician who has cured thousands, in almost every part of the United States, who applied to Dr. T. broken down in health, now enjoying life and manhood, and makes life desirable and man happy. The reader is of course aware that the delicacy of this subject will prevent a more minute description of this terrible disease.

DR. TELLER'S GREAT WORK.

A book for everybody.—Startling disclosures. Dr. TELLER's great work for the Married or those contemplating marriage—200 pages—full of plates—price 25 cts. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail, post paid. 50,000 copies sold the past year. The single Married and the Married Happy. A lecture on Love, or how to choose a Partner—a complete work on Midwifery. It contains hundreds of secrets, never before published.—Warranted to be worth three times the amount asked for it. 25 cents, in specie or postage stamps, inclosed, will secure a copy by return mail. Dr. Teller has devoted a lifetime to the cure of those diseases upon which his books treat.

TO THE LADIES.

Dr. TELLER still remains the only Agency in America, for the sale of Dr. Lacon's Italian Female Monthly Pills. The sale of more than 100,000 boxes establishes their reputation as a female remedy, unsurpassed, and far in advance of every other medicine—for stoppages, irregularities, and other obstructions in females.

CAUTION.—Married ladies in certain delicate situations should avoid their use. For reasons see directions which accompany each package, for the guidance of patients. On the receipt of $1, (the price for one box,) these Pills will be sent by mail or express, to any part of the world, secure from curiosity or damage.

Office hours from 8 A. M. to 8 P. M.; and on Sundays from 2 to 5 P. M.

N. B.—Persons at a distance can be cured at home by addressing a letter to Dr. J. Teller, enclosing a remittance. Medicines securely packed from observation, sent to any part of the world. All cases warranted. No charge for advice.—N. B.—No students or boys employed. Notice this, address all letters to

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

The Richmond Whig speaks of the bombardment of Fort Sumter on the 30th, as the heaviest that had yet taken place. During 24 hours 1215 shots, from 13-inch mortars and 800-pound Parrotts, were thrown against the fort. The rebels replied slowly and deliberately, but the Federals paid no attention to them.

On the night of Oct. 23d, the rebel ram undertook to reconnoitre in Charleston harbor, and went down as far as Fort Moultrie, when our Monitors opened on her briskly, and were maneuvering to get around her and capture her; but she very speedily made tracks for the city.

The N. Y. Tribune's dispatch states that "there are indications of a disposition on the part of Gen. Meade to obey orders by attacking Lee."

Gen. Thomas reports that in the fight on the night of Oct. 28, Gen. Hooker took many prisoners, among whom were 4 officers and one hundred and three men. He also captured nearly 1000 rifles. His loss was 350 officers and men killed and wounded.

S. D. Lee, Wheeler, Rhoddy and Forrest are reported to be in the neighborhood of Decatur, Courtland and Tuscumbia, with a combined force of 15,000 rebel cavalry, prepared to operate on the line of Gen. Grant's communication. Forrest is reported to be wounded again in a battle near Tuscumbia on the 24th ult.

THE CURRENCY.—Some idea of the large amount of fractional currency required for the purpose of change in small business transactions may be formed when it is stated that the whole amount of this description of currency first issued in 5, 10, 25, and 50 cent notes was twenty millions one hundred and ninety-two thousand four hundred and fifty-five dollars' worth. Of this amount there is outstanding $17,462,-050. The whole number of one and two dollar notes issued amounted to $33,776,-000, of which there is now outstanding $33,-716,607. The five dollar notes issued amount to $87,055,000, and tens to $93,-960,000. This large amount of currency has gone into general circulation, and all of it is required to transact the business of the country, which is mainly done for cash.—A great amount of this popular currency has gone into the interior of the country, where it takes the place of an inferior and unreliable bank note circulation with which the Western States have been afflicted for many years past. No trader will now accept what is called "red-dog" or "wild-cat" money, if he can get "greenbacks."—Boston Post.

This amount, in general circulation, is $232,205,557: and yet this great sum, we are told on the above good authority, is all of it required to transact the business of the country. This does not look as if our industry had come to a stand still. Nor does the fact of its being a popular currency, render it at all probable that the Judges of the United States Supreme Court will stultify themselves by deciding that it is not a legal tender.

GREENBACKS.—Judge Davis, of New York, in an opinion relating to "greenbacks" as legal tender, made the following remarks:

These notes are issued on the faith and credit of the whole Union, the property of which, and of all its citizens, is pledged for their ultimate redemption; and if the metals may be made a tender, why may not notes equally be made a legal tender in payment of all debts, if the exigencies of the government should require it to be done, and Congress, in its wisdom, should think such necessity existed?"

☞ The N. Y. Tribune's Cape Town correspondent says the Alabama has been with her two prizes to the Guano Islands, but returned to Simon's Bay on August 21, and was supposed to have gone to Mauritius for repairs.

The Tuscaloosa had gone east, and the Vanderbilt might fall in with her.

FIVE TWENTIES.—The Boston Post's Money Article of Monday says:—

"There is not probably a safer funded debt in the world, and it is certainly a most desirable investment, so long as the scrip can be had at par, which is more favorable to buyers than the terms required for other sound six per cents. The honor, industry and wealth of the nation are pledged for the payment of interest and principal, and no better security can be found on either side of the water. Foreigners are beginning to understand this, it appears, for within a few weeks large amounts of these bonds have been purchased for European account, and remitted to England, Germany and France. American capitalists and institutions would do well to take up the remainder at once, and thus secure the advantage of a rise in market value, which will in all probability take place whenever it shall be announced that the bonds are all taken."

This does not look much like expecting or fearing the success of the rebellion. It is wise to look at the money articles, rather than the partisan columns.

— At Lonsdale, R. I., on Thursday, Oct. 22, a boy aged about six years thoughtlessly entered an open cellar door and drawing from a liquor cask a quantity of liquor, drank a portion, and soon after became insensible and died within 24 hours.

THE GREAT ORGAN.—The Boston papers are enthusiastic in their accounts of the formal inauguration of the Great Organ at the Boston Music Hall on Monday evening. This organ is the largest in the world, except one at Ulm, in Germany, and inferior in quality and compass to none yet built. The audience is declared to have been without exception, the most thoroughly select — embracing more of the solid strength, power, wealth, fashion and beauty of "our society," than any ever before gathered within four public walls in Boston. The platform was occupied by the directors, stockholders, invited guests, builders, workmen, etc.

At precisely quarter before eight Dr. Upham introduced Miss Charlotte Cushman the great tragic actress, in a few well chosen words, and the lady proceeded without delay to the recital, in a most impressive and eloquent manner, of the much talked of original ode (said to have been written by Mrs. Julia Ward Howe). The recital occupied some fifteen or twenty minutes, when the green curtain was lowered amid the most enthusiastic cheers, and revealed the grand proportions of the instrument. The structure is 50 feet in width; in depth the two projecting central towers come forward 18 feet upon the stage, the wings falling back towards two smaller end towers, making an average depth of 12 feet; but furthermore, the recess behind the stage, which held the old organ and had room to spare, is also filled by the great wind works and the swell department of the organ, an area full 10 feet square. In height, from platform to the summits of the towers, it measures 60 feet, while the wind works and their machinery behind go far below the platform. The full height of the hall, from floor to ceiling, is 65 feet, its full width 78, and the length 120. The weight of the organ is from 60 to 70 tons.

Herr Friedrich Walcker, of Ludwigsburg, (Kingdom of Wurtemburg) son of the organ builder, was discovered playing the organ when the curtain descended. Then the regular programme, most judiciously selected with a view to an exhibition of the resources of the instrument, was entered upon The Courier states that the most popular as well as the most skilful treatment of the organ was at the hands of Mr. Geo. W. Morgan, the celebrated player from New York, who was recalled twice in succession, and forced to present two additional evidences of his power, which were not planned or promised. Mr. J. H. Wilcox, who is, after Mr. Morgan, the first organist in the country, was also encored. Mr. Paine, Mr. Lang, and Dr. Tuckerman, played well, and their efforts were handsomely recognized by the exclusively musical portion of the audience. Each organist strove to develope a peculiar style of his own, and all succeeded. The occasion was one of great interest throughout, and the vast audience remained unbroken to the end.

STORIES OF OLD: or Bible Narratives suited to the capacity of young children.—By Caroline Hadley. Illustrated by six engravings. First Series—Old Testament. [Second Series — New Testament.] We have here given the titles of two handsomely bound and well printed volumes, published by Sheldon & Co., New York, and for sale here by Mr. Shores. The books are the result of an attempt to render the Bible Stories intelligible and interesting to children. It is not an easy task to make the language at once modern, childlike and pure: and therefore the author has not always been successful. Yet she has aimed to do a great and good work, and has really done a part of it, which is worthy of no small praise.

Some of the liberties taken with the sacred narrative seem to us not in the best taste, nor exactly sound in theology:—but we dare say what we deem blemishes may be beauties to the vision of others.

Children generally will read them with pleasure.

FRAUDS IN THE N. Y. CUSTOM HOUSE. The N. Y. Express reports that extensive frauds, amounting to near $100,000, have been committed by a high official in the New York Custom House, by means of false entries and other cheats. It is also stated that means of destruction have been furnished to the rebels by connivance in the Custom House, and that, therefore, the parties are likely to be proved guilty of treason. A Deputy has been placed under arrest on grave charges. Later accounts are more favorable, and the loss smaller.

☞ A livery and hotel stable, connected with the American House, Pittsfield, Mass., and kept by Mr. Bridges, was burnt on the night of Oct. 30. Charles Drews, of South Adams, an intoxicated Englishman, was burned to death. Mr. Bridges was very badly burned while trying to save him.

☞ The flute with which John Bunyan beguiled the tediousness of his captive hours is now in the possession of Mr. Howell, tailor, Gainsborough, England. In appearance it is not unlike the leg of a stool—out of which, it is said, Bunyan, while in prison, manufactured it.

— The deepest coal mine in the world is in England—1900 feet.

— Russia and Turkey are said to be at loggerheads.

— A steamboat line between New York and Buenos Ayres is proposed.

— Gen. Grant has a full-blooded Indian on his staff.

— The Western brewers offer a premium of $500 for a substitute for rosin.

— The Russian admiral and officers have accepted an invitation to visit Rhode Island.

— Eighteen months ago a dog bit a Philadelphian in the hand, and the man has just died of hydrophobia.

— The Portland Mercantile Library Association celebrated their 12th anniversary by a supper and a dance.

— A hundred million dollars, it is said, are annually sent to England from this country for cast steel.

— A somnambulist walked out of a fifth-story window in New York, on Friday night. It awoke him.

— Gen. Thomas says he has been in the army eighteen years without being absent from his post.

— New York has already paid 500 claims for damages sustained during the late riot; the amount being $40,000.

— They claim that they are able to manufacture the best of cast steel at Ballardvale, Mass.

— The Pittsburgians are jubilant over the fact that 72 tons of iron were melted there at one "heat" last week.

— Laird, the English builder of the rebel steam rams, has been making public speeches, defending his course.

— A Lieutenant in the Navy has been dismissed from the service for maltreatment of a sailor.

— It is suggested that all the colleges in Vermont be consolidated into a State University.

— Jack can't pronounce the name Wissahickon easily, and so he calls the gunboat the Widow Higgins.

— The meat market in New York is as low at the present moment as it has been in the average of the last ten years.

— The exchange of prisoners is again stopped, as the demands of the rebels were deemed altogether too liberal to themselves.

— There are more Indian troubles on the Upper Missouri, and Fort Union has been taken by a force of 4000 or 5000 Indians.

— It is said that the writ of habeas corpus will be allowed as heretofore in cases of minors enlisted without the consent of their parents.

— The capture of the steamer Sir John Peel off the Rio Grande is agitating John Bull; he thinks there was not the slightest ground for the seizure.

— The receipts and expenditures of the Post Office Department, during the year, have been very nearly equal, it is said.

— A horse, "Cloudman," which is said to have made the fastest half mile time on record, has been sold by its owner in Vassalboro', Me., to Bonner, of the N. Y. Ledger, for $20,000.

— A woman who visited her dying son at the Soldiers' House in Providence, took $70 belonging to him, and then endeavored to secure his burial at public expense or by charity.

— The Police made a descent upon a gambling hell in Newburyport on Sunday night, and seized six men at their dice and cups, who paid between $40 and $50 into the city treasury on Monday morning.

— A down east editor, who has got a pair of new boots, (presented to him, we presume,) says he has found castor oil an excellent application in breaking them in. It renders them as soft as a buckskin glove, he says.

— A man in Paris bought a book at a book-stall for three sous, and twenty-six notes of one thousand francs each were found between the leaves. Probably the second-hand books in the city will hereafter find a ready sale.

— At a recent Union mass meeting at the Cooper Institute, the vast assemblage rose to their feet and ratified the nomination, by one of the speakers, of Abraham Lincoln for re-election, by long continued and enthusiastic applause.

— The big Organ in Boston was inaugurated on Monday evening in the presence of a big crowd, comprising "the culture, fashion and taste of the country." The Boston people are modest. And they had a "grand re-union of the kid, lavender, lace and jewel circles."

— A lady, while stepping from a car in New York city on Thursday evening last, fell heavily to the ground, and was taken up senseless. One of the railroad employees recognized her as the wife of a Frenchman, and he being summoned, hastened to her. He found her still insensible, called her piteously by name, fondled and kissed her, and sent for a carriage, paying a doctor who had attended her $10. Finally, when he had brushed the gathering tears away, he looked at her more closely, and found he had been groaning and crying over some other man's wife.

— Partial returns from Massachusetts indicate a very large majority for the Union Republican ticket.

— A Confederate surgeon who was beastly drunk when our forces captured Little Rock, Arkansas, found himself among the Yankees when he got sober, and remarked that it beat Rip Van Winkle that a man couldn't go to sleep in the Confederate States without waking up in the United States.

SCHOONER LOST.—Sch. Advance, Perkins, going into Newburyport harbor on Monday, went ashore on the South breaker, and will prove a total loss. She had been on a fishing trip in the bay, and had on board about 1600 or 1700 pollock. The Advance was owned by Capt. Ebenezer Ames of Newburyport, and uninsured.

A WORKINGMAN'S WARNING TO THE ENGLISH ARISTOCRACY.—H. G. Moffat, a working man, thus speaks to the aristocratic sympathizers with the South in England, through the columns of the Daily News:

It may be very fashionable with the upper ten thousand to sympathize with the slave-breeding aristocracy of the South, but we of humbler birth have deeper ties that bind us to America, both political and social. When we see the great number leaving our shores for that great country, and as four out of six are relations of us common fellows, what will be our feelings? What of mine, having sisters and all that is very dear to me, if we see our men-of-war bombarding New York city, knowing morally we have been the cause? It was are not allowed to vote and make the government here, we will not quietly allow the people's government to be destroyed there. Workingmen are seldom heard in print upon this question; but let not our gentry suppose there is no sympathy for the North here.—They will make an awful mistake if they go to war with America. It may be popular with the rich, the snobs and city swells, but not with working men. Let them remember the Lancashire men starving first sooner than lift up a finger against true liberty.

Valuable Farm, Live Stock, Crops, &c.

AT AUCTION,

On THURSDAY, Nov. 12th, at 11 o'clock,

on the premises, in Newington.

The valuable and beautiful FARM, formerly owned by the Hon. James Pickering. This desirable estate, comprising about seventy acres, is situated in Newington, about four miles from Portsmouth and one mile from depot of Concord Railroad at Greenland. The buildings consist of a convenient House, containing nine rooms, excellent cellar, &c., together with Barn and other suitable Outbuildings, &c. The land is suitably divided into tillage, pasturage and mowing fields. Upon it are some of the very best varieties of Apple and Pear trees, many of which are in good bearing condition, together with the smaller fruits, such as Currants, Raspberries, &c. The beautiful shade trees scattered over the land, its eligibility to a good market, excellent pasturage and general beauty of its location, make this one of the most desirable estates ever offered for sale in this section of the State, either for a gentleman's country residence or for a practical farmer.

There are two Wells on the Farm, and the two Pastures, which are both excellent, are abundantly supplied with never-failing streams of the purest water.

Also will be sold, immediately after the Farm, the Live Stock on the place, consisting of 1 Yoke OXEN, five good COWS, two young HEIFERS, eight SHEEP, a black MARE, one young HORSE, three HOGS.

Also the CROPS, consisting of a large quantity of HAY, CORN, BARLEY, POTATOES, &c.

A good WAGON, Ox Cart, OX Sled, Roller, and a variety of Farming Implements.

Also a good PIANO, and other articles of Household Furniture.

For particulars apply to S. C. PERKINS, 126 Tremont street, Boston, CHAS. T. EMERY, Jeweller, Portsmouth, N. H. or on the premises. o23—3taw&W1

HUNNEWELL'S ECLECTIC PILLS.—The true Type of Cathartic.—By the application of true Pharmaceutical Laws, both Character and Economy are combined in this valuable Pill. To prevent putting such quantities of indigestible drugs into the stomach, the griping pains so erroneously judged to be the evidence of thorough action, and to require from 4 to 6 Pills, to get a decent cathartic, was the study in this development. With these solutions of economy, and never more than Two Pills, settles the question of economy, and character can be best known by confidence to continue in DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, HEADACHES, LIVER COMPLAINT, all derangements of the stomach and bowels, and as a Family Pill. spuo

Probate Advertisements.

The language of the law relating to the publication of Probate Notices is:

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper therefor."

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notice may be ordered for the Chronicle or the Gazette; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

Our terms are as low as those of any other paper.

Local.

☞ The Hutchinson Family Concert at the Temple to-night. They are giving better concerts, drawing larger houses, and satisfying the people even more completely, than ever—to judge from what the papers say of them. We wonder if they'll sing, "It must be now the kingdom's coming," or stick to their old favorite, "Good Time Coming—wait a little longer."

☞ The members of Mr. Davis' Singing Classes are reminded by the Committee, that there is to be no School to-day, afternoon or evening—the lessons being postponed for one week, on account of Mr. Davis' engagements in Concord.

COM. ARR.

☞ Mr. Adams' splendid specimen of Wood carving is on exhibition at Mr. Shores' Bookstore. Let everybody improve the opportunity to look at it.

S. J. COURT, Tuesday.—The Court was occupied by the trial of Joseph Emerson for burning a house in Northwood. The case was given to the jury in the afternoon, just prior to the adjournment.

☞ The alarm of fire on Tuesday evening was false.

☞ About 4 o'clock on Monday afternoon, a thief, apparently a peddler, entered the house in Boston at which Capt. Thomas M. Jackson, formerly of this city, boards, and stole about $850 in U. S. Five-twenties from Capt. Jackson's room, where they had been left between the mattresses. The only person in the house at the time was a young man in feeble health, who confronted the thief as he was coming down the stairs, and seized about $650 of the bonds from his hand, and threw them behind him into the parlor. The burglar then made a grasp at his watch, but the young man pulled it from his fob and cast it behind him.—The thief then struck him a violent blow in the face and left him senseless. Shortly after, some of the family returned and found the young man insensible, and the watch and bonds scattered upon the floor. It is feared the shock, together with his feeble state of health, may prove fatal.

☞ The Boston Journal states that Rev. Dr. Peabody, for ten years editor and conductor of the North American Review, has retired from that position, with the view of devoting himself more exclusively to other duties. James Russell Lowell and Charles Elliot Norton are his successors.

STEAM NAVIGATION AT MANCHESTER. Agent E. A. Straw's fine little steam yacht, the "Fire Fly", recently constructed at Portsmouth, and fitted out with machinery at the Amoskeag Shop, was launched in the canal near the Bag Mill, Saturday. In command of Superintendent N. S. Bean of the Machine shop, with a complement of men, consisting of an engineer, pilot and one deck hand, the little craft went plowing up and down the canal, making good time and attracting a crowd of interested spectators.—Manchester Mirror.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The school house in Dist. No. 10, Sanbornton, was destroyed by fire on the evening of Oct. 30th. Cause of the fire not known. The value of the building was not large.

—— As Aaron Blake and wife, of Plaistow, were riding in Atkinson, on Thursday, Oct. 29th, the chaise, in consequence of one wheel passing over a stone, was upset, and both were thrown out with considerable violence. Mr. B. had a collar bone broken, and Mrs. B. had one wrist dislocated, and was otherwise much injured. This is the second accident of the kind that Mrs. B. has met with within a few months.

—— A body, supposed to be that of James Aiken of Litchfield, a man of irregular habits, who has been missing some weeks, was found on Friday night in the river near Manchester. He was, probably, accidentally drowned.

—— John G. Saxe, is to be the United Literary Societies' poet at the next commencement at Dartmouth.

—— The Manchester Mirror recommends an extra session of the Legislature, to devise means to raise the 3,768 volunteers required from the State.

YOUNG VERMONT.—Willie Johnston, 13 years old, a drummer boy in Co. D, 3d Vermont Regiment, has received a medal for his heroic conduct in the seven days' fight before Richmond. On the retreat, when strong men threw away their guns, knapsacks and blankets, that they might have less weight to carry, this little fellow kept his drum and brought it safely to Harrison's Landing, where he had the honor of drumming for division parade, he being the only drummer who brought his drum from the field. Upon these facts being reported to the War Department by the division commander, Willie was presented with the star medal of honor by Secretary Stanton in person. Young Johnston's parents reside in this town. His father is a member of the 3d Vermont Regiment.—St. Johnsbury Caledonian.

The sales on Saturday of 5-20 Bonds, through Messrs. Livermore, Clews & Co., of New York City, Government Agents for the U. S. 5-20 Loan, amounted to three millions and ninety eight thousand dollars. New York Tribune, Nov. 2d.

— The Liverpool papers contradict the report that a guard of marines has been put on board one of the rams in the Mersey, to prevent her sailing. In the meantime, the work on one of the rams, El Tousson, is being rapidly pushed forward, and no attempt is made to conceal the warlike character of the vessel.

SOLDIERS, ATTENTION.—For the derangements of the system incidental to the change of diet, wounds, eruptions and exposures which every Volunteer is liable to, there are no remedies so safe, convenient and reliable as HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT, 25 cents per box. 209.

☞ The Domestic Dyes prepared by Geo. H. Reed & Co. offer the simplest and most perfect means of dyeing household apparel ever presented the public. They embrace 40 different shades, and include all the new and fashionable colors—and are perfectly fast. Samples on silk and wool can be seen and the colors procured of HEACHER. jn30

☞ See you fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Boston, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

LAST AND BEST.

THE MODEL COOK.

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,
WITH TWO OVENS,

And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes. The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted. A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either side, when needed.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and dispatch are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

VICTOR COAL STOVE.

We offer this beautiful coal burner to the public with full confidence in its merits.

It was brought into market three years since, and has come rapidly into use.

The Victor is one of the handsomest parlor stoves in the market, and is perfect in its operation.

The arrangement for dumping the ashes is very fine—no dust need escape into the room—a continuous fire may be kept throughout the winter—the coal all burned and no clinkers made.

The quantity of fuel used is very small indeed.

We have sold a large number of Victor Stoves in this city, and they receive the highest commendation from those who are using them.

OVER FIVE THOUSAND BOTTLES have been sold in its native town, and not a single instance of its failure is known.

We have, in our possession, any quantity of certificates, some of them from

EMINENT PHYSICIANS,

who have used it in their practice, and given it the pre-eminence over any other compound.

It does not dry up a Cough,

but loosens it, so as to enable the patient to expectorate freely.

☞ Two or three Bottles will invariably cure TICKLING IN THE THROAT. ☜

A HALF Bottle has often completely cured the most

STUBBORN COUGH.

And yet, though it is so sure and speedy in its operation, it is perfectly harmless, being purely vegetable. It is very agreeable to the taste, and may be administered to children of any age.

In conclusion, we will simply say, it will cure, if taken in season. No Family should be without it. It is within the reach of all, the price being

ONLY 25 CENTS!

And if an investment and thorough trial does not "back up" the above statement, the money will be refunded. We say this, knowing its merits, and feel confident that one trial will secure for it a home in every household.

Do not waste away with Coughing, when so small an investment will cure you. It may be had of any respectable druggist in town, who will furnish you with a circular of genuine certificates of cures it has made.

SAMBUCUS TREE, OF PORTUGAL,

The Great Remedy for Kidney Affections, Rheumatism, Chronic Complaints

Excellent Wine for Females.

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Clergymen and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wine in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefiting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no admixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

THE BEST COOK STOVE
IN THE MARKET,
AFTER ALL SAID,
—is—
STEWART'S
NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT,
SUMMER AND WINTER
COOKING STOVE,
For Wood or Coal,
IMPROVED IN 1859.

The peculiarities of the
STEWART COOK STOVE,
Embracing the Latest improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it pretends to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will lie and smoulder and char, or on the other, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire-chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward moveable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove from the time the article is set in until it is removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent RESERVOIR (of copper, with a tin center) containing from 10 to 20 gallons, by which the waste heat, in passing off, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The space behind the reservoir is occupied with a TIN CLOSET, where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c.

4. Also, by the aid of the TOP COVER, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DUTCH OVEN prepared for the purpose—the heat being communicated to both sides of the fire-box; and the fumes, meanwhile, passing into the draft.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of meat may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; and the current instituted for this purpose made subservient to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no increase of combustion.

7. By the aid of the perforated metallic linings, or "great burner arrangement," and application of the full summer dress, the various culinary processes may be carried forward successfully with a single stick of wood at a time.

8. In regard to DURABILITY, the Stewart Stove is made to last, and will last. The structural form is such that the frame work of it can not burn out.

All the plates constituting the original STEWART STOVE, which was brought out twenty years ago, are still made, and sent to different parts of the country, &c. &c.

The price of QUIETNESS, COMFORT and HEALTH secured to a family by the use of a culinary apparatus perfectly adapted to their wants, cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents.

But we can not, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of the STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new-fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but
THE STANDARD COOK STOVE
Now in use, which has been widely tested
FOR TWENTY YEARS,
and not found wanting in any particular. Yes, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and used for a score of years; but the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made improvements—so that the Stewart Stove of 1862 is as superior to that of 1851, as the Mowing Machine is to a Bush Scythe.

IT HAS NOT BEEN EXCELLED
yet, as a Family Stove. Here follow the names of a few of the numerous purchasers of the STEWART COOK STOVE.

CALENDAR CLOCKS.

These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, to secure all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.

Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it for their advantage to examine before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar attachment; and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. They will be set up in any part of the city, and regulated without charge.

GOLDEN SHEAF WHISKEY.
The subscriber, having been engaged for the last twenty years in the importation and sale of Wines and Spirits, now finds from this experience that real
Pure Bourbon Whiskey,
when made as it ought to be, from
WHEAT, RYE AND CORN, is, without doubt, the healthiest and medical spirit that can be used. Having determined to make the sale of this article a speciality in his business, he has accepted the General Selling Agency for a large Distillery in Bourbon County, Kentucky, and in future will sell under the brand of
"Golden Sheaf,"
PURE BOURBON WHISKEY, manufactured from the BEST SELECTED GRAINS, and made in the most careful manner.

The celebrated Whiskey will be put up in cases containing one dozen bottles each, and offered to the Trade by his Travelling Agents throughout the country, and also kept on hand in his warehouse in Boston, in barrels, half barrels and kegs.

Individuals desirous of procuring a pure, reliable article of BOURBON WHISKEY, at a reasonable price, have only to inquire of any respectable Grocer or Druggist for "GOLDEN SHEAF WHISKEY," or to send their orders for any quantity required to the General Depot for its sale, 91 Washington St, Boston.

Each bottle is enclosed in a neat pasteboard box, to ensure its safe transportation.

HEALTH AND COMFORT.

Patent Rubber Sole Boots and Shoes.
FOR MEN, BOYS AND YOUTH.

These Goods, having been carefully tested, prove to be more desirable than any other Boots and Shoes heretofore made. They answer the double purpose of Leather and Rubber Boots and Shoes.

They are made serviceable and easier to the feet than Leather Soles, are impervious to water, and having a leather inner sole do not chafe the feet, and are far less expensive than Rubber Boots.

They are free from noise, prevent slipping on ice, and in keeping the feet dry and warm are conducive to health.

When the Soles wear out, the Boots and Shoes can be tapped with leather, or, if returned to us entire, new Rubber Soles can be put on.

The subscriber, having made arrangements as Agents for the sale of the above goods, are now prepared to take measures for the same, in different cities, and towns at short notice. They are made from the best stock to be had in the market, and warranted in every particular. Call and examine samples, at No. 13 Market street.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the
CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove. Hundreds in families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots used for respiration, the tendency to produce headaches so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat in the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive Furnace arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection is common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The due or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert H. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Teeth on Vulcanized Rubber,

SOME OF ITS ADVANTAGES.
1st. It is stronger and lighter than any known material.
2d. From two to six times the amount of suction or adhesion can be obtained by it.
3d. When the arch is irregular we can by building out the depressions—which can be done to any extent—give the mouth a more natural appearance.
4th. No bad taste arises in the mouth by its use, as the secretions of the stomach and mouth do not affect it in the least.
5th. The instrument upon this base can be kept clean and sweet as easy as a saucer, as when finished the work presents one whole piece.
6th. While in all ways it is better, even in a few peculiar cases, it is much cheaper than Gold.

Would respectfully announce to his patrons and the public that VULCANIZED RUBBER, as a base for Artificial Teeth, promises all the advantages of Gold, yet costs only half as much. My experience has been highly satisfactory in its use, and I have no hesitation in WARRANTING PERFECT SATISFACTION in all cases.
Teeth inserted on Gold and Silver, and all other operations performed as usual.
Teeth extracted positively without pain, by inhaling Nitrous Oxyd Gas!
He is fully convinced that it is a perfectly harmless anæsthetic, its effect being that of an exhilarant, the whole operation being conducted generally in three minutes, without the least pain, and the patient feeling as well, and usually better than before inhaling the Gas.
He would cordially invite all who wish teeth extracted without pain, or any possible injurious results, to call and be convinced.
I take pleasure in referring the public to Dr. TREADWELL, Dr. BOARDMAN, Dr OLIVER and Dr BENNETT, for particular success in extracting Teeth. Teeth extracted without pain and with perfect safety, with Ether. Teeth polished to their natural whiteness without pain or injury to the Teeth. Regular visits of Adults' and Children's Teeth will receive particular attention.—All whole and partial Sets of Teeth repaired with Ventuous and Dispatch. All other operations in Dentistry, I will do at the usual rates.

☞ The following beautiful and deeply religious lines were found in the pocket-book of a soldier who died in the Buckner Hospital, in Gainesville, Ala., in 1862:

REST, WEARY SOUL.

Rest, weary soul!
The penalty is borne, the ransom paid.
For all thy sins full satisfaction made;
Strive not thyself to do what Christ has done;
Take the free gift, and make the joy thine own;
No more by pangs of guilt and fear distrest—
Rest, sweetly rest!

Rest, weary heart!
From all thy silent griefs and secret pain,
Thy profitless regrets and longings vain;
Wisdom and love have ordered all the past,
And shall be blessedness and light at last;
Cast off the cares that have so long oppress—
Rest, weary soul!

Rest, weary head!
Lie down to slumber in the peaceful tomb.
Light from above has broken through its gloom;
Here, in the place where once thy Saviour lay,
Where he shall wake them on a future day,
Like a tired child upon its mother's breast,
Rest, sweetly rest!

Rest, spirit free!
In the green pasture of the heavenly shore,
Where sin and sorrow can approach no more;
With all the flock by the good Shepherd led,
Forever with thy God and Saviour blest!
Rest, sweetly rest!

A LONG NOSE.—A story is told of Mozart, the great composer, at the time he was a pupil with Haydn. It shows that a long nose is sometimes useful.

Haydn one day challenged his pupil to compose a piece of music which he could not play at sight. Mozart accepted the banter, and a supper and champagne were to be the forfeit. Everything being arranged between the two com osers, Mozart took his pen, and in five minutes dashed off a piece of music, and much to the surprise of Haydn, handed it to him, saying—

"There is a piece of music you cannot play, and I can—you are to give it the first trial."

Haydn smiled contemptuously at the visionary presumption of his pupil, and placing the notes before him, struck the keys of the instrument. Surprised at its simplicity, he dashed off until he reached the middle of the piece, when stopping all at once he exclaimed—

"How is this, Mozart? how is this?—Here my hands are stretched to both ends of the piano, and there's a middle key to be touched. Nobody can play such music, not even the composer himself."

Mozart smiled at the half excited indignation of the great master, and taking the seat he had just quitted, he struck the instrument with such an air of self-assurance, that Haydn began to think himself duped. Running along through the simple passages, he came to the part which his teacher had pronounced impossible to be played. Mozart, as many are aware, was favored, or at least endowed, with an extremely long nose—a prodigious nose. Reaching the difficult passage, he stretched both hands to the extreme ends of the piano, and leaning forward, bobbed his nose against the middle key, which "nobody could touch." Haydn burst into an immoderate fit of laughter, declaring that nature had endowed Mozart with a capacity for music which he had never before discovered.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Research made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that cause is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The business practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

RYE, N. H., Feb. 20, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some at times so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for therapeutic treatment, but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

From ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26 y

QUICK CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Over Twenty Thousand Patients Cured Annually!

DR. J. TELLER continues to be confidentially and successfully consulted on all forms of private diseases, at his old Established Hospital, No. 5 Beaver Street, Albany, N. Y. Twenty years devoted to this one particular branch of practice, enables him to perform cures such as no other physician can, and his facilities are such (being in correspondence with the most eminent Physicians of the old World,) of obtaining the safest as well as the latest remedies for these diseases, offer inducements to the unfortunate of a quick and rapid cure, to be obtained at no other office in America.

In Syphilis, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Enlargement of the Testicles and Spermatic Cords Bubo, Ulcerated Throat, Sore Nose, Tender Shin Bones, Cutaneous Eruptions, Pimples, Ulcers, Abscesses, and all other impurities of the system, are perfectly under the control of the Doctor's Medicines, and have been tested in more than 20,000 cases annually, with immense Success.

YOUNG MEN.

Young Men addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasure of the Married Life, are notified that in consulting Dr. J. Teller, they will find a friend to counsel and a Physician who has cured thousands, in almost every part of the United States, who applied to Dr. J. broken down in health, now rejoicing in all that makes life desirable and man happy. The reader is of course aware that the delicacy of this subject will prevent a more minute description of the Doctor's Medicines.

DR. TELLER'S GREAT WORK.

A book for everybody.—Startling disclosures. Dr. TELLER's great work for the Married or those contemplating marriage, now ready, sent in all sealed envelopes—price 25 cts. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail, post paid. 50,000 copies sold the past year. The single Married and the Married Happy. A lecture on Love, or how to choose a Partner—a complete work on Midwifery. It contains hundreds of secrets, never before published.—Warranted to be worth three times the amount asked for it. 25 cents, in specie or postage stamps, inclosed, will secure a copy by return mail. Dr. TELLER has devoted a lifetime to the care of those diseases upon which his books treat.

TO THE LADIES.

Dr. TELLER still remains the only Agency in America, for the sale of Dr. Vichol's Italian Female Monthly Pills. The sale of more than 20,000 boxes establishes their reputation as a female remedy, unsupassed, and far in advance of every other medicine—for stoppages, irregularities, and other obstructions in females.

Caution.—Married ladies in certain delicate situations should avoid their use. For reasons see directions which accompany each package, for the guidance of patients. On the receipt of $1, (the price per box,) these Pills will be sent, by mail or express, to any part of the world, secure from curiosity or damage.

Office hours from 8 A. M. to 8 P. M., and on Sundays from 2 to 5 P. M.

N. B.—Persons at a distance can be cared at home by addressing a letter to Dr. J. Teller, enclosing a remittance. Medicines securely packed from observation, sent to any part of the world. All cases warranted. No charge for advice.—N. B.—No students or boys employed. Notice this, address all letters to

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

It is reported that the rebel Gen. Chalmers had been removed from his command, and Gen. Forrest appointed in place; and also that Forrest has instructions from Joe Johnston to burn all the cotton within the limits of his command.

Dates from Corinth are to the 29th ult.—The First Alabama rebel cavalry, about 800 strong, which was recently sent to destroy the railroad communication near Talanda, was surrounded by a largely superior force, and most of the men captured.

The rebels, in small force, have recently been engaged in fortifying the approaches to the Rappahannock on this side of that river. It is reported that considerable information has recently been gleaned of the enemy's strength, &c., by our officers.

The change by which Maj. Gen. Butler has been assigned to the command of the Department of Virginia and North Carolina (Gen. Foster's,) is believed to indicate a disposition to prosecute the war with renewed vigor in that especial section. The report that Gen. Foster has been put in command of the defenses of Washington is not correct.

The throwing of Greek fire into Charleston on Monday, Oct. 26, was not continued as intended: only three shells were thrown. But the firing on Sumter and the other works was continued day and night up to the 30th,—latest dates. From time to time four monitors participated in the assault.—The rebels replied irregularly. The chief object of our fire was to prevent the rebels from mounting guns on Sumter.

Gen. Thomas officially reports that Gen. Shelby has twice routed Hawkins' guerrillas, and finally dispersed them. The rebel loss was 15 or 20 killed, and 66 prisoners.—Our loss was slight.

Guerrillas are active in Western Kentucky; they have captured two trains of cars near Mansfield, and are doing great damage to the railroad.

It is thought probable that there has been a severe fight near Tuscumbia, Ala., which place our troops now hold.

ELECTIONS were held on Tuesday in Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, Illinois, Michigan, Missouri and Minnesota, and, so far as heard from, the general results are given below. In New Jersey the Legislature and County officers, and in Illinois County officers were elected; in Missouri Judges of the Supreme Court. In New York some State officers, judges, &c., were chosen. Gov. Seymour, who was elected last year by 10,752 majority, by the provisions of the State Constitution holds office for two years. Hence no Governor was chosen. In New York the total vote last year was 692,547; in Massachusetts, 133,422. Gov. Andrew's majority last year was 26,248. New Jersey went democratic last year by a majority of 14,957, in a vote of 108,017.

In Massachusetts, 237 towns give Andrew, republican, 69,116; Paine, democrat, 24,772.

In New York, forty-one counties give Depew, Union candidate for Secretary of State, 24,750 majority. Eighteen counties to hear from.

New Jersey has been carried by the Democrats by a reduced majority, the legislature being about the same as last year.

Returns from Illinois are meagre, but show Union gains.

Scattering returns from Wisconsin show large Union gains all over the State, and the majority will probably reach 15,000.

The returns from Missouri indicate a triumph for the Radicals. St. Louis gives a Radical majority of 2000 over the combination of Democrats and Conservatives.

The result of these elections shows that the people are in for this war. Other important states have spoken before, and now Massachusetts and New York and the rest reiterate, more or less strongly, the expression of the people's will. They say to President Lincoln, 'Go on; let there be no looking back; we are with you, and for you, and will stand by you to the end: this is Our Country and it shall be One.' New Jersey even, where the opponents of the war have their last clinging footsteps, shows an inclination to wheel into line, by reducing the anti-war majority. The People are in earnest, and they are moving: let him who would oppose stand aside or they will crush him. They believe in Abraham Lincoln,—they believe in the war; they will support the one, and they will carry through the other to a triumphant and glorious issue.

The sale of government stocks on Monday was three millions and over. The confidence of the people in the government was never stronger than to-day.—Newburyport Herald.

A large proportion of the members of the old regiments from Maine have signified their intention to the government to re-enlist for the war. Having been in at the fire of the war, they are determined to see the thing finished.—Press.

For the N. H. Gazette.

OUR GREEK FIRE.

The old "Greek Fire" would be a small affair in our days. Compared even with gunpowder it would be a mere scarecrow. In fact, night and terror were great elements in its efficiency in delaying the fate of the Greek Empire. Any liquid capable of blazing without the aid of a wick, like alcohol or ether, would answer the purpose of that once formidable agent. All such liquids on fire produce great terror now.—When boiling linseed oil, hot camphene or cold alcohol takes fire, most people abandon to its fury anything within its reach. A wisp of lighted paper, thrown by a plumber into a pail of cold camphene, destroyed the immense printing house of the Harpers.—Any chemist would have put out the flame on the instant with but a single number of the N. Y. Observer, or any other conservative newspaper.

The inflammability of a liquid is that of its most volatile ingredient. The Greeks probably used nothing more than petroleum, well known among us as crude kerosene. Seneca oil, British oil, and Naphtha are other names for it, though naphtha may rather refer to the more volatile of the several liquids, of which petroleum is a mixture. All the ingredients of kerosene are hydrocarbon, or compounds of hydrogen and carbon: in all of them there are about five pounds of carbon to one of hydrogen. The dangerous element boils at 102°F. As water sinks in it, instead of covering it from the air, as it does solids when thrown on them, it cannot quench the burning liquid, as a matter of course.

When a liquid takes fire, we must not spill it or spatter it about. If in a vessel, cover it over even with a cloth, and the danger is over.

But what is our Greek Fire? I assume that it is Alcarsin, or something worse; if worse there can be. It would take a better chemist than I to suggest any addition to make it worse.

I have seen the statement that Gen. Gilmore was using "arsenical alcohol" in his shells. Let us compare the composition of alcohol and alcarsin. Chemists represent them by $C_4H_6O_2$, and C_4H_6AsO respectively. C4 means 24 lbs. of carbon; H6, 6 lbs. of hydrogen; O2, 16 lbs. oxygen; As, 75 lbs. of arsenic, and O, 8 lbs. of oxygen. So 46 lbs. of alcohol contain 24 lbs. carbon, 6 lbs hydrogen, and 16 lbs. of oxygen, while 113 lbs of alcarsin contain 24 lbs. of carbon, 6 lbs. of hydrogen, 8 lbs. of oxygen, 75 lbs. of black arsenic, "metallic" arsenic, regulus of arsenic, that fly-poison most bunglingly sold as "cobalt." Alcarsin might be styled, though not with strict scientific accuracy, alcohol in which one equivalent of oxygen is replaced by arsenic.—Hence its name—alc-arsin.

Alcarsin is more combustible than alcohol. The greater proportion of oxygen in alcohol has burned up more of the carbon and hydrogen; but all the ingredients of alcarsin are combustible severally and united—the little oxygen excepted. It is a liquid of the most atrocious stench, but that is not the worst of it. It takes fire spontaneously on reaching the open air. Nor is that all: the worst is—in burning it fills the air with an impalpable powder—of arsenious acid, white arsenic, ratsbane. The burning of 113 lbs. of alcarsin yields 99 lbs. of this best known and most deadly form of arsenic.

When a shell charged with alcarsin and gunpowder is exploded, this infernal liquid is scattered far and wide, and not a drop escapes burning. If on the ground, naught combustible escapes its flames, and all the air around is filled with death. If the shell bursts in the air, a shower of fire falls, to which that on Sodom was as the dews of the morning. But the shower settles down into a thin white smoke, and every sniff of it is sure death.

It is clear that the rule given above for dealing with burning liquids will not apply to alcarsin. Your only course is to run away before you breathe; run through fire, through water, through hail of whistling bullets and bursting shell, to any refuge but certain death.

This beautiful, heavy, highly-refractive liquid is procured by distilling with due precautions a mixture of arsenious acid and acetate of potassa, or pearlash and vinegar. It has long been known as "Cadet's fuming liquid." Our knowledge of it is due chiefly to Bunsen, a man well known to theologians as well as physicists. He called it oxyd of Kakodyl. Others have called it oxyd of arsenium.

Is it barbarous to use alcarsin in war? No. The usage of civilized nations settle this: for not only do they reject no appliance of war, because it is too destructive, but this very liquid has been the subject of experiment in England with a view to its use in war. The improvement in fatal enginery tends to diminish the evils of war by shortening its duration and preventing battles. Comparatively few of the victims of war die by bodily injury inflicted by the enemy. And it is the loss of these few only that determines the result of the war. Increase the rapidity of their fall and you save life by diminishing the length of time that the army is exposed to disease and privation. I. F. H.

Hillsgrove, McDonough Co., Ill.

STATE RIGHTS—STATE SUICIDE.

The N. Y. Express thinks that if this doctrine of "State Suicide" is to be carried out at all, it should result in a remodelling of all those States which possess an unequal share of power, and that New England should form but one State, as thus:

	Senators in Congress.
The States of New England	2	now 12
New York	2	now 2
Pennsylvania	2	now 2
Ohio	2	now 2
Maryland and Delaware	2	now 4
Indiana	2	now 2
Illinois	2	now 2
Iowa	2	now 2
Wisconsin and Michigan, &c., &c., &c.	2	now 4

On this the Boston Post remarks:

"State suicide is not so bad a creed—if we push it into an equalization of the States. There is no reason, whatever, if this is not a States Rights Government, for giving New England, with less population, a six times larger representation in the U. S. Senate, than New York,—six times as much power in the making of Territories, or in the impeachment of a President. All is wrong in a Popular Government, and if this thing is to be done over again, let us now do the right thing."

Because South Carolina and half a dozen other States have committed suicide, it does not follow at all that New Hampshire and Vermont must do the same. Because A. has committed murder, it does not follow that B. must be hung at the same time with A.—Neither is it very good law to say because one man who burnt barns in this city, lost his liberty for three years in the State Prison, therefore all the men here should be shut up there.

It is a remarkable fact that so far as we have seen, no Republican, no Unionist however radical, has recently expressed any desire to have the National Constitution changed in the least; but all those who would restore the Union by truckling to the slave power, are for making very great changes, on the Crittenden plan, and beyond it. When we read their essays and speeches, we come to the conclusion that they wish not for the Union as it ever was, but desire it as it would have been if Breckinridge and Joe Lane had been elected, and Floyd and Davis had nestled in the Cabinet; while they wish not for the Constitution as it is or ever was, but to have it arranged as it never was and never will be.

The term State Rights is often abused to deceive the ignorant and dupe the stupid.

The States have valuable privileges and powers, one of the greatest being their power in the Senate, where New Hampshire is equal to New York: and Florida was equal to New York. But no man will say Florida is equal to New York now!—Every wise man can see the reason why, and can also see a good reason why Florida should have no voice there till rebellion and anarchy in Florida shall give place to submission, and loyalty, and justice.

This is a government in which the now rebel States exercised all the powers that belonged to them under the Constitution; but they were not sovereigns over the general government: on the contrary it was sovereign and they were subordinate. The Union was not a mere partnership which might be broken up at the pleasure of any one partner;—but a Government made by and for a United People, to "secure the blessings of liberty!" It does not need to be remodeled, but only to be maintained, enforced, sustained and enjoyed.

When rebel States and Districts come to their senses, then we can re-annex and re-admit them, as we did Texas, and in as strict accordance with the Constitution as we observed in that great transaction. But the rebellion must be put down first. U. T.

on the premises, in Newington.

The valuable and beautiful FARM, formerly owned by the Hon. James Pickering. This desirable estate, comprising about seventy acres, is situated in Newington, about four miles from Portsmouth and one mile from depot of Concord Railroad at Greenland. The buildings consist of a commodious House, containing ten rooms, excellent cellar, &c., together with Barn and other suitable Outbuildings, &c. The land is suitably divided into tillage, pasturage and mowing fields. Upon it are some of the very best varieties of Apple and Pear trees, many of which are in good bearing condition, together with the smaller fruits, such as Currants, Raspberries, &c. The beautiful shade trees scattered over the land, its eligibility to a good market, excellent pasturage and general beauty of its location, make this one of the most desirable estates ever offered for sale in this section of the State, either for a gentleman's country residence or for a practical farmer.

There are two Wells on the Farm, and the two Pastures, which are both excellent, are abundantly supplied with never-failing streams of the purest water.

Also will be sold, immediately after the Barn, the live Stock on the place, consisting of 1 Yoke OXEN, five good COWS, two young HEIFERS, eight SHEEP, a black MARE, one young HORSE, three HOGS.

EDITORIAL CHANGE.—The Rev. Dr. Peabody has faithfully served out his decade as the learned and pains taking conductor of the North American Review. In view of his many other engagements, first as the devoted pastor of a large parish, and afterward as Professor and President pro tempore at Cambridge, he has been a successful editor, and the Review under his management has lost none of its well earned reputation for scholarship and criticism. His own papers have been among the best published in its pages.

Dr. Peabody himself has always felt that a Quarterly like the North American should be in the charge of parties who could give it to exclusive attention, and who had large opportunities for studying and representing public sentiment, on all subjects appropriate to its special character. It is therefore with his cordial co-operation that Prof. James Russell Lowell and Charles Elliot Norton, Esq. take his place and become the editors of the North American. These gentlemen are too well known to the community, as authors and scholars, to require any commendation, or any assurance that they are eminently fitted for the responsible position they have assumed. We understand that the January number of the Review will be edited by them.—Boston Transcript.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— A correspondent of the Mirror states that a few days since, a horse frightened by the cars ran upon the track of the Concord and Claremont Railroad until he came to a bridge across the Contoocook river, when he took a desperate leap of about 24 feet into the bridge, fell through into the river, a distance of about 17 feet, and came out without help, slightly injured.

—— The following are the present or recent stations of the New Hampshire regiments in the field;

The 2d regiment at Camp Lookout, Maryland, guarding the rebel prison camp; the 3d and 4th are at Morris Island; the 6th at Frankfort, Ky., doing provost guard duty; the 7th at Morris Island; the 8th in the field in Louisiana; the 9th probably with Gen Burnside in Eastern Tennessee; the 10th at Portsmouth, Va.; the 11th at Loudon, Ky., with Burnside; the 12th at Point Lookout, Md.; the 13th at Portsmouth, Va., and the 14th doing provost duty at Washington, D. C.

—— Eagle Hall is the name given to the elegant hall recently finished in Stickney's new block opposite the American House, Concord. It was dedicated on Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 3d. An address by William Lloyd Garrison, and music under the direction of Messrs. Morey and Davis constituted the programme of exercises. The Concord Brigade Band also assisted. The hall is said to be the largest in the State, and Nathaniel White, Esq., is the lessee.

—— The Merrimack Lyceum Lecture Committee, of Concord, have nearly completed their arrangements for the coming season. Among the lecturers engaged are George W. Curtis, Rev. Wm. R. Alger, Dr. Holland, (Timothy Titcomb,) Oliver Wendell Holmes and Rev. A. L. Stone.

—— The Bedstead Manufactory of Charles Turner, Esq., at Clinton Village was burned on Friday morning, the 30th ult. So rapid was the spread of the flames that scarcely anything was saved. Loss about $2,000. Insured for $1,000.

—— Mr. George Farley, of Londonderry, hung himself last Friday night. He was about forty years of age, and leaves a wife and two children.

—— In Antrim, a little boy, 7 or 8 years old, was allowed by an older companion to fire a pistol. He pointed it across a little stream so low as to hit the bank, but in firing probably he raised the muzzle so that the ball passed above the bank and through a window, just grazing the cheek of the little boy's sister.

☞ The great railroad bridge on the Newton Falls branch of the Boston and Worcester road, over Charles river, caught fire late on Tuesday evening, and narrowly escaped complete destruction. The bridge was just beyond the Newton and Auburndale stations, only a short distance from the main road, and was one of the finest railroad bridges in the country. It was about three hundred feet long, and was some thirty or forty feet above the water. It was burning when the New York express train was passing, at about 11 o'clock, and the train was stopped while the men on board assisted in quenching the flames. The main timbers were badly burned, and some of the smaller ones completely destroyed.

SOLDIERS, ATTENTION.—For the derangements of the system incidental to the change of diet, wounds, eruptions and exposures which every Volunteer is liable to, there are no remedies so safe, convenient and reliable as HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT, 25 cents per box. 209.

☞ The Domestic Dyes prepared by Geo. H. Reed & Co. offer the simplest and most perfect means of dyeing household apparel ever presented the public. They embrace 40 different shades, and include all the new and fashionable colors—and are perfectly fast. Samples on silk and wool can be seen and the colors procured of THACHER. ju20

☞ See yon fair maiden in another column, picking Sambucci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

DEATHS.

In Salisbury Point, Oct. 1, of typhoid fever, JAMES ROWE, aged 22 years 11 months, son of Theodore F. and Hannah Rowe.—The brief period of Mr. Rowe's residence with us, before his departure for the naval service, had gained for him the respect and esteem of all those who had made his acquaintance. Possessed of a kind and generous disposition, his loss will be felt and sincerely mourned by his many friends in this vicinity. His sickness was occasioned by exposure on his passage home, after his term of enlistment had expired, and he is indirectly another martyr laid given for the flag and country. To show their respect for him, the Volunteer Company attended his funeral with full ranks, though he was not a member of the company, to pay the last tokens of re-pect to his remains. Though cut off in his opening years of manhood, we have lost many kind deeds to cherish and in our hearts will ever keep his memory green.—[Amesbury Villager.

Cash Assets

Nearly Ten Million Dollars!

This is an "all cash" Company. Its accumulations do not include any such assets as "Premium Notes."

Its Dividends have been LARGER than in any other Company, and are only made when ACTUALLY EARNED. They may be used either in Reduction of Premium or in purchase of additional insurance. By this system all policies are constantly increasing in value or the Annual Premiums are constantly decreasing in amount, until they finally cease.

Full information may be obtained on application, by mail or otherwise, to Total Assets, June 2, 1863, less Losses adjusted and paid.....$2,008,651 03.

Losses paid in Gold upon risks on which the Premium is paid in like Currency.

DEALERS with this company will be allowed the option (to be signified at the time of application for insurance) of receiving in lieu of scrip, at the end of one year, interim Cash, of premiums paid and earned during the year, upon all new risks under the New York form of policy, as follows:

1st. Upon every OPEN policy (CARGO RISKS) on which there shall been earned and paid $300 and upward, a return of TWENTY PER CENT.

2d. Upon other voyage risks upon CARGO and FREIGHT a return of FIFTEEN PER CENT.

3d. Upon TIME risks upon HULLS and FREIGHT, a return of TEN PER CENT.

Such dividends, however, being confined to persons and firms the aggregate of whose premiums upon such policies earned and paid during the year shall amount to the sum of One Hundred Dollars.

LAST AND BEST.

THE MODEL COOK.

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,

WITH TWO OVENS,

And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, and hardly wasted. A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either size, when needed.

In short, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and dispatch are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

VICTOR COAL STOVE.

We offer this beautiful coal burner to the public with full confidence in its merits.

It was brought into market three years since, and has come rapidly into use.

The Victor is one of the handsomest parlor stoves in the market, and is perfect in its operation.

The arrangement for dumping the ashes is very fine—no dust need escape into the room—a continuous fire may be kept throughout the winter—the coal all burned and no clinkers made.

The quantity of fuel used is very small indeed. We have sold a large number of Victor Stoves in this city, and they receive the highest commendation from those who are using them.

SAMBUCUS TREE, OF PORTUGAL,

The Great Remedy for Kidney Affections, Rheumatism, Chronic Complaints

Excellent Wine for Females.

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wine in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich peculiar flavor and medicinal properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

THE BEST COOK STOVE
IN THE MARKET,
AFTER ALL SAID,
—IS—
STEWART'S
NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT,
SUMMER AND WINTER
COOKING STOVE,
For Wood or Coal.
IMPROVED IN 1859.

The peculiarities of the
STEWART COOK STOVE,
Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will lie and smoulder and char, so on the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward removable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove from the time the article is set in until it is removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent RESERVOIR (of copper, with a tin casing) containing from 10 to 20 gallons, by which the waste heat, in passing off, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The space beneath the reservoir is occupied with a TIN CLOSET, where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c.

4. Also, by the aid of the Top Cover, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DUTCH OVEN prepared for the purpose—the heat being communicated to it from the side of the fire-box; and the fumes, meanwhile, passing into the draft.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of other may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; and the current instituted for this purpose makes subservient to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no increase of combustion.

7. By the aid of the perforated metallic linings, or "gas burning arrangement," and application of the principle of the Bunsen burner, the various culinary processes may be carried forward successfully with a single stick of wood at a time.

8. In regard to DURABILITY, the Stewart Stove is made to last, and will last. The structural form is such that the frame work of it can not burn out.

All the plates constituting the original STEWART STOVE, which was brought out twenty years ago, are still made, and sent to different parts of the country, on call.

The price of QUICKNESS, COMFORT and HEALTH secured to a family by the use of a culinary apparatus perfectly adapted to their wants, cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents.

But we can not, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of the STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE

Now in use, which has been widely tested
FOR TWENTY YEARS,
and now found wanting in any particular. Yet, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and used for a score of years; but the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made improvements—so that the Stewart Stove of 1863 is as superior to that of 1843, as the Mowing Machine is to a Bush Scythe.

IT HAS NOT BEEN EXCELLED

CALENDAR CLOCKS.

These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, to insure all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.

Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar attachment, and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. They will be set up in any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

GOLDEN SHEAF WHISKEY.

The subscriber, having been engaged for the last twenty years in the importation and sale of Wines and Spirits, now finds from this experience that real

Pure Bourbon Whiskey,

when made salt ought to be, from
WHEAT, RYE AND CORN,
is, without doubt, the most healthful and medical spirit that can be used. Having determined to make the sale of this article a speciality in his business, he has accepted the General Selling Agency for a large Distillery in Bourbon County, Kentucky, and in future will sell, under the brand of
"Golden Sheaf."
PURE BOURBON WHISKEY, manufactured from the BEST SELECTED GRAINS, and made in the most careful manner.

This celebrated Whiskey will be put up in cases containing one dozen bottles each, and offered to the Trade by his Travelling agents throughout the country, or also kept on hand in his warehouse in Boston, in barrels, half barrels and kegs.

Individuals desirous of procuring a pure, reliable article of BOURBON WHISKEY, at a reasonable price, have only to inquire of any respectable Grocer or Druggist for "GOLDEN SHEAF WHISKEY," or to send their orders for any quantity required to the General Depot for its sale, 91 Washington St, Boston.

Each bottle is enclosed in a neat pasteboard box, to secure its safe transportation.

HEALTH AND COMFORT.

Patent Rubber Sole Boots and Shoes.

FOR MEN, BOYS AND YOUTH.

These Goods, having been carefully tested, prove to be more desirable than any other Boots and Shoes heretofore made. They answer the double purpose of Leather and Rubber Boots and Shoes.

They are made serviceable and easier to the feet than Leather Soles, are impervious to water, and having a leather inner sole do not draw the feet, and are far less expensive than Rubber Boots.

They are free from noise, prevent slipping on ice, and in keeping the feet dry and warm are conducive to health.

When the sole wear out, the Boots and Shoes can be tapped with leather, or, if returned to us entire, new Rubber Soles can be put on.

The subscribers, having made arrangements as Agents for the sale of the above goods, are now prepared to take measures for the same, in different styles, and at short notice. They are made from the best stock to be had in the market, and warranted in every particular. Call and examine samples, at No. 12 Market street.

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would, especially call the attention of the public to the
CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats is prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting dwellings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, most and agreeable;—and is more free of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over those in use, but many having proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the coal can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat unburned, making the chimney the latest part of your dwelling.

This furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Teeth on Vulcanized Rubber,

SOME OF ITS ADVANTAGES.

1st It is stronger and lighter than any known material.
2d. From two to six times the amount of suction or adhesion can be obtained by it.
3d. When the arch is irregular we can by building out the depressions—which can be done to any extent—give the mouth a more natural appearance.
4th No bad taste arises in the mouth by its use, as the secretions of the stomach and mouth do not affect it in the least.
5th. Teeth mounted upon this base can be kept sweet and wholesome by a simple rinse, as when finished the work presents the whole piece.
6th While in all ways it is better, save in a few peculiar cases, it is more cheap than Gold.

DR. GOODALL

Would respectfully announce to his patrons and the public that VULCANIZED RUBBER as a base for Artificial Teeth, promises all the advantages of Gold, yet costs only half as much. My experience has been highly satisfactory in its use, and I have no hesitation in WARRANTING PERFECT SATISFACTION in all cases.

Teeth inserted on Gold and Silver, and all other operations performed as usual.

Teeth extracted positively without pain, by inhaling Nitrous Oxyd Gas!

He is fully convinced that it is a perfectly harmless anæsthetic, its effect being that of an exhilarant, the whole operation being completed generally in three minutes, without the least pain, and the patient feeling as well, and usually better than before inhaling the Gas.

He would cordially invite all who wish teeth extracted without pain, or any possible injurious results, to call and be convinced.

I take pleasure in referring the public to Dr. PERKINS, Dr. BOARDMAN, Dr OLIVER and Dr BENNETT, for particular success in extracting teeth. Teeth extracted without pain and with perfect safety, with Rubber. Teeth polished to their natural whiteness without pain or injury to the Enamel. Regulation of Adults' and Children's Teeth will receive particular attention.—All whole and partial Sets of Teeth repaired with Neatness and Dispatch. All other operations in Dentistry, I will do at the usual rates.

VOL. 23. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. FRIDAY NOV. 6, 1863. NO. 110.

The Chronicle.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home—our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address.

SERENADE.

SCISSORED FROM A LADY'S ALBUM.

O lady wake! The tuneful fox
Is twittering in the emerald sky,
The star-lash jostled thy casement knocks,
And in thy chamber, fluttering nigh
The taper's flame, with fitful wing,
The fragile penguin circles round;
While, luridly, night's shadows fling
A ruddy darkness on the ground.

O'er the campagna's bursting waves
The giraffe whistles loud and shrill,
While her small beak the simoon laves
Within the azure daffodil!
Sweet influences below, above,
An irresistled clamor make,
All wooing forth my lady-love
To walk abroad! O lady, wake!
—(Thomas Butler Gunn.

EXCELLENCY OF CHRIST.

He is a path, if any be missed;
He is a rule, if any asked be;
If any chance to hunger, he is bread;
If any be a bondman, he is free;
If any be but weak, how strong he is!
To dead men life he is, to sick men health;
To blind men sight, and to the needy wealth;
A pleasure without loss, a treasure without stealth.—(Giles Fletcher.

— The originals of the Jeff. Davis correspondence, captured recently, it is authoritatively stated, are in the hands of the government and will remain on file, as a part of the history of the war. Many of them bear endorsements by Davis himself.

— The Japanese city of Kagosima, nearly destroyed by a bombardment of the British squadron, was of vast extent. It was protected along its entire front by some twelve batteries, excellently mounted. After the bombardment, the city was one mass of ruins.

When Rosecrans was defeated at Chickamauga, the opposition presses set up a howl that he had been ordered by the administration to advance against his better judgment. It now turns out that he advanced without orders. The staple of most of the attacks upon the government is conjecture and misapprehension.—Portland Press.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 8 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr D., devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil foreboding, aversion to society, self distrust, timidity, &c, are among the evils produced. Such persons should before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr Dow's treatment a few days or week, can be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capotes, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. These for Sk and a red stamp.

Highly Important!

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, Nos. 7 & 8 Endicott Street, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that the most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

In all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

BOSTON, April 7, 1863. eodly.

RYE, N. H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of DR. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, and that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. TOWLE.

From EZRA I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT; Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." IRA L. CHESLEY.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. mav26eod

DR. J. TELLER continues to be confidentially and successfully consulted on all forms of private disease, at his old Established Hospital, No. 5 Beaver Street, Albany, N. Y. Twenty years devoted to this one particular branch of practice, enables him to perform cures such as no other Physician can do, and his facilities are such (being by correspondence with the most eminent Physicians of the Old World,) of obtaining the latest as well as the latest remedies for these diseases, offering advantages to the unfortunate of a quick and rapid cure, to be obtained at no other office in America.

In Gleet, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Enlargement of the Testicles and Spermatic Cords Bubo, Ulcerated Throat, Sore Nose, Tender Shin Bones, Cutaneous Eruptions, Bilos, Ulcers, Abscesses, and all other impurities of the system, are precisely under the control of the Doctor's Medicines, and have been tested in more than 20,000 cases annually, with immense Success.

YOUNG MEN.

Young Men addicted to secret habits, who have contracted a habit, fair healthy complexion, the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasure of the Married Life, are notified that in consulting Dr. J. Teller, they will find a friend to counsel and a Physician who has cured thousands, in almost every part of the United States, who applied to Dr. J. Teller, and he has made them robust in all that makes life desirable and man happy. The reader is of course aware that the delicacy of this subject will prevent a more minute description of this terrible disease.

DR. TELLER'S GREAT WORK.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1863.

GOVERNOR'S PROCLAMATION.

The President of the United States has issued a Proclamation calling upon the Governors of the loyal States to raise for the service of the United States before the 5th day of January next 300,000 volunteers. The quota of New Hampshire under this call will be as follows:

For the 1st Congressional Dist.	1,259
For the 2d Congressional Dist.	1,129
For the 3d Congressional Dist.	1,259
Total	3,768

The quotas of the different towns and wards will be announced as speedily as possible from the Adjutant General's office.

I would impress upon the loyal citizens of New Hampshire the fact that this call of the President is not unnecessary. The recent draft has furnished very few men to our armies. The term of service of many of our volunteers is about to expire. If we throw into the field a fresh army of "three hundred thousand more" before the first of January, their term of service will be short, while they will win the same honor and emoluments with those who have "borne the burden and heat of the day." The moral effect of such a reinforcement of our armies, following such victories as Gettysburg, Vicksburg and Port Hudson, will be the death blow of the rebellion. The volunteers who shall be mustered into the service from this State are designed to fill up the ranks of New Hampshire regiments which have already won immortal fame, and each recruit will be allowed to designate the corps which he wishes to enter. The General Government gives to each fresh recruit $302, to each veteran $402. In addition to these sums I do hereby (with the advice and consent of the Executive Council) offer a bounty of one hundred dollars to every man who volunteers in response to this call before the 5th day of January next, and I would recommend to the several cities and towns to take immediate measures for promptly raising their full quota by offering (in accordance with the law enacted July 9, 1862,) reasonable town bounties to be paid in addition to the Government and State bounties; or for the purpose of cashing the bounties offered by the General Government, so that they shall be paid to each volunteer in full when he is mustered into service.

Let me remind the citizens of New Hampshire that if this call is not met before the Fifth of January, 1864, a draft will then be ordered in this State to meet all the deficiencies up to that date. The Conscription Act provides that the first class of those enrolled shall be exhausted before the second is called upon; and every member of the first class may consider himself as elected unless this call for volunteers is promptly met, and there is strong probability that Congress, immediately on coming together, will strike from the Conscription Act the commutation clause, and cause every able-bodied man who is drafted to be represented in the field.

It is very evident that some who have stayed at home and talked war must, under this call, report themselves for duty. It is evident that those who have deprecated and opposed the recent draft must now show their faith in volunteering by their works. Men of New Hampshire, we CAN meet this call upon us before the First of January, and, God helping us, we will do it. Women of New Hampshire, it is your duty to say to the husbands, brothers, sons and friends whom your influence has hindered from responding to the calls of their country: "Go to the rescue or be accounted false to your country and to God." Shall the Granite State, the State of Langdon and Stark, prove recreant in such a crisis as this? God forbid. JOSEPH A. GILMORE, Governor.

The foregoing proclamation is dated Nov. 4. As will be seen it obviates all necessity of an extra session of the Legislature, with its attendant expense, and leaves the towns to perform their primary duty. The State bounty of $100 is large enough, taken in connection with the liberal bounty offered by the general Government, and such bounty as the towns shall vote, not exceeding $300. Should this sum be offered, the new volunteer will receive an aggregate bounty of $700, and the veteran $600. But money alone will not bring the volunteers. To fill our quota Work must be done,—the people of New Hampshire must labor zealously and united from now till the Fifth of January. If they do so, there is good reason to believe that the quota can be filled.

☞ It is stated that a few days ago, while an engineer officer was examining the southeastern portion of Fort Wagner preparatory to designing some alterations, he discovered a magazine, which until then had escaped the notice of any of our men. The magazine is located directly beneath the left bastion of the fort, in the form of a pit, and is reached by means of a stationary ladder. When found, its roof was covered with eight feet of sand. It contained a large amount of ammunition, including cannon projectiles and prepared charges for rifled muskets. There was also stored away a quantity of a peculiar kind of incendiary shell, the combustible substance, other than the powder, consisting of a fluid which was readily ignited and burned with an unquenchable flame.

☞ Returns of the Maryland election, which was held on Wednesday, come in very slowly. Goldsborough (Unconditional Union candidate for controller) is undoubtedly elected by a large majority; and three Union men out of the five Congressmen are certainly elected.

THE RESULTS.

The Newburyport Herald, of Nov. 5, offers the following suggestive remarks on the recent elections:—

The results of the fall elections should be sufficient for all parties. They should teach the Democrats that their organization is dead. It long since became demoralized, and has now been routed and driven from the field. It has no platform of principles upon which it can rally; no acknowledged head to which it can look for guidance; and in its every limb is paralyzed beyond recovery. If those who belong to that party accept the fact of its death, and reorganize on a basis that shall aim at undeviating loyalty to the government, determined adherence to the Union, continued support of the rights of the States, and the adoption of broad American principles—the protection of the continent from European encroachments, and its full redemption from slavery and despotism—then they may have a resurrection. If not, they have passed to the shades, where lie in death the wrecks of the Federal, the Whig, and the American parties; and all future voting of their ticket will be senseless as was the voting for Daniel Webster in 1852, after he was dead.

The elections have reinaugurated the Republican party, not because it is the Republican party, for in most instances it has thrown off that name, and in many cases it has elected men who never voted the Republican ticket, and never did and never will endorse the Chicago platform: but its strength is in this—that in the administration is represented the government—the Union, the continued life of the nation; and the fixed determination of the American will is that the constitution shall be maintained and the union of these States perpetuated. It does not matter whether the war to that end is longer or shorter, if it must continue to the end of time, they decree that it shall be persisted in and not one rood of territory shall be removed from the sheltering protection of the American flag. It does not matter how much blood is needed for that preservation; they will see the whole country depopulated before it is disruptured. It does not matter how much it may cost in money; a thousand millions has now become a trifle, and nobody cares what the war costs. If it be needed that the continent should become a desert, and not a city, or ship, or factory, or blade of grass should remain on it, they register their decision that they should all go before rebellion shall triumph. This is the declaration they make to Jeff. Davis and the world; and it is because the administration is so struggling for national existence that it is sustained. These are the lessons from the elections.

NEWBURYPORT AND GEORGETOWN.—From the Herald we learn that in Newburyport, Gov. Andrew has 685 to 380 for Paine; every ward giving majority one way. George Goodwin, for representative, is chosen by 196 to 102; last year Cushing had over 100 majority. Albert Stevens for Rep. has 120 majority over George, who had 87 majority last year.

The Herald says:—

"Massachusetts but echoes the voice of Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York, only she is relatively stronger that way than any of them, the town of Hull being a fair representative of the whole, and that stood 17 for Andrew and one for Paine. In this city there were many Democrats who voted the entire Republican ticket, and they distributed that ticket at the polls, while few active Democrats were to be found; and many more voted for the Republican candidates for Representative against the Democratic candidates. This was owing to the local feeling, not towards the candidates so much as against the Democratic organization, that has pandered to rum and rowdyism till the respectability of the party had become utterly disgusted; and what they have now done they will repeat with greater emphasis in the approaching municipal election.

Rev. Charles Beecher of Georgetown is elected from the Georgetown and Groveland district. He had 75 majority in Georgetown; and 54 in Groveland. Politically he is declared to be sound—orthodox."

THE CINCINNATI CONSPIRACY.—The accounts given in the Cincinnati papers relative to the conspiracy lately discovered in that city to release the rebel prisoners from Camp Chase and from the Ohio penitentiary, where John Morgan and his gang are confined, have been substantially given by telegraph. The Gazette says the alleged conspirators are of small calibre, for such an undertaking, but larger fish were undoubtedly connected with them, and if Vallandigham had been elected, the result of the movement, which is now an abortion might have been serious. The people of Ohio, it adds, can, however, see what they have escaped in defeating Vallandigham and his copperhead associates. The Times says that a great many are implicated in the conspiracy; but, as a full knowledge of its existence and ramifications has been had by the authorities during the past six weeks, the movements of the suspected parties are very closely watched, both in Ohio and Illinois.

— It is denied that Mr. Bonner, of the New York Ledger, has bought the horse "Cloudman" for $20,000; but whether the denial relates to the price or to the fact, we are not informed.

☞ Since the election, the New York Herald says that the popular decision is for a more vigorous prosecution of the war, and that Seymour's "wishy, temporising, double-faced, do-nothing policy as Governor of New York, is too strong against him and his party to be neutralized or palliated by the enforced resolutions of Dean Richmond's see saw Albany platform."

— Mosby is again in the saddle and "slashing around" promiscuously.

— An extra session of the Connecticut Legislature is being held.

— An extra session of the Massachusetts Legislature is called,—for the 11th inst.

— The number of colored troops actually under arms along the Mississippi river is over twenty thousand.

— The talent of conversation, as it is understood in society, is the talent of agreeably saying commonplace things.

— There is scarcely a publisher in England who is not the proprietor of some magazine. It affords them an opportunity to advertise their books.

— Some Yankee prisoners confined in a warehouse at Richmond made way with over eight thousand pounds of sugar before the leak was discovered.

—The Richmond papers complain greatly of the scarcity of food in that city. On Saturday morning the meat supplies at the markets gave out at an early hour.

— Lowell is to build a granite monument to the memory of the first two men from that city, who fell in this war—Ladd and Whiting, who were killed in Baltimore.

—The N. Y. Tribune says the State Senate will probably stand 23 Union men to 9 Democrats,—which it thinks gratifying, but not enough.

— The N. Y. World, in admitting that the Democracy have been defeated by at least 15,000 majority in that State, says its party has lost a political Chickamauga, but hopes to retain Chattanooga.

— The Lynchburg, Va., Republican protests against having 3000 Yankee prisoners sent there from Richmond. Starvation with its pallid cheek terrifies the Lynchburghers.

— Mr. G. P. Putnam, of New York, proposes to preserve in a volume the loyal lyrics which the war has called forth, and which are now scattered throughout the columns of newspapers.

— In Richmond 43 negroes, who were congregated in the city gas works on Saturday night for religious purposes, thus holding an unlawful assemblage, were arrested and ordered 10 lashes each.

— The widows of John Virtue and Henry Vice lately met in an office at Des Moines, Iowa, where they went to file claims for pensions. For the first time in history, the meeting of Vice and Virtue was amicable.

—Ezra Chappell of New London, Ct., announces that he will commence this week the distribution of bread to the poor. For several winters past he has generously given thousands of loaves to the destitute of that city.

— A New York letter says more gold is sold at the Evening Board, and the market is more controlled by it than by the Noon Board in Wall street. As all the sales are made in view of the next day's quotation, the excitement is equal to gambling, and quite as risky.

— In a recent suit against the Old Colony Railroad, by a passenger, for injuries, the Supreme Court decided that as the passenger had his arm resting upon the window sill, outside of the car, the negligence was on his part, and he could not recover damages.

— Josiah Quincy, of Boston, and the recently deceased Lord Lyndhurst were both born on the night of May 21, 1772; the same physician attending their entry into the world; he was called from house to the other to attend to this duty. He was Dr. Joseph Warren, who three years afterwards fell at Bunker Hill.

— The Navy Department is about building a fleet of wooden vessels of war of 3,000 tons burden, to be completed within a year. The machinery is already in process of construction. Twelve of these vessels are to be clippers, built with special reference to speed, and carrying light batteries. The other eight are to be as swift as is compatible, with broadsides of 29 inch guns.

— A mass meeting of the ticket holders in Gen. Parham's "Invalid Soldiers' National Home" enterprise, was held in Faneuil Hall, Boston on Wednesday evening. Two Boards of Trustees, of seven each, were appointed,—first Board to receive the moneys that may accure for the National Home Fund, and the second to receive the donated property for the ticket holders.

— The Herald states that one of the successful candidates for the legislature in Newburyport, a very worthy man, but quiet, modest and unassuming, received a call on Wednesday morning before he had risen from his bed. It was a lad who wished him to subscribe for a book, stating as a reason for calling, that he desired the names of the most distinguished and respectable men before he went to the people for subscriptions.

— George Sand, the authoress, at times draws from her pocket a small Andalusian cigarette, adroitly lights it with a live coal which she takes from the hearth with the tongs, and, without perceiving your astonishment, gradually conceals herself in the midst of the azure cloud thickened by the double column of smoke which she drives from her nostrils with the automatic precision of a steam engine.

THE REBELLION.

Rebel accounts to the 1st show that the bombardment of Charleston continued without intermission. The firing was terrific,—over 1200 shots being fired in twenty-four hours. On the afternoon of the 1st the shots averaged four per minute. On the morning of the 31st the sea-face of Sumter was driven in, and thirteen of the garrison were buried beneath the ruins.

The Richmond Examiner reports that 6000 Federal troops had landed at Newport News.

Longstreet is reported to be concentrating rebel troops near Cleveland, Tenn., to move upon Gen. Burnside. Gen. Hooker's troops are said to hold the coal mines on which the rebel depended to supply their important foundries and shops, at Rome and Atlanta. They also hold a cave from which the rebels obtained most of the saltpetre used in that region.

East Tennessee is once more clear of rebels, with the exception of guerillas. A fight at Roan Springs resulted in the rout of the rebels, who were pursued beyond Kingsport. The situation is satisfactory.—We lost 17 killed and 52 wounded.

120 of our cavalry compelled 400 rebel cavalry to retreat after four desperate charges at Lawrenceburg, Tenn., on the 3d. The rebel loss was 8 killed, 7 wounded and 24 prisoners. We had 3 wounded. Gen. Bragg's forage train, sent up to Lookout valley, in front of his position, was captured, with the guard.

Contrary to the expectations of everybody the rebels did not steal the blankets and other articles sent to our prisoners confined in Richmond. Gen. Neal Dow writes from Libby Prison that all these things had been distributed among the prisoners.

The rebels have an iron-clad ram nearly completed on the Neuse river, 40 miles above Newbern, N. C.

There is a belief in some quarters that Gen. Foster is to supersede Gen. Meade.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Commission appointed by the Governor and Council to hear and report upon claims against the State arising out of the present war, will hold a session in the Council Chamber on Thursday, the 12th of November.

—— Real Estate in Dover is changing hands quite briskly, and at fair prices, while new buildings are going up in various places.

—— The inauguration of Rev. Asa D. Smith, D. D., as President of Dartmouth College, is appointed to take place, in the Church, at Hanover, on Wednesday, 18th November inst., at 10 o'clock A. M. It is hoped that the graduates of the College, the ministers of all religious denominations, and the friends of liberal education throughout the State, will honor the occasion by their presence.

—— A boy nine years old stole about $27 dollars from a trunk in Manchester on Sunday night; and on Monday having picked up two companions, they indulged in oysters, and drinks, and rides, until they were overhauled by the police.

—— It is a standing and unvarying regulation of the War Department, that there can be no promotions or appointments of field officers in regiments reduced below the minimum of men, or, at least, that no such officers can be mustered into the service until the regiments are recruited to the requisite number. The 11th Regiment has been reduced below the minimum and is not yet recruited. Col. Harriman, though reappointed Colonel, cannot be mustered in until the regiment is filled up. He has, therefore, very properly returned his commission to the State Executive, preferring that thus the matter should stand until the regiment is recruited; when, if his services are demanded, they will be promptly rendered.

— 59 counties in New York give a Union majority of 33,750. 21 Unionists and 11 Democrats are elected to the Senate; to the Assembly, 86 Unionists and 46 Democrats. McCunn, Dem., is elected Judge of the Superior Court.

on the premises, in Newington.

The valuable and beautiful FARM, formerly owned by the Hon. James Pickering. This desirable estate, comprising about seventy acres, is situated in Newington, about four miles from Portsmouth and one mile from depot of Concord Railroad at Greenland. The buildings consist of a convenient House, containing ten rooms, excellent cellar, &c., together with Barn and other suitable Outbuildings, &c. The land is suitably divided into tillage, pasturage and mowing fields. Upon it are some of the very best varieties of Apple and Pear trees, many of which are in good bearing condition, together with the smaller fruits, such as Currants, Raspberries, &c. The beautiful shade trees scattered over the land, its eligibility to a good market, excellent pasturage and general beauty of its location, make this one of the most desirable estates ever offered for sale in this section of the State, either for a gentleman's country residence or for a practical farmer.

There are two Wells on the Farm, and the two Pastures, which are both excellent, are abundantly supplied with never-failing streams of the purest water.

Also will be sold, immediately after the Farm, the Live Stock on the place, consisting of 1 Yoke OXEN, five good COWS, two young HEIFERS, eight SHEEP, a black MARE, one YOUNG HORSE, three HOGS.

Probate Advertisements.

The language of the law relating to the publication of Probate Notices is:

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper therefor."

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notice may be ordered for the Chronicle or the Gazette; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

Our terms are as low as those of any other Paper.

Local.

☞ Lawrence Gould, an insane person, who has been at the Asylum in Concord but was returned to this city during the past summer, as incurable but harmless, attempted to commit suicide at the Alms House on Monday night last by cutting his throat with a razor. He slept in a room occupied by two other persons, and sometime in the night arose, took a key from the pocket of one of them, opened a chest in the room, and got a razor. He then went back to his bed, and drew the razor across his throat while his head rested on the bed. He was found in this condition in the morning. He was not dead, but was injured so severely that he cannot survive.

POLICE COURT, Thursday. Before Justice Odell.—Chas. Seavey, for drunkenness, was fined $3: costs $2.92. Ellen Carroll pleaded guilty to the charge of drunkenness, fined $3: costs $3.86. Both committed.

☞ It is stated that on Friday evening last, about 9 o'clock, some six or eight shots were fired from or near Newcastle bridge in the direction of Fort Sullivan, which is garrisoned by contrabands. Several of the shot struck the flag-staff, and one went through the guard house. An alarm was given by the sentinel, but nothing more was heard or seen.

It is also stated that one night last week some unknown person went down the road near the Fort, and fired at the sentinel on duty, but fortunately did not hit him.

S. J. COURT, Thursday.—The trial of case Prescott et al. vs. Fellowes, which was commenced on Wednesday, was continued through the day, and was not completed at the time of adjournment.

☞ The Hutchinsons gave their second and last concert at the Temple last evening, of course greatly pleasing their numerous friends—for they can't help being popular in the present state of public feeling. They will sing in Newburyport on Monday evening next.

☞ While the arrangements were in progress for the formation of a lyceum in this city, we overheard this short dialogue on the subject:

Peter—"Mike, what's a lyceum?"

Mike—"A lyceum? Oh, a lyceum's what peddlers have, so they can peddle things round the country."

☞ One of the new vessels being built at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, is to be named the Ammonoosuc.

☞ Since the days of Caxton, all printers have tried their hand at making "pi," and one would reasonably suppose that by the present time they might have attained a great proficiency therein, but we must say that, judging from the sample presented us by "Mary," she excels all typos in the manufacture of pie, especially of the genus "mince."

The lease of the Dover and Winnipisseogee Railroad to the Boston and Maine Railroad, to which we alluded last week, we understand has been consummated, and the arrangement went into effect on Monday. The Boston and Maine hires the Dover and Winnipisseogee for fifty years, paying annually $29,000 for its use, and buying all its rolling stock. This will give the bondholders of the Dover and Winnipisseogee Road 6 per cent. on their bonds. The Steamer Dover is included in part in this arrangement, the Boston and Maine taking the interest which the D. and W. Road owned in the boat, which was about $12,000. Dover Enquirer.

BRIEF LOCALS.—The Portsmouth correspondent of the Ballot urges an early morning mail to Boston from this city—to go by the 7 1-4 train on the Eastern road.

——Lieut. William H. Cornelius, of this city, late of the 3d N. H. regiment, has been appointed 1st Lieutenant in the U. S. Invalid Corps.——A horse railroad from the Navy Yard to Portsmouth is said to be "talked of"—we don't know by whom.—When it is built, probably, that ferry-boat will not be talked of.——A drafted man who failed to get exempted as the only son of a widow dependent upon him for support, then brought forward papers to prove that he had two brothers in the army. Unfortunately, he had two other brothers, and was ordered to "pony up," furnish a substitute, or go.

WRONG GUIDE BOARDS.—I have already alluded to the old guide boards giving directions to what was about 12 years ago Piscataqua Bridge, I now notice boards at each end of Parker street, commencing at Islington street and terminating near the C. & P. R. R. depot. But since the great mill has been built, short streets have been laid out, cutting Parker street in two, or rather only leaving each end of it. Thus the city now has two Parker streets, which is liable to lead to wrong direction and confusion. Probably these boards have not been noticed by the City Authorities, or there has been no desire expressed to have them removed or changed, which it seems necessary should be done. B.

☞ It is thought that the new U. S. gunboat Agawam will be ready to leave Portland by the middle of next week for the Portsmouth Navy Yard, where she is to receive her armament.

☞ We are indebted to J. Horace Kent, Esq., of the Provost Marshal's office, for a copy of the Manchester American containing the Governor's Proclamation, in advance of the mail. Although we received it at a late hour last evening, it is a document of so much public interest and importance that we publish it entire this morning.

LAST AND BEST.

THE MODEL COOK.

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,

WITH TWO OVENS,

And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be done accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. More cooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted. A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either side, when needed.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where help is employed, and invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and dispatch are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

VICTOR COAL STOVE.

We offer this beautiful coal burner to the public with full confidence in its merits.

It was brought into market three years since, and has come rapidly into use.

The Victor is one of the handsomest parlor stoves in the market, and is perfect in its operation.

The arrangement for dumping the ashes is very fine—no dust need escape into the room—a continuous fire may be kept throughout the winter—the coal all burned and no clinkers made.

The quantity of fuel used is very small indeed. We have sold a large number of Victor Stoves in this city, and they receive the highest commendation from those who are using them.

THE ALL SUFFICIENT THREE.

The Great "American Remedies"

Known as "Helmbold's"

Genuine Preparations, Viz.:

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT "BUCHU,"
" " SARSAPARILLA,
" " IMPROVED ROSE WASH.

HELMBOLD'S
GENUINE PREPARATION,
"HIGHLY CONCENTRATED"
COMPOUND
FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,
A Positive and Specific Remedy
For Diseases of the
BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL, AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcerous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as pain and inflammation, and is good for Men, Women, or Children.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU
FOR WEAKNESSES
Arising from Excess, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion, or Abuse,
ATTENDED WITH THE FOLLOWING SYMPTOMS:

Indisposition to Exertion,	Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory	Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves,	Trembling,
Horror of Disease,	Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision,	Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the muscular System,	Flushing of the Body,
Hot Hands,	Eruptions on the Face,
	Pale Countenance,
	Dryness of the Skin

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which immediate invariably removes, soon follow INFIRMITY, INSANITY, ERRATIC FITS, in one of which the patient may expire. We can say that they are not frequently followed by those terrible diseases,

INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION.

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, but none will confess, the records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of the assertion.

THE CONSTITUTION, ONCE AFFECTED WITH ORGANIC WEAKNESS,

Requires the aid of medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. A trial will convince the most skeptical.

Females, Females, Females,
OLD OR YOUNG, SINGLE, MARRIED, OR CONTEMPLATING MARRIAGE.

In many affections peculiar to Females the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painful or Suppression of the Customary Evacuations, Ulceration Schirrous state of the Uterus, Leucorrhea, or Whites, Sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from Indiscretion, Habits of Dissipation, or in the

DECLINE OR CHANGE OF LIFE,

are symptoms which are cured by the use of this Extract.

NO FAMILY SHOULD BE WITHOUT IT.

Take no Balsam, Mercury, or Unpleasant Medicine for unpleasant and dangerous diseases.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU
CURES
Secret Diseases
In all their stages, at little expense; little or no change in diet, no inconvenience,

AND NO EXPOSURE.

It causes frequent desire, and gives strength to Urinate, speedily removes all obstructions, preventing and curing Strictures of the Urethra, allaying pain and inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling poisonous, Diseased and Worn-out Matter

Thousands upon Thousands
WHO HAVE BEEN THE VICTIMS OF QUACKS,

and who have paid heavy Fees to be cure in no short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "Potion," lay, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been locked up in the system, to break out in an aggravated form, and

PERHAPS AFTER MARRIAGE.

USE
HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU
For all Affections and Diseases of
The Urinary Organs,
Whether existing in MALE OR FEMALE, from whatever cause originating, and no matter
OF HOW LONG STANDING.

Diseases of the organs require the aid of diuretics.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU
IS THE GREAT DIURETIC,

And it is certain to have the desired effect in all diseases for which it is recommended.

BLOOD! BLOOD! BLOOD!

Helmbold's Highly Concentrated Compound
Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla,
SYPHILIS.

This is an affection of the Blood, and attacks the Sexual Organs, Lining of the Nose, Ears, Throat, Windpipe, and other Mucus Surfaces, making its appearance in the form of Ulcers.—Helmbold's Extract Sarsaparilla purifies the Blood, and removes all Scaly Eruptions of the Skin, giving to the complexion a clear and healthy Color. In Scrofula, Scurvy, Rheumatism, and all other cases of complaints, its Blood-Purifying Properties are preserved to a greater extent than any other preparation of Sarsaparilla.

Helmbold's Rose Wash.

An excellent Lotion for Diseases of a Syphilitic Nature, and as an injection in Diseases of the Urinary Organs, arising from habits of dissipation, used in conjunction with Extracts Buchu and Sarsaparilla, in such diseases as recommended.

THE BEST COOK STOVE
IN THE MARKET,
AFTER ALL SAID,
—IS—
STEWART'S
NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR TIGHT,
SUMMER AND WINTER
COOKING STOVE,
For Wood or Coal,
IMPROVED IN 1859.

The peculiarities of the
STEWART COOK STOVE,
Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, it will fill and smoulder and char, upon the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the Oven, the peculiar construction of the furniture, and the outward moveable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove from the time the article is set in until it is removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent RESERVOIR (of copper, with a tin casing) containing from 10 to 25 gallons, by which the waste heat, usually lost, is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The space beneath the reservoir is occupied with a LIP CLOSET, where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c.

4. Also, by the aid of the TOP COVER, a coal fire may be kept through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in one of the large size, with a Dutch OVEN prepared for the purpose—the heat being communicated to it from both sides of the firebox; and the fumes, meanwhile, passing into the draft.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of meat may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; and the current instituted for this purpose made subservient to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no increase of combustion.

7. By the aid of the perforated metallic linings, or "gas burning arrangement," and application of the full summer dress, the various culinary processes may be carried forward successfully with a single stick of wood at a time.

8. In regard to DURABILITY, the Stewart Stove is made so large, and with such architectural form to cook the frame work of it can not burn out.

All the plates constituting the original STEWART STOVE, which was brought out twenty years ago, are still made, and sent to different parts of the country, on call.

The price will be found MODERATE, COMFORT and HEALTH secured to a family by the use of a culinary apparatus perfectly adapted to their wants, cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents.

But we can not, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of the STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new fangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE

Now in use, which has been widely tested

FOR TWENTY YEARS,

and NOT found wanting in any particular. Yes, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and used for a score of years; but the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made improvements—so that the Stewart Stove of 1863 is as superior to that of 1841, as the Mowing Machine is to a Bush Scythe.

IT HAS NOT BEEN EXCELLED

CALENDAR CLOCKS.

These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, to secure all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.

Having taken the Agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar Attachment; and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar Attachment adds the price of the clock. They will be set up in any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

GOLDEN SHEAF WHISKEY.

The subscriber, having been engaged for the last twenty years in the importation and sale of Wines and Spirits, now finds from this experience that real

Pure Bourbon Whiskey,

is what alone is sought to be from
WHEAT, RYE AND CORN,

is, without doubt, the most healthful and medical spirit that can be used. Having determined to make the sale of this article a specialty in his business, he has accepted the

General Selling Agency for a large Distillery in Bourbon County, and in future will sell, under the brand of

"Golden Sheaf,"

PURE BOURBON WHISKEY, manufactured from the BEST SELECTED GRAINS, and made in the most careful manner.

This celebrated Whiskey will be put up in cases containing one dozen bottles each, and offered to the Trade by his Travelling agents throughout the country, and also kept on hand in his warehouse in Boston, in barrels, half barrels and kegs.

Individuals desirous of procuring a pure, reliable article of BOURBON WHISKEY, at a reasonable price, have only to inquire of any respectable Grocer or Druggist for "GOLDEN SHEAF WHISKEY," or to send their orders for any quantity required to the General Depot for its sale, 91 Washington St. Boston.

Each bottle is enclosed in a neat pasteboard box, to ensure its safe transportation.

HEALTH AND COMFORT.

Patent Rubber Sole Boots and Shoes.

FOR MEN, BOYS AND YOUTH.

These Goods, having been carefully tested, prove to be more desirable than any other Boots and Shoes heretofore made. They answer the double purpose of Leather and Rubber Boots and Shoes.

They are made serviceable and easier to the feet than Leather Soles, are impervious to water, and having a leather inner sole do not draw the feet, and are far less expensive than Rubber Boots.

They are free from noise, prevent slipping on ice, and keeping the feet dry and warm are conducive to health.

When the Soles wear out, the Boots and Shoes can be repaired with leather, or, if returned, to us entire, new Rubber Soles can be put on.

The subscribers, having made arrangements as Agents for the sale of the above goods, are now prepared to take orders for the same, in different styles, and deliver them at short notice They are made from the best stock to be had in the market, and warranted in every particular. THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED
MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being better, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for pertection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and oven heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large oven heater, and the oven larger than the warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely prevented. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would call those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management, it has no equal, profoundly a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headaches, so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heated air furnaces have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe and chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, claiming some peculiar improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases have been lighter than the air, passed into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of outer air, thus preventing a pure, reliable article of BOURBON WHISKEY, at a reasonable price, have only to inquire of any respectable Grocer or Druggist for "GOLDEN SHEAF WHISKEY," or to send their orders for any quantity required to the General Depot for its sale, 91 Washington St. Boston.

Each bottle is enclosed in a neat pasteboard box, to ensure its safe transportation.

No. 60 CONGRESS STREET,
Portsmouth, Aug. 1st, 1863.

DR. GOODALL

Would respectfully announce to his patrons and public, that THEODAMIRED RUBBER as a base for Artificial Teeth, promises all the advantages of Gold, yet costs only half as much. My experience has been highly satisfactory in its use, and I have no hesitation in WARRANTING PERFECT SATISFACTION in all cases.

Teeth inserted on Gold and Silver, and all other operations performed as usual.

Teeth extracted positively without pain, by inhaling Nitrous Oxyd Gas!

He is fully convinced that it is a perfectly harmless anæsthetic, its effect being that of an exhilarant, the whole operation being completed generally in three minutes, without the least pain, and the patient feeling as well, and usually better than before inhaling the Gas.

He would respectfully invite all who wish teeth extracted without pain, or any possible injurious results, to call and be convinced.

I take pleasure in referring the public to Dr. TERASWORTH, Dr. BOARDMAN, Dr OLIVER and Dr. BENNETT, for particular success in extracting Teeth. Teeth extracted without pain and with perfect safety, with Teeth replaced to their natural whiteness without pain or injury to the Enamel. Regulation of Adults' and Children's Teeth will receive particular attention.—All whole and partial Sets of Teeth repaired with Neatness and Dispatch. All other operations in Dentistry, I will do at the usual rates.

☞ Please call and examine specimens of Artificial Teeth upon Vulcanized Rubber, Gold and Silver.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all:
Exalt the right, though every ism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

ANGLO SAXON WEDDINGS. — Not till the ninth or tenth century did women obtain the privilege of choosing or refusing their husbands. Often they were betrothed as children, the bridegroom's pledge of marriage being accompanied by a "security;" or "wed," whence comes the word. Part of the wed always consisted of a ring, placed upon the maiden's right hand, and there religiously kept until transferred to the other hand at the later nuptials. Then, also, were repeated the marriage vows and other ceremonies, out of which those now prevailing have grown. The bride was taken "for fairer for fouler, for better for worse, for richer for poorer," and promised "to be buxom and bonny" to her future husband. At the final ceremony the bridegroom puts the ring on each of the bride's left-hand fingers in turn, saying at the first, "in the name of the Father," at the second, "in the name of the Son," at the third, "in the name of the Holy Ghost," and at the fourth, "Amen."

Then, also the father gave to his new son one of his daughter's shoes, in token of the transfer of authority which he effected, and the bride was at once made to feel the change by a tap or a blow on the head given with the shoe. The husband on his part took an oath to use his wife well. If he failed to do so she might leave him, but by the law he was allowed considerable license. He was bound in honor "to bestow on his wife and his apprentices moderate castigation." We have nothing to show the exact amount of castigation held moderate by the Anglo-Saxons, but one old Welsh law decides that three blows with a broomstick on any "part of the person except the head" is a fair allowance, and another provides that the stick be no longer than the husband's arm, nor thicker than his middle finger. Prior to the seventh century a wife might at any time be repudiated on proof of her being either barren, deformed, silly, passionate, luxurious, rude, habitually drunk, gluttonous, very garrulous, quarrelsome or abusive.—Thrubb's Anglo-Saxon House.

"I wish I had your head," said a lady one day to agentleman who had solved for her a knotty point. "And I wish I had your heart," was his reply. "Well," said she, "since your head and my heart can agree, I don't see why they should not go into partnership."

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished, on receiving One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by all not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials bel ow given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he most reasonably feels that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

RYE, N. H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of DR. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.
PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.
I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it; and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.
From ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.
DEAR SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY
☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may 30

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

The rebels on the evening of the 3d made an attack on the Collierville, Memphis and Charleston Railroad, and after a brief fight were repulsed. Brig. Gen. Geary and thirteen of his staff are among the rebel prisoners captured.

Marmadake, with 3000 rebels, attacked Pine Bluff, Ark., and was repulsed with considerable loss. The garrison there consisted of 700 Union cavalry, who lost 12 killed and 15 wounded. A threatened attack on Memphis was prevented by recent demonstrations on Canton, Miss., by our troops.

Price is said to have retreated beyond Red river, his cavalry only occupying Arkadelphia, Ark.

GOVERNMENT IN JAPAN.—In Japan society is organized very much as it was in Europe in the middle ages. The power of the government is limited, or rather divided between the Emperors, who are the head, and the Princes or Chiefs, termed dimios, who acknowledge allegiance to the Emperors, but are themselves rich and powerful, like the old feudal barons of England, and hold absolute authority over their own subjects and their own territory. While they acknowledge the rights and powers of the general government, they retain their own rights and defend them against the general government, other chiefs, or foreign countries. They often make war upon each other, nor has the Emperor power to stay them. Between some of them the feuds are continuous and hereditary, handed down from generation to generation. Now in the case of the Prince Satsuma, whose people murdered the Englishman Richardson, from which sprang the present difficulty, he could not be forced by the Emperor to deliver up the murderers, some of them is his own family. He holds the power over his own subjects. Hence the English fleet is sent to invade his dominions and batter down his cities.—Newburyport Herald.

Some politicians and professed statesmen in this country (says Uncle Toby,) seem to have copied their systems from the Japan pattern. For instance, Mr. Buchanan, when he was the Great Tycoon, said for substance that the rebel States had no right to secede, but that he had no right to coerce them! So in later days, according to the doctrine of extreme State Rights Run Mad, though Lincoln the Great Tycoon at Washington has rights of some sort, yet Seymour the Dimio of New York is a Sovereign, and Vallandigham the would-be Dimio of Ohio would have been a Sovereign also, if he had had votes enough.

Let us suppose him elected,—and also suppose the thirty odd Dimios of thirty odd States each to be a sovereign, with as many different notions as they might happen to have,—then our State Rights would be the right to perpetual broils and utter confusion. Our Union was formed on purpose to avoid this—but the extreme doctrine of State Sovereignty must produce it, if it could be put in practice.

But the people have just pronounced against it, by large majorities. U. T.

REBEL VIOLATION OF ENGLISH LAWS. The discussion in England on this topic is now taking the right direction, that is, whether the rebel authorities shall not be held responsible for procuring the violation of the laws of a neutral State. "Historicus," whose writings on current applications of international law have won deserved reputation, in his last communication to the London Times, reviews all the evidence which proves that, on the part of the Confederate authorities, a special mission has been established, and a special fund provided for the purpose of "fitting out, equipping and arming vessels in this country, without her Majesty's license, for warlike operations against the dominions, ships and goods of a foreign State"—or, in other words, for violating the British Foreign Enlistment act. He then says:—

If the Confederate authorities are to enjoy the rights of belligerents they must be taught to observe the duties of belligerents; and one of the first of those duties is to abstain from attempts to defeat the laws of a neutral State, which is nothing less than to violate its sovereignty. If the Confederate authorities were to commit an outrage on a British subject abroad, we should surely have no difficulty in demanding and obtaining redress. But the violation of our laws is an offence against the whole body of British subjects in their corporate capacity, which certainly cannot be permitted to pass with impunity, and an attack upon our laws, if committed within the realm, surely admits of as complete and direct a diplomatic redress as an outrage committed upon our subjects abroad.

— The Paris correspondent of the London Times thinks it doubtful if the French Chamber will accede to the guaranties demanded by Maximilian, namely: the integrity of the new Empire and a loan.

—"Molly Molasses," the grandmother of all the Penobscots, still frequents Bangor, receiving kindly coppers from the third generation of those who have known her as an old woman. She is over a hundred years of age, and though much bent, she yet walks with apparent strength.

— Lord Lyndhurst, recently deceased, was born in Boston, Mass., May 21, 1772.

— Side-wheel steamer Sassacus arrived at New York on Wednesday, from Boston.

— Mrs. Taylor, widow of President Zachary Taylor, has arrived at Bermuda, having run the blockade.

— They built a steamboat for Gen. Rosecrans in three weeks, after the capture of Chattanooga.

— The Boston Locomotive Works were sold at auction on Thursday, to Edward Mott Robinson, Esq., for $71,000.

— There are Union people, men and women, in Richmond, and they smuggle in food to the Federal prisoners.

— The Germans already reckon up over 3000 distinct works relating to Goethe alone, who died within 30 years.

— Silence is preferable not only to telling falsehoods, but to wounding by frankness.

— California is said to be a larger consumer of books, in proportion to her population, than any other state in the Union.

— A 19-pound coon measuring 3 1-2 feet from tip to tip, was killed recently near Wells Depot, Me.

— It has just been discovered that a man is in the Maryland State Prison whose term expired twelve years ago.

— An important lead mine has been discovered on the South shore of Lake Memphremagog. It is said to be thickly impregnated with silver.

— The revolution in St. Domingo is in full blast. The rebels hold possession of the entire island with the exception of the capital and the east end.

— The Nord says there is no truth in the report that Russia is building war vessels in the Black Sea, and that her relations with Turkey are disturbed.

— Speculation is so rife in France that a cargo of cotton has been sold fifty or sixty times before the vessel bringing it was seen in the offing of Havre.

— They are to have a school for truants and juvenile offenders at the Worcester, Mass., Alms-house, three miles from the central portion of the city.

— There are indications that the next year will be the greatest season for manufacturing lumber that the Northwest has ever known.

— Bishop Colenso is described as almost seven feet tall, slender but well-formed, remarkably erect, handsome, with clear cut features and eyes full of light.

— Six months ago Gov. Gamble, of Missouri, consented to the enlistment of negroes. To-day his headquarters are guarded by negro soldiers.

— Claude Gerard, a Frenchman, has just died in Wisconsin at the age of 107 years. He served under Napoleon in the Italian, Peninsular and Russian wars, and was at Waterloo.

— Hon. F. O. J. Smith was on trial at Portland last week for malicious prosecution but the jury failed to agree on a verdict, standing eleven for plaintiff and one for F. O. J. Smith.

— Miss Jean Ingelow is the youngest of England's real poets. Her first volume of poems was published a month or two ago, and a second volume, entitled "a Sister's Bye-hours," is now announced.

— American knew how to advertise until the crash in 1857. Now the English is pre-eminently the advertising country, and consequently the most flourishing country.

— The German Surgeon Dentists, at a recent Congress, decided that in their opinion neither sugar nor tobacco are injurious to the teeth, when used in a pure state and not in immoderate quantities.

— As the cattle train was leaving Laconia on Monday evening last, one of the cars loaded with cattle broke down, killed seven of them, tearing and mangling them in a horrible manner, and destroying one or two cars.

— The Mass. Supreme Judicial Court at Salem, adjourned on Wednesday morning for want of business. The Court first dismissed one jury, and intended to adjourn to December, retaining the other, but upon consultation, found no business ahead, and dismissed the other.

— The amount received by the Treasurer of San Jose County, California, for the month of August, for retail liquor licenses, was $570; for all kinds of merchandise only $363.75. Public moneys are raised there by licensing the trades and professions, and not by taxing their stocks.

— A few weeks ago, Mr. Thomas Hattle, engineer in the Comb Factory of Newburyport, accidentally stepped on a nail which went into his foot, and a few days after the lockjaw ensued, of which he died on Wednesday. This is the fourth case of lockjaw that has proved fatal, in that city within a few months.

— One of the latest Boston notions is a light steam buggy, without shafts, having the steam apparatus on the rear axle. The engine is of two-horse power, the carriage will go on any grade, and a bod of coal will run it 30 miles. It is now in New York, and the owner is desirous of matching it against any trotting horse in the world for $1000.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Mirror states that a deserter recently brought before the Court Martial at Concord, ekedaddled while being tried for desertion. An adjournment of the trial was made for dinner, and the prisoner was left in charge of a guard of two men; one of the guard also went to dinner, and his companion, after waiting patiently a time for his return, stepped down stairs to the door to see if he was coming, and the prisoner improved the opportunity to escape by a back way. He has not been seen since.

—— The boys and girls at Lancaster had a lively time skating on the lower mill pond of that town on Thursday of last week.

—— The Laconia Democrat (democratic all over) says:

Mr. Daniel C. Woodman, of the law firm of Avery & Woodman, and Mr. Geo. Hall, both of Laconia, being conscripted, have shouldered their muskets and gone to the field of battle. Advocating the doctrine of abolition while at home, they are now, like true patriots, backing up their sentiments with the bayonet. When men do this they are sincere and are worthy to be called men.

—— A young man, from New Hampshire, who had never received many lessons in penmanship, lost his right arm in one of the night duels in front of Wagner. Soon after, the Surgeon General, U. S. A., called at the hospital and promised the young fellow he should have an arm put on which he could use—pick up his hat or write his name. This was encouraging, and when the distinguished visitor had gone, the wounded boy burst out with exultation: "Well, fellows, I've made money out of this: going to have an arm I can write with, and never wrote a word with the old one in my life!"

—— A substitute broker was arrested in Concord on Wednesday for passing a $2 government greenback altered to $50, in part payment for a substitute. He recognized in the sum of $400 for his appearance, but disappeared, leaving that amount to go into the city treasury. The alteration of the bill was ingeniously made by pasting oval pieces of green paper over the large figures 2 on the back, painting out the little white 2's in the circle with green ink, pasting the figures 50 over the 2's on the upper corners of the face, &c. Some little words "Two dollars" were however left.

—— Several cases of shop lifting have occured recently in Manchester, but the police got their hands on the offenders.

—— One man perils his life for whiskey; hundreds peril theirs with whiskey. A Boston paper states that John Burns, a conscript from New Hampshire, who was shot through the neck on Thursday of last week, while in the act of deserting from his comrades as they were marching through Blackstone street, en route for Long Island, is still alive at the hospital. The wound he received is of a serious nature, and his ultimate recovery is yet doubtful. He states that he had no intention of deserting, but wished to have his freedom for a short time in order to get some whiskey.

—— The Fifth N. H. regiment, which returned from the seat of war on the 3d of last August to fill up its ranks, having been nearly filled by drafted men, left Long Island on Friday afternoon, in the steamers City of Bath and Karnac, to join the Army of the Potomac.

ICE TRADE AND MANUFACTURE.—The trade in ice is now one of great and increasing importance. Ice has always been esteemed as a luxury in warm weather; and this early led to the storing of it in winter and preserving of it for summer use. The Greeks, and afterwards the Romans, at first preserved snow, closely packed, in deep, under-ground cellars. Nero, at a later period, established ice-houses in Rome, similar to those in most European countries up to the present time. But these means were not enough to supply the luxurious Romans with ice for cooling beverages, and they actually established a trade in snow, which was brought to Rome from the summits of distant mountains.

The trade in ice in England has, until lately, been very limited, having been chiefly confined to the supply required by a few of the first-class fish-mongers and confectioners—the private residences of the more opulent families being furnished with ice houses, in which a sufficiency is kept for private use. But the North Americans have started a trade in ice in their own cities, which has extended to Europe and Asia, and has, in an incredibly short space of time, attained a surprising magnitude.—The export of ice from America was commenced about 1820, by a merchant named Tudor, who sent ice from Boston to the West Indies. After persevering against many losses, he succeeded in establishing a trade with Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay; and now not only is it sent in vast quantities to those places, but also to Hong-Kong, Whampoa, and Batavia. About fifteen years since, the Wenham Lake Ice Company commenced sending to this country from Boston, which is the great American port for the shipment of this material; and, since then, not only has there been a continually increasing supply, but the success of the Company has been so great as to tempt others into the market, and many cargoes now annually come from Norway and Sweden.—English paper.

If you have got a really good wife, keep perfectly still, and thank God every twenty minutes for it, is the advice given by some unfortunate man.

THE RUSSIANS AT NIAGARA FALLS.—Before leaving Niagara Falls, on Monday morning, the officers of the Russian fleet went down in a body from the Cataract House to the stairs leading to the ferry at the foot of the American Falls, where a photographic view of the entire party was taken; with the cataract in the background. It was a beautiful and cloudless morning, and for the first time since the guests have been at the Falls, a brilliant-hued rainbow shot forth from the mists of the cataract, and mounting the early sunbeams, pointed upward, like a painted horn, to the sky.—The artist succeeded in getting an excellent negative, and the Russians are delighted at the prospect of having such a splendid souvenir of their visit to Niagara to transmit to their friends at home. The Russians were fortunate in obtaining views of the cataract under almost all the aspects which it is capable of assuming. On the evening preceding their departure, a lunar bow, which is rarely seen by transient visitors at the Falls, appeared under the rays of a full moon, spanning the Canadian Falls in all its transcendant beauty. Late into the night the Muscovites lingered around the banks of the river, crossed over to Goat Island and ascended the tower to gaze at the scene, which to them seemed almost a miracle. Thus, in her evening and her morning attire, with first the lunar and then the solar bow encircling her brow, did the queenly and majestic Niagara present herself to the Russian strangers and bid them a God-speed and adieu.—*Cor. Valuable Farm, Live Stock, Crops, &c.
AT AUCTION,
On THURSDAY, Nov. 12th, at 11 o'clock,
on the premises, in Newington.
The valuable and beautiful FARM, formerly owned by the Hon. James Pickering. This desirable estate, comprising about seventy acres, is situated in Newington, about four miles from Portsmouth and one mile from depot of Concord Railroad at Greenland. The buildings consist of a convenient House, containing ten rooms, excellent cellar, &c., together with Barn and other suitable Outbuildings, &c. The land is suitably divided into tillage, pasturage and mowing fields. Upon it are some of the very best varieties of Apple and Pear trees, many of which are in good bearing condition, together with the small fruits, such as Currants, Raspberries, &c. The beautiful shade trees scattered over the land, its eligibility to a good market, excellent pasturage and general beauty of its location, make this one of the most desirable estates ever offered for sale in this section of the State, either for a gentleman's country residence or for a practical farmer.
There are two Wells on the Farm, and the two Pastures, which are both excellent, are abundantly supplied with never-failing streams of the purest water.
Also will be sold, immediately after the Farm, the live stock on the place, consisting of 1 Yoke OXEN, five good COWS, two young HEIFERS, eight SHEEP, a black MARE, one young HORSE, three HOGS.
Also the CROPS, consisting of a large quantity of HAY, CORN, BARLEY, POTATOES, &c.
A good WAGON, Ox Cart, Ox Sled, Roller and a variety of Farming Implements.
Also a good PIANO, and other articles of Household Furniture.
For particulars apply to S. C. PERKINS, 108 Tremont street, Boston, CHAS. T. EMERY, Jeweller, Portsmouth, N. H. or on the premises. s28—3taw&Wt

HUNNEWELL'S UNIVERSAL COUGH REMEDY.—The basis of this truly wonderful preparation, now of such well-earned celebrity, is a freedom from every component calculated to debilitate, and yet it does not impede the perfect freedom of use, day or night, as the only true theory by which THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS can be effectually cured. No prevent asking attention to long stories of great cures, and to long descriptive technicalities, I would ask confidence which will be sacred, in COLDS, COUGHS, HOARSENESS, SORE THROAT, BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC COMPLAINTS, to all THROAT and LUNG COMPLAINTS, which, when neglected, end in CONSUMPTION. Testimonials from Physicians of the highest respectability, and from invalids, can be seen at my office by all interested.

HUNNEWELL'S TOLU ANODYNE.—This justly celebrated preparation, which has so truly earned the name and fame of a TRUE ANODYNE by results in cases which had baffled every other attempt at relief in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Nervous Head Ache, Tooth and Ear Ache, Cholera Morbus, Pains in the Stomach or Bowels, Hysteria, Distress after Eating, Loss of Sleep, General Nervous Debility, Paroxysms in Asthma and Whooping Cough, now declared to be largely Nervous, and for the pains in Monthly Menstruation, also declared to be one of the most important points in medicine. A lady writes from New York: "Were I ten dollars a drop, I would not be without it in my family, and no one should be without it."

For sale by all Wholesale and Retail Dealers.

Probate Advertisements.

The language of the law relating to the publication of Probate Notices is:

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper thereto."

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notice may be ordered for the Chronicle or the Gazette; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

Our terms are as low as those of any other paper.

Local.

☞ Burglars are still busy in our city and vicinity. On Thursday night, about half past eleven o'clock, an attempt was made to enter the house of Wm. B. Lowd, 2d, at the Plains. They procured a long ladder from the house of a neighbor, and after trying in vain to effect an entrance by raising the windows in the lower part of the house, attempted to place the ladder at one of the chamber windows. Owing to the length of the ladder, it was impossible to raise it, and the noise made alarmed Mr. Lowd, who was not asleep. He arose with as little noise as possible, and discovered a large man immediately beneath the window, still persisting in trying to raise the unwieldy ladder. Mr. L. called to his son to pass him his gun, but the villain "changed his base" without waiting for the execution of the order. We are inclined to the belief that if it is "tried on" again, the fellow will not escape with a sound body.

☞ Two deserters from the Marine Corps were arrested at Kittery, on Thursday, but escaped and came to this city.—Information was lodged at the Provost Marshal's office, and one of Capt. Godfrey's officers was sent in pursuit. The officer arrested them, after some little skirmishing, during which one of the deserters got pretty roughly handled—and handed them over to Col. Marston.

WINDING UP.—The examination of conscripts, at the Provost Marshal's office in this city—under the present draft, closed on Friday.

Recruiting will probably commence as soon as the agents for this District are appointed, which will be within a few days.

LECTURES TO THE YOUNG.—Rev. A. J. Patterson will commence a course of Sunday Evening Lectures to the young, at the Universalist Church to-morrow evening.—Services to commence at 7 o'clock.

S. J. COURT, Friday, Nov. 6.—The case Prescott & al. vs. Fellowes, was given to the Jury about 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

☞ Rev. Baron Stow, D. D., will preach at the Middle Street Baptist Church to-morrow.

[Communication.]

Fellow Citizens,—We need a well qualified man, for Mayor for the City of Portsmouth, one who will do credit to the City, not only in repairing streets &c., but who is qualified to meet and receive strangers in a becoming and suitable manner for the honor of its citizens.

As the time draws near for electing our Mayor and other city officers, it seems needful to call the citizens together to consult and pick out some suitable persons to fill all the offices of importance to the city.

Also to make suitable arrangements to invite the Rusian Admiral with his fleet to visit our harbor, and more especially as the Commander has expressed a wish to see our noble ship Franklin.

I do hope we shall wake up and not remain any longer asleep, and suffer as we have in the first congressional district, entirely through our inactive sluggish indifferance. R.

PUNISHMENT OF BOSTON RIOTERS.—Some criminals were, recently discharged without punishment. They were, however, those arrested previous to the riot, for obstructing the officer distributing notices, and not those arrested during and after the riot for the murder of Mr. Currier. In the Superior Court on Tuesday last one of the latter was sentenced to ten years hard labor in State Prison, the first day to be in solitary confinement. He had been convicted of assaulting a police officer with intent to kill, instead of the other charge. Several other parties await trial upon the former charge, and equal justice will be meted out to those who are found guilty.

BADGES OF HONORABLE DISTINCTION. The Secretary of War directs that for each battle in which every officer, non-commissioned officer and private of the Invalid Corps may have been engaged and have gone an honorable part, a scarlet braid, one sixth of an inch wide, may be worn on the right arm, with a space of one sixth of an inch between each braid. This will become an honorable badge, showing the service the officer or soldier has performed, and will be as highly prized by the brave wearers as the ribbons and crosses so proudly worn by the veterans of European armies.

— The War Department has received from Richmond a list of the names of all the national officers held as prisoners in rebeldom. It comprises 960 army officers and 9 naval officers, viz: One Brigadier, Neal Dow; 14 Colonels, 25 Lieut. Colonels, 27 Surgeons, 58 Assistant Surgeons, 28 Majors, 244 Captains, 264 1st Lieutenants, and 297 2d Lieutenants.

John G. Sawyer, formerly Secretary of Maine, and for many years occupying a respectable position in the community, died in Augusta on Saturday night last, another victim to the excessive use of intoxicating drinks.—Maine Farmer.

☞ Part 37 of Putnam's Rebellion Record, (the reliable and the exhaustive work) contains fine portraits of Gen. Grant and Gen. Ewell.

DO YOU WANT A SET OF FURS?—Shute & Son, Boston, advertise them in our issue of to-day.

— There is a serious riot in the coal regions around Mauch Chunk, Pa., and several persons have been killed.

— The first district in Maryland has been carried by the Emancipationists, and the Congressional delegation will probably stand four emancipationists to one conservative.

A country newspaper noticing the death of a young lady, remarked that "she had an amiable temper, and was uncommonly fond of ice cream and other delicacies."

SOLDIERS, ATTENTION.—For the derangements of the system incidental to the change of diet, wounds, eruptions and exposures which every Volunteer is liable to, there are no remedies so safe, convenient and reliable as HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT, 25 cents per box. 209.

☞ The Domestic Dyes prepared by Geo. H. Reed & Co. offer the simplest and most perfect means of dyeing household apparel ever presented the public. They embrace all current shades, and include all the new and fashionable colors—and are perfectly fast. Samples on silk and wool can be seen and the colors procured of THACHER. ju20

☞ See you fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. ty.

THE MODEL COOK.

AN AIR-TIGHT STOVE,
WITH TWO OVENS,
And Five Boiling Places!

At the present high prices of fuel it is very desirable to lessen its consumption. This can be best accomplished by using a MODEL COOK STOVE. Morncooking can be done in one with a single ton of coal, or cord of wood, than with double the quantity in any common stove or range—and in less time also.

The fire being placed in the centre of the stove, with an oven on either side (which may be thrown into one at pleasure), all the heat from the fuel is made available for cooking purposes.

The oven doors are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the bottom and back of the stove, thus retaining much heat, ordinarily wasted. A check draft is applied, by means of which much fuel is saved, and a continuous fire may be kept as long as desirable.

A Water Tank and Hot Closet can be applied to either size, when needed.

In fact, no pains or expense have been spared to make this a PERFECT Stove, and we think it surpasses all others for Economy, Durability, Capacity, Convenience, Beauty of Design and Perfection of Finish.

It is equally well adapted for Coal or Wood; Summer or Winter use; excellent in a family where but one help is employed, invaluable to the housewife who does her own work, lightening it at least one-half.

No family, large or small, where economy, convenience and dispatch are desirable, should be without one.

We refer to some parties who have purchased the Model Cook—

VICTOR COAL STOVE.

We offer this beautiful coal burner to the public with full confidence in its merits.

It was brought into market three years since, and has come rapidly into use.

The Victor is one of the handsomest parlor stoves in the market, and is perfect in its operation.

The arrangement for dumping the ashes is very fine—no dust need escape into the room—a continuous fire may be kept throughout the winter—the coal all burned and no clinkers made.

The quantity of fuel used is very small indeed.

We have sold a large number of Victor stoves in this city, and they receive the highest commendation from those who are using them.

Morning Chronicle.

THE CONSCRIPT'S BURIAL.*

Softly and reverently close the white eyelids
Fold the still hands on the passionless breast.
God hath relieved the poor soldier from duty,
Silently and silently bear him to rest.

Speak of him gently, his errors forgetting,
Strew the damp locks from the wan, pallid brow;
Friendless and lone, he hath passed the dark valley—
Pitying Angels have charge of him now.

Bear him forth gently, comrades in duty,
Carefully smooth down his damp, lonely bed:
Never a friend had the suffering soldier—
No one to weep for him now he is dead!

Homeless and friendless! nowhere in the wide world
Were pulses that quickened or thrilled at his speech!
Speak of him tenderly, now that he sleepeth,
God, the All-Pitiful, careth for such.

Lay him to rest where the sea-gulls are screaming;
Sing to him softly, O blue bounding wave!
Soft airs and summer flowers, garner your sweetness,
And scatter it lavishly over his grave.

* The first soldier was buried at the Conscript Camp, Long Island, Boston Harbor, lately. He was from New York, and was not known to have had a friend in the world."—[Exchange.

Two little children were talking of the moon the other evening. Charley said solemnly, in his imperfect pronunciation, that it was "Dod." "No it aint," said Sarah, "it aint big enough." "Well," replied the boy, determined not to be put down altogether, "it is the hole he looks through, any how!"

A Vermont farmer sent to an orphan asylum for a boy that was smart, active, brave, tractable, prompt, industrious, clean, pious, intelligent, good looking, reserved and modest. The superintendent replied that their boys were all human, though they were orphans, and referred him to the New Jerusalem if he wanted to get his order filled.

SAMBUCUS TREE OF PORTUGAL,

This Great Remedy for Nervous Affections, Dissemination, Chronic Complaints

Excellent Wine for Females.

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefiting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

THE BEST COOK STOVE

IN THE MARKET,

AFTER ALL SAID,

—IS—

STEWART'S

NEW, LARGE OVEN, AIR-TIGHT,

SUMMER AND WINTER

COOKING STOVE,

For Wood or Coal,

IMPROVED IN 1859.

The peculiarities of the

STEWART COOK STOVE,

Embracing the Latest Improvements, briefly stated, are:

1. It is what it purports to be—AN AIR TIGHT COOKING STOVE. That is, when the draft is properly adjusted, wood will lie and smoulder and char, as on the grate, after the manner of a coal pit. Or, if the fire be of Anthracite Coal, by simply closing the draft, it will be effectually put out.

2. Combined with this, are the peculiar position of the fire-chamber, the general internal structure, and the outward moveable coverings, by which means the heat of the stove may be confined within or thrown off to warm the apartment, thus relieving females of the discomfort usually attendant upon carrying on cooking operations in summer, and securing the qualities of the brick oven so fully that the baking process may be carried through successfully without any one going near the stove from the time the article is set in until it is removed from the oven.

3. The stove is accommodated to the reception of a permanent RESERVOIR (of copper, with a tin casing) containing from 10 to 20 gallons, by which the water, as it is wanted, is hot, and is made available to keep on hand a constant supply of hot water. The space beneath the reservoir is occupied with a THE UTENSIL where articles ready for the table are placed to keep warm, bread set to rise, fruit dried, &c.

4. Also, by the aid of the TOP COVER, a coal fire may be kept up through the night, and breakfast and dinner prepared the next day with no addition of fuel.

5. Roasting is performed in the most perfect manner in front of the stove, with a DUPLEX OVEN prepared for the purpose—the heat being communicated to it from both sides of the fire-box; and the fumes, meanwhile, passing into the draft.

6. A NOVEL PLAN OF VENTILATION is adopted, by which two kinds of meat may be roasted in the oven at the same time, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; for which the current instituted for this purpose made subservient to augment the heat upon the bottom of the oven, with no increase of combustion.

7. In the add of the perforated metallic linings, or "gas burning arrangement," and application of the full summer dress, the various culinary processes may be carried forward successfully with a single stick of wood at a time.

8. In regard to DURABILITY, the Stewart Stove is made to last, and will last. The structural form is such that the frame work of it can not burn out.

All the plates constituting the original STEWART STOVE, which was brought out twenty years ago, are still made, and sent to different parts of the country, on call.

The price of QUIETNESS, COMFORT and HEALTH secured to a family by the use of a culinary apparatus perfectly adapted to their wants, cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents.

But we can not, and need not, enumerate in detail, the excellencies of the STEWART STOVE. It is no experiment, or new tangled notion got up to gull the public, to which we invite your attention; but

THE STANDARD COOK STOVE

Now in use, which has been widely tested

FOR TWENTY YEARS,

and not found wanting in any particular. Yes, the Stewart Stove has been manufactured and used for a score of years; but the inventor has kept pace with the times, and repeatedly made improvements—so that the Stewart Stove of 1863 is as superior to that of 1841, as the Mowing Machine is to a Bush Scythe.

IT HAS NOT BEEN EXCELLED

yet, as a Family Stove. Here follow the names of a few of the numerous purchasers of the STEWART COOK STOVE.

CALENDAR CLOCKS.

These Clocks are reliable Time Keepers and Calendars combined, and require the winding of the time movement only, to secure all the required changes of the Calendar at midnight; showing the day of the week, the month, and day of the month, including the 29th day of February of leap year, perpetually and with unfailing certainty.

Having taken the agency for the sale of these Clocks, we would invite the public to call and examine them.

Any person desirous of purchasing a Clock will find it to their advantage to examine these before purchasing elsewhere, as we warrant them as good time-keepers as can be obtained for the same price without the Calendar Attachment; and those not in want of a clock will find the Calendar alone worth more than the price of the clock. They will be set up in any part of the city, and regulated without extra charge.

GOLDEN SHEAF WHISKEY.

The subscriber, having been engaged for the last twenty years in the importation and sale of Wines and Spirits, now finds from this experience that real

Pure Bourbon Whiskey,

when made as it ought to be, from WHEAT, RYE AND CORN, is, without doubt, the most healthful and medical spirit that can be used. Having determined to make the sale of this article a speciality in his business, he has accepted the

General Selling Agency for a large Distillery in Bourbon County, Kentucky,

and in future will sell, under the brand of

"Golden Sheaf,"

PURE BOURBON WHISKEY, manufactured from the BEST SELECTED GRAINS, and made in the most careful manner.

This celebrated Whiskey will be put up in cases containing one dozen bottles each, and offered to the Trade, by his Travelling agents throughout the country, and also kept on hand in his warehouse in Boston, in barrels, half barrels and kegs.

Individuals desirous of procuring a pure, reliable article of BOURBON WHISKEY, at a reasonable price, have only to inquire of any respectable Grocer or Druggist for "GOLDEN SHEAF WHISKEY," or to send their orders for any quantity required to the General Depot for its sale, 91 Washington St, Boston.

Each bottle is secured in a neat pasteboard box, to ensure its safe transportation.

HEALTH AND COMFORT.

Patent Rubber Sole Boots and Shoes.

FOR MEN, BOYS AND YOUTH.

These Goods, having been carefully tested, prove to be more desirable than any other Boots and Shoes heretofore made. They answer the double purpose of Leather and Rubber Boots and Shoes.

They are made serviceable and easier to the feet than Leather Soles, are impervious to water, and having a leather inner sole do not draw the feet, and are far less expensive than Rubber Boots.

They are free from noise, prevent slipping on ice, and in keeping the feet dry and warm are conducive to health.

When the Soles wear out, the Boots and Shoes can be tapped with leather, or, if returned to us entire, new Rubber Soles can be put on.

The subscribers, having made arrangements as Agents for the sale of the above goods, are now prepared to take orders for the same, in different styles, and deliver them at short notice. They are made from the best stock to be had in the market, and warranted in every particular. Call and examine samples, at No. 21 Market street.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and side-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meat is prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfect cooking, this Stove cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We would refer to the following purchasers:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management, it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from the given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed, which objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the dome can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used.

We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world.—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Would respectfully announce to his patrons and the public that VULCANIZED RUBBER, as a base for Artificial Teeth, promises all the advantages of Gold, yet costs only half as much. My experience has been highly satisfactory in its use, and I have no hesitation in WARRANTING PERFECT SATISFACTION in all cases.

Teeth inserted on Gold and Silver, and all other operations performed as usual.

Teeth extracted positively without pain, by inhaling Nitrous Oxyd Gas!

He is fully convinced that it is a perfectly harmless anæsthetic, its effect being that of an exhilarant, the whole operation being completed generally in three minutes, without the least pain, and the patient feeling as well, and usually better than before beginning the chair.

He would cordially invite all who wish teeth extracted without pain, or any possible injurious results, to call and be convinced.

I take pleasure in referring the public to Dr. TREADWELL, Dr. BOARDMAN, Dr OLIVER and Dr. BENNETT, for particular success in extracting Teeth, and Teeth extracted with Gas and with perfect safety, with Ether. Teeth polished to their natural whiteness without pain or injury to the Enamel. Regulation of Adults' and Children's Teeth will receive particular attention.—All whole and partial Sets of Teeth repaired with Neatness and Dispatch. All other operations in Dentistry, I will do at the usual rates.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though everyism fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address

LOVE ALL-EMBRACING.

O Love! thou fathomless abyss,
Source of all being, Fount of joy;
Help us to share thy boundless bliss,
And in thy praise our songs employ.

And whether in the flame that burns
In speechless ardor, Lord, with Thee—
That moves the soul whene'er it turns
From sin and shame to purity;

Or in the endearing tie that binds
Kindred and friends in bond so sweet;
Or charity, where differing minds
In Christian truth and concord meet;

Or in that higher type divine
Where youthful souls together tend,
Where flame to answering flame doth shine
And in a holy marriage blend;

Or further yet, in that high clime
Where angels hold their blissful seat,
And seraphs, in their flight sublime,
Still circle round their Saviour's feet;

All, all is love. Supremely blest,
First, last and wondrous Essence thou;
Soul of all harmony, all rest,
Before whose presence all must bow.
—[Christian Inquirer.

WONDERFULLY MADE.—The microscope discovers to us that the mould of bread and other provisions, in the damp warm weather, is a dense forest in miniature, and has its regular trees and trunks and branches, with their buds and leaves and flowers and fruit. It proves that the butterfly is covered with feathers so beautiful and gorgeous in their tints, that no painter can ever hope to equal them; each hair is seen to be a hollow tube, and the softly feeling skin is overlaid with scales like those of a fish; so tiny are they that a single grain of sand will cover dozens of them, and each scale in turn will cover hundreds of pores, to protect their mouths from being plugged up with dust and dirt, and to shield them from disorganization and over heat, or destructive chilliness by sudden blasts from the fierce cold of winter. The thinnest gauze of our stores, when thrown over the face, exposed to a keen and bitter wind, affords a degree of relief scarcely credible from so frail a material; but a scale of skin is of the nature of horn, and alike impervious to dust and wind and water; and yet being firmly attached to the body at one end only, the perspiration oozing out from under it raises the free edge, and thus escapes from the body, loaded with its impurities and its wastes, to the average extent of two or three pounds a day. Laborers who do the blowing in glass works lose very nearly four pounds in a single hour! the perspiration streaming through twenty-five hundred pores to each square inch of the human body, or seven millions of pores in all, which, if joined together, would make a canal of twenty-eight miles in length! Wonderful, though true. If a fish is deprived of its scales, it will be chilled to death; and, reasoning analogically, we know that human skin scales are dissolved by the alkali of soap, a man may wash himself too much in soap and water—may actually wash away the scales of his body, leaving the pores so unprotected against heat and cold and obstructions, that death will inevitably ensue; indeed, physiological research proves, that if a third of the skin is removed from the body by scalding or otherwise, a fatal termination is unavoidable. Observant persons know how soon the skin becomes pale, shriveled and tender, even on the hardest hands, if kept a great deal in cold water. These are suggestive considerations for those who have been led by plausible ignorance to believe that continual water ablutions are indispensable to health and longevity.—Hall's Journal of Health.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1863.

THE REBELLION.

The rebels still hold Lookout Mountain, and Longstreet's headquarters have been established there. On the night of the 5th several rebel camps disappeared from our front on our right, and information leads to the belief that Bragg's army has been weakened recently for some purpose not yet revealed.

A Cairo dispatch says two-thirds of the loyal First Alabama cavalry, recently surrounded by a superior rebel force at Missoville, Alabama, cut their way out, and have arrived at headquarters.

The N. Y. World's Washington dispatch says that the Army of the Potomac is at last on the move, and that in a direction which indicates the abandonment of the Warrenton route to Richmond.

—By Telegraph, Sunday, to Messrs. Hutchings, Haley, and others.

The Richmond Whig has Charleston dispatches of the 4th and 5th. On the 4th the bombardment was kept up furiously night and day. On the 5th it was continued, but more slowly. Jeff. Davis had visited the James Island forts, and all the batteries along the shore. Another iron-clad joined the fleet on the 5th.

The steamer Salvor arrived at Philadelphia on Saturday from Morris Island, and brings most glorious news. She reports, she lay off Morris Island on Monday, 2d, and left that night for Hilton Head. On Saturday and Sunday a terrific bombardment was kept up on Sumter by three monitors and Forts Gregg and Wagner. On Monday, while the Salvor was off Hilton Head, Capt. O'Neil, of the Invalid Corps, who conveyed a party of conscripts thither on the steamer's last trip, came on board, and said news had been received through our military authorities that Fort Sumter was in our possession, and occupied by the 144th Pa. regt., the fort having been carried by assault. The statement is generally credited by our officers and men. The news was conveyed to Hilton Head by the U. S. steamer Golden Gate. After the surrender of the fort by the rebels it was taken possession of by the 144th Pa. regt.

A dispatch from Atlanta, Ga., 4th, says that the Federals maintained possession of Raccoon Valley, having been heavily reinforced. They shelled the rebels incessantly. The floods in the Tennessee river, the dispatch says, had demolished all the Federal pontoon bridges. The Federal advance had reached Florence. The Rebels occupied London, 23 miles from Knoxville. The Federals had gained important advantages within the past 48 hours, which, unless counteracted, would place the question of subsisting their army at Chattanooga beyond all doubt.

Arkdale, Ark., recently Price's headquarters, is in possession of Gen. Steele.

It was rumored in the Army of the Potomac on Saturday morning that the rebels were crossing the Rapidan in haste, probably with the view of reoccupying Fredericksburg in force, apparently anticipating a movement of the forces of Gen. Meade towards that point. Gen. Meade has changed his headquarters.

Gen. Butler received his instructions on Saturday, and would leave for Fortress Monroe on Sunday. Gen. Foster's personal friends apprehend that he is to be added to the list of shelved Generals; in some military quarters, however, the report is current that he is to relieve Gen. Burnside.

The Grand Fete to the Russians, at the New York Academy of Music, on Thursday evening, was the great event of the season. There were 2500 persons present—sufficient to make a jam—and the papers give glowing accounts of the superb costumes. Nearly all the jewels were diamonds, which shone resplendently everywhere.

At 11 1-2 o'clock the supper-room was thrown open, the invited guests escorted by Gov. Morgan leading the way. The spacious hall was soon filled. A fine band was in attendance, and performed a grand march as the company entered the room. A covered passage, which had been erected in a few hours, led from the Academy of Music to Irving Hall, where Delmonico had prepared the supper. This passage-way was most beautifully decorated. Flags were hung from the ceiling, while the sides were draped with white muslin, dotted with golden stars; flowers were profusely piled about, and rich carpets covered the floor.—The steps ascending into the Hall were also richly carpeted. The entrance was beautifully decorated. Statues, lights and flowers were arranged in the most tasteful manner, while through the open doors was seen the beautiful hall, beautifully lighted and resplendent with banners, escutcheons and devices. On the walls were shields bearing the arms of Russia; also on each side of the hall were placed two broad Union shields. The effect produced was really magnificent. The expense of the ball was $20,000 or $30,000.

NOTES OF FORMER DAYS.

Collected and Collated — By Uncle Tony.

The French, Indians and Jesuits, in 1725.—Few persons take the time to read and understand the real ground of the old Indian Wars in New Hampshire and Maine, 150 years ago, though the books are quite accessible. For this reason, besides the general interest of the story, we copy from Belknap a few pages, giving an account of an embassy from New Hampshire and other States, to the French Governor of Canada, in 1725, and the peace that followed. These extracts show clearly that the Jesuits used the French officers, and that both made the Indians their dupes and victims.

The conduct of the Marquis de Vandreuil, governor of Canada, was so flagrant a breach of the treaty of peace, subsisting between the crowns of England and France, that it was thought, a spirited remonstrance might make him ashamed, and produce some beneficial effects. With this view, the general court of Massachusetts proposed to the colonies of New York, Connecticut, Rhode Island and New Hampshire, to join in sending commissioners to Canada on this errand. New Hampshire was the only one which consented; and Theodore Atkinson was appointed on their part, to join with William Dudley and Samuel Thaxter on the part of Massachusetts.

The instructions which they received from the lieutenant governors, Dummer and Wentworth, by advice of the council and assembly of each province, were nearly similar. They were to demand of the French governor restitution of the captives who had been carried into Canada; to remonstrate to him on his injustice and breach of friendship, in countenancing the Indians in their hostilities against the people of New England; to insist on his withdrawing his assistance for the future; and to observe to him, that if in the farther prosecution of the war, our Indian allies should in their pursuit of the enemy commit hostilities against the French, the blame would be entirely chargeable to himself. If the French governor or the Indians should make any overtures for peace, they were empowered to give them passports, to come either to Boston or Portsmouth, for that purpose, and to return; but they were not to enter into any treaty with them. The commissioners were also furnished with the original letters of Vandreuil to the governors of New England, and to the Jesuit Ralle, and with copies of the several treaties which had been made with the Indians. The gentlemen went Jan. 20, by the way of Albany, and over the lakes, on the ice, to Montreal, where they arrived after a tedious and dangerous journey, March 9, 1725.

The Marquis, who happened to be at Montreal, received and entertained them with much politeness. Having delivered their letters and produced their commissions, they presented their remonstrance in writing, and made the several demands agreeably to their instructions; using this among other arguments, 'Those Indians dwell either in the dominions of the king of Great Britain, or in the territories of the French king. If in the French king's dominions, the violation of the peace is very flagrant, they then being his subjects; but if they are subjects of the British crown, then much more is it a breach of the peace, to excite a rebellion among the subjects of his majesty of Great Britain.'

The governor gave them no written answer; but denied that the Abenaquis were under his government, and that he had either encouraged or supplied them for the purpose of war. He said that he considered them as an independent nation, and that the war was undertaken by them, in defence of their lands, which had been invaded by the people of New England. The commissioners in reply informed him that the lands for which the Indians had quarrelled, were fairly purchased of their ancestors, and had been for many years inhabited by the English. They produced his own letters to the governors of New England, in which he had (inconsistently, and perhaps inadvertently) styled these Indians 'subjects of the king of France.' They also alleged the several treaties held with them as evidence that they had acknowledged themselves subjects of the British crown; and, to his great mortification, they also produced his own original letters to the Jesuit Ralle, which had been taken at Norridgewock, in which the evidence of his assisting and encouraging them in the war was too flagrant to admit of palliation. Farther to strengthen this part of their argument, they presented to the governor, a Mohawk whom they had met with at Montreal, who, according to his own voluntary acknowledgment, had been supplied by the governor with arms, ammunition and provision to engage in the war, and had killed one man, and taken another, whom he had sold in Canada.

In addition to what was urged by the commissioners in general, Mr. Atkinson, on the part of New Hampshire, entered into a particular remonstrance; alleging that the Indians had no cause of controversy with that province, the lands in question being out of their claim. To this, the governor replied, that New Hampshire was a part of the same nation, and the Indians could make no distinction. Atkinson asked him why they did not for the same reason make war on the people of Albany? The governor answered, 'The people of Albany have sent a message to pray me to restrain the savages from molesting them; in a manner very different from your demands.' To which Atkinson with equal spirit replied, 'Your lordship then is the right person for our governments to apply to, if the Indians are subject to your orders.'

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— By the carelessness of some boys, the shed connected with the school house in district No. 10 in Bristol, took fire and was burnt, and the house was injured some $200. Also, the horse sheds connected with the Baptist meeting house were burnt.

—— Isaac Derby, Esq., the present Register Deeds for Cheshire county, has received and accepted a commission as 2d Lieutenant in the Invalid Corps, and will proceed at once to Washington.

—— On Monday evening last the house, barn, and all the other out-buildings except a corn-house, belonging to the farm of Mr. Alpheus Flint, in Boscawen, were destroyed by fire. The barn had been built only two or three years.

—— George W. Goodrich has obtained a verdict in the S. J. Court, in an action brought against John C. Tebbetts to recover compensation for writing articles concerning the deft's horses, True Blood and Gen. Stark, published in the Statesman, Patriot, and Journal of Agriculture, and for work of self and oxen.

—— At the recent term of the Court at Ossipee, William H. Wiggin and Paul Welch, jr., were arraigned for breaking into the store of Col. Joseph Wentworth, of Sandwich, and stealing. Wiggin was sentenced to the State Prison for three years, and Welch to the Reform School for the same period.

—— At 4:30, Saturday morning, a terrible fire broke out in the attic of a large Factory in the centre of Sanbornton Bridge, and the flames spread fast both east and west. The only engine of the village is of moderate capacity, and the flames raged for two hours—till the engines arrived from Franklin and Laconia. The total loss is $45,000. Five stores, six dwelling-houses, one mill and many out buildings were destroyed.

—— The Dover Gazette is responsible for the following, which is the most successful effort at getting up a tough story that we have recently seen:

A young man in Dover got up one night this week to get some ginger tea for his cold but by mistake got hold of a bottle of preparation for removing grease, &c., from the clothes; he did not discover his mistake until the next morning, when he found there was nothing left of himself but skin and bones, the preparation having eaten up every particle of fat in his body.

—— A correspondent of the Concord Statesman, who has just returned from a tour of about ten weeks through most of the counties of the State, during which he made particular enquiry and observation respecting the corps, says:—

The past season, on the whole, has been more prosperous to the farmers than the average. The early part of the haying season was peculiarly unpropitious. The frequent rains and long-continued dark, damp weather in July, greatly injured not a little hay. One not very extensive farmer told me he lost at least $150 worth of hay. But the rains that hurt the early mown grass and impeded the business of haymaking, were an advantage, notwithstanding, for they greatly increased the amount of grass subsequently cut. Not a few farmers assure me they have made more hay the past season than the year previous. And not to the grass only did the July rains do good. Much service did they render to all kinds of grains: wheat, oats, barley, buckwheat and corn. In travels over the State for thirty years I do not remember to have seen finer fields of corn; larger, sounder or better filled ears; than our hardy farmers are gathering this year. One in Dunbarton assured me he had not had so good a yield for twenty years. A striking peculiarity of the corn field is the golden, generous pumpkins that seem almost to cover the ground. Beans are abundant and good. Squashes—the Marrowfat and the Hubbard—are plenty: raised by almost any one who has a garden patch. Potatoes, generally good in quality, are less abundant than in some years, and in some localities have suffered from rot. But there will be a good supply. Garden vegetables abound, and are of excellent quality. In many extensive districts apples are scarce and poor; in others there is a tolerable supply: good kinds sell from two to three dollars a barrel.

Livermore, Clews & Co., 34 Wall street, N. Y., are giving special attention to the sale of Government securities. There are thousands and tens of thousands in the country, who, just now, desire some reliable and responsible agency through which they can invest their money in Government and other stocks. Such a firm we take pleasure in naming above. We specially ask every loyal reader of The Independent, who has surplus cash on hand, to invest it in United States Five-Twenty Bonds—the interest of which is payable in gold. Buy a draft on New York, and send it to Livermore, Clews & Co., and they will promptly fill your order. Reader, take our advice, and you will help yourself as well as the Government.—New York Independent, Oct. 29.

☞ The Paris correspondent of the New York Times states that six iron plated vessels are building at Nantes and Bordeaux for the rebels, but that they will be stopped from going to sea by the French Government.

— The fact that the Union prisoners in Richmond are starving, seems proved beyond a doubt. Some of them, who escaped, assert that they were not allowed enough food in a week to support them a day.

Elegant Carpets at Low Prices Purchasers should read the advertisement, in our paper, of the New England Carpet Company.

Grand Oration.—On Monday evening last before the State election, that distinguished nobleman, Count Johannes, delivered a splendid oration in Faneuil Hall, Boston, designed to annihilate Charles Sumner's speech, and if possible to exterminate him and all abolitionists. As reported in the Boston Post, the Count made many rich remarks: for the amusement of our readers we copy a few specimens of the Count's eloquence, as follows:—

International law is not so well known to the people as the common statute law, and it is for this reason that Charles Sumner is able to impose upon you all.

He quoted from Wheaton, to show that England had a perfect right to build vessels and sell them fully armed to the Confederate States.

The result of the recent elections in Ohio and Pennsylvania was owing to the speech of Montgomery Blair, made three weeks before the election.

The President is becoming Democratic, and if we receive him in our fold a year from this time he may thank God for his political existence.

In Catholic cathedrals you notice the pictures of Christ on the cross, with five bleeding wounds. Our body politic has five wounds—Wendell Phillips, Charles Sumner, Henry Wilson, William Lloyd Garrison, and John A. Andrew,—and they are dividing among themselves the sacred raiment of the Saviour. But they forget that there is a day of resurrection. [Applause.]

[That resurrection took place in Massachusetts, the next day. U. T.]

He was proud of Gen. Lee as an American. It seems to be the policy of the Administration that when a General deserves the honor of his country he must be removed. It was so with Bonerans, and Meagher, and is there not one more whom I must name? [A voice—"McClellan."]—Yes. Gen. McClellan. [Loud Applause.] In conclusion, he called upon all to exercise the right of suffrage in the coming election, and vote for one whom he knew there was not on earth one more honest—the "Aristides of the Modern Athens"—Henry W. Paine. He called for a large vote in Ward 10 for Gen. Cowdin, and nominated for the Presidential election the two men—Gen. McClellan and Horatio Seymour.

The oration concluded amid loud applause and cheers.

[Ward 10 gave Gov. Andrew 100 majority over "Aristides,"—and did not elect Col. Cowdin.] U. T.

☞ There was a destructive fire in Charlestown, Mass., on Friday evening, by which an extensive furniture manufactory, six stories in height, and a dozen other buildings were destroyed. 113 hands, employed in the manufactory, are thrown out of employment. The loss is roughly estimated at from $75,000 to $100,000—about half of which is covered by insurance.

Valuable Farm, Live Stock, Crops, &c.

AT AUCTION,

On THURSDAY, Nov. 12th, at 11 o'clock,

on the premises, in Newington.

The valuable and beautiful FARM, formerly owned by the Hon. James Pickering. This desirable estate, comprising about seventy acres, is situated in Newington, about four miles from Portsmouth and one mile from depot of Concord Railroad at Greenland. The buildings consist of a convenient House, containing ten rooms, excellent cellar, &c., together with Barn and other suitable Outbuildings, &c. The land is suitably divided into tillage, pasturage and growing fields. Upon it are some of the very best varieties of Apple and Pear trees, many of which are in good bearing condition, together with the smaller fruits, such as Currants, Raspberries, &c. The beautiful shade trees scattered over the land, its eligibility to a good market, excellent pasturage and general beauty of its location, make this one of the most desirable estates ever offered for sale in this section of the State, either for a gentleman's country residence or for a practical farmer.

There are two Wells on the Farm, and the two pastures, which are both excellent, are abundantly supplied with never-failing streams of the purest water.

Also will be sold, immediately after the Farm, the Live Stock on the place, consisting of 11 Yoke of OXEN, five good COWS, two young HEIFERS, eight SHEEP, a black MARE, one young HORSE, three HOGS.

Also the CROPS, consisting of a large quantity of HAY, CORN, BARLEY, POTATOES, &c.

A good WAGON, Ox Cart, Ox Sled, Roller, and a variety of Farming Implements.

Also a good PIANO, and other articles of Household Furniture.

For particulars apply to S. C. PERKINS, 108 Tremont street, Boston, CHAS. T. EMERY, Jeweller, Portsmouth, N. H. or on the premises. o23—3tawtW1
